DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Advertise as if you meant business.

A day on the water fits the merchant for ten in the store.

Good tackle is required to catch trade as well as to catch fish.

Diligence saves a man from ruin and his friends from humiliation.

Be honest if you would be respected ; be persevering if you would be rich.

Brains cannot be bought with money, but they can be cultivated with industry.

The store from which Push takes its departure is soon occupied by the sheriff.

An invaluable supplementary to his bank account is a merchant's good character.

Change your window display as often as possible, but always have a cynosure there.

A cool head is more necessary in the business race than it even is in the foot race.

To have a poor memory may be a good thing sometimes, but it is a bad thing as a rule.

With diligence pursue thy avocation, and despair not : thou wilt catch up with success some day.

Have a hobby by all means, but keep it in check. Kill it rather than it should ride over people.

And wherewithal shall a young clerk improve his ways but by giving heed to methods that are business-like ?

Trees whose rapidity of growth is at the expense of their roots lie prostrate after a storm. It is the same after a commercial storm with a merchant who has been branching out over-much.

There does not appear to be much of a silver lining to the silver cloud that is hanging over the United States.

Do not offend a customer if you can help it, but if you cannot help it the offence is not yours ; it is the customer's.

Many a man dies a Nobody because he had not the patience to stick at one thing long enough to be a Somebody.

Be open to advice. But if you accept everyone's advice a grave will soon be open to receive your business career.

Men who would succeed in business should possess the faculty for organization as well as the ambition to be merchants.

It is not within the power of every man to leave behind him much gold, but it is within his power to leave a golden record.

He who desires to reach Point Success will have to keep along the middle of the King's highway of sound business methods.

A strong will is much to be desired, but he who will not discreetly bend his will to that of others cannot boast of having a very desirable will.

The thief of time, procrastination, can only be kept from doing harm by being continually knocked on the head with the club of immediate action.

A merchant can no more successfully manage his business and do all the drudgery than can a mariner walk the bridge and sweat in the stokehole.

A bushel of grain scattered upon an acre of good soil will produce better results than will two bushels upon an arid plain. It is the same with advertising : it is the quality rather than the quantity of the territory it reaches that should be most sought after.

A clerk deteriorates in value the moment he conceives the idea that without him his employer's business would lack life. All the good clerks are not in one store any more than is all the good fruit on one tree.

Do not spend your time thinking what the new Government proposes to do, but spend it in devising and putting into operation schemes that you can do.

Misconception is the root of many troubles; all of which goes to show how necessary it is that one should become seized of the facts before he either speaks or acts.

A contemporary says it is hard to save money these days. Of course it is. But it always was and always will be. Saved money is the resultant from sacrifice.

Keep limbs and brain active in the store, but see to it that the tongue does not wag over-much. The tongue is a small thing, but it is an adept at driving customers from the store

There is one advantage the small retailer can have over the large departmental store man, if he choose to exercise it : He can get a personal acquaintanceship with his customer. And it is no small advantage either.

Advertise continuously. It is poor policy to be spasmodic about it, just as it is bad tactics to bombard an enemy's fortress one day and rest the next. It gives opponents an opportunity to strengthen themselves.

When a man has started on the right road to business success he should not allow himself to be driven from it by the unrighteous methods of men, who, while they are in business, are on the road that leads out of it.

SHOULD EMPLOYES READ THE BUSINESS PAPER?

By Nath'l C. Fowler, Jr.

IN every mercantile reading room are filed the representative trade and commercial papers.

In nearly all business and factory offices are kept the trade papers representing the industries.

Intelligent manufacturers and managers read their trade papers regularly and carefully, and when they are through with them they are handed to the department heads, and from there reach every class of employe, except that of ignorant labor.

The good trade paper is not only a correct mirror of business, but it is a text book and a volume of successful lessons.

Where you see success, there you see trade papers.

The trade paper is a necessity, and is more and more being so recognized, for, faulty as it may be, and there is nothing perfect, it is the best arena for the exchange of thought and for practical illustration of successful making and doing.

The capitalist should read the trade paper, because it tells him how his money is making money.

The active manager should read the trade paper, because it tells him what is going on, and is constantly furnishing him with ideas, or the suggestions which better enable him to produce ideas of his own.

The superintendent should read the trade paper, as he would read any other work of business education.

The workman should read the trade paper, because it broadens the scope of his mind, and lifts him out of mechanical ruts.

The trade paper should be in every office, in every superintendent's room, and in every reading room for workmen.

If there be many employes there should be many copies of the same paper.

Are trade papers read?

Look at the crumpled pages; see how they show the effects of handling and rehandling.

If you then doubt that the trade paper is read from beginning to end, put a little item about yourself in the most obscure corner, and count the number of references by mail, and verbally, that come to you concerning it.

Get married, and ask the trade paper to print the marriage notice, or if you have a bouncing boy, let the editor pleasantly speak of it. Then visit your cousins, and the cousins of your cousins, if they are in your trade, and there'll be no need of telling them about it.

If all the folks in trade who know you will read these little social items, how much more reason there is to believe that they will read the words which mean more business for them.

Each copy of a daily paper may have but one reader, but every copy of a trade paper has from one to one hundred readers.

You will not have to make your employes read the trade papers; you will not even have to suggest it; you have simply to give them the opportunity.

I know that most trade papers contain a superabundance of chaff, and that the reader must separate from it the kernels of wheat, but compared with other publications, there is more food to the square inch in the good trade paper than there is to the square foot in any other publication.

Perhaps the editor of the trade paper may not be correct in all that he says.

If he were infallible, he wouldn't be editing a trade paper, for there would be a place for him in some other and better world.

If he be wrong sometimes, or wrongly expresses himself, then the employe can, by using his mind, learn manufacturing affirmatives, by reading the negatives.

The reason that trade paper advertisements are read more than any other class of advertisements is because the trade-paper advertisement contains money-bringing information, and everybody in trade is interested in what everybody else in the same trade has to say to the public, and the trade paper advertisement is the cheapest, easiest and most sensible method for a man who makes and sells anything to tell the man who buys that something that he has that article for sale.

FILBERT OUTLOOK.

A letter received by Seggermann Bros. from their Naples correspondents, dated June 10th, says: "Of spot filberts only choice long nuts are offered for the present, in which with a firm offer in hand we might do something at 25s. per cwt., c. and f., New York. Long filberts, which come upon the market in September, do not appear to be particularly favorable, according to what transpires. The exceptionally wet and cool weather during the last two months was very hurtful to the development of the blossoms. An exact opinion cannot be formed as yet, but the result may be considerably behind that of last season. With respect to the round filberts due in October nothing can be said at present, and some time may elapse before our sellers come forward with proposals. In old crop goods something might still be done in round filberts. However, stocks are scarce and a good demand is prevailing."

SULTANA RAISIN OUTLOOK.

A letter just received here from Dracopoliaine & Co., of Smyrna, says in regard to the outlook for Sultana raisins: "The late frosts have materially damaged this fruit. The extent of the damage, however, has been considerably exaggerated. For the past month we have had exceptionally fine weather, and barring any sudden change we calculate the crop will amount to 35,000 tons, as against an equal quantity for 1895, 28,000 tons in 1894; 30,000 do. in 1893, and 37,000 do. in 1892."

SENTIMENT VS. TRADE.

THE more detailed the information is that reaches us regarding the proceedings of the recent conference in London of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire the more evident does it become that whatever arrangements may be eventually reached for closer trade relations between the Mother Land and her colonies, they are likely to be based nearly altogether on business principles.

No matter how much such men as Chamberlain, the Secretary of State, may be influenced by sentiment, it is obvious that very little of that element reposes in the breasts of the merchants and manufacturers of the great commercial centres in England.

They undoubtedly desire to see the Empire expanded and its permanency established, but they evidently wax hot or cold just in proportion as it promises to develop or menace their foreign trade. In other words, ensure to them the quid pro quo in the shape of dollars and cents and preferential trade is accorded. The colonies are no doubt also influenced by the dollars and cents aspect in their desire to obtain preferential trade, only perhaps the ratio between the financial and the sentimental part of the question is probably not so great.

We are not blaming the English mercantile and manufacturing classes for looking at the question so strongly from the financial standpoint. The very character of England's trade makes it quite excusable that the business men of the country should weigh well the possibilities that such a gigantic scheme as preferential trade with the colonies would entail.

But over-much care for dollars and cents means sordidness, and sordidness is lamentable in a nation as well as in an individual.

Great Britain's total imports last year aggregated £416,687,630, of which £321,493,630 were from foreign countries and £95,194,000 from the colonies and India. Turning to the exports we find that £156,084,174 worth went to foreign countries and £70,085,000 to the colonies and India. The tale these figures tell is that Great Britain buys of her colonies less than 23 per cent. of her total, and sells to them about 31 per cent. of her total outside sales.

It is not surprising, in the face of these figures, that the British mercantile classes, as represented at the Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, should fail to wax warm over the idea of preferential trade the moment its details begin to be discussed.

But it must be remembered that where there is no sentiment there cannot be nationality, for sentiment is the basis of national as well as home life. Sentiment is to-day the strongest tie that holds Canada and the other British colonies to the Mother Land. But the sentiment appears to be stronger with the children than with the parent. While this is so, however, it may not be always so. The day that the child realizes that the parent lacks interest in it, that day do its affections begin to wane.

The colonies are willing to sacrifice something in payment for preferential trade. So should the Mother Land. We do not assert that the colonies are willing to sacrifice as much as they might or should in furtherance of the matter. We are told by one British trade journal that there was an irreconcilable feeling among the delegates at the convention, the colonists on one side standing firmly to their protectionist tenets, and the British delegates on the other pinning their faith to free trade. It is evident, therefore, that before we can hope for preferential trade a great deal of missionary work will be necessary among the colonists as well as the parent nation.

We hear a great deal of talk about the sacrifices that would be entailed by Great Britain in according the colonies preferential trade, but very little regarding the sacrifices which the colonies would have to make.

The duties they levy on imports are for revenue as well as for protective purposes. This is particularly true of Canada and Australasia. Now it follows, of course, that any preferential rates accorded British goods mean, on the one hand, a loss of revenue from that source; and furthermore, there will be a tendency to a decrease in the imports from foreign countries in the particular goods affected by the arrangement with Great Britain.

Great Britain, on the other hand, would lose nothing from a revenue point of view. The wheat, the sugar, the meats, etc., which that country would be asked to admit free, when from the colonies, are free now. Consequently, with a tax imposed against these products when from a foreign country, her exchequer would be augmented rather than decreased.

Great Britain to-day raises through the Customs £20,756,000, or a little less than 30 per cent. of her total revenue from all sources. The colonies (Australasia, Canada, South Africa) raise about 31 per cent. of their revenue through the medium of the Customs. Taking Canada alone, 42 per cent. of her revenue is derived from the Customs. It follows, in the light of these figures, that the colonies stand to do some sacrificing in the event of preferential trade being realized within the Empire.

But the question is, would there in the long run be sacrificing on the part of any of the parties to the preferential agreement? Those on both sides of the Atlantic who favor the idea claim that in the end it will redound to the advantage of all concerned—the Mother Land as well as the colonies.

The difficulty in the way of the consummation of the preferential idea is the creation of machinery which will not only put it into operation but keep it working without friction. It is a delicate but not an impossible undertaking.

THE STRAWBERRY PACK.

IT does not necessarily follow that because a certain fruit crop is large the pack will be of a similar description.

The crop of strawberries in Canada this year was large and the quality more than usually fine, but from information which THE CANADIAN GROCER has gathered from a variety of sources, the pack promises to be small; at any rate not nearly as large as it was anticipated it would be.

There appear to be two reasons for this. The first is that the growers have been able to get better prices by selling their berries on the ordinary market than they could from the packers. Consequently relatively less of the crop went into the packers' hands than usual. For instance, we know of a factory which only secured 60 per cent. of the quantity it had contracted for.

Another cause was that the season ended abruptly. Some at least of the packers had planned to get their supply of fruit later on, but owing to the want of rain, the fruitage ceased before it otherwise would, had there been rain.

On account of the disappointing nature of the pack, some at least of the packers are talking of advancing their prices to $2 per dozen. The fact that last year there was practically no pack of strawberries in the country adds strength to the situation.

Whether the pack will be as short as it is alleged to be remains to be seen. If it is, the fact that strawberries are not as distinctly staple articles as tomatoes, apples, etc., will prevent the price being abnormally high.

HOW COUNTRY MERCHANTS CAN HOLD TRADE.

A STOCK grievance with merchants doing business in the villages and towns is the habit a large number of the consumers in the respective places have of going or sending to the larger cities for a great deal of the goods they require.

The practice of people going outside for what they can purchase at home is regrettable. Every dollar spent outside a town means a dollar less for the merchants of that town. And the loss is not borne by the merchants alone. One of the component parts of a town is its merchants. Consequently, whatever affects the merchants affects the town, favorably or unfavorably, as the case may be.

While the evil in question arises from an outside source, the remedy for this condition of affairs is at home.

People cannot be prevented from going to the city for their wares. The arm of the law cannot be invoked. It is next to useless to tell the people that they should be loyal to their own town. Let them only imagine that they can purchase this and that article cheaper at a city store than they can at any of the local stores, and loyalty is forgotten altogether.

People will buy where they can, or think they can, buy to the best advantage. And the same law governs the merchant as well as the consumer. Nearly every merchant will purchase his goods in London or New York if he can do so to better advantage than he can in one of the Canadian cities.

There is only one thing that will induce people to make their purchases in the local stores: That is, make them realize that they can do just as well or better at home. And this can only be accomplished by live and up-to-date methods.

Country stores must be bright and attractive. Country merchants, like the departmental men, must be ever on the alert for lines which they can push as leaders. Show the people that they can get bargains at home as well as abroad ; and a little sermon on loyalty to the local stores can be appropriately sandwiched in at the same time.

Before you plead with a starving woman to trust in Providence you want to give her potatoes ; and you can only effectually preach loyalty to home stores when you are in a position to give buyers as good bargains as the departmental stores.

Have the windows dressed well and have bright and obliging clerks behind the counter. Advertise systematically and liberally. Make the advertisement bright and readable, and change it with every issue of the journal in whose columns you place it. Do not attempt to put into your "ad." everything that is in your store. Advertise specialties as much as possible.

Departmental stores can be competed with, even by small storekeepers, and even by small stores that are within easy range of these big stores. THE CANADIAN GROCER could give evidence of this. These stores not only exist but grow in spite of departmental store competition. But they are managed by live, energetic men ; men who have ideas and know how to use them. The people in the vicinity of these stores are realizing that they can do as well there in certain lines as they can at the down-town departmental stores, besides saving car fare and time. Consequently, they are purchasing there many goods which they formerly went down town for.

Stores of this character are educating the people : are removing misconceptions as to the department stores being the place to go for everything from a needle to an anchor.

Country merchants who desire to hold their local trade must work along the same lines. It is their only hope. And the satisfaction about it is that it is not an impossible task. All that is demanded for its accomplishment are live, up-to-date methods, These every merchant who will can cultivate.

THE DULNESS IN SUGAR.

USUALLY at this season grocery jobbers are preparing to supply the midsummer demand for sugar for preserving purposes. For this reason sugar is always one of the active spots of the grocery market during the greater part of June and July. The reverse is the case this year, however. Not only have the jobbers shown a determined disinclination to operate ahead, but the wants of the actual consumers themselves appear to be more moderate than usual, or they have decided not to preserve as heavily this year.

During the past few days the demand for sugar has been better, but there is still room for plenty of improvement, particularly as far as Montreal is concerned. The influences that have induced this condition of affairs are too well known to be repeated here, and it seems to be a generally accepted fact that sugar buying during the ensuing summer is to be conducted on a very cautious basis. In the meantime it may be interesting to know that Canadian prices are fully ½c. per lb. below the equivalent ruling price in New York, which is entirely too great a difference to be natural.

MR. PATERSON AND THE CABINET.

IT is more or less of a solace to know that the man who defeated Mr. W. Paterson, of Brant, was a business man ; but it does not follow therefore that there is no need of Mr. Paterson's presence in the House.

Mr. Paterson can afford to be out of the House better than the country can afford to be without his presence there.

He is a type of business man that we already have too few of in Parliament : He has had wide experience in Parliamentary matters, but has what is still better : a practical and extensive experience in affairs of every-day business life. He is therefore what may be termed doubly fitted for assisting in the work of ruling the country.

A seat for him should not only be secured in the House, but a place in the Cabinet as head of one of the chief business departments of the Government should be provided him.

One thing is certain : it will be a distinct loss to the country if William Paterson, of Brantford, is not a member of the new Cabinet.

Canada has arrived at an epoch in her history when she requires all the business material she can get for the work of Cabinet constructing. It is because of its absence in the past that the actual business interests of the country have not received the attention they should, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Laurier will profit by the mistakes of his predecessors.

THE MONTREAL GROCERS' PICNIC.

THE Montreal Retail Grocers, true to their traditions, are perfecting everything in advance for their annual picnic which takes place, as noted in this paper, on the 15th July.

They held a special meeting last Thursday, when very encouraging reports were made by the gentlemen who have charge of the arrangements.

President Vallieres presided, and there were present among others : V. Raby, J. Scanlan, A. D. Fraser, J. Johnston, S. Demers, B. Connaughton, J. Dionne, J. Taylor, P. O'Brien, N. Lapointe, J. E. Manning, W. Duckworth, W. H. Dunn.

A. D. Fraser, who has charge of that most important matter, the subscriptions, said that there was already $205 in the picnic fund and more in sight, all the manufacturers and wholesalers having subscribed. The St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery had donated a nice sum and they expected to hear from the other refinery soon. Christie, Brown & Co. had offered a special prize and W. H. Dunn, the agent of the Pure Gold company, had also signified his intention of offering something handsome in the way of prizes. L. Chaput & Co. promised that if a special and distinctive competition was arranged for grocers' clerks, etc., such as weighing and tying up sugar, etc., they would give a good prize. Another gentleman promised a medal for the same event.

The Games Committee submitted their programme, which comprised twenty different athletic events, and the Music and Dancing Committee reported that all arrangements were perfected. Both reports were ratified.

The secretary was instructed to write, extending an invitation to the president of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association.

SCARCITY OF DRIED FRUITS.

IT is not usually the case at this season for wholesale dealers to complain that they are feeling the scarcity of dried fruits. Demand usually falls off to small proportions in midsummer, but this does not appear to be the case at present. Of course, the enquiry cannot be called an active one, still it is of sufficient volume to make jobbers feel the necessity of having some supplies of dried fruit.

California raisins on the stalk are wanted most, and they cannot be had, the only supplies on spot consisting of odd lots of 4-crown fruit in jobbers' hands, which are held strong.

There is no stock of any kind watever in first hands, and sales agents who tried to place orders for customers at the Coast could not do so. One broker did succeed in getting an assorted carload together for his trade, but it was only after great difficulty. In fact the only supplies of any consequence seem to be centred at New York, and there the position is sufficiently strong, as the appended extract will attest :

The results of the week have been satisfactory to handlers of most descriptions of California dried fruits, especially loose raisins, prices for the latter having shown a decided advance under the demands of jobbers, seeders and consumers. To-day there was no business of consequence done in raisins, so far as could be learned, although there was a considerable demand for three crowns. Buyers did not want to pay more than 4½c. for this grade, while holders generally demanded 4¾c., and at the close it was doubtful if even small quantities could have been picked up at less than this price. Stocks are light, the bulk of what remains being, it is said, in the hands of jobbers. A bid of 4½c. for a car or part of a car of three crowns was to-day declined by a jobber, thus indicating that second hands look for still higher prices. Almost everything available in two crowns has been picked up within the past few days, and 3½c. is now given as an inside price for that grade. Four crowns are somewhat irregular in price, but strictly full fours are said to be unobtainable below 5c. London layers are now generally held at $1, though it is possible that some stock might still be procured at less.

This unusual demand for dried fruits is attributed to the comparatively low prices ruling on both prunes and raisins. The inside laid-down price for 3 crown raisins to-day either in Montreal or Toronto would be 6c. nett cash in wholesale lots.

VISIT FROM A CALIFORNIAN.

MR. W. M. GRIFFIN, of the Griffin & Skelley Co., San Francisco, was in Toronto last week. He is mak- a tour of inspection of the various agencies of the firm. As the Griffin & Skelley Co. have 104 agencies in Canada and the United States, his stay in Toronto was necessarily short. He was introduced to the trade by Mr. W. G. A. Lambe, the Toronto agent of the firm.

As the grocery trade of the country well know, the past season has witnessed a wonderful increase in the consumption of California dried and evaporated fruits in Canada, and Mr. Griffin expressed himself as being particularly well pleased with the share his company had had of this increased sale.

Mr. Griffin announced that although they had in California suffered from severe frosts, and in some localities the crop has been entirely ruined, still, he maintained, that they would, on the whole, have a good average crop in all kinds of fruit. He looked forward to higher prices ruling on raisins, but apricots he expected to be lower, the crop being larger than last season. He mentioned that the shipments of raisins from California last year totaled 93,000,000 pounds, forcing prices below a paying basis. He did not think that the crop would ever be as large as it was last season, the low prices having induced a good many growers to give up the cultivation of the raisin vine. He was certain, he said, that next season would see higher prices obtaining.

NO IMMEDIATE TARIFF CHANGES.

The Toronto Globe of Thursday announced that there will be no changes in the tariff at the ensuing summer session. Tariff revision will not be undertaken till early next year.

In the meantime, those who have been holding their energies in check for fear of a change in the tariff should let them loose.

DEATH OF SOLOMON FENTON.

Mr. Solomon Fenton, manager of the St. Catharines canning factory of the Pure Foods Co., died at his residence on the 25th ult. Deceased passed quietly away while seated in a chair. The immediate cause of death was fatty degeneration of the heart, but the deceased had been suffering for some time from a complication of diseases. The remains were interred at Brant, N.Y.

MOLASSES CARGOES.

Three cargoes of Barbadoes molasses arrived in Montreal during the week. They are offering at 30c. ex wharf, which is somewhat firmer. For forward delivery in August sales have been made at 28½c.

A cargo of Porto Rico is expected to arrive during the next week. It is offering at 28½c., and the samples shown exhibit good quality.

Rose & Laflamme are the consignees, to whom communications should be addressed.

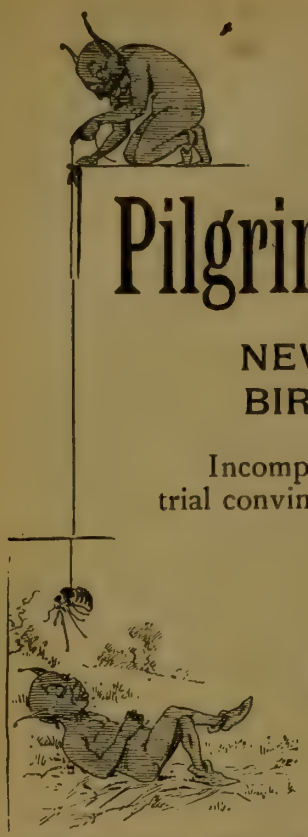
MANITOBA GRAIN CROPS.

THE first official Manitoba crop bulletin for 1896 has just been published, being compiled from correspondence received under date of June 1. Owing to the wet season the area of all crops shows a reduction, except roots, the heaviest reduction being in flax, which has decreased to under one-half of last year's crop. Wheat shows a decreased area of only about 5 per cent. as compared with last year. The decrease in flax is attributed to the low price ruling, as well as to wet weather.

The bulletin gives the following as the estimated area under crop for the province by districts :

District—	Wheat. Acres.	Oats. Acres.	Barley. Acres.
N. West	76,500	65,705	14,790
S. West	504,010	159,120	31,200
N. Centre	201,050	76,100	27,175
S. Centre	240,240	87,520	34,400
Eastern	60,160	54,000	20,320
Province	1,081,960	442,445	127,885

	Acres.
Total under flax	20,325
Total under rye	3,130
Total under peas	1,103
Total under corn	760
Total under potatoes	12,260
Total under roots	6,715



The total area under all crops is 1,696,583 acres, while that of last year was 1,887,796, showing a decrease of 191,213 acres.

The subjoined statement for convenience of reference gives a comparison with the total acreage for three years.

GROCER WILSON WEDS.

Mr. William Wilson, grocer, 369 Parliament street, Toronto, was united in marriage on Tuesday evening to Miss Lizzie Cauldwell. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, 366 Berkeley street, Rev. Joseph Odery officiating. Miss Bella Cauldwell supported the bride and Mr. Breen was groomsman. THE CANADIAN GROCER tenders its congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE feature of trade this week is the activity in sugar, the demand having materially increased during the past week. The market, however, is still unsettled, with prices slightly easier in Canada on both granulated and yellows. Canned goods are sharing with sugar the chief attention, the demand being active in all seasonable lines. Teas are quiet and without special feature. The demand continues active for currants at steady prices. There is a fairly good trade doing in Valencia raisins. The green fruit market is active. Bananas are dearer and the market is bare of all kinds of oranges except Sorrentos. The butter market is dull and weak. The same may be said of eggs. Wednesday being a holiday the volume of business has naturally been interfered with, but trade is gradually recovering from its election quietude.

CANNED GOODS.

Trade in tomatoes and corn is active, particularly on country account. Salmon is going out freely, and a nice business is being done in canned meats. Fresh lots of new season's canned lobster are arriving, but the market is not yet what may be termed well supplied. As large quantities of lobster have been taken on European account it is the general opinion that the home market will not be any too well supplied this season. As noted in our editorial columns the strawberry pack appears to be light, notwithstanding the large crop. We quote : Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 85c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.45 to $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The market is still quiet and devoid of special feature. We quote green in bags : Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade ; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There are a few syrups offering, but there is no demand. We quote : Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

The market is quiet and prices unchanged. We quote : New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The demand has been active during the week, but, notwithstanding, the market has been unsettled, chiefly on account of outside influences and partly because of the uncertainty regarding the tariff. Although the buying is brisk and quite a few carloads are changing hands, the demand is merely for the purpose of satisfying immediate requirements. The Canadian market eased off a little toward the latter part of last week, and transactions took place at shaded prices. The London market is nervous and fluctuating, and although in New York prices are being held a little more firmly confidence is lacking. Wholesalers' prices are : Granulated, $4.60 to $4.65 ; yellows, 3⅝c. up ; Demerara, in bags, $3.75 to $3.85 per 100lbs.

SPICES.

The cassia market is firmer, the cost to import being about ½c. per lb. more than a short time ago. Jamaica ginger is scarce and likely to be higher. Pepper is steady at the recent advance. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

There is a good seasonable demand for rice, tapioca and sago. We quote : Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

The market remains quiet and uninteresting. We quote : Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green ; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack ; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

New season's Japan teas are coming in freely. They are showing exceptionally good value, especially the medium grade. China teas, both black and green, are quiet, with no enquiry. Ceylon and Indians have been more or less neglected during the past week on the local market, although a few sales have been made in low grades where special value has been offered. Ruling prices to retailers are : Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades ; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Activity is still the chief feature of the currant trade, with prices steady and unchanged. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are experiencing the usual seasonable demand. The last box of 3-crown California loose muscatels held by shippers has been sold, and there are practically none left in jobbers' hands. Four-crown and seedless are about the only kinds of California raisins that are now to be had. We quote : Off-stalk, 4¾ to 5c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c. and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.

The few balances of California dried evaporated fruits remaining in hands of shippers have been practically cleaned out during the past week with the exception of a few prunes, holders preferring to shade prices slightly rather than carry the goods over till next season. The demand continues steady for all grades, taking into consideration the time of the year that it is. We quote : Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted ; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Prunes are quiet and unchanged. We quote as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and firm. We quote 5½ to 7½c. as the ruling price.

Dates are scarce, with the demand light at 4½ to 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The local market has been practically cleaned out of all oranges except Sorrentos. As a consequence stocks are light and prices high. A good demand is being experienced for lemons. Bananas have been scarce the past week with prices held about 50c. higher; in fact, as high as $3 per bunch has been asked, but this is not the ruling figure. It is not expected that prices will be easier for another month. Pineapples are exhausted. The season is practically over for strawberries, and raspberries are taking their place. Domestic cucumbers (Montreal) are on the market this week. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.75 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Sorrentos, $5 to $6 per box. Bananas, firsts, $1.75 to $2.25; cocoanuts, $4.25 to $4.50 a sack and 70c. per dozen; Bermuda onions, $1.25 to $1.50 per small crate; Egyptian onions, $2 to $2.25 per bag; pineapples, 8 to 15c.; strawberries, 10 to 11c.; cherries, 90c. to $1.50 per basket; cucumbers, 45 to 55c. per dozen; tomatoes, $1 to $1.15; water melons, 25 to 30c. each; raspberries, 9 to 10c.; gooseberries, 40 to 75c.; currants, 50 to 75c. for red, and $1.25 to $1.40 for black.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Jobbers report trade in butter unusually quiet, there being scarcely anything moving, the retail trade being largely supplied by hucksters and farmers. In the absence of a demand jobbers are not buyers, and there is an accumulation of butter at country points. Advices from Manitoba state that the make of butter in that province will be large, and that low prices are in consequence anticipated. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 11 to 12c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 10c.; pound prints, 12 to 13c. Creamery—Tubs, 15 to 16c.; 1-lb. blocks, 15 to 16c., according to make.

CHEESE—The local market is fairly active, but prices are easy. There is little or nothing doing in an export way, and the greater part of the cheese coming out is going into cold storage. The idea for new is still 7 to 7½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull, at 80 to 90c. per bushel.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quiet at 5½ to 6c.

DRIED APPLES—Dull at 3c. per lb.

EGGS—The receipts of eggs exceed the requirements. Dealers are pressing sales and shading prices occasionally. We quote 9 to 9½c.

POTATOES—The season is practically over for old stock, southern potatoes being obtainable on this market at $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel.

HONEY—A little of new season's honey has been offering during the week, but it is not a factor in the market yet. We quote old: Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 4½ to 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

PROVISIONS.

Trade is fairly good in all smoked meats, and a little improvement is to be noted in the demand for barrel pork. There is a fair movement in lard, but prices are being shaded.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5¼ to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5¾ to 6c. for small lots; backs, 7¼ to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 9½c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¼c.; tubs, 7½c.; pails, 7¾ to 8c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12.50 to $13; Canadian short-cut, $13 to $13.50; clear shoulder mess, $10.50 to $11

FISH.

There is a large supply of Manitoba white fish on the market this week, in fact, of all kinds of fish, but the demand is light, partly on account of the holiday. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.;

SALT.

The local trade has been quiet during the past week, but the country demand for car load lots continues brisk. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

PETROLEUM.

Business is much as before. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19 to 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

BALED HAY—Steady at $13 for No. 1, on track.

FLOUR—Continues quiet. Straight rollers, in bags, are quoted at $3.15, north and west frieghts, and patents at $3.25 to $3.30.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Trade continues quiet. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.75 to $2.85; rolled wheat, $2.25 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—The offerings are fair and the market is steady. There is a moderate demand and prices are quoted at 5¾c. for No. 1 green and cars of cured 6 to 6¼c.

HORSEHIDES—Are steady at $1.50 to $1.75 each; wool pickings, 8c.; horsehair, 18c.

TALLOW—The market is steady. Local dealers are paying 3½ to 3¾c., and asking 4 to 4¼c.

WOOLS—The offerings of fleece are quite free, but the situation is not very promising. Slightly higher prices are being paid this week. Prices quoted are 18 to 19c. for farmers' lots and 19 to 20c. for selected country lots. Pulled wools are dull. The home mills are getting supplies from the farmers and are not buying here to any extent. Prices are nominal at 18½ to 19½c. for supers and 20 to 21c. for extras.

MARKET NOTES.

Bananas are scarce and dearer.

New raspberries are on the Toronto markets.

There is an over-supply of fish on the market.

will be open regularly during the season on the Yonge street wharf on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

The market is bare of all kinds of oranges except Sorrentos.

New honey was offered on the Toronto market this week.

Cassia costs ½c. per lb. more to import than it did a short time ago.

There are no 3-crown California loose muscatel raisins left on the Toronto market.

There is a better supply of new season's canned lobster on the market, but still stocks are light.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 2, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE volume of business in groceries, while it has shown some increase, is still behind the usual average for this season of the year. Sugar coutinues unsettled as to values, and while the demand is better than it was the aggregate volume of trade is not large. In syrups stocks are light and business small. Molasses exhibits more firmness at primary centres, but there is no change on spot. Stocks of dried fruit of all kinds are almost exhausted here and for this reason they are featureless. Tea continues quiet, with buyers very conservative, and sales agents for all kinds of canned goods make the same complaints about the difficulty of inducing any buying.

SUGAR.

Though there has been some change for the better in the demand for refined sugar during the past few days the movement is not anything like what it should be at this season of the year, when preserving operations are commencing in earnest. The feeling continues weak, as noted last week, and sales of granulated at the refinery have been made freely at 4 5-16 to 4⅜c., while yellows have sold at 3⅜ to 3¾c. In a jobbing way the Guild price on granulated is 4½c., and yellows, 3⅜ to 3¾c. Buying in every instance, both from first and second hands, is strictly confined to immediate wants.

SYRUPS.

Stocks of syrups in refiners' hands are small, the volume of manufacture this summer having been very light. Demand, however, is extremely quiet, and prices are steady and unchanged at 1¼ to 2¾c. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

Advices on molasses from Barbadoes are rather firmer regarding the first cost, but there is little change in spot values. Sales of cargo lots are noted at 28 to 29c., and we quote car lots 30c., and single puncheons 31c., with Porto Rico stock held at same figures.

RICE.

There has been a good average demand for rice, and prices are steady. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

The spice market is quiet and steady. Business is small, being confined strictly to actual wants. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

There is only a small jobbing trade passing in coffee, except a few round lots of Maracaibo and Rio, which left first hands at 17 to 18½c. We quote: Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 18 to 19c.; Java, 28c.; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

The market continues very quiet, the only sales of any importance being a few lots of new Japans, at 17c., which showed good quality. In a jobbing way a fair movement is noted, but dealers are very conservative. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c for mediums, and 25 to 55c for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65 for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

All the California raisins in first hands here are exhausted, and supplies with jobbers are exceedingly light, consisting only of a few 4-crown, which are held at 7c. Commission agents tried to procure supplies on the Coast for customers here this week, but could not do so.

Valencia raisins also are almost exhausted, and we quote values firm: Ordinary offstalk, 4½ to 5c.; fine, 5¼ to 5½c., and selected and layers, 6 to 6½c.

Sultanas are firm, at 6 to 6½c.

There is no change in currants, which continue quiet and firm at 4½ to 5½c. as to grade and package.

Prunes are featureless. There are no California prunes to trade in, and stocks of Austrian and French are almost nil. We quote: French, 5¼ to 5½c., and Austrian, 6 to 6½c.

Figs continue quiet and steady at 8½ to 10c. for ordinary and 12 to 17c. for fancy.

Dates rule quiet at 5 to 5¼c. Stocks are very light.

NUTS.

There is only a limited jobbing demand for nuts. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10½c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

Demand for new pack canned goods of all kinds from local jobbers continues light, and few contracts of any importance have yet been put through either in vegetables or fish. The jobbing demand also continues light. Offers on canned salmon are made at unchanged prices. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half-tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.35; 2's, $2.15

GREEN FRUIT.

There have been few changes in green fruit since last report. Oranges have sold well at steady prices, and the same can be said of lemons. Bananas are neglected and rather easier, and increased receipts of strawberries have depressed prices. California fruit has been arriving more freely of late. We quote: Apples, $5 to $6; dried do., 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 10 to 15c., and strawberries, 5 to 8c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $1.50 to $3.50, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has ruled firmer on choice stock and prices have advanced to 9½ to 10c. on firsts, while seconds sell at 8 to 8½c.

BEANS—In beans business continues very quiet, and prices are unchanged at 70 to 75c. in car lots and 80 to 90c. in a jobbing way.

POTATOES — The market for potatoes shows no sign of improvement, the demand being slow at 25 to 26c. per bag in car lots and at 30 to 35c. in a small way.

TALLOW—There is no change in tallow, which we quote at 4 to 5½c.

HOPS—Range from 6 to 6½c.

HONEY—Slow at 12 to 14c. for bright comb, 10 to 12c. dark, and extracted 7 to 8c.

HAY.

There has been a fair week's trade in baled hay, which we quote active and firm. No. 1, $13.50, and No. 2, $10.50 per ton car lots on track.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market was quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $12.50 to $13; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 6¼c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market has not exhibited any change. A fair local trade has been transacted, and some export business has also been worked in Manitoba patents and strong bakers'. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.80 to $4; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3.60 to $3.70; straight roller, bags, $1.70 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.40 to $1.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.50.

The demand for oatmeal continues slow and the market is dull and unchanged. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.90 to $3; granulated, bbls, $3 to $3.10; rolled oats, bbls, $2.70 to $2.75; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs, $2.40 to $2.50.

There was a fairly active business done in feed and values rule steady. We quote: Bran, $10.50 to $11.50; shorts, $11.50 to $12.50; mouillie, $15.50 to $17.50.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market continues to decline, and the market this week is fully ¼ to ⅜c. below what it stood at last week. Sales of 6,000 Quebec cheese have been made at 6½c. spot, and all that buyers are prepared to offer for Ontario makes is 7c., and as what is here cost fully 7⅛ to 7¼c., business is of necessity light. In a word, the market is in a very unsettled condition.

The butter market is quiet, with a rather easy tendency. Shippers were bidding 16½c. for finest creamery to-day, but the fact that local jobbers were offering and paid a fraction more made trading difficult for shippers. Townships dairy was offered and sold at 15½c., and there were small receipts of western dairy, which sold at 14c.

ASHES.

There is no change in ashes, which rule quiet and steady. We quote: Pots, firsts, $3.60; seconds, $3.30, and pearls, $4.75 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

The demand for sugar, though it has picked up a trifle here, is still unsatisfactory as a whole.

Advices from Barbadoes have been rather firmer on molasses, the first cost being quoted 1c. higher.

Sales agents for canned salmon report that so far they have not closed a single import contract for new season's pack in Montreal.

The stock of last year's dried fruit in California is practically exhausted, commission men here who tried to fill orders this week being unable to do so.

Stocks of syrups continue light owing to the fact that throughout the entire summer the volume of output at both refineries here has been exceedingly light.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 2, 1896.

THE first half of the year is gone It has seen many changes. Looking at business the past six months, it cannot be called successful, for though we have had few failures, little money has been made and some lost, owing to all markets falling off, even after they were down to what many thought hard pan. The past week shows rather a better volume of business than for some little time, the election being over. Many are the conjectures regarding what changes will be made in the tariff. One which is most expected is a duty on tea. It is one which many of our largest tea merchants rather favor. In spice there is little change, except pepper, which tends higher.

OIL—This line, as is expected at this season, shows but light demand. Prices show no change. Quantity of fish oil arriving is small, and there is small demand. We quote: American burning oil, 22½c.; best Canadian, 20½c.; prime white, 17 to 18c.; barrels free in all cases.

SALT—There is a fair movement, and stocks are being well worked off. They can be readily replaced from Boston, from which port some is now on the way, but it cannot be landed to sell at present prices asked by some holders. The above refers to English coarse salt. The first car of salt brought here from the Canada Salt Association arrived this week. It gives satisfaction. They put up an attractive 5-lb. cartoon, besides the regular packages. In box salt, the Windsor people have no competition. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; English factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in barrels, $3 to $3.25; 10-lb bags in barrels, $2.75 to $3; 20-lb wood boxes, 20c; 10-lb boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—This is now a line of some interest. In vegetables, owing to standard and best-known brands selling at guaranteed price, brokers find it hard to work in other brands. In salmon, a few orders have been placed at last season's prices. Market is firm, packers not shading prices. There is a range of from 25 to 50c. in prices received here; those quoting the higher prices are equally firm as those quoting lower, and have refused orders, even when they could be bought at lower prices than offer made. In spot goods, peas are scarce and higher. Tomatoes are also small stock, and held firm. Corn is weak. They are freely offered by retailers at 7c. per can. Oysters are higher, and some packers have none to offer. We quote: Corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, $1 to $1.10; tomatoes, 95c.; gallon apples, $2.20 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.30 to $2.35; 2-lb. tins American, $2.50 to $2.55; 1-lb tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; peaches, Canadian, $2.70 to $2.75; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2.50 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 so $1.40; haddies, $1.25 to 1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—There is a very large movement, particularly in bananas. Native berries are beginning to come in. They are much preferred to the Upper Canadian berry, and are much more profitable to the dealer, arriving in better condition. Stocks of oranges on this market during the past week have been light. Valencias are still the principal stock. Prices are high. California peaches and plums are being received in small quantities. Pineapples are light receipts. We quote: Lemons, $3.50 to $4; Valencia oranges, $8 to $8.50; pineapples, $1.50 to $2; bananas, $1 to $2; rhubarb, 1½c.; strawberries, 12 to 15c.; cabbage, per doz.. 80c. to $1.20; cucumbers, per doz, 80 to 90c.; tomatoes, $2 to $2.50 per crate; California peaches, $1.50 to $2; apricots, $1.50 to $2; cherries, $1.50 to $2; plums, $2 to $2.75.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little of interest. Stock of loose muscatels is getting light. Prices firmer. Stock in New York also light, and higher prices are expected. These goods are well liked here. In California prunes there is still some light demand. Onions are fair sale, there being good stocks of Bermuda and Egyptian held. Dried apples are still dull. We quote: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 5¾ to 6c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6½ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 2 to 2¼c.; Bermuda onions, $1 to $1.25 per crate; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is as yet little of interest. Butter is plentiful, with light demand and prices low. Even creamery prints are hard to sell. In eggs there are but small sales, merchants preferring to buy small lots of fresh in the country markets rather than case eggs. In cheese, new is still in small demand, and small cheese preferred. Market reports from the West Indies are still unsatisfactory. We quote: Dairy tubs, 14 to 16c.; creamery, roll, 18 to 19c.; do. tub, 17 to 18c. Eggs are steady at 8½ to 9c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c.

SUGAR—There is a rather easier feeling, and demand is still light, much to the surprise of holders. The advance so long expected has now been given up, and lower prices would not be a matter of surprise. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3⅝ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—During the week upwards of 1,000 casks of Porto Rico landed here direct importations. This has not prevented Yarmouth parties from selling some in this market. Demand is quiet. Considering the low price of other grades Porto Rico holds its price well. At the island Porto Rico is higher, but the large stock here will tend to prevent any advance. The quality of the Barbadoes varies, but does not equal the Porto Rico, for which there is now the largest demand. The people are no longer satisfied with a cheap molasses. It must be good. Some of the St. Croix received compares well with the Barbadoes. New Orleans, owing to the stock of West India, is quiet. There is little demand for syrup. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 29c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 34c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; St. Croix, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Demand is dull. It is very seldom that at this season fresh salmon are so low. The catch is large and quality good. The Boston market is lower than here. In dry fish prices remain low. The best pickled herring now here is Quoddy River. In smoked herring the market is worse than before. They never were as low. Pickled shad show small demand, the spring run was so small, very few being packed. Last season's fish are still to be had. Fall caught shad are the best. Lobster season is about over. There has been a fair catch, larger, in fact, than was expected. The demand has been active, so that canned lobsters are high and hard to get. We quote as follows: Large cod, $3 to $3.25; medium, $2.75 to $3; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; Canso, $2 to $2.50 per half-bbl.; shad, half-bbl, $4.25; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 10 to 12c.; mackerel, fresh, 10c. each; lobsters, medium to large, 5 to 6c.

PROVISIONS—Stocks held here are still large, with prices easy and very quiet movement. Lard shows no improvement. The same is true of smoked meats, particularly rolls. We quote: Clear pork, $13.75 to $14.25; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 8½ to 9c.; compound, 6½ to 7c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Flour tends lower, with stocks smaller than for some time, and merchants only buying to fill actual needs. Oatmeal, which took a little turn for the better, is again off. Fair stocks are held here. Demand light, as it also is for oats. Cornmeal is even lower than last quotation, and large quantities are moving. Beans are again lower and some few cars have been bought. Stock held here is large. Hay is but small business, but holds at prices. Outlook is good. There is no demand for mill feed. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.45 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.15 to $4.20; medium, $4 to $4.10; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.90 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $14.50 to $15.50; bran, do do, $13.50 to $14; hay, $11 to $13; handpicked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 31 to 32c.; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Our own wild and cultivated strawberries are now coming in quite freely.

James Patterson daily receives large quantities of fresh caught salmon.

Geo. W. Newcomb, of Hopewell Hill, Albert county, is advertising his store for sale.

One commercial traveler voted in Freetown, P.E I., and in St. John. Few cast two votes so far apart.

A St. John drug house this week placed an order for 250 gross Japanese tooth brushes, direct importation.

THE GROCER extends congratulations to Mr. I. C. Sewart, editor of The Maritime Merchant, who was married during the past week.

Advices from Nova Scotia are for a large apple crop. One large orchard owner has ordered three thousand barrels to put his output in.

Large shipments of pulp continue to be made from Nova Scotia. A shipment of three thousand bundles went forward to Portland, Maine, this past week.

There is to be a large new cranberry bog at Middleton, N.S, this season. When complete it will contain about eighty acres. Fifteen will be set with plants this year.

THE GROCER is pleased to welcome home from Florida Mr. C. H. Dearborn, of the well-known firm of Dearborn & Co. Mr. Dearborn is looking in better health than usual. In speaking of his orange grove Mr. Dearborn said that though the frost had damaged the trees so much that they had to be cut down, the roots were not destroyed, and they were beginning to grow, but it would be several years before we had any quantity of Florida oranges.

New Glasgow, N.S., is now quite a milling centre. They have a mill turning out 100 barrels each of flour and meal per day. The flour is ground from Manitoba wheat.

Large shipments of salmon and lobsters are daily going forward to the American market. During the week one shipment of 5,000 live lobsters was made from Digby, and on another day 3,000 went out.

Much interest is taken in the new English law stipulating that no cattle shall be imported alive. Should our port, as it should be, and as we expect it will, having advantages which no other port has, become the winter port of Canada, this law would be of great advantage to us making much business here, not only killing the cattle but in the by-products. This law will also aid the fast passenger boat, should one be put on.

The new carton in which Coleman's salt is sold is much admired; the salt is particularly put up for table use. They also put up best cheese and butter salt in the regular styles of package. J. Hunter White, agent for Maritime Provinces.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

AND now the elections are over and business is getting back to its normal conditions, although a dulness is prevailing which we would like to see shaken off. This dulness has been with us, more or less, since the first of the year, and it seems to desire to stick to us closer than any brother. Not only is this the case in groceries, but it is the same in dry goods, hardware and other lines. People have been exhibiting a large amount of caution in their purchases, not exactly because any radical changes are expected in the tariff, but principally from the fact that demand is slow.

One failure is recorded this week, that of M. O. Wier & Co., grocers and commission merchants. The firm apparently enjoyed a fair measure of trade, but they had the happy, or unhappy, faculty of "selling below cost." Somehow or other our firms who sell "below cost" usually come to grief. A year ago this firm was selling sugars below refinery quotations and the trade was sorely perplexed to know how it was done. They soon found out. They were buying sugars which were stolen. M. O. Wier is the only member of the firm. His preferences are his father, Louis Wier, $1,500 for cash advanced, and John Campbell, his clerk, $100. C. H. Harvey is the assignee.

The Annapolis Valley strawberry crop is beginning to come in. On Saturday last quotation per quart by the crate was 17c., but on Monday retailers sold them 3 quarts for 25c. Last year they were down as low as 5c. per quart by the close of the season. There is an abundant crop this season, and the quality is excellent.

Dealers in breadstuffs report business quiet, but hope for more activity in the near future. Flour quotations remain steady, but a weakness is reported in oatmeal and rolled oats, carloads being offered as low as $2,75 delivered in any part of the province. Quotations of flours are: Hungarian patent Manitoban, $4.40 to $4.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.20 to $4.30; Canadian pastry, $4.10 to $4.20; 75 p.c. roller patents, $3.90 to $4; 80 p.c. do, do, $3.80 to $3.90; 90 p.c. do, do, $3.70 to $3.75; straight do, $3.65 to $3.70; extra, $3.40 to $3.50.

A first-class article in butter always meets with a ready sale in this market, but there is some stuff sent here for which the consignor should never look for returns. Creamery prints bring 20c.; western dairy, 17c., and Eastern Townships, 18c. The latter is beginning to arrive quite freely.

There is steadier feeling in eggs, and good native stocks find ready purchasers at 9c., while P. E. Island bring 8c.

Business in provisions is dull and lifeless. P. E. Island mess pork is quoted at $13.50 to $14, but there is little doing at those figures. New sugar cured hams are worth 9½c.

If there is one article more than another that is affected by a prospective change of tariff it is sugar. A visit to the office of the refinery elicited the fact that there is no movement whatever. While the outside markets appear strong and the visible supply not over large, dealers still feel tardy about placing orders, feeling that a change in the tariff is one of the possibilities. Quotations are: Porto Rico, in bbls., 3½c.; refined cut loaf, 6½c.; granulated, 4⅛c.; standard A, 4½c.; standard yellow C, 4⅜c.; extra C, 5c.; yellow extra, C, 3⅞c.

Cargoes of molasses continue to arrive, but the market seems to be at a standstill, there being no turnover worth noting. Quotations are: Porto Rico, 35 to 36c.; St. Croix, 28c.; Trinidad, 28c.; Barbadoes, 32c., and Demerara, M.R. brand, 39c.

Canned goods are in good demand, principally fruits. Gallon apples are worth $1.90 and sell better than any other fruit. Butter and string beans sell at 90c.; corn, 90c.; peas, 95c.; pears, 1's, $1.75; peaches, 2's, $1.85; plums, $1.75, and strawberries, $2.40. The reported shortage in canned lobsters has strengthened the market in that line. Canned beef is somewhat lower. Canadian 1's are quoted at $1.25, 2's at $2.25, 14' $15 per dozen.

Green fruits are meeting with fair demand.

Supplies are being received twice per week from Boston. Valencia oranges show a sharp advance, being quoted at $10 per case for 420 count Valencias. Messinas, 200 count, sell at $5. Lemons also are higher, being sold at $4 per bag of 300 count. Bananas sell at $1.75 to $2.25 per bunch, and pineapples at $2 to $2.25 per dozen. Onions are lower, selling at 2c. per lb. for Egyptian, and $1 per bag for Barmudas in 50-lb. boxes.

The fish business is quiet. Grocery cod is scarce and selling at $4.25 per quintal. Alewives sell at $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

Cutting is reported in dried fruits, but is gradually diminishing.

LIPTON BUYS ANOTHER TEA PLANTATION.

We learn that Nahakettia estate, the sale of which was noticed in our last issue, has been purchased by Mr. T. J. Lipton, and we understand that Oakfield and Daminatenne have also been sold to the same purchaser. These three estates are all situated in the Haputale district. Oakfield and Daminatenne have been taken over by him now for some little time, but Nahakettia is quite a recent purchase, and will be taken over as soon as the necessary formalities have been completed. We should not be surprised to hear that Mr. Lipton had made another purchase in the Haputale district, where he now possesses such a large acreage of tea.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Laflamme, of Rose & Laflamme, of Montreal, was in Toronto on Thursday.

Major John Sloan, quartermaster of the Governor-General's Body Guards, is in camp with his regiment this week.

Mr. McLaughlin, of McLaughlin & Co., Gorrie, paid THE CANADIAN GROCER a visit this week. He says business in his locality is fully up to average.

Mr. J. D. Roberts, of Pure Gold Mfg. Co., is in Hamilton this week, hustling "Pure Gold" in connection with Lucas, Steele & Bristol, and reports everything progressing beautifully.

A. A. Parks, Williamsford, was in Toronto this week. He reports business good and the outlook encouraging. He is of opinion that crops in his neighborhood will be up to, if not surpassing, the average.

HAMILTON BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Hamilton Board of Trade was held on Monday morning for the purpose of nomina ing officers for the ensuing year. There was only one nomination each for the position of president and vice-president, and W. A. Robinson and W. F. Findlay were elected by acclamation to fill these positions.

For secretary-treasurer C. R. Smith and John Bell were nominated. Wm. Hendrie proposed Mr. Smith, and the nomination was seconded by Dr. Burns. Mr. Bell's nominators were Alexander Turner and J. B. Fairgrieve.

Seven members of the council are to be elected next Monday, and the following-named gentlemen were nominated to fill the vacancies: St. Clair Balfour, W. H. Glassco, Alexander Gartshore, John A. Bruce, Col. A. H. Moore, Matthew Leggat, J. G. Bowes, John M. Eastwood, John Calder, C. E Doolittle, Dr. Burns, F. C. Fearman, John Hoodless, H. N. Kittson.

For the Board of Arbitration, of which four members have to be elected, these gentlemen were nominated: J. Turnbull, T. H. Lester, W. H. Draper, F. H. Lamb, Seneca Jones, T. E. Leather, S. O. Greening.

The Windsor Salt Works are shipping to the full capacity of their works, and expect soon to have caught up with back orders.

F. W. Fearman, Hamilton, has a line of smoked sugar-cured shoulders that are extra good value, and the cheapest article in the trade.

DAVIDSON & HAY are showing a fine sample of Sultana raisins. This fruit is the choicest grade packed, and excels anything ever shown on the Canadian market.

Davidson & Hay have in store Noble's lobsters—new pack.

Sugars have been moving lively the past 10 days.

Davidson & Hay are quoting gallon apples at close figures.

T. A. Lytle & Co. find the demand for malt and cider vinegar rapidly increasing. Quality tells.

A large shipment of Roberts' jellies, all flavors, is to hand with Davidson & Hay.

The material used in the manufacture of "Rising Sun" and "Sun Paste" stove polish is imported from Ceylon, India, and goes through a peculiar manipulation at the factory in Canton, Mass. The durable qualities of the stove polish are due to the high quality of the materials used.

T. B. Escott & Co. report a large sale for proof spirit vinegar, suggestive of the fact that the people prefer pure goods.

A large lot of early May pickings Japan tea is being offered by W. H. Gillard & Co. The tea can be retailed at 25c., and there is a good thing in it for the retailer.

An enormous quantity of the "Rising Sun" stove polish is now being exported to Great Britain. Sixty-five thousand cases were sold through the English agency in London last year.

A consignment of Noble's celebrated "Religious" lobsters has just come to hand for W. H. Gillard & Co. The quality they state is even superior to former packs.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, report a large shipment just in per Brazilian from London of Chas. Southwell's jams and jellies, new season's fruit. They are already distributing these goods to all parts of Canada.

The Pure Gold Mfg. Co., of Toronto, and Lucas, Steele & Bristol, of Hamilton, are mutually pleased to announce that they have been able to make arrangements whereby the latter have become sole agents for the former in Hamilton. See advertisement.

T. B. Escott & Co., of London, note the arrival of a large shipment of Ceylon teas bought at lowest point, which they offer to the trade at close margin. They also have two carloads of Japan tea en route from Japan, splendid 25c. teas.

"So many grocers availed themselves of our offer to forward show cards for Keen's mustard and Oxford blue that we ran short for a few days. We have, however, 150 more just in from the framer's hands and will be glad to send them out to any grocer," write F. Magor & Co., 16 St. John street, Montreal.

The second shipment of Barbadoes molasses will reach Laporte, Martin & Cie.

The Eby, Blain Co. report the arrival of another shipment of Meyers' (English) potted meats, which can be retailed at 5c. See advertisement on another page.

New dulse of extra quality is now arriving. Thos. Gorman received some consignments this week from Grand Manan. Our best dulse comes from there

Perkins, Ince & Co. are in receipt of shipments of the well known brands of Japan tea, namely, "Moon," "Crescent," "Tea House" and "Sailor Boy."

Samples of the new season's Japs will be gladly forwarded by Lucas, Steele & Bristol on application; also ¼ lb. packet of "Hillwattee" blend.

"Our L. P. & Co. spices," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol, "are all ground from selected, sifted stock. Many of our customers now keep no other spices."

Another shipment of Stower's lime juice, cordial and clarified lemon squash is to hand with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. The firm also have their peptonised lime fruit sauce.

Summer clearing sales seem to have taken possession of the wholesale merchants as well as the retail. Laporte, Martin & Cie. are offering special bargains in the leading brands of canned goods; special prices, even below the bargain rates, are offered for large lots.

NEW EGG HOUSE FOR LONDON.

LONDON, Ont., is to have a new industry which is expected to do wonders for the farmers of the surrounding agricultural district.

A few weeks ago Mr. Thos. Robinson, of West Hartlepool, Eng., visited London. Mr. Robinson is the largest exporter of eggs in the world, and he was looking over the Canadian ground with a view to establishing a branch export house here, with mammoth refrigerator and cold storage appurtenances. Mayor Little took him in hand, and, in company with Mr. J. S. Pearce, they drove Mr. Robinson around the district, calling on agriculturists who would be interested. So well pleased was Mr. Robinson with what he saw that almost before he left London he had made up his mind to establish his Canadian branch here. He even went so far as to look up a probable site.

Mr. Robinson visited the other Canadian points, but they only served to impress him still more with the desirability of London, and when he arrived home in England and consulted his three sons, who are partners in the business, he cabled Mr. A. A. Campbell to close the deal for the property. The latter includes lots 27 and 28 on Bathurst street, near Adelaide, with a frontage on the Grand Trunk Railway. The warehouse will occupy ground which, before the N.P., was used for oil purposes. It is unnecessary to remark that it has been vacant of late.

Mr. Benjamin Higgins has been appionted manager, and instructions are expected every day in regard to building operations.

The egg business carried on by Mr. Robinson and his three sons was established 32 years ago, and is now the largest of the kind in the kingdom. The firm have large warehouses where the eggs are stored fresh and under the various processes of preserving. The stock is bought in foreign countries during the spring months when cheapest, and best in quality, and after lying in tanks for several months are taken out, dried, packed, and delivered to buyers in Great Britain and Ireland during the autumn and winter. The industry employs some 180 or 200 hands, and 1,600 tons of pickled eggs are handled, representing 26,000,000 eggs. Heretofore one half of their purchases were made in Russia, and shipped by steamer from Riga, on the Baltic. Mr. Robinson has stated that he found the Canadian eggs superior to any other, not only in weight, but in quality and richness of their contents.—Advertiser, London.

U. S. SALMON SHIPMENTS.

Last mail advices from San Francisco state that the sea shipments of salmon from that port in May were 5,570 cases and 370 packages, valued at $29,284, against 31,100 cases for the same month last year, that total including 27,393 cases to New York. Siamese Twins are debt and difficulty, difficulty and debt—they are inseparable. We need not discuss their causes here, either. What we want to point out is that no man with a family, or with large business interests at stake, should neglect life insurance. Stick to the policy you have, and when you want more insurance see one of our agents about it, or call in at Head Office. No medical examination is required for our pension. Bond policy and rates are away down.

PRUNE PROSPECTS.

A letter just received from Budapest, date June 17th, says: "Last year's crop of prunes being totally cleared the prospects for 1896 now demand attention. Reports from Bosnia are generally favorable. Both in the low land and on the hills the trees show a fair though not immoderate yield. The fruit looks healthy and promises to be of fair size. Indications point to a crop of from 2,500 to 3,000 wagon loads, or twice the yield of 1895. In Servia conditions are only locally good. A 'low middling' crop is all that can be expected from the country at large. The estimate for this year is from 1,500 to 2,000 wagon loads, against 2,800 wagon loads for last season. This too provided the weather be normal. Many German firms complain that in recent years there has been too little care observed in the drying process in case of Bosnia and Servia prunes. The producer is influenced by the higher prices commanded by large, imperfectly dried prunes, but this imperfection renders the fruit more perishable and lowers its market qualities in the long run. The Austrian firms hope to be reinforced in their complaint, which appears just, by action of the Berlin fruit firms."

PUREST & BEST

Is situated at Renfrew, Ont. Their output of Butter has a high reputation. In order to obtain it and keep the quality, they must use the best obtainable ingredients. They use "WINDSOR" SALT exclusively. Under date of December 17th, 1895, Mr. Wright has this to say :—

* * * * For your convenience I may add that it is certainly the finest salt we ever used. There may be as good, but I have never used it. It might interest you to know how we came to use it. For many years before starting our Creamery, I used English salt in my dairy, exclusively Hearing of yours I sent for a sample, which was promptly forwarded, and we used it with our next churning. Although we used the same quantity we had always used, so much greater strength was there in your Windsor brand, that our butter was so salt that we could hardly use it. We then greatly reduced the quantity, and found it to work admirably, and consequently have used it ever since. When we opened our Creamery, Windsor Salt was at once adopted, and we have never had any reason to regret it. The barrels are well made, and being lined with paper it prevents any dirt or dust from getting in. This I consider a very important factor, and so long as you send us the same quality as you have been doing, it will require very strong inducements to cause us to use any other. You will of course understand from this that it was the Windsor Salt we used in our butter which took the Gold Medal at Ottawa in Sept. last.

(Signed) A. A. WRIGHT, Manager Renfrew Creamery Co., Ltd.

Grocers can obtain "WINDSOR" Dairy Salt, from any wholesale house, put up in 50lb. Linen Sacks and in 20lb. White Cotton Bags packed 15 in a paper lined Barrel.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Industry is a never-failing life-support.

Knuckle down to business if you would win.

Just employes are the product of just employers.

Trade, like a gun, can be forced to the bursting point.

Early to business tends to produce early advancement in business.

The ideal drummer is he who can sell goods to "beat the band."

Good character is more essential to good credit than even a long purse.

Cutting prices is something that two can play at. Hence its absurdity.

Man is the greatest of all works, and yet every man is his own architect.

Braggadocio is a drag upon the opportunities for success of every braggart.

Aim to be something. It is better to be a monkey on a hand organ than nothing.

A customer is sometimes tied to the store by the way in which the parcels are tied.

No merchant can do without sleep, but it is a fatal error to allow his business to sleep.

A business that cannot stand a little extra push must be in a tottering condition indeed.

Have confidence in your powers, but remember, do not mistake conceit for confidence.

If the forefathers of some men had been transported convicts, they would be less inclined than they now are to boast of their ancestry, and perhaps more inclined to exercise their own energies for the securing of a livelihood.

Clerks should keep their eyes on the door for Customers and not on the clock for Time.

Religion in business is a good thing; but religion in business for business is a bad thing.

Men who give away the private affairs of their employers give away the secret of their own littleness.

In the battle of the standards now going on in the United States right must win. And gold is the right.

"B" stands for business, a very good thing, but which, through bad methods, does often take wing.

The merchant who shows an attachment for truth will soon get people to show an attachment for his store.

If we had not competition in business we would soon have decomposition in business, which is ten times worse.

Some people make a mistake in their advertisements; but more people make mistakes by not advertising.

When a man gets above his avocation he should get out of it. If he does not he is likely to go down with it.

Every advertisement should have a point with which to prod people to make purchases at your place of business.

It is not every man that can build up a fortune, but it is within the power of every one to build up a good reputation.

One is sometimes led to believe that while nature designs every man for a certain avocation, she does not always furnish him with the eyesight necessary to see the niche which he was made to fill.

Most of the evils that prevent success in business are from within and not from without the particular business affected.

Keep your character, even if you have to let your business go. It is easier to recover a lost business than a lost character.

Judging from the recent election campaign, parliamentary as well as business aspirants sometimes lose their deposits.

Merit in the merchant and merit in the goods he sells are more to be sought after than gold: They, indeed, bring the gold.

Many a man who starts out well in life's race is, through lack of proper training, distanced by those who were slower to get away.

"To the pure all things are pure." But it will not do to presume that impure goods can therefore with safety be palmed off as pure goods.

If you persist in putting off for to-morrow what you should do to-day you will learn that the to-morrow does not always bring the opportunity.

When a business man opens his mouth practical words usually proceed from it; when a politician opens his mouth it is wind that usually proceeds therefrom.

Manitoba promises to have a good fruit crop, a good cereal crop, and a good cattle and dairy output. It now wants a good crop of immigrants to complete the cycle.

TEA AND COFFEE CULTIVATION IN INDIA.

FROM official statistics published by the Department of Revenue and Agriculture of the Indian Government it appears that the area under tea in India at the end of 1894 extended over 422,551 acres; a little less than two-thirds of this area (nearly 64 per cent.) being in the Valleys of the Brahamputra and Surma, which contain as much as 268,796 acres—154,284 acres in Assam (the Brahamputra Valley), and 114,512 acres in Cachar and Sylhet (the Surma Valley). In extent of cultivation, Bengal comes next, though the acreage is much smaller than in either of the divisions of Assam, the area under tea being 121,121 acres, or about 29 per cent. of the whole. In the north-western provinces the area under tea in 1894 was 7,692 acres; in the Punjab, 8,291 acres; in Madras, 6,102 acres, and in Travancore and Cochin, 9,079 acres. There is, besides, a smaller area of 880 acres in Burma. The area under tea has expanded without a pause from year to year during the last ten years. In 1885 the area was 283,925 acres; in 1894 it had increased to 422,551 acres, the increase being in the ratio of 48.8 per cent. The average of the acreage added in the last five years was very much larger (17,700 acres) than the average increase (12,444 acres) in the four preceding years. The largest increase of all, it may be observed in passing, was in the two years 1893 and 1894, the former of these being the year in which the mints were closed, an event which was regarded by some as the herald of disaster to the tea-planting industry. The quantity of tea produced has increased in ten years in much greater ratio than the area under cultivation, for while the area has increased by less than 49 per cent., the increase in production has been over 88 per cent. In 1892 the production in Assam and Cachar declined, the decline in Cachar and Sylhet especially being so considerable as to affect the general results, though there was a large increase in Bengal and elsewhere. In 1894 there was again a decline, but a smaller one, in Cachar and Sylhet, and in Bengal there was but a small increase The number of persons employed in the tea industry in 1894 is returned at 383,505 permanently, and 156,120 temporarily, or altogether a little over half a million people (539,625 persons), which would work out to about 128 persons to the acre. The accuracy of the figures is, however, open to question. The tea produced in India is exported mainly to the United Kingdom, to the extent of about 96 per cent. on the average production.

The subjoined figures give approximately the quantity of tea consumed in India, the figures representing the average of the five years ending 1894-5. Indian tea: Produced, 124,971,905 lbs.; exported, 120,439,000 lbs; left in India, 4,532,810 lbs. Foreign tea: Imported, 6,789,337 lbs; re-exported, 4,341,044 lbs; left in India, 2,448,293 lbs. Thus the average consumption of all tea in India appears to be about 7,000,000 lbs., of which four and a half million are Indian and two and a half million are foreign. It may be added that Ceylon provides India with nearly a million pounds of the foreign tea imported This consumption comes to only 0.024 lbs per head of the population according to the census of 1891, or say one-fortieth of a pound, a quantity which contrasts strongly with a consumption in the United Kingdom of from 5¼ to 5½ lbs. per head. Broadly, it may be said that the India consumption of tea per head is exceeded by the United Kingdom more than 200 times. Indeed, such as it is, the consumption of tea in India is to a substantial extent due to the European population, for more than one million pounds are taken by the commissariat for the British army, and at least an equal quantity must be consumed by the European civil population. However, the consumption is increasing amongst the population of the larger towns, especially the Mohammedans, and there is room for great expansion in this direction. The prices of tea have fluctuated greatly since 1873. Taking the price in March, 1873, to be represented by 100, it appears that until 1884 the level was well above that point, varying from 100 to 148. Coincidentally with the great fall in exchange and in general prices in 1885, the level fell to 90, and though in 1886 it rose to 96, a low level was maintained in the following years until 1894. In 1895 the level rose to 97. These figures all represent the course of prices of fine Pekoe in January of each year as given by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. In the Statistical Bureau the average prices of the various descriptions of tea sold at the public sales held in Calcutta during the tea season have been computed for some years past, and the results are regularly published in the review of the trade of India. Turning to the coffee industry, the same statistics show that there were at the end of 1894 289,080 acres of land under coffee in India, all of it, with the exception of 10,746 acres in Burma, being in Southern India. The cultivation of coffee is, in fact, restricted for the most part to a limited zone in Mysore, Coorg, and the Madras districts of Malabar and the Nilgiris. In Mysore there are 136,052 acres, in Coorg, 71,181 acres, and in the Nilgiris and Malabar, 45,652. If to these are added 6,587 acres in Travancore and Cochin, it is seen that about 90 per cent. of the coffee-bearing area of India is concentrated in the hilly region above the south-western coast, where the rainfall is heavy and the climate generally approximates to that of the coffee-bearing area of Ceylon. In the Madras Presidency coffee is not grown to any extent except in the two districts already mentioned and in Salem and Madura. The only other province in which coffee is grown is Burma, mostly in Toungoo, and the industry there is of recent origin. In the last 10 years the area in the Madras districts has fluctuated, remaining in 1894 at but little above the level of 1885. In Coorg there was a sudden and large increase in 1894; in Mysore there has been a steady and considerable increase, while in Travancore and Cochin there has been no advance. In Travancore, indeed, many coffee growers have abandoned that industry for the less precarious cultivation of tea. The yield has fluctuated greatly: in 1894 it was about 35¼ million pounds, which was but little larger than in 1885, nothwithstanding the increased acreage.

According to the returns, there were in 1894 37,903 persons permanently and 118,-014 temporarily employed, making a total of 155,917 persons, which is equal to about one person—1.07—to two acres, while in tea estates the average is over 2½ persons to two acres. The difference is explained by the much greater labor required in the repeated plucking of tea, and in the subsequent processes of preparing the leaf for the market. The following figures show the average of the production and exports for the five years ending 1894-5. Indian coffee: Production, 34,444,087 lbs.; exports, 31,595,514 lbs.; left in India, 2,848,573 lbs. Foreign coffee: Imports, 1,820,426 lbs.; re-exports, 585,245 lbs.; left in India, 1,235,181 lbs. It appears, therefore, that nearly 92 per cent. of the production is exported, and that of the coffee consumed in India foreign coffee represents less than half the quantity of Indian coffee. The rate of consumption is little more than half that of tea, amounting to only 0.014 lbs. per head of the population. It is said to be rather freely drunk by the native population in southern India, but it is certainly not so in northern India. There is no trustworthy or complete record of the prices in India of Indian coffee, and it appears that there are no materials for the preparation of a record of prices, and that the prices in fact depend upon and follow the fluctuations of prices in London and Ceylon plantation coffee, the price of Indian coffee being about 5s. per cwt. less than the price of Ceylon coffee. Ten years, from 1879 to 1888, of depressed prices, combined with the havoc wrought by the borer and the leaf disease, greatly discouraged coffee planting in India and Ceylon, and the prospects of the industry seemed so forlorn that both in Ceylon and India much coffee land was placed under tea. In 1889, however, there was a sharp rise in prices, and the level has ranged high since that year under the operation of speculative corners, political troubles in Brazil—whence the main supplies of the world are derived—and other circumstances. The maintenance of prices at their present comparatively high level has given to the Indian coffee planter a stimulus and an encouragement which were greatly needed.—The Grocers' Journal.

LONDON GROCERS' EXCURSION.

The members of the London Retail Grocers' Association have completed their arrangements for their excursion to Sarnia and Stag Island on Wednesday next, the 15th inst. The excursionists will leave London via the G.T.R. at 8 a.m., arriving in Sarnia at 10 o'clock. At Sarnia boats will be taken for Stag Island. One of the features will be a trip down the river to Oakland, St. Clair and back, returning to Stag Island at noon. Practically all the grocery stores in London will be closed on that day, and the merchants generally will co-operate to make the excursion a success.

The committee in charge of the excursion are: W. H. McCutcheon, president; A. McCormick, vice president; E. Sutton, secretary; F. Harley, J. C. Trebilcock.

The tickets are fixed at the low price of $1 for adults and 50c. for children, and they are good for two days.

INVITED BY THE GROCERS.

The Montreal Retail Grocers' Association at their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday last wound up some further business in connection with their picnic.

The secretary was instructed to send out invitations to the following: Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and all the members of the Federal and Provincial Legislatures for the city of Montreal and the counties of Hochelaga and Maisonneuve, the Mayor of Montreal, the representatives of THE CANADIAN GROCER, Gazette, Herald, Star, Witness, La Presse, Le Monde, Le Soir, La Patrie, Le Prix Courant, La Minerve, the president and officers of the Toronto, Hamilton and London associations, the president of the "Commis Epiciers," the president of the Grocery Travelers' Association and Mr. S. Beaudin, attorney of the association. The following gentlemen were appointed judges of the games: E. Hart, Chas. Langlois, A. Childs, J. McB. Taylor, J. E. Quintal, F. J. Hart, J. A. Vaillancourt, J. Ethier, R. Barry, Fred. Hughes, L. E. Geoffrion, Ald. Kinsella, L. N. St. Arnaud, A. Hebert and P. Grace.

ALL PURE GOLD.

Messrs. Lucas, Steele & Bristol, the enterprising wholesale grocers, have made arrangements with the celebrated Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., for the exclusive sale in Hamilton of all the goods which bear the brand of Pure Gold. The firm is now prepared to supply all these goods at the lowest list prices. The Pure Gold goods have received the highest awards wherever exhibited, as they are the very highest standard. Among the Pure Gold specialties are all sorts of extracts, including four and eight-ounce bottles with glass stoppers, put up in attractive form, for family and boarding house use; icings of chocolate, lemon, pink, canary, white and kerneline in attractive packages; tomato catsup, preserved ginger, liquid rennet, curry powder, mustards, powdered herbs, and a great variety of other specialties which will at once occur to the minds of all housekeepers.

During this week Lucas, Steele & Bristol are giving an exhibition at their sample rooms of these goods, and will be pleased to see all dealers and others interested. In the past, many citizens have had to send abroad for these articles, but now they can get them at home, through their own grocers.—Hamilton Times, July 7th.

The flour mills belonging to J. O. & H. Mooney, of Alexandria, Ont., were totally destroyed by fire at an early hour on Friday. The loss is between $25,000 and $30,000, partly covered by insurance. Origin of fire unknown.

HAMILTON BOARD OF TRADE.

THE annual meeting of the Hamilton Board of Trade was held on Monday. President John Hoodless was in the chair, and there were present: Senator Sanford, W. Hendrie, W. A. Robinson, W. H. Glassco, J. Turnbull, Fred. W. Watkins, Angus Morrison, H. F. Gardiner, F. H. Lamb, F. C. Fearman, R. T. Lancefield, Dr. Burns, Capt. Fairgrieve, John N. Lake, John M. Burns, H. N. Kittson, Ald. Brown, C. S. Murray, W. F. Walker, Q.C., John Kneeshaw, W. Bailey, John Bell, W. F. Findlay, W. R. Davis, A. Murray, W. Hendrie, jr., A. Powis.

The voting for members of the Council, Board of Arbitration and for secretary took place by ballot between 2.30 and 3.30, and when the Board met at 4.30 the ballots had been counted, and Scrutineer Kneeshaw was ready to announce the results of the election.

W. A. Robinson had been elected president by acclamation, and W. F. Findlay vice-president, also by acclamation. C. R. Smith was elected secretary by a large majority over John Bell.

The other elections were as follows: St. Clair Balfour, W. H. Glassco, John A. Bruce, Matthew Leggat, F. C. Fearman, H. N. Kittson, John Hoodless, members of the Council for three years; J. Turnbull, T. W. Lester, Seneca Jones, S. O. Greening, members of the Board of Arbitration for three years.

Robert Hobson and Andrew Melbourne were elected members, being proposed by President Hoodless and A. Morrison respectively.

President Hoodless' annual report was a lengthy document, and it included references to the crop prospects, which are not as good as desirable, the visit of the Grand Trunk president to the city, the successful operation of the smelting works, the T., H. & B.. and the H. G. & B., and the prospective opening of the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway. The members were urged to try to increase the membership of the Board, and reference was made to the fact that four of the Council had brought 45 members during the year.

Sec.-Treas. Smith's annual report showed that the membership roll had been increased by 78, there being 221 members of the Board in good standing. There was a balance of $22.20 left from the year's receipts, $1,455.98. The members' subscriptions had amounted to $1,065. The estimates for the year 1896-7 amounted to $1,612.20.

The Board had to borrow a small sum, about $375, in which to finish out the year, but this deficit was about made up and everything was going along swimmingly.

The communication received from the Ottawa Board of Trade last May regarding the formation of a Dominion Board of Trade was formally received, and a resolution in favor of the move was passed, on motion of Vice-President Findlay and Senator Sanford. It is likely the Council of the Board will shortly consider the question.

When the business of the meeting was concluded, Mr. Hoodless retired from the presidential chair in favor of his successor, President Robinson. The new president addressed the members, thanking them for the honor they had conferred on him in electing him by acclamation in his absence. He hoped for a successful year for the Board. He furthermore said he would like to establish a retail section of the Board, so that the interests of the retailers might be specially attended to.

NEW CROP VALENCIA RAISINS.

Mail advices from Valencia to the 17th ult. state that the raisin crop promises well. Shipments will not commence until about August 17th, the crop being a little later than last year. One writer says: "About quantity it is impossible to say anything certain, but if all goes well it will be about 650,000 quintals. This year a tremendous quantity of grapes will be sent to England, to judge by the preparations in making barrels, and this also helps to reduce the quantity of raisins."

TARIFF REVISION.

WHILE it is certain that in this year of grace there will be no revision of the tariff, it is just as certain that the beginning of the next year will see the work undertaken.

The views of people as to how deep or how wide the work of the revisers should go are no doubt in the main governed by political sympathies. But whether we take the result of the recent election contest as an indication or no, there is a general opinion among those who are not strongly partisan on either side that the tariff as it now stands is a fit subject for a little overhauling. Some want the tariff lowered here ; others want it raised there. In fact, had there been no change in the Government, we would in all likelihood have seen changes more or less important made before a great while. Indeed, not a session passes but changes of more or less importance are made. Conditions change, and so must tariffs.

The last revision of the tariff was such a bungling job that most business men realized that it would have to be done over again before long.

There are unquestionably anomalies in the tariff as it exists to-day. And when we speak of the tariff we also have reference to the regulations which govern the same. Many of these anomalies can no doubt be removed. Others probably cannot. Wherever there is a law somebody feels that he has a grievance under it. And wherever there is an instrument, the work of human hands, we must expect imperfections.

A perfect tariff law we cannot get. What we want and the best we can get is one that will not unnecessarily impose burdens on anyone ; one, in a word, that will be for the greatest good of the greatest number. If we are to get a tariff of this character we must not look to the professional politician for the desideratum.

We do not advocate the removal of the tariff from politics. You cannot take the tariff out of politics. Take it from Parliament and hand it over to a band of purely business men, you do not take it, strictly speaking, out of politics, for at that board you will find men of divergent views as to the fiscal trade policy of the country just as you will in Parliament. The only difference, though it is an important one, will be that the aggregation of business men will have a more practical knowledge of their subject, and consequently will deal more intelligently with it than would the aggregation of parliamentarians.

What we want is a business-like tariff—a tariff for the manufacturer, for the merchant, for the farmer, for the consumer.

The trouble with the tariffs of the past is that they have been framed by the politician for the politician. Ostensibly they have been framed for the industrial interests of the country, but in reality they have been shaped more with regard to the exigencies of the politicians than the interests of business men

The tariff this country needs will not be turned out from the mold created by the free trade theorist ; not by the mold formed by the protection theorist : That which has been created on a business basis is the ideal and that alone will suffice.

In order to the creation of such a mold as that it is necessary first of all that the needs of the country should be ascertained. And the only way to ascertain these is by the appointment of a commission ; not a commission of politicians, but one representing the different interests affected by such an instrument as a tariff on imports, and composed of men outside Parliament.

The result of the recent contest cannot be taken as a groundwork upon which to remodel the tariff, granted even that it was a triumph of one class of tariff doctrinaires over that of another class.

A commission such as that suggested would collect that material so desirable in tariff modelling, and yet which one thousand general elections could not collate. By the time the House is ready to consider the tariff the commission could have the report printed and ready for the guidance of the Government and Parliament. And the tariff could thus be better as well as more expeditiously revised.

Such a report would be a most valuable document to business men, newspaper men, etc., but its value to Parliament as a basis on which to frame a tariff law would be incalculable. Let us have it.

MANY BAD EGGS COMING IN.

TIME and again has THE CANADIAN GROCER urged country merchants to ship their eggs promptly. And although a number are acting upon this suggestion, there are a great many who are not. A tour of the commission houses and a peep into their candling room will convince one of this fact.

The shipments of eggs are large, and so is the proportion of bad quality ones. On every hand one hears complaints from the commission men.

We know of one shipment of twenty cases in which were no less than 140 dozen of bad eggs. As there are 30 dozen in a case, it means that out of every 100 eggs in the shipment 23⅓ were of no commercial value. The loss on this shipment would be between eleven and twelve dollars.

This may be an unusual case ; but the fact that a great number of bad eggs are coming upon the market, and that a great deal of money is being lost on account thereof, is beyond peradventure.

It is utter folly for country merchants to persist in holding their eggs as long as they do, particularly when the freight rate is no more on five-case lots than it is on fifteen. The sooner eggs are shipped the fewer are the risks of loss being incurred.

Merchants, during the hot weather particularly, should keep their eggs well cleaned up. Ship every week, even if it be but in five case lots. There is no question about its paying in the long run.

THE OUTLOOK FOR APPLES.

Judging from present indications, 1896 will witness a large apple crop on the North American continent.

In Ontario the crop promises to be an abundant one. Those who have been through the apple-growing districts on prospecting tours declare there is no question about it.

In New York State and in the New England States similar conditions appear to prevail. Northern Michigan has a fairly good crop, but in the Western States the yield is likely to be light.

Exporters' views regarding prices, in consequence of the anticipated big crop, are low. They assert that the ruling figure in Ontario will be somewhere around $1.25 f.o.b. cars. This, allowing 25c. for the barrel, 15c. for packing, and 10c. for incidental expenses, means 75c. per barrel in the orchard.

These, of course, are the exporters' views, but with the prospect of a big apple crop on this side of the Atlantic, the outlook certainly does not favor big prices.

BUYING CANNED GOODS.

CAUTIOUS buying by jobbers is the rule and not the exception in all lines of groceries this season. Canned goods of all sorts are a striking example of this. Reference has already been made to salmon in this connection previously, and the same is the case with vegetables and fruit.

Last year sales agents in Montreal and Toronto had placed several extensive contracts for tomatoes. This summer, in Montreal at least, they have hardly placed a case, so to speak. It is interesting to note also that prices on all staple lines have opened much cheaper than last year. Take tomatoes for instance: Offers were made to leading wholesale houses laid down at Montreal at 70c. This is 7½c. cheaper than the figure for the corresponding period last year, when the same brands could not be had at this date under 77½c. The low price has tempted few buyers, the agent who made the offer only being able to place a few cases here and there.

Strawberries are another instance of the lower prices. Offers on good brands were made this week at $1.40, as against $1.60 last year, or a difference of 20c This is an entirely new departure in the canned goods market, and will tend to a healthier condition of affairs.

It has generally been the custom to have prices open up high, and after jobbers had loaded up, packers' prices sagged off at the fag end of the season. As a result the tail ends of their packs were offered at prices which put them in actual and illegitimate competition with goods which they had sold to jobbers earlier in the season. This was an unnatural condition of affairs, and if the present low opening prices mean that there is to be no repetition of it this year it will be eminently satisfactory to all concerned.

THE LAURIER CABINET.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is in a position to announce that Mr. Paterson will be Controller of Customs in Mr. Laurier's Cabinet. Mr. Fielding will be Minister of Finance; Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Dr. Borden will be Minister of Militia.

It is understood that Sir Richard Cartwright wanted the Finance Ministership and that Mr. Laurier was inclined to fall in with his wish for one session at least, but Sir Oliver Mowat, backed up by a deputation of business men, who persisted that Sir Richards's extreme free trade views were inimical to their interests, succeeded in persuading Mr. Laurier otherwise. Strong influence, however, had been brought to bear on Mr. Laurier with a view to persuading him to give Sir Richard the Finance Ministership.

Nearly all the other portfolios have been decided upon, but they are not of special interest to our readers.

Toronto will be represented by Mr. Wm. Mulock, one of the few lawyers THE CANADIAN GROCER has favored. It may also be remembered that nearly two years ago a hope was expressed that Hon. Mr. Fielding would enter Dominion politics.

SUGAR IN TORONTO.

Sugar is in anything but a satisfactory condition on the Toronto market just now. The trouble is with regard to the prices at which the commodity is selling. As far as the volume of business is concerned there is not much cause for complaint, the movement being fairly brisk.

The trouble with the prices is that they are being cut. The cutting began with nervous wholesalers who, with a view to reducing the stocks they had on hand, quoted figures lower than those ordinarily obtaining. Others naturally fell into line, with the result that our quotations are to-day over 16 per cent. lower than they were a week ago. Some of the wholesalers are to-day selling granulated at $4.50 for which they originally paid $4.75.

Refiners' prices are weaker also, 1-16c. less being asked than at the time of last review. In New York there was a decline of ⅛c. per lb. in refined sugar.

TRYING TO GET DRIED FRUIT.

The unusually good demand noted for dried fruit last week at Montreal has continued. This has exhausted the stock in jobbers' hands much earlier than usual, and they have been scouring the American markets to procure supplies.

As already noted, they could not procure any on the Coast, and they have been trying New York and Boston. The former market appears to need all it has, but at the latter they were successful in procuring some small lots of 2-crown fruit. These will come forward shortly, but as there is only a carload or so, the jobbers who are bringing them forward will very likely want them for their own trade. For forward delivery 4¾c. is being asked for 2-crown fruit.

A LARGE MOLASSES CARGO.

The largest cargo of Barbadoes molasses so far received at Montreal was landed this week. It consists of 1,400 puncheons and is owned by L. Chaput, Sons & Co. They are sellers at 29c. in round lots ex wharf, while for ordinary jobbing quantities the regular Guild prices hold good.

BUTTER AND EGGS IN MINNESOTA.

A letter received by a firm of provision dealers in Toronto from a correspondent in Minnesota contains information which may not prove uninteresting reading to Canadians.

Eggs in that state, according to the correspondent, are only netting the farmer six cents per dozen. This is something like two cents per dozen less than the storekeepers in Canada are paying the farmer. Finest creamery butter only nets the maker 13½c., or 1 to 1½c. per pound less than the factory man in Canada obtains for his.

The first creamery, according to this authority, was started in Minnesota in 1880. In 1894 there were 250 creameries; in 1895, 340, and in 1896 475 creameries. Most of the creameries are situated in the southern portion of the state.

CANADIAN AND AMERICAN SUGAR PRICES.

A leading broker, speaking of the difference between the wholesale price of refined sugar in New York and in Montreal, says that it is not actually ½c. per lb., although nominally it is so.

"The duty that the American refiners have to pay on their raw sugar," he said, "is greater than the charge to Canadian refiners in this connection. The lattter has a specific duty of ½c. per lb. on his raw material, whereas the American refiner has an ad valorem duty of 40 per cent.

"This means a difference of about ½c. a pound in favor of the Canadian.

"On the other hand, the New York importer gets more favorable freight rates. Then, again, sugar is sold nett at the refineries in Montreal, and in New York certain rebates are allowed. Allowing for the different conditions prevailing, therefore, the actual difference between New York and Montreal prices is ¼c. per lb. in favor of the latter."

THE PRICE OF BACON AND LARD.

Complaints are heard from provision dealers in Toronto regarding the price in both long clear bacon and lard.

There are, it appears, really two causes for this condition of affairs. One is overproduction. The other, as far as long clear bacon is concerned, is that this particular hog product is not wanted in England as much as it formerly was. Consequently, a market cannot be found for it there except at very low prices. As that is the chief market for long clear, the price naturally is affected on this side of the Atlantic.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

IT is pleasing to have to report even a moderate improvement in business. Last week a firmer tone set in, and merchants are looking to the future with confidence. Large shipments of fish, iced, dried and pickled, have been made to the West Indies and United States, and a market appears to be opening in the latter country for our small fruits, of which the Annapolis Valley has an abundance. A dispatch from a grower in the valley to a dealer in this city says: "We can get 8c. a box here for shipment to the States. Sent to Halifax, we would not net 5c."

There are several refrigerator cars in the valley loading for the States.

The Government are experimenting in the shipment of live lobsters to British Columbia, but this is not for mercantile purposes as far as we are concerned, but with the hope that when placed in the waters of the Pacific they will increase and multiply, and give the people out there their fill of this truly excellent shell fish. True, the lobster is found on the shores of British Columbia, but it cannot compare with the crustacean of our coasts. A second shipment has gone forward.

As already noted in this department, a "union" store was established in New Glasgow by E. Collishaw. It caught fire one night last week and the stock was badly damaged. The insurance on the stock amounted to $8,000. An investigation is being held.

The New Glasgow Enterprise has this to say about a new venture in that town, which has already been noticed at length in these letters: The New Glasgow Milling Co. are doing an increasing business all the time. They have this week booked a 1,000 barrel order from the Magdalen Islands. Already their product has become so favorably known in P. E. I. that arrangements are now being made to send island schooners direct to the mill. The new industry is an assured success.

The death occurred on Sunday morning last of one of the oldest and most prominent bakers and confectioners in the Maritime Province. William C. Moir, head of the big Halifax firm of Moir, Son & Co., passed away at the age of 74. He held the contracts to supply the army with bread almost continuously for the last 50 years, feeding at times as many as three regiments. During the last 20 years he paid out in wages $40,000 a year. The present pay roll is $800 a week. The business will be continued under the same firm name by his four sons.

There is a better feeling in the flour market. During the latter part of last week sales were very good, and this week opens with a decidedly improved tone, although quotations remain nominally at: Hungarian patent Manitoba, $4.40 to $4.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.20 to $4.30; Canadian pastry, $4.10 to $4.20; 75 p.c. roller patents, $3.90 to $4; 80 p.c. do., do., $3.80 to $3.90; 90 p.c. do., do., $3.70 to $3.75; straight do., $3.65 to $3.70; extra, $3.40 to $3.50.

Produce is in little demand and prices rule low. P. E. Island potatoes are quoted at 22 to 25c. per bushel, and Nova Scotia at 26 to 28c. Oats are worth 35 to 37c. for P.E.I., and Nova Scotia 2c. less; Canadian are worth 32 to 34c.

There is no change to note in fishstuffs, except salmon, which are very low in price, jobbing at 7 and 8c. Ruling quotations today are: Dry cod, shore, tol quol, prime, $2.50 to $3.50; small bank, do, $1.75 to $2.25; large do., $3; Bay do, $1.75 to $2.25; Labrador, $2; haddock, $1.50 to $2; hake, $1.25 to $1.50; pollock, $1.50; Bay of Islands herring, $1.60; No. 1 large, f.o.b. shore, $3 to $3.50; alewives, $2.75; mackerel, No. 3, large, $8.50. Salmon, No. 1, $20; No. 2, $18; No. 3, $14.

The refinery reports the demand for sugars as very light, considering that the preserving season is on. Dealers seem to have an idea that there will be a change in the tariff and are holding back, expecting cheaper sugar. This cannot hold out, as stocks throughout the provinces must be pretty well used up, and dealers will be compelled to buy. Prominent members of the Acadia Refinery Company, in conversation with THE CANADIAN GROCER, expressed the opinion that the sugar duty would not be disturbed. The Canadian market is limited and even the importation of a few thousand tons of refined would prove disastrous to the industry. As it is, there is considerable cutting among the refineries in Canada to-day. Stocks are accumulating at all the refineries, and a desire to sell is natural.

In green fruits, strawberries seem to absorb all attention. The Ontario fruit arrived fully two weeks before native stocks were on the market, and this caused the latter to bring lower prices when they first came in. The Ontario fruit arrived in good condition, showing extra care in selecting for the long carriage. They cost landed here 11c. per box, and sold at 12 to 14c. All last week native berries were very plentiful on the market, and were jobbing at 5 to 7c. per box, but the arrivals on Saturday were only 204 boxes, and, consequently, prices went up, jobbers paying 7c. About 100 cases were shipped direct to Boston. The price at the opening of this week in the city market was 7 and 8c. per box.

On account of the demand for salmon and berries, there is very little doing in provisions. Beef is only in fair demand and is quoted at $8 for good stock, while clean brings from $7 to $7.25. Lamb is in demand and readily commands 10c. Mutton is slow at 6c., and veal at 4 to 5c. No Canadian beef is offering.

There is no demand for poultry. Turkeys sell at 14c. per lb., and fowls at 50c. per pair. Chickens are asked for, but none are offering.

Eastern Townships butter is coming in fairly freely and brings 18c. Our farmers have taken to jobbing on their own account and consequently the market is dull. Creamery is jobbing at 19c., and prints at 20c. Dairy is worth from 16c. to 18c. Native stocks are coming in freely.

The cheese market is dull and promises to remain so for some time. Stocks are arriving freely, but there is very little demand. The jobbing price is 8½c.

Eggs are in good demand at 10c. with prospects of a stiffer market.

ANOTHER DECLINE IN SUGAR.

The demoralized position of the sugar market, despite the improvement in the demand, had another illustration Wednesday. Refiners at Montreal made another cut in prices of an eighth, offering round lots of granulated at 4¼c. The jobbing range at this writing is still unaltered.

DAVIDSON & HAY'S SAMPLE ROOM.

The sample room of Davidson & Hay, wholesale grocers, Toronto, has gone through quite a transformation during the past few weeks, until it presents not a shadow of its former self. And it is all for the better. The carpenters and decorators have been at work thereon; and the sample room has left their hands, or rather they have left the sample room, in a most gratifying condition. The old partitions and shelving have been removed, and the room much enlarged, being now 50 feet long by about 25 broad. The private offices of the firm are a continuation of the sample room. A handsome metallic ceiling has been put in, while the shelving is of mahogany and cherry. The floor is covered with a tasty marbleized linoleum. The business offices of the firm run parallel with the sample room, and are separated therefrom by a partition of glass and iron fretwork. The sample room is decidedly up to date as well as handsome.

LACK OF PURE COFFEE IN ENGLAND.

A writer in The Lancet laments that good, wholesome, pure coffee, free from chicory, is not brought to the notice of the public by advertisers as much as tea, cocoa, or chocolate is. As he observes, those who have traveled on the Continent know that a cup of excellent coffee can be obtained at an almost trifling cost and know what an excellent stimulant it is. Why (it is asked) should this be? And why, on the other hand, should coffee, even in the homes of the rich in this country, be too often wholly undrinkable? That there is no difficulty about the making of good coffee is held to be proved by the fact that the best is made in the simplest apparatus—a plain earthenware jug. This, with boiling water and a reasonable amount of berries freshly ground, is all that is required. "Both the demand and supply of coffee in this country," adds the writer, "are diminishing, but a more extended knowledge of its value as a stimulant and as an article of diet would insure its increased use and in due time its reduced price."

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TORONTO, July 9, 1896.

SUGAR is still going out briskly in small quantities, and quite a few carload lots are changing hands, but the price is weak, and to make matters worse the wholesalers are cutting prices. Canned goods are still in demand. Although further shipments of canned lobster are on the market, stocks are light and prices firm. Not much attention is being paid to teas. In foreign dried fruits the conditions are much about the same as they were a week ago, both as regards business and prices. Coffees, spices, molasses and syrups are all quiet. Rice is still in fair request. In green fruits, both foreign and domestic, an active trade is reported. Butter and eggs remain in much the same condition as a week ago.

CANNED GOODS.

No special features have developed during the week. A good demand is still reported for canned salmon at firm and unchanged prices. Canned vegetables are meeting with a fair sale, but there does not appear to be anything doing in fruits. The supply of lobsters is still scarce, although more has arrived on this market during the past week. Present quotations on lobsters are firm, and it is the general opinion among the trade that higher prices will rule before long. New season's pack of peas are expected to be in the hands of some of the wholesalers before the end of the week, and they are being quoted at 80 to 85c. to arrive. For old peas $1 is still being asked. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 85c.; peas, $1 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The coffee market remains quiet. We quote green in bags: Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Trade is quiet and uninteresting. We quote: Dark 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

There is scarcely anything doing. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

While there is a good demand for sugar the condition of the market is anything but satisfactory. The outside markets continue to fluctuate, with the tendency downward. Refiners' prices in Canada are 1-16c. lower than they were at the time of last review, while the local wholesalers are cutting prices most persistently. Ordinary quotations are now 4.50 to 4.55c. for granulated, and there have been sales nett at even slightly below the inside figure. The market is really today without a basis. Yellows are quoted at from 3½c. up.

SPICES.

Trade is opening up in pickling spices. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Rice, tapioca, and sago are still going out well. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

There is nothing doing. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Ceylon Pekoes are a little easier in London. The market for China teas is practically closed for the season, and prices are unchanged. Japan teas are coming forward freely, and they are showing splendid value. There has been considerable business doing in Japan teas, chiefly in mediums. Ruling prices to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Advices from C. Whittall & Co., Smyrna, are much more favorable to the growing crop of Sultana raisins than those previously received. As the crop progresses, they say, it is becoming more apparent that the damage by frost was over-estimated except in the Vourla district. Sultana raisins on the local market are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 7½c.

Currants continue in good demand with the market devoid of special interest. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are in fair demand for the season. We quote: Off-stalk, 4¾ to 5c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c. and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.

California evaporated fruits are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Prunes are quiet and unchanged. We quote as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-

GREEN FRUIT.

There is a liberal supply of lemons on the market, but the demand keeps prices steady at quotations, although there is some "wasty" fruit on the market, which can, of course, be obtained at lower figures. Sorrentos are the only kind of orange there is on the market, and stocks of them are light. The holiday demand for bananas having been satisfied, supplies are more liberal and prices lower. Strawberries and pineapples are out of the market. Watermelons are arriving in better condition and the demand is improving. Apples from Kentucky and Tennessee are on the market this week, the former are in barrels and sell at $3.75 to $4.75, and the latter in boxes. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.75 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Sorrentos, $5 to $6 per box. Bananas, $1.40 to $2.75; cocoanuts, $4.25 to $4.50 a sack and 70c. per dozen; Bermuda onions, $1.25 to $1.50 per small crate; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cherries, 90c. to $1.35 per basket; cucumbers, 40 to 50c. per dozen; tomatoes, $1 to $1.15; water melons, 25 to 30c. each; raspberries, 8 to 9c.; gooseberries, 40 to 75c.; currants, 50 to 75c. for red, and $1.25 for black.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The condition of the butter market may not be worse than it was a week ago, but it is no better. There is no feature to note beyond the dulness of trade. Prices are much as they were before. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 11 to 12c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 10c.; pound prints, 12 to 13c. Creamery—Tubs, 15 to 16c.; 1-lb. blocks, 15 to 16c., according to make.

CHEESE—The demand is fair, but prices have eased off at the boards, being ¼ to ½c. below the highest point. We quote 7 to 7½c. locally.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull, at 80 to 90c. per bushel.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Quiet at 5½ to 6c.

DRIED APPLES—Dull at 3c. per lb.

EGGS—The supply is large and the demand light. A great deal of the stock coming forward is bad. We quote as before, 9 to 9½c.

POTATOES — Home grown potatoes are arriving on this market and they are selling at 60 to 65c. per bushel box. Southern potatoes are unchanged at $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel.

HONEY—Quiet and unchanged. We quote old: Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 4½ to 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

PROVISIONS.

Smoked meats continue active at firm prices. Lard is in good demand, but prices are being shaded.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5¼ to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5¾ to 6c. for small lots; backs, 7¼ to 7½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¼c.; tubs, 7½c.; pails, 7¾ to 8c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12.50 to $13; Canadian short-cut, $13 to $13.50; clear shoulder mess, $10.50 to $11.

FISH.

The supply is still more liberal than the demand, although prices are unchanged. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 15c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7 to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6½ to 7c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

SALT.

Trade is fairly good at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Quotations are much as before. We quote: White wheat, 70c.; red, 69 to 70c.; goose, 52c.; barley, 30 to 31c.; oats, 21½ to 24c.; peas, 48 to 48½c.

BALED HAY—Dull at $13 to $13.50 for No. 1, on track.

FLOUR—Dull and easy. Straight rollers,

GROCERIES.

THE demand for staple groceries during the week, while it has shown more activity, is still a long way off being extensive in its character. The general run of buyers continue as cautious as ever, and will not operate ahead. Sugar has shown more life, but the desire of refiners to reduce large stocks on hand has checked any tendency that there might be to an advance in values. Syrups and molasses continue the same as last noted. Teas are quiet, buyers holding off until the heavier receipts of medium and low grades now on the way arrive. Dried fruits are wanted, and there is none to be had, so that any dealers who have any can name their own figures. This applies especially to California and Valencia raisins. Offers of new pack canned tomatoes and strawberries have been made at very low prices, but have not tempted buying aside from the purchase of a few small lots. Produce of all kinds except eggs rules on the easy side, and the same can be said of tinned meats and provisions.

SUGAR.

The refined sugar market has exhibited more activity during the past week, orders coming in more freely at the refineries both from the east and west. Jobbers also report more demand from their customers, and it is certainly time for it. The aggregate volume of business, however, is moderate, as the orders are chiefly for small lots. The feeling is steady on the whole, but as refiners are still anxious to reduce the large stocks they have on hand, there has been no advance in prices. At the refineries granulated is still selling at 4⅜c., and in a jobbing way we quote 4½c., with yellows 3⅜ to 3¾c.

SYRUPS.

There has been no change in this market. Demand continues slow and the business very quiet. With light stocks, however, both in first and second hands, prices are steady at 1¼ to 2¾c.

MOLASSES.

The close of last week witnessed a temporary scarcity of Barbadoes molasses on spot, and it has not been entirely relieved yet. However, several cargoes are expected, one of 1,400 puncheons, and one or two smaller ones, so that there is plenty of stock in sight. Prices have not been affected in any way, continuing unchanged throughout. Ex wharf Barbadoes is offering to arrive at 28½ to 29c. nett cash in round lots. In a jobbing way the Guild price is unchanged, car lots 30c., and single puncheons 31c. Porto Rico is held for the same figure as Barbadoes, ex store.

RICE.

There has been a good demand for rice both from the mills and at second hands during the week. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There has been no important change in the spice market. With the warm weather the consumptive demand is slow, and values are as last quoted: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The volume of business in coffee is extremely light and confined to small lots to fill actual wants. Business has been confined chiefly to Maracaibo and Rio coffees, which have cost jobbers from 17 to 18½c. We quote: Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 18 to 19c.; Java, 28c.; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

There has been no business of importance transacted in tea in a wholesale way since last report, the majority of jobbers holding off until the later and heavier receipts of medium and low grade Japans have arrived. In a distributive way, demand is fair, but not of an extensive kind. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

A fair demand with a positive scarcity has been the feature of the week in California raisins. Jobbers here brought on some small lots from Boston, but they will not carry them on very long. These are chiefly 2-crown fruit, as there are no others to be had and the very cheapest price on them is 4¾c. What little Valencia raisins there are here are held steady at 4½ to 5c. for ordinary; 5¼ to 5½c., for fine; and 6 to 6½c. for selected and layers.

Currants continue quiet. Stocks are diminishing steadily and prices are firm at 4½ to 5½c. as to grade.

There is no change in Sultanas, a few being held firm at 6 to 6½c.

Prunes are firm but quiet. We quote: French, 5¼ to 5½c., and Austrian, 6 to 6½c., with no Californian offering.

Figs range from 8½ to 10c. for ordinary and 12 to 17c. for fancy grades.

Dates dull, but steady, at 5 to 5¼c.

NUTS.

There is little or nothing doing in nuts. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10½c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

Offers of new pack salmon continue to be made with little success, and the first offers of new pack tomatoes and strawberries were made this week at 70c. and $1.40 respectively, without much encouragement beyond the purchase of a few small lots by one or two of the jobbing houses. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half-tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.35; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $7.25 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

There have been few changes of importance in green fruit, business being of a steady character. We quote: Apples, $5 to $6; dried do., 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 10 to 15c., and strawberries, 5 to 8c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $1.50 to $3.50, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market is without material change, demand being fair. We quote: Firsts, 9½ to 10c., and seconds, 8 to 8½c.

BEANS—Continue dull and unchanged at 70 to 75c. in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a jobbing way.

POTATOES—There are no old potatoes offering here except a few small lots, and prices are nominal. New stock are not yet quotable in a regular way.

TALLOW—Featureless at 4 to 5½c.

HOPS—Quiet at 6 to 6½c.

HONEY—Slow and unchanged. Bright comb, 12 to 14c.; dark, 10 to 12c. and extracted, 7 to 8c.

HAY.

There has been a fair trade done in hay at steady prices. No. 1, $13.50, and No. 2, $10.50 per ton.

PROVISIONS.

These continue much as they were a week ago. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $12.50 to $13; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 6¼c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

This week has witnessed a good demand for Manitoba flours, which has kept prices steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.80 to $4; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3.60 to $3.70; straight roller, bags, $1.70 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.40 to $1.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.50.

There was no change in the oatmeal market. The demand was slow and prices easy. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.90 to $3; granulated, bbls, $3 to $3.10; rolled oats, bbls, $2.70 to $2.75; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs, $2.40 to $2.50.

The situation of the feed market at present is somewhat unsettled. Millers in some cases have advanced prices for both bran and shorts 50c. per ton to $12 and $13, but others still continue to sell at $11 and $12, including sacks, which means $10 for bran and $11 for shorts without sacks. We quote: Bran, $10 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese, in line with the buying in the country Saturday last, exhibited more firmness this week. This sudden change is somewhat difficult to account for in the face of no change in sentiment in Great Britain. It is possibly due to more short sales of June cheese and the fear of being caught by a rise in the market. At the wharf Monday 5,000 boxes French cheese sold at 6¾c, an advance of ¼c. over last week. This is more than the Englishmen are bidding over the cable, as they offered the equivalent of 6¼c. for Quebec and 6¾c. for Ontario on Saturday.

Butter was dull. Some factorymen are freer sellers now than they were a week ago, and a buyer, if he wanted to do business, could gather in quite a lot of creamery at 16½c. to-day. This was not possible a week ago.

ASHES.

The ashes market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Pots, firsts, $3.60; seconds, $3.30, and pearls, $4.75 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

The large stock of sugar in first hands prevents any tendency to advance prices.

Three large cargoes of molasses have arrived recently, and two more are expected shortly.

The only prunes on this market at present are French and Austrian. Californian are all exhausted.

Stocks of syrup in first hands continue light, as the refiners have not been boiling any quantity this summer.

First offers of new pack tomatoes and strawberries on this market are, as noted elsewhere, at very low prices.

Local jobbers succeeded in obtaining some 2-crown California raisins at Boston, but only to the extent of a carload or so.

St. John, N.B., July 9, 1896.

TRADE is, if anything, rather quieter than usual for the month of July. Every effort is being made to push business, but owing largely to dull markets dealers buy slowly. Molasses continues a matter of interest here and sellers are active, but do not find the response they would like. Local cheese manufacturers begin to visit the trade, but find sales quiet. Green fruit is active.

OIL—There is nothing to report. Demand in all lines is dull. Prices show no change. Some merchants are anxious to have our Board of Trade take up the matter of oil duties, and urge the new Government to have them lowered. We quote: American burning oil, 21 to 22½c.; best Canadian, 19 to 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—There is a fair demand. Salt for packing, such as Turk's Island salt, is scarce, but the quantity needed is small. Our fishermen do not care for the English packing salt, though it is largely used in other parts of the province. Stocks of other grades are lighter. Further supplies for the season will come via Boston. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c; 10-lb boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz; salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—A number of our merchants have bought their salmon for fall shipment at same price as last season. Market is, however, rather firmer than at that time. A number of lines are getting short. Peas are hard to get and price is high. Tomatoes are advancing owing to short stock. Gallon apples are well cleaned up, though price shows no change. Lobsters are also scarce and higher price. Peaches are also scarce and tend upward. Dealers are not buying large stocks. Profits on these lines for the past few years have been too small. Packers' prices are easy. Corn on spot is being sold at and below cost. Demand for pine apples is light, and then largely for best grades, grated being the favorite. We quote: Corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, $1 to $1.10; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.20 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.20 to $2.25; American, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's Canadian, $2.85 to $3.00; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.35 to $2.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $2; haddies, $1.25 to 1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—Business continues active. Stocks of oranges are light and prices tending upward. Lemons show little change with good demand. Pine apples are in larger supply and rather lower. Melons are arriving freely, but are rather higher this week with lower prices expected. Apricots and plums (California), arrive in good condition, but so far peaches have been unsatisfactory. Cucumbers are much lower. Strawberries fell off very quickly; quality arriving is now good and prices are about at bottom. Our own province berries are preferred to any arriving here. American squash sell freely. Tomatoes arriving are hardly up to the mark. The sale of bananas is large. We quote as follows: Lemons, $2 to $4; Valencia oranges, $9 to $10; pineapples, 12 to 15c.; bananas, $1 to $2.50; strawberries, 7 to 9c. per box; rhubarb, 1 to 1¼c. per lb.; cucumbers, 50 to 60c. per doz.; California apricots, $1.50 to $2.75 per crate; do. plums, $2 to $2.50; tomatoes, $1.50 to $2 per crate; peaches, $1.50 to $1.75; melons 50 to 60c.; squash, $2.50 bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Movement is always at this season light. Cal. loose muscatels are higher, with stock very light. The same is true of the New York market. A few sales of Valencias for fall shipment are reported. Figs, for fall shipment, are also offered. Peels so far for fall shipment have not been largely bought. While dried apples are still dull, evaporated tend toward firmer prices and stocks are lighter. Prunes of all kinds are light stock, but at this season demand is small. Bermuda onions are about out of the market; quality is not even satisfactory. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4¾ to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, per lb., 2 to 2¼c.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Markets are dull. A few Canadian cheese continue to arrive, chiefly small sizes in crates. Local makers are now in the market to sell, but find buyers backward. Quite a few of our factories are not running this season, and present outlook is for smaller output than last season. The West India market is so dull that some merchants have stopped shipping there. While some of the factories in this section are making butter in place of cheese, the market for it is even worse than for cheese. It is worse in New Brunswick than in Nova Scotia. Prices are very low. Dairy butter is almost impossible to sell. Eggs are in fair demand, and so far quality is satisfactory. Market is kept much better than where dealers hold for high prices and stock turns out poor. Prices are low. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c; new creamery, prints, 18c.; cheese, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c. Eggs, 9 to 10c.

SUGAR—Although in other parts some signs point to firmer prices, markets here continue about ⅛c. lower, as reported last week. Although this is the season for large demand, the movement is only fairly satisfactory, and holders are much disappointed. Stocks are light. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—The steamer from the West Indies is again to hand with full cargo, largely Barbadoes, bought at the low price. Some low quotations here are heard. For quality, Porto Rico is, however, preferred, and although stock is large, prices are well maintained. Holders are pushing sales, but there is only a light movement, and it is likely to be so for some time, as outside points are well supplied. At this season there is but little demand for New Orleans. Syrup is also dull. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.; Trinidad, 30 to 31c.

FISH—Dry fish are now in light demand. Prices are easy. In large fish stocks are not heavy. Pickled bay herring continue to arrive in small quantities and find fair sale. In Canso no whole barrels are now here, and Shelburne are also very small stock. Quoddy herring in half bbls. are the nicest pickled fish now in the market. Smoked herring show no improvement. They were never lower. Shad and Gaspereaux fresh are now out of season. A few lobsters and mackerel are being received; prices tend higher. In salmon the catch is still large and exceeds the demand. Large quantities are shipped west, but the market there is low and dull. The price here for what can be sold is better, but sale is limited. We quote as follows: Large cod, $3 to $3.25; medium, $2.75 to $3; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $5; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 10 to 12c. per lb.; lobsters, 6c.; mackerel, 12c. each; smoked salmon, 20c.

PROVISIONS—There continues to be but light demand, except for a little plate, price of which is rather easier. Arrivals are light. Lard is dull, with large stock still held. In hams, prices are quoted firmer. Rolls are hard to sell. We quote: Clear pork, $13.75 to $14.25; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 8½ to 9c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—The market is dull. Low prices rule. The feeling is easy and demand dull. Flour, which still inclines lower, is light sale. Oatmeal shows quite a range in price, and fair stocks are held. In hay, Westmoreland County is quoted more freely and lower than Carleton County, owing largely to the latter being easy of access to American buyers, who this season bought freely at good prices. Reports for new crop are but fair. In beans, while a few cars have been bought very low, they are not easy now to get at lowest figure. Native yellow eye beans continue to have fair demand. Mill feed, which is dull, is quoted rather lower. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.45 to $4.60; best Ontario, $4.15 to $4.30; medium, $4 to $4.10; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.90 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15.50 to $16; bran, do do, $14.50 to $15; handpicked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 31 to 32c. for Ontario white; hay, $11 to $12; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.10 to $1.20; split peas, $3.40 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

C. & E. Macmichael have received a shipment of Hoyt's new spring clothes pin.

At this season lime juice finds large demands. During the past two years Stower's has very much increased its sale in our market.

St. Stephen had a bad fire last week, the St. Croix Soap Co. losing about 60 hogsheads of grease. The factory was with difficulty saved.

Canned lobsters being scarce, an extra demand is noticed for finnan haddies. Northrup & Co. continue to make large shipments west of their "Golden" brand.

Steamer Taymouth Castle is now here. She brought a full cargo of molasses, largely Barbadoes, for this port. This was bought at lowest price, but finds even then but a dull market.

Large shipments of salmon went to the American market during the past week, six cars from the North Shore and two from here going forward in one day. The catch of two days on the Miramichi amounted to over 140 cases, containing upward of 2,500 salmon.

By the quantities of empty packages that have been shipped into the inland counties of our province, a very large export of berries must be expected. Of late years a large revenue is brought in in this way, and very largely to a class who need it. The berries, which are chiefly wild raspberries and blueberries, go to Boston.

Another shipment of Lytle's pickles and jams are to hand. They were received via the international steamer. It is surprising the quantity of Ontario goods that come that way, rates being quoted lower than all rail. Lytle's jams are much liked by our dealers. In season large quantities of this class of goods are sold here, and, although it is now late, demand keeps up.

The year's trade returns just published are quite satisfactory, showing in many cases an increase over last year. Total revenue collected, $797,805.67; that for year ending June 30, '95, was $753,226.67, showing an increase of $44,579. Number of manifests received, 6,424, an increase over the previous year of 1,124. Savings bank deposits for year ending June 30 were $675,985.35; withdrawals, $605,341.67; balance on deposit July 1, $4,035,571.52. Number of vessels entered from foreign parts during the year, 1,683; coastwise, 2,881.

There is no doubt New Brunswick is behind Nova Scotia in the matter of local banks and pushing for bank business. While we have but three, one at St. John, one at Fredericton, and another at St. Stephen, they are each local banks with no branches. Nova Scotia has at least as many local to Halifax, besides a number of local banks in the other large towns. In St. John two Halifax banks are represented, each doing a large business, while through the small towns of our province almost all the business is done by Nova Scotia banks. The Bank of Nova Scotia are building a handsome new office at Campbellton, N.B.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

P. C. LARKIN & CO. report that during the six months ending July 1, the sales of "Salada" Ceylon tea have increased 138 per cent. over the same period last year. This answers the question: does advertising pay? "Salada" Ceylon tea is advertised in over two hundred newspapers in Canada and is now on sale from Halifax to Victoria.

A line of early May picked Japans has been received by W. H. Gillard & Co., and is being offered at prices that enables the retailer to make a good margin.

The four and eight ounce glass-stoppered extracts, "Pure Gold" brand, offering by Lucas, Steele & Bristol, are most attractive goods for private family use.

Large sales of various grades of raisins were made last week by Laporte, Martin & Cie., who are giving special job values in them as well as in all dried fruits.

L. Chaput, Sons & Co. were successful in procuring a half-carload or so of California 2-crown raisins in Boston. They are offering them at 4¾c. spot Montreal.

The Eby, Blain Co. report that their Seville orange marmalade is going out in large quantities. The demand has been much larger than last year for this article.

One of the largest cargoes of Barbadoes molasses is due this week, consisting of 1,400 puncheons, for L. Chaput, Sons & Co. They offer it ex wharf at 28½ to 29c. nett.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have received another shipment of fine Filiatra currants in barrels, half-barrels, cases and half-cases; also another shipment of Patterson's Worcester sauce, small size.

WHY HE DOES NOT SUCCEED.

"No wonder he does not succeed in business," said a live business man to a Portland reporter as he mentioned the name of a well-known merchant. "He is honest," he continued, "amiable, and means well, but no man can get on in these times unless he attends strictly to his knitting. He can't go fishing every few days, come to his store at 9 o'clock, go to his dinner at high noon, and stay away until 2.30 or 3 o'clock. He is bound to fall behind in the procession. He reminds me of the man about whom I was reading recently, because he is so very greatly in juxtaposition. He never failed to attend to his business. At least one might fairly think so from the label that was pinned to his shop door one day last week: 'Gone to be married; back in half an hour.'"

HOW TEA IS DRUNK IN JAPAN.

THE tea drunk in respectable Japanese households generally costs about 25 cents per pound, while from 50 cents to $1 will be paid for a better quality, fit to set before an honored guest. The most expensive Uji tea costs $6 per pound. At the opposite end of the scale stands the so-called bancha, the tea of the lower classes, which sells at 5 cents per pound, and is composed of chopped leaves, stalks and bits of wood taken from the trimmings of the tea plant; for this beverage is tea after all, little as its flavor has in common with that of Bohea or of Uji. Other tea-like infusions sometimes to be met with are Kosen, made by pouring hot water on a mixture of various fragrant substances, such as orange peel, the seeds of the xanthoxylon, etc.; Sakura-yu, an infusion of salted cherry blossoms; Mugi-yu, an infusion of parched barley; Mame-cha, a similar preparation of beans. Fuku-ja, or "luck tea," is made of salted plums, sea-weed and xanthoxylon seeds, and is partaken of in every Japanese household on the last night of the year. Japanese tea, unlike Chinese, must not be made with boiling water, or it will give an intolerably bitter decoction; and the finer the quality of the tea the less hot must be the water employed. The Japanese tea equipage actually includes a small open jug called the "water-cooler" (yu-zamashi), to which the hot water is, if necessary, transferred before being poured on the tea leaves. Even so, the first brew is often thrown away as too bitter to drink. The consequence of this is that Japanese servants, when they first come to an English house, always have to be taught how to treat our Chinese or Indian tea, and generally begin by giving practical proof of their incredulity on the subject of the indispensable virtue of boiling water.—B. H. Chamberlain.

THE WAY IT'S TOLD.

Your business may be fairly bristling with enticing things to talk about, but unless these good things are refined and worked into short, readable sentences, the reader won't be apt to see them as you see them, says a writer in Trade Magazine.

What you have to say about your goods may have been said a million times before; the way you say it, if you say it your way, is a new way, and will convince your readers in your favor—if it's true.

Don't merely assert that you have the cheapest or the best store in town, but pick out some seasonable article and talk about it—describe it. A bit of description, if it's vivid and true, will fetch people every time. Because your competitor's advertisements tinkle with meaningless boasting is just why you should take a tack and turn another way. Break away from old cut-and-dried methods and give your readers a refreshing surprise.

THE T. B. & C. CO. ASSIGN.

The assignment yesterday of the Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co., composed of Mr. Harry C. Fortier and Mr. Chas J. Peter, was a surprise to the trade.

The business has been well managed, they have been doing a very large trade and making money, but owing to the complications which have arisen over the winding up of the A. M. Smith estate, the only way of settlement was through assignment.

The business is an old one, and was purchased from the A. M. Smith estate in March, 1891, by the present partners; and to the senior partner and manager, Mr. Fortier, the retail trade of Canada are indebted for many new lines that brought trade.

The Smith estate and the Ontario Bank are practically the only creditors. The estate is expected to pay one hundred cents on the dollar.

In the meantime the business is going on as usual.

TRADE CHAT.

A VARIETY of black caterpillars, not common to the locality before, has stripped many orchards in South Wellington of their leaves.

James Noble, partner in the firm of J. & C. Noble, general store and fish dealers, Killarney, Ont., died on Thursday last.

Mr. Justice Robertson has set aside the award of $8,000 made by the arbitrators in favor of Foulds & Shaw against J. F. McLaughlin & Co., in a flour deal.

The Toronto bread by-law question has been shelved for the present, pending an enquiry by Dr. Sheard, Medical Health Officer, who has obtained information from a number of cities in Canada and the United States. Basing his report upon the knowledge thus gained, he will, it is understood, recommend that either the 1½ or 2-pound loaves be stamped plainly so that the public can easily see that it is getting what it pays for. In this connection, when the deputation of bakers were before the Property Committee recently upon this matter, it was developed during the discussion that much of the so-called "fancy" bread, for which the baker claims exemption from the provisions of the by-law regarding weighing and stamping, and charges an extra price per loaf, is made from the same batch of sponge, being merely treated differently in the baking.

Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, has gone to Halifax to make arrangements for the shipment of 1,000 live lobsters, a large quantity of oysters and some black bass, to be planted in the waters of British Columbia. Live tommy sod will be planted in one of the saline lakes of Manitoba or the Territories.

A tramp entered the office of Robert Griffith, wholesale tobacconist, Hamilton, on Monday afternoon and asked a female clerk for enough money to pay for a night's lodging. The clerk was busy counting money which she intended depositing in the bank, and paid little attention to his request. Suddenly the alms-seeker snatched two $10 bills and escaped before the young woman recovered sufficient to call assistance or give an alarm.

NOVELTIES IN GROCERIES.

"Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good," is a Scriptural injunction that grocers should act upon in the matter of novelties in food products, says Merchants' Review. Novelties are useful if good. But a considerable percentage may not be worthy of a place on the first-class grocer's shelves. What must he do? Turn his back on all novelties, for his competitors to reap the advantage? By no means; he must examine them and discover their qualities for himself. Trouble? Why, certainly; but one can't succeed in the grocery business without hard work.

HONEY AS A FOOD.

PROBABLY most people consider honey as the equal in value for food of any sweet sauce—no better, no worse. All should know that it possesses one great superiority—ease of digestion. The nectar of flowers is almost wholly cane sugar. The secretions added by the bees change this to grape sugar, and so prepare it that it is almost ready for assimilation without any effort on the part of the stomach ; in fact, Prof A. J. Cook once styled honey "digested nectar." It will be readily seen that honey is a very desirable food for those with weakened digestive powers. If a person is very tired, "too exhausted to eat," it is astonishing how a few tastes of honey will act almost like magic. Almost no effort is required to make it ready for assimilation. Persons suffering from some forms of kidney trouble will find that honey is a much more beneficial food for them than is cane sugar.

In eating comb honey, many strive to eject every particle of wax, fearing that, as wax is indigestible, nightmare and other troublesome consequences will follow an indulgence in warm biscuit and honey. It is true that bread is more easily digested than warm biscuit, as the latter is inclined to "pack" in chewing ; but it may surprise some to know that comb honey is really an aid to the digestion of hot bread or biscuit. The philosophy of the matter is that the flakes of wax prevent the "packing," while the honey readily dissolves out, leaving passages for the gastric juice to enter the mass of food. The flakes of wax are indigestible, that is true, but when warmed are perfectly smooth and soft and will not injure the most delicate membrane ; in fact, they act as a gentle stimulant, and are beneficial in some forms of alimentary difficulties The unpleasant symptoms from which some suffer after eating honey may often be removed by drinking a little milk.

HE WILL TAKE A REST.

When a grocer's customers begin to leave town for several months of country life, thus reducing the number of calls upon his personal attention, says Merchants' Review, the sagacious dealer will take the hint and proceed to get as much recreation and rest out of life during the hot weather period as the necessities of his business will admit of. He cannot copy the example of his customers who dwell in the country the entire summer, but it will be strange indeed if he cannot spare the time for an occasional outing at seaside or among the mountains, and thus lay in a fresh stock of health and vigor which will be needed in the winter, when the most active demand is usually experienced.

CHARACTER.

Character gravitates upward, as with a celestial gravitation, while mere genius, without character, gravitates downward. How often we see in school or college, young men, who are apparently dull and even stupid, rise gradually and surely above others who are without character, merely because the former have an upward tendency in their lives, a reaching-up principle, which gradually but surely unfolds, and elevates them to positions of honor and trust. There is something which everybody admires in an aspiring soul, one whose tendency is upward and onward, in spite of hindrances and in defiance of obstacles.

We may try to stifle the voice of the mysterious angel within, but it always says "yes" to right actions and "no" to wrong ones. No matter whether we heed it or not, no power can change its decision one iota. Through health, through disease, through prosperity and adversity, this faithful servant stands behind us in the shadow of ourselves, never intruding, but weighing every act we perform, every word we utter, pronouncing the verdict "right" or "wrong."

A hundred years hence what difference will it make whether you were rich or poor, a peer or a peasant? But what difference may it not make whether you did what was right or what was wrong?—Architects of Fate.

A COMPARISON OF DRUMMERS.

THE commercial traveler in England is little different from his American brother, pursuing the same line of policy in "getting there" so far as securing trade is concerned. His invariable rule, however, is that his first price given to a local merchant is his last and only one. There is no going in the morning with an offer and then in the afternoon with an extra inducement to make the trade. This being the invariable rule, it saves much labor and apprehension in the mind of the buyer that he has not done so well as he could have done with more diplomacy.

Everything is done for the comfort of the traveler, and at the hotels a special apartment called the commercial room is set apart for his exclusive use. In this room smoking is prohibited until 9 p.m., a place being devoted to that purpose at other times. The traveler takes his meals in the commercial room, the dinner being a set affair in which all travelers in the house generally participate. The oldest man is at the head of the table and is called the president, while at the foot is the youngest man, and he is termed vice-president. Selections of food are often made by vote, and two or three will club together for special dishes or wines, the president generally putting the question.

A dinner costs in this way from 50 to 75 cents and other meals in proportion, very good food and service being had throughout Great Britain and Ireland at these prices. At these dinners and in the general conversation no introduction of one to the other, if strangers, is necessary, and all join in the general conversation and story-telling, a trait common to the whole brotherhood of commercial travelers, be they found in London, New York or Kamchatka.—Hardware.

NOT SO SLOW.

A small shopkeeper at a seaside resort in Maine hit, according to a contemporary, upon a very clever way to advertise his wares. Noticing the number of people who daily wandered along the beach to pick up shells, a new idea struck him. He got a lot of nice clean flat ones, and on the white inner side he had painted in red ink his name and address, and what he had to sell. Every morning he sent a boy up and down the sand with a basketful of these shell cards with orders to drop them along the beach. People were sure to pick them up, and he soon found that he did the best business of any of the little shops thereabout.

A WINDOW GAZER.

The "window gazer" is a new feature adopted by some dealers, according to an exchange. He is paid a regular salary to stand and gaze in the window for five minutes and seem deeply interested, and a crowd is sure to gather. Just as soon as he gets a crowd at a window he starts a discussion about the merit of the show and everybody wants to take a hand in it.

CEYLON TEAS IN AUSTRALASIA.

The increasing use of Indian and Ceylon tea in Australasia is seriously interfering with the consumption of China tea; more than 50 per cent. of the imports into these colonies now consist of British grown tea. It seems most likely, remarks a London tea circular, that our countrymen in Australia will follow the example of Great Britain and gradually supersede China tea by that grown in British dependencies. The following figures, taken mainly from Messrs. Alfred Harvey & Co.'s report, are interesting:

Exports of Indian, Ceylon and China tea direct to Australia from 1st May to end of April.

THE DELAWARE PEACH CROP.

A Wilmington despatch says that N. Mills, the special agent of the Delaware Railroad, to take care of the peach crop for the Peninsula, estimates that the now approaching season will be about the largest since 1875. The June drop has been very light, and thousands of young trees in the southern part of the Peninsula are bearing fruit this year for the first time. The prospect for good prices is not very encouraging, and in the lower part of the State, where the fruit is the best, the growers are to-day offering their entire orchards for 25 cents a basket. The fruit packers will handle very little of the crop on account of the low price of canned goods. Mr. Mills has made the following estimate of the baskets that are likely to be sent over the Delaware Railroad and its branches: Main line, 2,250,000 baskets; Queen Anne & Kent Railroad, 950,000; Cambridge & Seaford Railroad, 300,000; Delaware & Chesapeake Railroad, 1,000,000; Baltimore & Delaware Bay Railroad, 600,000; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia Railroad, 1,000,000; New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad, 500,000; total, 6,600,000. This estimate does not include the large number that will be shipped by water, which may bring the grand total up to something like 8,000,000 and more if the number of baskets shipped by boat from the eastern shore of Maryland is included.

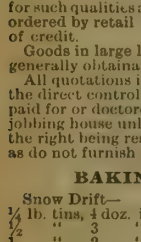
CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

TORONTO, July 9, 1896.

This list is corrected every Thursday. The prices are solicited for publication, and are for such qualities and quantities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit.



Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations in this department are under the direct control of the Editor, and are not paid for or doctored by any manufacturing or jobbing house unless given under their name, the right being reserved to exclude such firms as do not furnish reliable information.

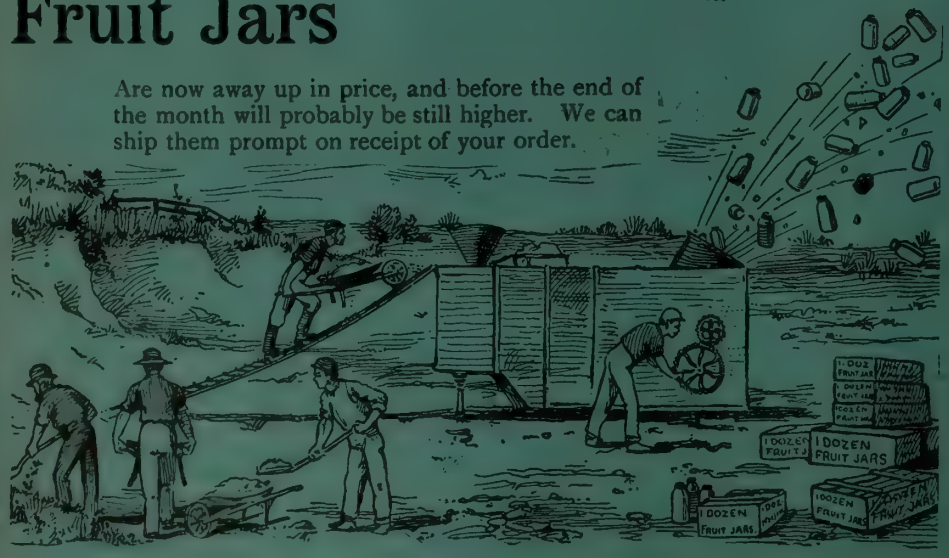
PUREST & BEST

"Dairying for Profit" or "The Poor Man's Cow"

Is the title of a treatise on Buttermaking written by Mrs. E. M. Jones of Brockville, Ont. Mrs. Jones' Book has been so highly thought of by the Ontario Government that it has been printed and distributed free among farmers as an authority on this subject. The following letter explains itself.

Some time ago I commenced using the Windsor Salt in my dairy and I have been surprised and delighted at the result. It appears to me to be a PURER SALT than any I have ever used (although I have always obtained the very best, regardless of cost). It is entirely FREE FROM ANY BITTER TASTE and it DISSOLVES SO RAPIDLY as to be at once incorporated in the butter. To the practical dairyman these are vital points. MORE BUTTER IS SPOILED BY POOR SALT THAN IN ALL OTHER WAYS PUT TOGETHER. Not only is the taste disagreeable but the grain of such salt is so sharp and its nature so insoluble that butter has to be worked almost to a paste and is thereby spoiled before it is even put on the market. WINDSOR SALT IS FREE FROM THESE OBJECTIONS and its quality and price ought to make it a boon to every dairy in Canada, I shall use no other in future, and as the output of my private dairy is 7000 lbs. a year, which all brings the highest price ever reached by Canadian butter, the importance of my choice in salt can hardly be over-estimated.

Yours truly,
(Signed) ELIZA M. JONES.



Any wholesale grocer can supply you, in any quantity, with this "WINDSOR" Dairy Salt in 20lb, White Cotton Bags, packed 15 in a paper lined barrel, or in 50lb. Linen Sacks.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Push for business and it will come to you.

Ambition either makes or consumes a man.

Luck is less to be trusted than a fickle maid.

A leader that is not a money-maker is a misnomer.

The more ideas are exchanged the more they multiply.

Sugar has been turning a good many people sour lately.

Courtesy courts trade ; and is sure to win it, other things being equal.

Not infrequently, when you catch the buyer's eye you catch his dollars.

More money is made by doing your duty than there is by ignoring it.

A store, like a man, must be well conducted in order to earn respect.

The merchant who pleases his customers usually satisfies his own pocket.

System in the store is the key which opens the door to Business Expedition.

It is the man who is ready for emergencies that makes a mark in the world.

The crooked clerk has an erratic career, with the tendency always downward.

Confidence in one's self is as essential to winning life's race as it is a boat race.

Truth should be as carefully guarded in the advertisement as in the conversation.

It is a good sign when people begin to think about your store, but people will only begin to think when you begin to put into operation ways and means for making them think.

An extravagant clerk is not the material from which cautious merchants are made.

Be yourself. When a man tries to become other than himself he becomes a fool.

Push good goods and allow the cheap and inferior goods to take care of themselves.

A good many people never get rewards because they have not the patience to wait for them.

Associations are killed by one or other of two things : dissensions or apathy—more often apathy.

There is one thing an unclean store can be depended upon to do, and that is : clean out customers.

Where the little things are well looked after there need not be much concern about the big things.

When a bright idea strikes a merchant he should frame it in order that it may attract customers to his store.

There is one thing about business : it does not get fickle until the merchant becomes inattentive to it.

Money is essential to success in business; but brains more so. Money is an inert thing without brains to give it action.

The merchant who has his head stuffed full of ideas is not likely to have his shelves uncomfortably stuffed with goods.

He who would be a wise merchant must have a knowledge of his business, and to obtain a knowledge of his business it will be necessary for him to read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest everything appertaining thereto.

There are many men who know how to make money, but relatively few are those who know how to save money.

It is not every merchant who can be wealthy, but it is within the province of every merchant to be a gentleman.

He who in business would blossom like the rose, must, like the rose, comply with the conditions that produce the blossom.

The office of relaxation from bussness is to better qualify one to push business afterwards. If it is not, then have nothing to do with it.

It is better to sacrifice money than principle. There may not always be more money in it, but there is always more satisfaction, and satisfaction is better than money.

When a man gets into a financial hole he should at least take off his coat and dig for dear life to get out. If he does not, it is better that he should remain in the hole.

The man who has not the patience to show goods to impatient customers should seek some other avocation, for he will never make much of a "show" in the business world.

If punctuality were as universal in getting to business in the morning as it is in getting from business in the evening, there would be more highly-prized employes and fewer insolvent merchants than there now are.

Trouble is brewing between the Match Trust in the United States and one of the independent manufacturers. Should there be much friction we may naturally expect to see a light struck that may possibly prove a consuming flame.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST FRUIT MEN.

THE Toronto Retail Grocers' Association met in St. George's Hall on Monday night and discussed sundry matters of interest to the trade.

President White occupied the chair, and among those present were : Vice-President Bond, Secretary Corrie, Hon.-Sec. Mills, F. S. Roberts, Frank Johnston, W. Sykes, A. G. Booth, W H. Marmion, T. Clark, R. Davies, D. W. Clark, D. Bell, W. J. McCleary.

Mr. Thorn, of Nassau street, was nominated and elected a member of the association.

In regard to the excursion to be held at Niagara Falls and Buffalo on the 22nd inst., Hon.-Sec. Mills reported that the committee having in charge the affair had completed their arrangements as far as tickets, posters, etc., were concerned.

A communication was read from the Montreal Grocers' Association extending an invitation to the president and officers of the association to attend the annual picnic of the former organization.

On motion of Mr. Booth, seconded by Mr. Johnston, the communication was received, and it was decided to appoint two members to represent the association at the picnic. The matter of appointing two delegates was left with President White and Hon.-Sec. Mills.

The president reported that he had investigated the complaint regarding the charge that the wholesale fruit merchants were selling fruit to the pedlars at lower prices than to the grocers and retail fruit men. The explanation given by the fruit dealers was that the regular dealers always had the first pick, and what went to the pedlars was merely second quality. "I myself have stood by to see what this second quality stuff was like, and I know it was very unsatisfactory."

Mr. T. Clark said that the pedlars did not always take second pick. He had seen a number of the pedlars go in together and buy a lot at a lower figure than the ordinary retailer bought at.

The president persisted that any retailers who would take 20 or 30 baskets of fruit as they ran could get them at a reduced price also.

Mr. Booth remarked that the commission men undoubtedly had the best end of the stick. They (the grocers) did not want the same class of fruit as the pedlars did. One particular in which he found fault with the commission men was that the retailer who was in a hurry to get home was charged one or two cents above the market price.

Mr. Marmion took up the thread of discussion. He claimed that the association was altogether too prone to allow matters to drop before fighting them out. He claimed that when a retailer asked for figures the wholesale fruit dealer quoted prices for the first quality only. To the pedlars, however, they quoted prices for both first and second quality fruit. "Why cannot they do this with the retailers? The retailers ought at least to be on the same footing as the pedlars."

Mr. Bond supported Mr. Marmion and maintained that people who were not dealers could buy from the wholesalers just as cheaply as could the regular dealers. "I claim that the wholesale fruit men are not treating us fairly."

Mr. T. Clark : Anyone can buy fruit.

Mr. Sykes felt confident that the retailers were not being fairly treated by the commission men. He moved that a committee consisting of Messrs. Marmion, Bond and Bell be appointed to wait upon the wholesale fruit men with a view to securing a remedy for the grievance complained of. The motion was carried.

A communication was received from the City Travelers' Association announcing that it proposed holding a picnic and athletic sports at Hanlan's Point on August 26. It was also decided that there should be a match game of baseball between teams representing the travelers and the association.

The communication was received and the challenge accepted, Mr. Sykes being appointed captain.

Mr. Sykes : I move that $5,000 be set apart for furnishing the team (laughter).

On motion of Mr. Booth the sum of $20 was voted to the baseball team as expenses.

Mr. Booth complained that a fruit box of diminished capacity had been placed upon the market this season.

This raised the question as to whether there was a standard box.

Mr. Sykes ventured the information that on the American market the standard box had a capacity of one quart.

Mr. Bond said he had seen a box on the market which was even of smaller capacity than that complained of by Mr. Booth. It had the appearance of being all right on top, but the bottom was drawn up in order to reduce the capacity of the box.

Eventually, on motion of Mr. Booth, the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Awde in regard to the matter.

Mr. Johnston was of opinion that the association should be represented on the Board of the Industrial Exihibition Association. He moved that the corresponding secretary be instructed to write the Exhibition authorities, asking for such representation.

Mr. D. W. Clark seconded the motion, which was carried.

President White : Shall we proceed to appoint these representatives ? (Roars of laughter). You evidently do not appear to have faith in the matter.

The association adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

In the last census year there were 664,060 retail merchants in the United States, whose wants were looked after by 58,701 commercial travelers and 27,532 wholesalers and importers. Of the number of retailers given above 25,451 were females and 612 of the traveling fraternity belonged to the fair sex.

The Calgary Herald learns from enquiries at the Irrigation office that there are now 157 ditches and canals in operation or under construction in Southern Alberta and Assiniboia and almost daily new applications for water rights are being received. The ditches constructed or now authorized to be constructed will supply water for the irrigation of some 142,000 acres of land. "These facts would seem to quite conclusively prove the faith of our present population in the irrigation principle," says The Herald.

"FARINOSA" IS TAKING WELL.

The Ireland National Food Co. is delighted at the reception its latest breakfast food, "Farinosa," is meeting with. "It is the best line we have ever put upon the market," remarked the manager the other day.

"Farinosa" is unquestionably a delicious breakfast food, and, if quality is good for anything, should take well. The quality is not one thing to-day and another to-morrow. Its uniformity is one of its peculiar features. Although good as the commodity already is the firm is still experimenting with a view to making it still better.

PACKING OF LOBSTERS.

Strenuous efforts have been made for some time by the Newfoundland Department of Fisheries, for the improvement of the lobster packing. "Our packers," says the Newfoundland correspondent of The Montreal Gazette, "are far from having reached perfection, but there is a marked advance, and fewer complaints are heard regarding the discoloration of lobsters. The cause of this discoloration is partly the use of cheap inferior tin, but still more the packing of the lobsters when out of season, which is sure to cause blackening of the meat after tinning. Our lobster fishery is steadily improving, the catch having advanced 75 per cent. within three years. The artificial propagation is found to be most serviceable in sustaining the stock, and if sustained and increased, promises to be the means of saving the valuable industry from the destruction which at one time seemed inevitable."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Colville, traveler for Pugsley, Dingman & Co., Toronto, resumes his route again on Monday after enjoying two weeks' holiday.

Mr. H. Beckett, of W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, has just returned from a trip to Port Arthur.

Mr. J. G. Moody, formerly with Musson & Co., has been appointed representative in Toronto and the west for Morrow & Ewing, tea merchants, Montreal.

THE PRESERVATION OF EGGS.

The egg-buyer buys when he can and as cheap as he can. All he cannot dispose of at a profit must be rushed quickly to a cold-storage warehouse or placed in some kind of a pickle or lime, to hold for fall and winter. Of all these, cold storage is supposed to be the best. But this will not keep eggs fresh, or the same as fresh, for they all have a very stale and bitter taste when cooked and cost from 1½ to 2 cents per dozen for storage. With the aid of Knox's Egg Preserver he can lay them away for less than ½ cent per dozen in any cool, dry cellar, and they will bring him more money than cold storage eggs. Preserver should be appreciated by the egg buyer.

THE APPLE CROP IN HURON.

Apples are so plentiful a crop in Huron and other western counties that it is feared that there will not be enough to handle them at the opportune moment. Mr. D. Cantelon estimates that there will be at least 500,000 barrels in Huron alone, with similar quantities in other counties. It will require a good staff of men to handle these when picking commences, and the European steamers cannot take more than 40,000 or 50,000 barrels in a week. The probabilities are that prices will be about 50c. a barrel.—Clinton New Era.

THE GROCERS' BASEBALL CLUB.

A meeting of those interested in the Retail Grocers' Baseball Club, of Toronto, will be held in R. H. Stewart's grocery store, Sackville and Gerrard streets, on July 21st. It is desired that there should be a big turn out.

According to a local gentleman, the apple barrel industry promises to be an important one this season. A few years ago 100,000 apple barrels were sent out of Lambton in one season. Last year not more than 1,000 were shipped. This season's output promises to go over 100,000 barrels.—Sarnia Post.

GETTING CONCERNED ABOUT CANADIAN TRADE.

SINCE we have had a change of Government in Canada certain of the English press have been weighing the possibility of reciprocal trade relations between the Dominion and the United States. Reading between the lines, the possibility is not relished in the Mother Land.

Canadians will probably view the concern of the English press with some gratification. Both the press and politicians can afford to be a little more solicitous for Canadian affairs. They want more of Canada's trade, and not only of Canadian, but of colonial trade generally. They do not, however, want to do anything themselves (that is anything of a sacrificial character) to develop trade within the Empire.

In their fiscal policy, as well as in their business methods, they are wedded to a certain system. To depart from this even one hair's breadth they consider sacrilege.

Said the Right Hon. Leonard Courtney, ex-deputy Speaker of the House of Commons: "The suggestion was, that there should be additional duties on wheat, wool, sugar, timber, etc., in order to impede the introduction of such articles except from our own colonies. A pretty state of things would result. Every man, woman and child in the kingdom would at once feel the burden of the increased cost of the articles which they required in their industries. For what purpose was the added burden to be suffered? In order that the people of this country might be able possibly to augment one-fourth of their trade at the cost of a diminution of the remaining three-fourths."

Of course, if sentiment is to have no place in a transaction so important, Mr. Courtney and others of his stamp must not complain if any of the colonies should at any time refuse to be influenced by any such element. But sentiment has a great deal to do with it.

In a transaction of this kind, however, it would be even more foolish to ignore the dollars-and-cents side of the question than it would the sentimental side thereof.

The fundamental idea is trade development. It is not national expansion. That is a part of it; but it is an after thought. Canada wants to develop her trade with Great Britain and with her colonies. She feels that she can do it better in the manner suggested than under existing conditions. In fact, each of the parties to the proposed agreement are actuated by the same spirit. And each naturally desires to make as good a bargain as possible. That is business.

Mr. Courtney sarcastically refers to the colonial trade as being one-fourth of the total foreign trade of the United Kingdom. He is about one per cent. below the actual figures, according to last year's trade returns, but his figures are near enough for an approximation. They are, however, for the aggregate trade—the imports and the exports.

The trade which a country—one like Great Britain particularly—desires most to cultivate is its export trade. That is the trade at the moment which is giving the United Kingdom the most concern. Now, on turning to the British trade returns for 1895 we find that the colonial market is worth more to the Mother Land than some imagine or are ready to acknowledge.

The total exports from the United Kingdom last year to her colonies were about 31 per cent. of the whole.

England has little to fear for her import trade. Hers is the greatest consuming market in the world. All the producing countries of the world are falling over each other in their eagerness to supply her.

With her export trade it is not so. She has concern for that; and great concern. Countries which were once her customers are now her competitors. As a consequence, her proportion of the foreign trade of the world is gradually diminishing. Now here is an opportunity for her, by giving colonial products an advantage, and by her products securing tariff preferences in the colonial markets, of gradually enlarging the proportion of her sales to her colonies. Each of these colonies is yet in its infancy and each is destined to be the home of untold millions and the possible repository for vast quantities of British goods. Common business foresight would therefore seem to indicate that it is the colonial market that the Mother Land should be striving might and main to appropriate.

She is losing her hold upon her foreign trade; and she of necessity will continue to do so. By imposing a small duty on such articles as wheat, meat, sugar, timber and wool she is not likely to hasten the departure of her foreign export trade. All the foreign countries from which she purchases her food supplies already levy duties against her manufactured products.

The burden of the cry of those opposed to the innovation is not, however, the fear of hostile tariffs against British goods. It is that it would entail a tax on "every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom." It will be a tax on the consumer when the United Kingdom is compelled to plead with the producing countries to sell it wheat, sugar, etc., as these producing countries are now pleading with it to purchase from them. How probable it is of such a day ever dawning we leave it for our readers to conjecture.

CUSTOMS UNION SUGGESTED.

A SUGGESTION of interest to Canada has been made to the United States Treasury authorities.

For some time the Canadian route from the Pacific to the interior of the continent has been more popular with tourists and shippers than the United States route. The reason is that our Customs regulations are less irksome, and that our railway facilities are superior.

All sorts of schemes have been proposed to counteract this influence, included in which have been threats to take away the bonding privileges which the Canadian Pacific enjoyed in the United States.

And now comes the proposition that the United States and Canada form a Customs union relating to the territory around Puget Sound in order that the tide of Asiatic trade may be turned from Canadian into United States channels. The suggestion is made by a special agent of the Treasury, who has evidently been making, or at least trying to make, an investigation of the question.

"In connection with this subject," remarks the agent in question, "it may be stated that 253 cases, containing all the exhibits from China and Japan, were conveyed over the Canadian Pacific Railway from Vancouver to Ogdensburg, thence to Atlanta. Not one package of goods for this exposition was brought by way of Tacoma or San Francisco."

Canada is quite willing to extend its trade relations with the United States, but the proposition in question appears to be too absurd to be given serious consideration. In transactions between nations, as well as between individuals, there must be the quid pro quo given in exchange for privileges or commodities received.

MONTREAL GROCERS' PICNIC.

THE sixteenth annual picnic of the Montreal Grocers' Association took place on Wednesday to Otterbury Park. The day opened dull, but notwithstanding, some 1,500 people took advantage of the trip. Rain fell heavily about nine o'clock, and continued at intervals during the forenoon. The wet weather, however, did not appear to damp the enthusiasm which characterizes this annual event.

The first train left the G.T.R. depot at 8.45 and the second at 9 o'clock. Each was heavily loaded. Immediately on the arrival of the trains the large crowds separated into parties, and soon the park presented a very animated appearance. Everyone was provided for. The children had their swings and the various sports that go to make up a happy outing. Those who cared to trip the light fantastic had an ample programme provided which was taken advantage of by the youth and beauty of the association.

JOINT PICNIC FOR NEXT SEASON.

It was expected this year that representatives would have been present from the associations in London, Hamilton and Toronto, but the first two held their picnics at the same time, while no member of the latter organization could get away. Mr. Vallieres thought THE CANADIAN GROCER should suggest that next year the western association should meet Montreal, and hold a joint picnic at Kingston. The idea is a good one, and though a big undertaking, is well worth considering. There has not been enough intercourse between the grocers of Montreal and the trade in the west. It is doubtful if any of the Montreal men will go to Toronto picnic next week. A party has, however, been made up to visit Toronto the second week of the Exhibition.

The wholesale houses and manufacturers were represented by every available man, only enough were left at home to attend to important country orders. Were it not for the latter, most of the houses would have closed for the day.

There was not a more popular feature than the dancing. T. A. Dionne was in charge and, as usual, made things run pleasantly for everyone. The big pavilion was always crowded. The association could do worse than consider a winter gathering—a musical and other entertainment followed by a dance. It would just suit the younger members.

No grocers' picnic could be complete without a couple of pipers. This is the graceful compliment the French members pay to the popular ex-president, A. D. Fraser, who is one of the most active workers.

This year when the arrangements were being made, one of the committee, Mr. Raby, who is very modest, suggested that it might be well to instruct the pipers to wear trousers. He had been greatly shocked last year. Mr. Fraser remarked that the kilts always went with the pipes. Mr. Raby replied he had no objection to the kilts, in fact, he liked them, and would be disappointed if the pipers came without them, but he wanted them to wear trousers also.

The transport arrangements were in charge of Mr. Summerskill, of the Grand Trunk Railway, who, himself, accompanied the second special train and remained all day at the park, ready to receive any suggestion that might help to make the gathering still more successful. Had it not been for the rain he would have had to use one, if not two, more special trains to carry out the crowd.

Various houses in the city and from other parts took advantage to put their goods before the public. The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., Toronto, had a guessing competition in the form of a bottle filled with coffee beans, and to the lady guessing the number inside a $20 silver salver was offered. This competition created a great deal of excitement among the ladies, and Mr. Dunn, the agent in Montreal, was busy during the first part of the day receiving the guesses.

MOST POPULAR TRAVELER.

Chase & Sanborn had one of the most popular competitions ever held at anything of the kind. It was a vote on the most popular traveler. Mr. Hodge, representing the firm, was the returning officer, and saw that no corruption went on. The ballot was secret and the candidates as they addressed their constituents provoked no little amusement by their witty and pointed remarks. Mr. Lacroix, of Laporte, Martin & Cie., excelled as a public speaker and was a good example of the popular drummers of Montreal. The tickets were sold out in the Grand Tombola for three special prizes donated by Chaput, Fils & Cie. The prizes were beauties and drew forth the admiration of all who saw them.

Tetley & Co. looked after the wants of the ladies, in providing for them, without charge, refreshments in the shape of the "cup that cheers, but not inebriates." This was much appreciated by the fair sex, especially during the afternoon, when the sun came out as if he meant to make up for his delay in the morning. The two pipers added no little to the pleasure of the day with their lively and martial airs, cheering the contestants on to victory. The band, in addition to supplying the music for the dances, during the dinner played many popular and pleasing airs.

THE GAMES.

The chief feature of the day was of course the games, which, in spite of the unfavorable ground, were well contested. Though no records could be broken on account of the slippery track, the races were sufficiently close to cause considerable excitement among the spectators. A source of amusement lacking in the ordinary race was the frequent falls of the contestants. The frantic efforts to keep from falling were thoroughly appreciated, and were enjoyed by those taking part as well as the spectators.

List of winners is left out for want of space, but will appear in our next issue.

LUNCHEON AND SPEECHES.

An excellent luncheon was as usual served in a large tent, with Mr. Vallieres in the chair.

The secretary read letters from Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Mayor Wilson Smith, regretting their inability to be present. Immediately after this J. O. Levesque, on behalf of L. H. Goulet, florist, presented Mrs. Vallieres, wife of the president, with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers, daintily fastened with streamers of red, white and blue.

As usual, the first toast was the "Queen," responded to in the usual way with more than the usual vim. Mr. John Robertson then proposed the health of the "Judges of the Course." It gave him great pleasure to be called upon to perform this important duty, for they were good men. It did not matter what kind of a government they had; if their judges were infallible they were all right. The duties as performed by the judges they had were true judgments, and they were fortunate in being able to have men of that kind. They gave great satisfaction, and he had no doubt they would continue to do so. He did not wish to say more than ask them to drink heartily to the toast of the judges. (Applause.)

Mr. John Kay thanked them for the honor done him in coupling his name with the toast. He always looked forward to the grocers' picnic, and he considered it the best picnic of the year. As an old grocer he always took a great interest in their association. He called upon E. Hart to say a word.

Mr. Hart, in a word, thanked them for calling upon him.

J. A. Vaillancourt next spoke. He referred to the strength of the association, but added that considering the number of grocers in Montreal, it could be made much stronger and of much more benefit to the trade if grocers took more interest and larger numbers joined the association.

The health of the "President of the Association" was proposedby ex-Ald. Gauthier, who said he always took a great deal of pleasure in Montreal Grocers' Association. If it was possible for him at any time to do anything to assist in the work of the association he would only be too glad to do so. He regretted very much being absent from the previous picnic, but he had always endeavored to make the picnic a success. The president had worked hard to make the event as profitable as possible. He was glad to assist Mr. S. D. Valliers in making the day as enjoyable as possible. He paid a high compliment to the ladies for being present in such numbers. He spoke very highly of Mr. Vallieres as one of the most honored, most respected, and as one of the most dignified men who had presided over the affairs of the association. That he had not been elected president long ago was due to his humility. He worked hard for the association, but always kept himself in the background. With such men as he in the chair the association would live long and prosper, and would draw in every grocer in Montreal. Personally, he said, Mr. Vallieres was one of the finest men in the trade.

THE ASSOCIATION'S STRENGTH.

Mr. Vallieres, in a very suitable reply, thanked Mr. Gauthier for his kind words, but said he had only done his share, what each of the members of the association had done. The success of the picnic was not due to him but to the committee, and to the ladies and the public who had attended in such large numbers. He stated that the association was flourishing with only 250 members. In Montreal there ought to be at least 1,000 members. With this membership they would be in a posttion to command and get what they wanted from the Government and from the Municipal Council. Now that three members of the association were members of the Council Mr. Vallieres hoped that more attention would be paid their requests. In concluding, the president again thanked the ladies and travelers who had responded so readily to the call of the committee and made the day a grand success.

Mr. Fraser, ex-president, said he had very much pleasure in asking them to fill their glasses and drink to the toast of the Wholesale Grocers' Guild and contributors to the fund. As chairman of the Subscription Committee he thanked those who subscribed to the picnic generally. He was quite sure when he said to the gentlemen present that they would bear him out when he said that if their picnic was successful these results are due to the assistance from generous subscribers to this picnic. (Applause.) Any request they made to the wholesale men was always responded to in a very handsome manner indeed. (Applause.) They were indebted to each of these subscribers to the picnic. They had always contributed handsomely to the prize-list. The balance at the end of the year was due to them, for they did not spend all they received in one day's fun, but kept a reserve. (Applause.)

These also spoke: Mr. Ethier, of Laporte, Martin & Cie.; Mr. Alfred Childs, of Geo. Childs & Co.; Mr. Caldwell, of Chas. Gurd & Co., ginger-ale manufacturers.

The next toast on the list was "The City Council," proposed by Mr. Gauthier, ex-alderman. He said that the association ought to be very proud of having such a representation on the City Council. Unfortunately for him, he had to take a back seat. As it was, their representatives at the City Hall, Messrs. Turner, Kinsella, Connaughton, were three good men. Although he was out of it, he thought that the Council should recognize the association on account of the large representation. He was sure there was no other association in the city who had such an able representation on the Council.

THE CITY COUNCIL AND THE ASSOCIATION.

Ald. Turner was the first to reply. He thanked the proposer for his kind words in regard to the City Council, especially as they got so few of them. It was his aim to look after all the interests of the city, grocers especially.

Ald. Connaughton caused an outburst of applause by stating that he had never missed the annual picnic, and did not intend to if it was at all possible to attend. He said his first aim in the Council was to look after the interests of the grocers and their association.

Ald. Thos. Kinsella was next called on, but was unable to respond owing to a cold.

Mr. John Johnston, in a few apt words, proposed the toast "Our Guests."

Mr. John M. Taylor (of Geo. Wait & Co.), in reply, said that this was one of the happiest days of his life, to be present with the grocers at their annual picnic. He was also very glad for having been appointed one of their judges. He thanked the committee for having carried out to such a successful issue the picnic on this occasion. He would not detain them, but simply mention that he had very kindly feelings towards the association. (Applause.)

Mr. St. Arsenault and Mr. Levesque also replied.

The toast of the "Wholesale Travelers" was proposed by Mr. Demers in a brief speech and replied to by Mr. Lapointe, of Chaput, Fils & Cie.; Mr. Duckworth, of Caverhill, Hughes & Co.; Mr. E. Cardinal, of Hudon, Hebert & Cie.; Mr. Massicotte, of N. Quintal & Fils. These gentlemen, having to speak extempore, caused considerable merriment, which they enjoyed as much as the audience.

THE CLERKS.

The next on the list was the "Grocery Clerks' Association." In proposing this toast Mr. Demers said he was the more ready to propose this toast as the president of this association was in his employ. In his remarks Mr. Demers spoke especially of the work done by the association in the matter of early closing. The president, Mr. J. P. Beauvais, said that he was proud to respond to the toast as this was the first time the association had been represented at the annual picnic. He thanked on behalf of the association those who had done so much for the cause of early closing.

Mr. John Scanlan then proposed in a few words the toast of "The Press," to which John Bayne MacLean, of THE CANADIAN GROCER, and Arthur Ware, of The Gazette, were called on to respond.

Mr. MacLean said he had to thank them for proposing the toast of "The Press," and for mentioning him personally. He thanked them for the very great kindness which he and his representatives received at the different picnics. For the last nine years either he or Mr. Hugh C. MacLean had, on their invitation, attended this annual event, and he thought that their kindness with each succeeding year increased. (Applause.)

Mr. Demers was called on to propose "The Ladies." He declined and in turn called on Mr. St. Arnaud, who had had experience. Mr. St. Arnaud too, felt incompetent to fill the position, and accordingly Mr. Levesque proposed the toast. He said the success of the annual picnic was in great measure due to the presence of the ladies. He hoped they would always come, for they were always welcome. The toast was well received, and answered by a lusty singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The president then thanked those present for their interest in the picnic, after which the audience dispersed to witness the conclusion of the games.

THE COMING EXCURSION.

On Wednesday next the members of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association will hold their annual excursion. They go to Niagara Falls and Buffalo by steamers Chippewa and Chicora and new electric railway along the bank of the river.

All that is wanted to make the day enjoyable is fine weather, and every grocer in Toronto should make an effort to be present and bring his wife, intended wife or friends with him.

At outings of this kind people rub shoulders and score out prejudices, besides getting recreation.

It is good that grocers should attend grocers' excursions.

WAITING FOR SALMON.

Malcolm & Windsor, Steveston, B.C., in a letter to THE CANADIAN GROCER, say: "The salmon situation at the present is one of waiting. The river is rising from the effects of the recent hot weather, and, as a natural consequence, is full of all sorts of snags, etc. The close season ended yesterday, but, so far, there have not been any boats put out. The fish have been reported on the west coast of Vancouver Island for the past ten days, but owing to this season having been so very backward, they are very slow in making their way up to the Fraser River."

A SPOILED EFFECT.

An egg dealer doing business in the east end of Toronto has hit upon a good method of displaying eggs. In the front of his window he has a large nest in which nestle about a dozen eggs, while on a card, in black letters, are the words, "New Laid Eggs." Passers-by can scarcely avoid seeing the display. But its effectiveness is marred by the fact that the eggs in the nest are liberally bespattered with fly specs.

Here's an instance where an attractive display is likely to have an effect the very opposite from what it was designed to have.

A WORD ABOUT MATCHES

Too many people in this world use too many matches to make it pay any grocer to carry only a high-priced match. Many people wish a match which is cheap in price if it is not cheap in quality. That is why we sell about two carloads a month of just because they are a good reliable match, and we sell them cheap to you and you to your customers.

A WORD ABOUT TEA

Too many tea drinkers have come to realize the superiority of CEYLON TEA for any grocer to be without the best brands. Nearly all Ceylon Tea is purer, richer and more fragrant than other teas, and we believe the best of them all is in ½-lb. packages to retail at 25 cents.

"Princess Louise" Ceylon Tea

In ½-lb. packages to retail at 20 cts. If you take our word as to their quality and recommend them to your customers, the quality of the tea will prove your claims.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

LAST week was a busy one with the wholesale grocers of Toronto ; but the volume of business so far this week has not been so large, a falling off in the demand being perceptible in practically all lines. At the same time, however, a fair business is being transacted. A better feeling obtains in sugar, and one of the refineries is a little higher in its views, but the wholesalers are rather lower in their views than they were at the time of last review. The demand for sugar is not as brisk as it was a week ago, although there is still a good deal going out. Trade is active in canned salmon, and there is a fair quantity of vegetables going out. For currants the demand is keeping up well. In prunes, there is a little inquiry for those of French growth. Teas are not generally receiving much attention. In green fruits, both foreign and domestic, a fairly good trade is still to be noted. The butter market is still in an unsatisfactory condition, with prices much as before.

CANNED GOODS.

For at least some brands of canned salmon a firmer feeling is to be noted, a bid for futures at a former quotation having been rejected during the past week. Lobsters are still firm, with the tendency upward. There is talk of a light pack of peas in the eastern part of the province, but wholesalers are only buying for immediate requirements. Strawberries are lower than they were a year ago, but the pack, while much larger than in 1895, is alleged to be smaller than it was anticipated it would be ; some of the packers claimed to have disposed of the pack. We quote : Tomatoes, 80 to 90c. ; corn, 55 to 80c. ; peas, 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c. ; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.50 to $1.85, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 ; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

There is nothing new to report. We quote green in bags : Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade ; East Indian, 27 to 30c. ; South American, 21 to 23c. ; Santos, 19 to 22½c. ; Java, 25 to 33c. ; Mocha, 27½ to 30c. ; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c. ; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is a little doing in syrups in tins, but there is neither none offering nor none wanted in ordinary packages. We quote : Dark, 30 to 32c. ; medium, 33 to 35c. ; bright, 40 to 42c. ; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Business continues dull. We quote : New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c. ; half-barrels, 30 to 35c. ; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c. ; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

On the whole there is probably a better feeling in sugar this week, although confidence can scarcely be said to have been yet restored. The outside markets are steady one day and unsteady the next, but in spite of this there is a feeling abroad that the worst is over. One refinery is this week asking 1-16c. more for granulated; the others are still quoting as before. The demand for sugar is still good, although not as active as a week ago. Wholesalers' quotations are slightly lower than they were at time of last review, granulated now being quoted at $4.45 to $4.50 and yellows at $3.45 up. It was inadvertently stated last week that prices were about 16 per cent. lower than the week before. Anyone, however, who made a comparison of the two quotations would have discovered that it was an error.

SPICES.

Trade is fairly active and prices unchanged. We quote : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c. ; pure white, 18 to 25c. ; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c. ; cloves, 15 to 20c. ; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c. ; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c. ; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb. ; allspice, 14 to 18c. ; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Trade continues fairly good for the lines quoted. We quote : Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c. ; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c. ; tapioca, 3¾ to 4½c. ; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Filberts for September have advanced fully ½c. per lb. above the figures for import last year. We quote as follows : Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c. ; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. ; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c. ; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green ; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack ; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. ; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c. ; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c. ; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Japan teas are still coming forward, but the demand is not extensive, people evidently awaiting the arrival of lower-priced teas. In London, England, Ceylon teas for price are dearer. These teas have been ruling low during the past month, chiefly in consequence of the poor quality arriving, combined with the general disposition to wait for the finer growths, which are always shipped later, in the season. A London tea letter, under date of July 3, says : "As is usually the case towards the end of the half-year, bidding has been restricted to within narrow limits, but there seem indications that the low prices now ruling for Ceylon teas may tend to induce operators to go more freely into stock. The supply of new season's Indian tea coming to hand is at present too small to establish reliable quotations." Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are : Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades ; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

The demand for currants is being well maintained and prices rule firm in the outside markets. We quote as follows : Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls. ; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c. ; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c. ; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c. ; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c. ; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c. ; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c. ; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c. ; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c. ; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c. ; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

California loose muscatels have advanced slightly, owing to the lightness of stocks. The wholesale men are beginning to discuss orders for shipment when the new fruit comes in. On the Toronto market stocks are confined to a few dealers. There is nothing

The London Produce Markets' Review of July 4 says: "Shipments of Japan rice this season have been considerably less than in previous years, and, with only a comparatively limited stock here, prices for this description are sure to be dearer. The quantity landed in London (cleaned and uncleaned) was 575 tons, against 680 tons; the deliveries were 449 tons, against 639 tons; and the stock was 9,764 tons, against 19,118 tons. The stock in Liverpool was 21,940 tons, against 29,180 tons, at the same time last year."

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 16, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has exhibited little change during the week. Demand for most of the staples is complained of as most unsatisfactory both by jobbers and wholesalers, and buyers all round still confine themselves to small purchases. Sugar has been more enquired for since the decline at the refineries last week, but the market has an unsettled feeling that restricts buying. There is very little doing in the way of new business either in syrups or molasses. Tea is almost motionless, and the same can be said of coffees and spices. Canned goods are quiet, with no urgency on buyers' part, while country produce, owing to low export prices, seems to be going lower than ever.

SUGAR.

The unsettled feeling continues in sugar, though Montreal jobbers, as a rule, are sticking to the Guild prices. Since the decline in values at the refineries there has been more demand for sugar from jobbers, but mainly for quantities that the refiners refused to sell. Demand from retailers is not brisk and, as a whole, the market is a decidedly unsatisfactory one. We quote: Granulated, 4½c., and yellows, 3⅜ to 3¾c.

SYRUPS.

There has been no improvement in the syrup market and prices are steady and unchanged at 1¼ to 2¾c. as to grade.

MOLASSES.

The large arrivals of Barbadoes molasses noted last week have not influenced prices, as they cost laid down almost the ruling rates, the inside price on them in a large way being 28½ to 29c. nett cash ex wharf. As regards new business there is but little disposition to do any at the moment, jobbers now being supplied some time ahead. The feeling is steady for the small jobbing enquiry noted at 30c. in round lots, and 31c. in single puncheons. Porto Rico stock is held for the same price as Barbadoes.

RICE.

There is a good demand experienced at the mills for rice. It is the season for stocking up, and the enquiry is said to be about equal to that of last year. In sympathy with strong advices from abroad the market has a very firm tone. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

Business is quiet in spices, demand being of a small sorting character. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

There has been no change in the coffee market, business continuing extremely quiet. In consequence of this absence of demand holders might possibly shade prices, but there is no quotable change in a jobbing way. We quote: Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 18 to 19c.; Java, 28c.; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

Business in tea continues very quiet as regards transactions between first and second hands, the only trading in this connection being a few low-grade and medium Japans at 12 to 15½c., as to grade. In a distributing way also retailers' wants at the moment are not very extensive, and the market as a whole is a lifeless one. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The local jobbers have imported small quantities of California raisins from Boston and New York, chiefly 2-crown, which have been selling at 4¾ to 5c. Valencia raisins are scarce and firm, only ordinary grades being available. These are held at 4¾ to 5c. also. Fine off-stalk and selected are not to be had.

Currants are firm and unchanged at 4½ to 5½c. as to grade.

Sultana raisins are steady at 6 to 6½c., with stocks almost exhausted.

Prunes are firmly held, the only kind offering being French, at 5¼ to 5½c., and Austrian, at 6 to 6½c.

Figs and dates are nominal.

NUTS.

There is no change in these, business ruling quiet. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10½c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market is quiet, with few features of interest. Offers on new pack salmon, lobsters, vegetables and fruit show no change since those specially noted last week, and local jobbers continue as backward buyers as ever. A few small lots of salmon were placed this week on the basis of $4.50 f.o.b. Coast; some tomatoes at 70c., and strawberries at $1.40. The actual consumptive demand is small. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's,

GREEN FRUIT.

This market has furnished a seasonable business with no very striking features. Pineapples have met a good demand at easier prices, while strawberries are not so plentiful and prices are firmer. Raspberries are commencing to come in freely. Receipts of plums, apricots, pears, etc., so far are hardly worthy of note or quotations. We quote: Apples, $5 to $6; dried do., 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 8 to 12c., and strawberries, 10 to 12c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $1.50 to $3.50, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has ruled quiet, but firm with demand equal to supply at 9½ to 10½c. for firsts, and 8 to 8½c. for seconds.

BEANS—Continue quiet at 70 to 75c., car lots, and 80 to 90c. in small lots.

POTATOES—New stock opened at $2 to $2.50 per bbl., but receipts have increased rapidly during the week, and prices have tumbled accordingly, standing now at $1 to $1.50 per bbl.

TALLOW—Quiet and steady at 4 to 5½c.

HOPS—Sales have been made in a small way at 5c. to 7c. as to quality, which is a lower inside figure.

HONEY—Unchanged : Bright comb, 12c. to 14c. ; dark, 10c. to 12c., and extracted, 7c. to 8c.

HAY.

The hay market is rather easier this week, sales of No. 1 being made on Monday at $13 to $13.50, and No. 2, $10 to $10.50.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is quiet and holders of Canadian pork have been urging sales with the result of easier prices, both clear and mess being marked down 50c. We quote as follows : Canadian short cut, clear, $11.50 to $12 ; Canadian short cut, mess, $12 to $12.50 ; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 6¼c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

Flour shows further easiness since our last, but since the decline demand has been better and the market has exhibited a steady tone. We quote : Winter wheat, $3.70 to $3.90 ; spring wheat, patents, $3.60 to $3.75; straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60 ; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.75 ; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.40 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.40.

Oatmeal has been cut also and at this writing the demand is slow even at the decline. We quote : Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90 ; granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3 ; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

The feed market has continued firm all round, while bran especially has been in good request. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12 ; shorts, $11 to $13 ; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market has continued unsettled, and the shippers here have failed to follow the speculative buying of last week. As a result values are easier. At the wharf in Montreal on Monday 6,000 Quebec cheese were offered, and they sold at a decline of ⅛ to ¼c. on last week at 6½ to 6⅝c.

The butter market does not show much change, though some shippers note more enquiry over the cable. The limits given, however, allow little margin for business, but prices on creamery may be quoted at a range of 16 to 16¼c.

ASHES.

There is no change in the ashes market. We quote : Pots, firsts, $3.60; seconds, $3.30 and pearls, $4.75 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Sugar prices at the refineries are still unsettled, though not quotably changed.

A few small lots of new pack salmon have been sold on this market on the basis of $4.50 f.o.b. Coast.

Receipt of new potatoes are very heavy this week, and prices have dropped $1 per barrel in consequence.

Cables on raw sugar from London this week quoted lowest prices on record, viz., beet, 9s. 9d. July ; 9s. 10½d. August.

Jobbers have refused to enter into any new obligations re supplies of molasses, as receipts have been heavy during the past ten days.

Advices on rice from sources of supply are strong, and though no quotable change in mill prices is noted here, the tone of the market is much firmer.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 16, 1896.

TRADE continues quiet, with market ruling weak. Dealers are, however, giving some attention to fall goods, and sales are reported quite freely in peels and canned goods. In the latter, spot peas and tomatoes are among the very few goods which show higher prices. In the lumber business, which is so important to us, while the American market shows nothing of particular interest, English demand is good at good prices. New season's teas are now here, and values are found to be about the same as last year. Stocks of teas here are quite large. The representatives of two London houses were here during the week, but did not find a very active trade. One business appears good—that of the open-air seller of medicine. Every evening two of these doctors lecture to large crowds, after a short entertainment is given to bring the crowd together. Sales appear very satisfactory. Berry business has been very active during the week. All green fruits show large business. Flour shows very light demand even at the very low prices ruling, and market is easy.

OIL—The oil market shows no change either in increased demand or in price. However, the quiet season in burning oil is about over. In prices the feeling is that at any rate they will not be higher and may be lower; a change in the duty is not unexpected. In seal oil, owing to small catch, prices rule higher. Cod oil is very scarce, there being practically no receipts. It is said the producers are clarifying their oil and shipping it to the American market as cod liver oil. We quote: American burning oil, 22½c.; best Canadian, 20½c.; prime white, 17 to 18c.; barrels free in all cases.

SALT—There is but fair demand. Stocks are, however, very light, and, as noted last week, cannot be replaced to sell at price which has been ruling. This has caused a small advance, and on coarse salt still higher prices are looked for. In factory-filled a small quantity arrived this week from Boston. Owing to the difference in price between this salt and the Canadian fine, the Canadian is not as largely sold as it otherwise would be. Owing to the increased sale of cartoons and small wood boxes the sale of small bags in barrels is much lighter than formerly. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3 to $3.25;; 10-lb bags in bbls., $2 75 to $3; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl

CANNED GOODS—Salmon for fall are rather firmer, some canners refusing orders at their late quotations. Quantity also seems limited. Most of our merchants have bought, but in smaller quantities than usual, one reason being that salmon, which have been held for nine months, are selling here at about 2 per cent. advance on what those bought at lowest price this season will cost, and lower than they could now be bought for fall delivery best new fish. Vegetables are quoted for fall rather lower this week. Strawberries are held firm. Lobsters are very scarce. There is a good demand. Shipments of canned haddies continue to go forward to the west. In canned soups the last year has shown quite an improvement in demand. It is not, however, large. American packers quote ox tongue higher and firmer. Beef is easy. Oysters are still high. We quote: Corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, $1 to $1.10; tomatoes, 95c.; gallon apples, $2.20 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.20 to $2.25; 2-lb. tins, American, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; peaches, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.35 to $2.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.25 to 1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—There is active business. Bananas are a large sale. Oranges high and about out of the market. While pine apples show no change in price, season is getting late. Arrivals of apricots have been light. Pears arrive in good condition. This cannot be said of peaches, which so far have given but little satisfaction. The apples which are now arriving are much better than the first lots to hand. In small fruits, Nova Scotia strawberries, which have been arriving very freely, are about over. Our own province berries are still arriving in good condition. Cherries are coming in; while prices asked for first arrivals were high, they soon fell off. Melons keep firm. We quote as follows: Lemons, $3 to $4; Valencia oranges, $10; pineapples, $1.50 to $2; bananas, $1 to $2; strawberries, 10 to 12c.; cabbage, per doz., 80c.; cucumbers, 50c. per doz.; tomatoes, $1.50 to $2 per crate; California peaches, $2 to $2.50; apricots, $1.50 to $2; cherries, 30 to 40c.; plums, $2.50 to $3; melons, 50 to 60c.

DRIED FRUITS—Merchants are working off their old raisins to advantage; not that there is particular demand, but stocks, both here and in New York, are light. Loose muscatels are about out of the market. Dealers are placing orders for peels more freely. Stock carried over from last season is very light. As before noted, citron is higher than last season and is held firm. Quotations received on Valencias for August show little difference from last year; if anything, they are rather lower. There is still some demand for California prunes. These goods have given good satisfaction. Late prices from Norfolk on peanuts are lower. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ 2c.; Bermuda onions, $1 to $1.25 per crate; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter is large supply and very dull. Buyers make the price. Dairy very hard to sell and there is no sale at all for poor. Eggs are also light sale and prices keep low. In cheese as yet sales have been small; there is but little life. For old there is no sale. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c; creamery, rolls, 18 to 19c.; do. tubs, 17 to 18c. Eggs are steady at 8 to 9c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c.

SUGAR—This article, in which there has been so much hope, continues to disappoint. And though from the American market come encouraging reports, prices here continue to ease off and another decline of about ⅛c. is reported. The usual demand at this season is very slow in coming. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3⅝ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—Importations so far have been large, though not the proportion of Barbadoes usual. One importer who heads the list has had upward of two thousand packages, sixteen hundred being large. The next on the list has had about thirteen hundred. Demand, although dull, keeps up fully as well as dealers expected, taking all things into consideration. Prices, however, have had to be shaded, making profit less than had been hoped. Importers have been somewhat helped by small fall-shorts on importations. Country dealers are being largely supplied, and this will be felt in the later demand. There is no call for syrup and New Orleans shows little movement. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 29c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 34c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; St. Croix, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Catch of salmon continues large, and prices low. All points to which shipments are made are overloaded, except as regards haddock. This is the only fresh fish now in the market to any large extent. Lobsters are very light arrivals and season is about over. In large dry cod there is light stock, but in medium and pollock prices are easy. No demand for pickled is yet felt. Stocks are about cleaned up. The only new are a few bay. There is no demand for dry hake and haddock. Smoked still very dull and low. Large quantities of nice dulse continue to be received. We quote as follows: Large cod, $3 to $3.25; medium, $2.75 to $3; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.25; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 10 to 12c.; lobsters, 6c.

PROVISIONS—This is still a very quiet line. There is still considerable stock here, particularly pork and lard. Market is low and weak. Smoked meats show limited sale, only hams moving. We quote: Clear pork, $13.75 to $14.25; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 8½ to 9c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the price continues to drop off. Agents find sales rather better because stocks which were large have worked off, but dealers find demand very slow, and prices show quite a range. Oats are reported plenty and with oatmeal keep low. Cornmeal is at the low price still, though one city mill advanced the price a little, owing to other mills being out of corn for a few days. Sales have been very large. Hay is quite a little higher; farmers are about beginning to cut; firm prices are expected; crop is not a large one. There is nothing to note a change in beans; price and demand low with large stock. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.45 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.10 to $4.20; medium, $4 to $4.10; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.90 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $14.50 to $15.50; bran, do do, $13.50 to $14; hay, $14 to $15; handpicked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 30 to 32c. barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

The Canadian nail men have been holding a session here. During their stay they were tendered an excursion up the river by the city members of the association.

Very large shipments of strawberries have gone forward from the Annapolis Valley to the American market. They are shipped in refrigerator cars. On July 2nd two carloads were shipped.

The following molasses arrived by last West India steamer: 75 casks and 60 barrels Antigua; 700 casks Barbadoes; 125 barrels and 12 casks St. Croix. Besides the molasses there were 30 barrels Barbadoes sugar, 50 barrels pineapples and 75 bags cocoanuts.

James Patterson this last week received his diploma and medal from the Columbian Exhibition. They are particularly fine and are highly prized. They were awarded for his display of pickled fish.

Reports from the Annapolis valley are for full crop of apples; Gravensteins give good promise and Kings show up particularly well. It is hard to tell what will happen before fall. A number of new orchards will come in this season. Prospect for English demand is good, and already enquiries are reported. Every effort is being made to have better steamship facilities. Shippers are somewhat afraid of the extra freight rate necessary to do this, but experience should teach them the necessity of it. The difference in freight is small when compared with the advantage of having the apples landed in good condition.

TRAVELERS TO "MOONLIGHT."

The City Travelers' Association of Toronto will hold its fourth annual promenade concert on Monday night next, the 27th inst., on board the steamer Chippewa. An excellent programme has been prepared, and orchestra and brass bands will be on board. The concert programme contains no less than twenty-four numbers.

A NECESSITY TO GROCERS.

James Pickett, who purchased the "Globe Grocery," Mount Forest, from Luke Madigan, writes as follows: "Finding THE CANADIAN GROCER as necessary to a merchant in running a business as oil is to machinery, I have paid him for the balance of his term, so you will kindly send it to address given below."

Previous to becoming proprietor, Mr. Pickett was manager of the "Globe Grocery," and learned to appreciate the value of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

WINNIPEG RETAILERS.

The annual meeting of the Winnipeg Retailers' Association was held on the 7th inst. at the Delmonico, and was enthusiastic when the question of adherence to the early closing system was discussed. At present the affairs of the association are prospering, and the members are determined to see that the necessary legislation is secured to close all the stores at a uniform early hour. They claim the recent bylaw was upset on a technicality, which can be easily remedied. The officers elected are as follows:

President—C. H. Wilson.
Vice-president—T. D. Deegan.
Treasurer—George Ryan.
Secretary—J. M. Teachman.
Assistant secretary—J. L. Clow.

Votes of thanks were moved to the retiring officers before adjournment.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

NEW codfish are in abundance on our shores, but the catch is somewhat retarded by the lack of bait. Still, the prospects for a large catch are good. The price of codfish is unchanged at $2.25 to $2.50 for small and $3 to $3.50 for large.

Salmon have taken quite a tumble owing to liberal receipts. The steamer Harlow and several schooners brought about 700 packages from Newfoundland and the price fell from $23 ten days ago to $13.50 to $14 to-day. The catch in Cape Breton is the largest ever known and reports just received from Labrador are to the effect that the catch is above the average. Buyers look forward to securing salmon at $11 for 1st. $10 for 2's and $9 for large 3's.

Alewives are fairly plentiful. The quotation is $3.

New herrings are coming in at $3.75 to $4, and dealers can get their requirements filled at these figures.

The breadstuffs markets continue quiet and easy on all lines. The tendency for some time past has been to lower markets. The jobbing price to-day runs from $3.20 to $3.30 for extras; $3.40 to $3.50 for straight grades; $3.60 to $3.85 for patents, and $3.90 to $4.40 for Manitobas.

We have heard of oatmeal and rolled oats selling as low as $2.70 to $2.75 by the carload, jobbing prices being about 15c. above these.

Cornmeal is quoted at $1.95 by the carload. Jobbers' prices are 5 to 10c. more.

Oats are offering at from 28½ to 30c. by the carload, with jobbing prices 2c. higher.

Feeds are low. Middlings are offered at $14.75 to $15 by the carload, and bran $1 less.

The market is fairly well supplied with green fruit, such as California pears, peaches, apricots, bananas, pineapples, etc., the tri-weekly service to Boston being a great advantage to dealers in this respect. Some of the fruit, such as peaches, is arriving in poor condition. Oranges are about cleaned up. Annapolis Valley strawberries continue to come in, but will be well done by the end of the week. The price remains to jobbers at about 7c. per box. Egyptian onions are selling at 1⅞c. per lb.

The provision market remains dull owing to the demand for fruits and the cheapness of salmon. Beef is being superseded by lamb. Good beef is worth $8.25, and good grass cattle $7. Lambs sell at from $2.50 to $3, or about 10c. per lb., sinking pelts. Mutton is worth 6c., and veal 4 to 5c. P.E.I. mess pork is quoted at $14, and American at $15.

Poultry continues in poor demand. Fowls sell at 50c. per pair, and turkeys at 14c. per lb.

Butter is a drug on the market. Small tubs of dairy are offered by farmers at 16c. Store packed is worth 14 to 15c., good dairy is worth 16 to 17c., and good creamery, 19c.

There is a fair demand for eggs at 10c.

Cheese is jobbing at 9c., and some at 8½c., although the latter is poor stock.

Old potatoes are going up in price on account of stocks being fairly well cleaned up. They are now worth 40c.; all other old vegetables are about done.

There have been some more arrivals of molasses since last week. The Taymouth Castle brought several small lots from Antigua, Barbadoes, Demerara, St Kitts, St. Croix and Trinidad. The market is dull. Quotations are: St. Croix, 28c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 36c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, M R brand, 39c.; St. Kitts, 28c.

The sugar market remains in an unsatisfactory condition. Prices at the refinery are easier, being 4 7-16c. and upwards for yellows.

The death of John F. Devine, of the well-known fruit house of Hessian & Devine, took place last week.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

The partnership heretofore existing between Robt. Moore and Jonathan Magee, doing business under the style of the Western Storage & Commission Co., 420 to 422 Ridout street, London, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued by Mr. Moore, who assumes all liabilities.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

W. RYAN, produce merchant, Toronto, is finding trade in smoked meats equal to anything it has been during the past couple of years.

T. Kinnear & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Patras currants in half cases.

Loose muscatel California raisins are still in stock with H. P. Eckardt & Co.

Davidson & Hay report the arrival of direct shipment of new crop Ceylon teas.

T. Kinnear & Co. have in stock "Scripture" brand lobsters in talls and half's.

Davidson & Hay have in stock a full assortment of Meyer & Co.'s meat and fish paste.

T. Kinnear & Co. are receiving another lot of the celebrated "Golden" finnan haddies.

Japan teas now offering by Lucas, Steele & Bristol at 15 and 18c. are said to be snaps. Samples on application.

John Sloan & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Booth's "Diamond" and "Oval" brands of canned pineapple.

Davidson & Hay have in stock Sir Robt. Burnett's and Hill & Underwood's English malt vinegar in quarter casks.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. have made several shipments of butter to the Maritime Provinces during the past week or two.

The demand for malt and cider vinegars is on the increase. T. A. Lyttle & Co. report unusually large sales in these lines.

A big price reduction on all their canned goods resulted in a lively clearance for Laporte, Martin & Cie. during the past two weeks.

Robert Greig & Co. have on hand a lot of Purnell's English malt vinegar, for which they are quoting close figures on original packages.

"A cheap match, but a good one," is what Laporte, Martin & Cie. claim for their "Victoria" brand. They report a sale of two carloads a month.

Several hundred cases were landed this week by Robert Greig & Co. from Dandicolle & Gaudin, the celebrated packers of French preserved goods.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are in receipt of a cable from Japan announcing that all their orders for "Victor," "Ostrich" and "Monarch" brands of teas have been executed.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. report that their sales of "Ludella" Ceylon package tea are increasing rapidly. The firm has just put in a new 1,000 pound mixer.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have some very fine lines of Japans to retail at 25c. "Excellent value," so that firm say, "for a merchant to gain trade on."

"Our 'Victoria' and 'Princess Louise' brands are good examples of the growth in popularity of Ceylon tea," say Laporte, Martin & Cie., "they are both good sellers."

"Hire's root beer has gone off well this season. Have had to re-order Stower's lime juice, cordial and clarified lemon squash," write Lucas, Steele & Bristol.

Howe, McIntyre & Co., Montreal agents for "Golden" finnan haddies, are increasing their sales, which shows the trade know a good thing and are willing to push it along.

Pilgrim's summer beverages, of which W. H. Gillard & Co. are the agents, are selling rapidly. Last season they sold over five thousand cases and look for a larger sale this.

A large shipment of Carr & Co.'s English biscuits was landed this week by Robert Greig & Co. These biscuits are daily increasing in popularity with the best class of trade.

Noble's "XXX" lobsters now in stock with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. Being paper lined will not spoil like ordinary goods. The firm have just received Clark's ham and veal pate; also chicken, duck and partridge pates.

Robert Greig & Co.'s "Crown" flavoring extracts are having an unusually large sale this season. The trade realize that in handling this line they have something that can be absolutely depended upon to give every satisfaction, even to the most fastidious customers.

The Pure Fruit Extracts put up by the F. F. Dalley Co., of Hamilton, are experiencing a constantly increasing trade. They should. The goods are unquestionably of excellent quality. The firm is in receipt of reports from its customers bearing this fact out.

The proprietors of Adams' root beer have recently placed upon the market a 10-cent size, to make two gallons of Adams' ginger beer, and have reduced their price of the root beer from $10 per gross to $9, or 80c. per dozen, to bring it in harmony with the introductory price of the new product. The Canadian Specialty Co., Toronto, are still their selling agents.

The material used in the manufacture of "Rising Sun" and "Sun Paste" stove polish is imported from Ceylon, India, and goes through a peculiar manipulation at the factory in Canton, Mass. The durable qualities of the stove polish are due to the high quality of the materials used.

A shipment of a lot of new season's Moning Congou teas is arriving in about a week for Perkins, Ince & Co. The teas are choice. In the shipment are also a few packages of finest teas that were grown in China this season. They are extra choice Ningchows.

Moore Bros. received orders one day last week for immediate shipments of "Rising Sun" stove polish and "Sun Paste" stove polish amounting to eleven carloads of 15 tons each. At this season of the year such a day's sales of stove polish is phenomenal and attests the popularity of these goods.

To see a baking powder and spice factory brightly illuminated and to hear the buzz and hum of machinery at night at this time of the year, excited the curiosity of THE CANADIAN GROCER to such an extent that he dropped into the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. one night this week to find out what was wrong. "Nothing wrong," said the genial manager, "only a most unlooked-for rush of business during the last four weeks, and we are working three or four nights every week to keep up with it, and large as our plant is we are scarcely able to do so. Never saw anything like it."

P. C. Larkin & Co. report that "Salada" is now on sale in nearly every city, town and village between Halifax in the east and Victoria in the west, with wholesale agencies in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, London, Hamilton and Vancouver. The trade is more than twice what it was this time last year. Besides this showing in Canada, Spiller & Seaman, the well-known tea merchants of Buffalo, N.Y., are making great headway with it in the United States, and in the streets of Buffalo to-day "Salada Ceylon Tea" can be seen on the windows of the leading grocers nearly as frequently as it can be in the Canadian cities.

THE VALUE OF RESPONSIBILITIES.

EVERY young man should be in debt. Not in debt to his tailor or his landlady, or for a bill in a saloon or cigar store, for that class of obligation does more harm than good, even if he pays within a reasonable time. It is well, though, to be encumbered by some real estate mortgage, or by such a liability as building association shares and insurance; not a burden which is going to become a drain, to make life a drudge and call for every spare penny, but one which will have a tendency to make him select his pleasures rather than drift into them for want of any other object in life.

Most young men do not see much to gain by saving a few dollars each month, and they fall into the habit of letting it all go. A small partial payment invested in real estate with the natural additions he would make, having once become interested, will amount to a very snug little sum by the time he is 40. At that age a man usually determines whether his life is a business success or a failure. If a success, the little accumulation that taught him how to shut off foolish expenditures has probably been the secret of that success. If a failure, the fact that he is possessed of a snug sum in cash or its equivalent will be found a very pleasing reflection. The payments all come during what may be termed his best producing years and are rarely a hardship. The mistake is frequently made of going in too deep, particularly in real estate. Anxiety to make a fortune quickly instead of attaining a competence has ruined many careers which, under the plan of gradual accumulation would have been both successful and brilliant. A heavy load means both physical and mental strain. No man can afford to shut off his pleasure and his recreation altogether. He needs both the society of women and the companionship of men as well as a class of recreation which will keep his mental faculties clean and active. He needs, moreover, long before he is forty the company and guidance of a good wife. No one can afford to starve the mind and heart to feed the pocket. Every life needs laughter as much as the rose needs the sun, and every life needs some responsibility, some restriction.

The man with something to live and work for sails under control; he with nothing merely drifts. Good luck may drift him into harbor, but the chances are against him.—Astorian.

The "Vacuum" System

of making salt is as far ahead of the old-time methods as the modern roller system of making flour is ahead of the old stone process. When your customers once get using the "Windsor" Salt made by the "Vacuum" system, they will want no other. Suppose you write to us for prices on a car lot.

NOTICE.

The price of Adams' Root Beer Extract, now the most popular Root Beer on the market, has been reduced to 80c. per doz., or $9 per gross, for the small size; and $1.60 per doz., or $18 per gross, for the large size, thus giving the grocer a handsome profit, retailing it at 10c. and 25c.

☞ NOW is the time to push it. The wholesale trade will supply you at the above figures.

We have just placed on the market our Adams' English Ginger Beer, making 2 gallons for 10c. Include a ¼-gross box in your next order. Same price as the Root Beer.

PUREST & BEST

Is situated at Renfrew, Ont. Their output of Butter has a high reputation. In order to obtain it and keep the quality, they must use the best obtainable ingredients. They use "WINDSOR" SALT exclusively. Under date of December 17th, 1895, Mr. Wright has this to say :—

* * * * For your convenience I may add that it is certainly the finest salt we ever used. There may be as good, but I have never used it, It might interest you to know how we came to use it. For many years before starting our Creamery, I used English salt in my dairy, exclusively| Hearing of yours I sent for a sample, which was promptly forwarded, and we used it with our next churning. Although we used the same quantity we had always used, so much greater strength was there in your Windsor brand, that our butter was so salt that we could hardly use it. We then greatly reduced the quantity, and found it to work admirably, and consequently have used it ever since. When we opened our Creamery, Windsor Salt was at once adopted, and we have never had any reason to regret it. The barrels are well made, and being lined with paper it prevents any dirt or dust from getting in. This I consider a very important factor, and so long as you send us the same quality as you have been doing, it will require very strong inducements to cause us to use any other. You will of course understand from this that it was the Windsor Salt we used in our butter which took the Gold Medal at Ottawa in Sept. last.

(Signed) A. A. WRIGHT, Manager Renfrew Creamery Co., Ltd.

Grocers can obtain "Windsor" Dairy Salt from any wholesale house, put up in 50lb. Linen Sacks and in 20lb. White C

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) MONTREAL AND TORONTO, JULY 24, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 30

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Persistency prys open the portals of prosperity.

A town is usually what its business men make it.

A dirty store will attract flies, but customers, never.

Penuriousness in business is a costly weakness.

Position isn't everything—in advertising, at any rate.

The business man should always have his head with him.

Carelessness is one of the unpardonable sins of business.

Hard work is a great thing for polishing off the "blues."

The crowning of silver king would mean the enslaving of trade.

Straight but narrow is the road which leads to Business Success.

Beat your competitor if you can, but if you can't do not elbow him.

It is brains, not muscle, that count for most in the battle of commerce.

Cleanliness in business goes further than good looks can ever expect to go.

A merchant must be a student of his business before he can be a master of it.

Men suddenly made rich, like plants which grow too rapidly, are top-heavy.

There is an earthenware trust in the States. Some one ought to give it a crack.

Man—the merchant man particularly—is made up of queer contradistinctions: Strangers whom he would not trust with his watch he will scarcely hesitate to trust with his goods.

A disobliging clerk is an excrescence which the sooner swept out of the store the better.

If your business is sinking and you know not why, get in an expert and trace up the leak.

The store window that is not an attraction to customers ought to be a detractor to the merchant.

The right to be a competitor does not embrace the right to be your competitor's executioner.

The way in which a merchant sells his goods is often governed by the way in which he buys them.

The press may be a molder of public opinion, but it is the grocer who shapes the public palate.

People do not appreciate a bad-looking "ad." any more than a man does a bad-looking woman.

It is all very well for a merchant to know himself, but if he does not know his business success will not know him.

A business that is not constructed on true business principles, like a house built on a bad foundation, will collapse.

Clerks will help themselves as well as their employers by studying how to advertise as well as learning how to sell goods.

The great problem with a good many merchants is not so much how to sell goods as how to get paid for them when they are sold.

The grocers and butchers of Chicago are waging war on the Ice Trust. It is to be hoped they will make it hot enough to dissolve the ice men.

Sharpness alone is a poor thing to depend upon for cutting one's way to success in life; for in the cutting the edge is sure to become blunt.

Many a vessel has gone to the bottom because the leak which sent it there was not discovered soon enough. It is the same with business.

The commercial traveler has a kindly feeling towards the advertisement because he knows that it can always be trusted to help him sell goods.

To be consistent, merchants who denounce departmental stores for cutting prices should see to it that they themselves do not do the "accursed thing."

If you have conceived an idea bring it forth. Excellent as an idea may be, it is of no value as long as it is treasured up in the womb of oblivion.

One thing is certain: the merchant who sells his goods below cost does not become possessed of one ounce more of his customers' respect than he had before.

It is a good thing for a clerk to know when to speak and when to keep his tongue quiet. And the knowledge necessary in order to do these things is only acquired by observation.

The man who sticks too close to business may gather dollars, but he does not gather energy; and when his supply of energy runs out his dollars will also begin to percolate through his pockets.

The man in business who was not designed for business, may with perseverance fashion himself to his duties, but what an amount of energy must needs be spent in the process that should have been spent in fashioning and shaping business instead of fashioning and shaping himself for the position in which he chose to place himself!

HAMILTON GROCERS AT NIAGARA.

ABOUT 3,000 people took in the annual picnic of the Retail Grocers' Association of Hamilton at Queen Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, on Wednesday, the 15th inst., and the picnic was the largest and best of all the grocers' successful outings. Forty-five first-class T. H. & B. coaches carried the crowd, a portion of which went on to Buffalo for the day.

The railway service was excellent, and everybody on the excursion was pleased with it. It was not only that the picnickers had plenty of seating accommodation on the various trains, and very comfortable seats, too, but the trip was new to the majority of them and they enjoyed it. The excursionists were within a stone's throw of the park when they alighted from the trains, and this convenience was appreciated.

General Manager Woodard and General Passenger Agent Warburton went with the crowd to see that every person should be made as comfortable as possible on the way to and from the Falls. and they had the satisfaction of seeing the largest excursion of the year handled in an eminently satisfactory manner.

The only incident on the way to the Falls occurred with the 8.10 train from the city. While it was going up the mountain, a puncture in the hose bag, or air brake coupling, caused a few minutes' delay, but the monster engine picked up the sixteen cars and continued the way up the mountain without any difficulty.

The last big crowd of picnickers (which left the T. H. & B. station about 10.20) arrived in the park before noon, and the luncheon was disposed of early in the day. The grocers, as usual, supplied plenty of tea, coffee and milk to the crowd.

The 13th band, which went by the first train in the morning, played a great many popular and classical selections during the afternoon. A baseball game was indulged in, the retail grocers and the wholesale grocery travelers being the competing teams.

The travelers defeated the retailers by a score of 29 to 12. Messrs. W. Ballentine and Bennett were the travelers' battery, and Messrs. Smoth and J. Garson were the retailers' battery. During the game R. Moncur, of the travelers, had his thumb put out of joint.

The excursionists largely patronized the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway, and Manager Ross Mackenzie made the trip along the river as pleasant as possible for them.

President J. O. Carpenter, Secretary W. R. Harvey and the Picnic Committee of the Retail Grocers' Association, whose thoughtful attention to the comfort and pleasure of the crowd was greatly appreciated, expressed themselves as well pleased with the T. H. & B. service from start to finish.

LONDON GROCERS HOLIDAYING.

THE annual picnic of the London Retail Grocers' Association at Stag Island, Detroit River, Wednesday of last week was in every way a great success. Nearly 850 excursionists attended and two trains were required to carry them.

The first train arrived in the "Tunnel City" at 10.15 a.m. and was made up of eight coaches and a baggage car. Conductor W. Taylor was in charge of the precious crew, and was assisted by Brakemen Wallace, Loughrey and Mason. It was drawn by engine No. 775, with Engineer Chapman at the throttle. The fireman was Mr. Copeland.

Engine No. 813, with Driver Temple and Fireman Gannan in the cab, steamed out of the Forest City fifteen minutes after its predecessor, drawing six coaches, filled with the happy grocers and their families. Conductor Gillean was in charge, and Brakemen McDonald and Hanson assisted him in looking after their interests. They reached Sarnia at 10.30 a.m.

It was an ideal day for picnicking. The trips on the water were delightful. Many boarded the steamers Conger, Hiawatha and Clark on the arrival of the train, the majority taking the Conger down the river and returning to the island for dinner. Others crossed the border and visited the great Republic, or remained on British soil and roamed around Sarnia. The trip to Stag Island caught the majority, however.

After dinner a baseball match was played between the grocers of the north and south sides of Dundas street and attracted a great deal of interest. Only five innings were played, and the score was 13 to 3 in favor of the northerners. Walter Hungerford umpired.

There were no races held, and everybody obeyed his or her own sweet will in choosing pleasant pursuits to pass away the time.

The dining hall at the island was a little short of waiters owing to the immense crowd, which caused a delay in the ball match. The attendance was much greater than was expected at the island.

The tired but thoroughly pleased crowd returned to London about 11 p.m. The Seventh Band accompanied the excursion and furnished an excellent programme of music.

The committee, Messrs. W. H. McCutcheon, A. McCormick, F. Harley, J. C. Trebilcock and E. Sutton, had everything well arranged, and the train and boat service was all that could be asked for, and there was not the slightest accident. Messrs. J. C. Trebilcock and E. Sutton had charge of the baggage car and checked lunch baskets, etc., and surprised the regular train hands with their expertness and carefulness of handling the many baskets filled with good things.

There never was an excursion that contained a more pleased and well-satisfied lot of people.

IRELAND'S FOOD MAKERS' PICNIC.

The employes and their friends to the number of about 200, of the Ireland National Food Co., Ltd., held their annual picnic at High Park on Saturday last, and had a right royal time. The company placed a special street car train at the service of the picnickers, which conveyed the pleasure-seekers to

THE TILLSON COMPANY LTD. Tilsonburg, Ont.

ST. CATHARINES, ONT., March 11, 1896

DEAR SIRS,—The Pan-Dried Rolled Oats you sent have given universal satisfaction. I have sold them to customers that were buying a well known cereal food at a higher price, and they liked yours just as well, and saved from 25% to 30%, which is quite an item in such goods. I never had any Rolled Oats before, made in Canada, that would take the place of the higher priced cereals so satisfactorily as yours. I hope you will be able to continue to send us the same article. Will you please send goods in list on receipt of this, and oblige.

Yours respectfully,

and from the park. An attractive programme of sports and games was carried out, to the enjoyment and satisfaction of all present, the prize list being an exceptionally good one. Refreshments were served during the afternoon, and music for dancing furnished by a string band. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the committee for the excellent manner in which the programme was carried out, and with best wishes for a continuation of the good feeling existing between employes and the company, the party returned to the city thoroughly well pleased with the day's outing.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

DAVIDSON & HAY are offering "Washington" lye. This firm are the wholesale agents in Toronto for this lye.

New pack canned haddies are in stock with Davidson & Hay.

"Lion" spices, extracts and baking powder are having a splendid sale with T. B. Escott & Co.

Clemes Bros. report a brisk trade in peanuts. The firm makes a specialty of this line.

"Grand Mogul" tea is still increasing sales. Hood Bros. have a fine show of it at the Winnipeg Exhibition.

Another large shipment of Ceylon teas just arrived with T. B. Escott & Co. It is showing splendid value.

First arrival new canned peas reached T. B. Escott & Co. on Saturday last, and they are being sold at low prices.

Morse Bros. received orders one day last week for immediate shipments of "Rising Sun" stove polish and "Sun Paste" stove polish amounting to eleven carloads of fifteen tons each. At this season of the year such a day's sales of stove polish is phenomenal and attests the popularity of these goods.

"Kurma" tea is increasing its sales every month, report Davidson & Hay, the wholesale agents for this tea.

"Yes, our 'Phoenix' matches are going well," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "In five-case lots we prepay freight."

Some decided bargains are being offered by W. H. Gillard & Co. in Young Hyson teas, high and medium grades.

T. B. Escott & Co. have received another carload of pickles in 20 oz. bottles which are going out rapidly at low prices.

A steadily growing demand for Mitchell's Scotch whiskey seems to justify the claims made for it by Laporte, Martin & Cie.

D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. report that they are getting a good many enquiries for picnic hams, of which they have a nice line in stock.

At 9½c. buyers can procure from Lucas, Steele & Bristol really good liquoring Young Hysons and Congous. Samples on application.

Ewing, Herron & Co. are offering first-class value to the trade in the new $1 jar of French mustard which they have put on the market.

"The fact that it is proven pure by analysis" is what Laporte, Martin & Cie. say is the cause of their large sales of P. Richard's brandy.

Northrup & Co., who are agents for "Instantaneous" tapioca in the Maritime Provinces, report a steady and increasing sale for that article.

Small barrels, 25 gallons, of English malt vinegar are in store with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. The firm also have Durkee's large and small salad dressing.

That pickling season is here is clearly evidenced by the orders for vinegar received daily by T. A. Lytle & Co., Richmond street west.

The Laing Packing and Provision Co., 839 to 841 St. Catherine street, Montreal, have just issued a new price list on smoked meats and other provisions, dated July 20th. It announces many changes. It will be forwarded to any applicant who writes the firm and mentions THE CANADIAN GROCER.

The new "Sun" stove polish made by the proprietors of the "Rising Sun" stove polish is put up in the most attractive sort of packages possible, and dealers appreciate goods which make a fine appearance on the shelves.

Pure Gold extracts, all sizes, are offe.ed by Lucas, Steele & Bristol at manufacturers' prices. Attention is called to their brand of "Empire" extracts and baking powder.

The first direct carload of fresh California fruits to arrive this season on the Toronto market has just been received by Dawson & Co. It consists of peaches, pears and plums.

T. Kinnear & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Crosse & Blackwell's pickles, in half pint, octagon shape, bottles. These goods have been scarce on the Toronto market.

"New friends are being made every day for 'Golden' finnan haddies," was the remark of Northrup & Co. to our St. John correspondent this week, and the increase in their sales proves the correctness of the same.

A large demand is being experienced by W. H. Gillard & Co. for "Pilgrim's" summer beverages, of which there are wholesale agents. The quality of these beverages is unsurpassed, many retailers say, by even the highest priced imported articles.

Ewing, Herron & Co. will forward samples on application to anyone who writes them regarding their unlimed nutmegs and mentions THE CANADIAN GROCER. These goods are admitted to be extra good value by reliable firms who have already handled them.

THE CANADIAN GROCER IN INDIA.

The fame of THE CANADIAN GROCER continues to spread abroad. We have quite a respectable list in different parts of the world. Someone must have been putting in a good word for us in India, for during June we got four new subscribers from Calcutta, and four from Bombay.

As a body, grocers, both wholesale and retail, humid and arid, are men to be esteemed. The part they perform in modern life is highly important. What a blank meal time would be without them! They are the "provisioners" for the whole human family, and great is the responsibility imposed upon them to feed so many people. —Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

DULL TIME TRADE WINNERS

There should be no real "dull time" among grocers. Seasonable goods and the best of their kind will quicken slow moving summer sales—people must eat during July and August as well as during the week before Christmas. Seasonable summer specialties are needed, however, to catch the trade—here are three leaders :

Crown Brand Flavoring Extracts

Summer is the time for dainty desserts—for ices and custards—the time for pure, delicate flavorings—the time when our Crown Brand Extracts are proving their purity, strength and richness. They're the best on the market. We know—we make them.

Keopff's Family Gelatine . . .

A favorite with the trade and with the consumer. Its permanent place in the stock of every grocer who tries selling it, proves its purity and excellence ; 1 oz. packages, white or red, retail with good margin at 10c. Sheet gelatine, gold, silver and bronze labels.

Tryphosa The New Jelly

—Already flavored and sweetened —a delicious dessert, selling at sight—3 doz. packages, assorted flavors, in each box. Try a sample lot. It can do no harm, and others are finding it profitable.

THE SILVER QUESTION AND CANADA.

THE United States seems to be earning a reputation as a source from which spring trade cyclones, as well as the ordinary cyclones which sweep away barns, uproot trees and occasionally play havoc in cities.

In 1893 the loss of confidence created by the outflow of gold, superinduced by the silver question, created a storm which paralyzed the trade and commerce of the country. Last fall President Cleveland's warlike message created another blow, which so staggered business that it has not yet recovered from its effects. And now what portends to be a storm whose anticipated disastrous effects cause a good many people to shudder when they contemplate them, is gathering in the West and South.

A majority probably of the people in the Western and Southern States have become imbued with the doctrine that all that is necessary for high prices to rule for everything the farmer has to sell and the mechanic to make is that there shall be a plethora of money in circulation. And the manner in which they propose to get this plethora is by the free coinage of silver.

While both of the two great political parties remained unenamored with this doctrine there was not much occasion for alarm. But when a section of the Republican party bolted because the national convention declared for sound money, and when a few weeks later the Democratic National Convention declared with a rush for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, nominating too for the presidency a demagogue of pronounced type, alarm seized every sound business man of the country and foreign capitalists shuddered.

Free coinage of silver would undoubtedly be a good thing for the men who hold silver bullion. For instance: A man that had, say, $1,000 worth of bullion could take it to the mint, demand its coinage into dollars, and take away with him two thousand pieces of silver each with a dollar stamped upon it.

The result of such a condition of affairs is obvious: the $610,000,000 in gold, or the greater part of it, at least, that now circulates in the United States would be driven from the country, and the yellow metal coin would be at a premium. The natural concomitant of this would be loss of confidence and paralysis of trade.

Of course, the storm may not materialize. Common-sense may prove stronger than nonsense. But the fact that a storm is threatening is already doing in part what a storm would do to the full—destroying the credit of the country.

Connected commercially as it is with the United States, Canada cannot view the threatened storm over there with unconcern. The full force of the storm, of course, we shall not feel. But it is enough for us to know that we shall feel it at all.

The best thing Canadians can do, however, is to turn their energies to the full in pushing their own business and developing their own great natural resources.

We have good fruit crops and the promise of good cereal crops, while our mining industries are assuming an activity that a decade ago was not dreamed of.

What we want is confidence in ourselves and in our resources. That will counteract any adverse influence we may receive from the United States.

And then after all, if the worst should happen in the United States, and the silverites should carry the country and put their free coinage doctrine into operation, the evil would not be an unmixed one as far as Canada is concerned: The tide of British capital, which is already beginning to turn Canada-wards would flow this way much more rapidly than it otherwise would.

HINTS ON WINDOW DISPLAYS.

GROCERS, as well as those in other lines of business, have to make every effort and make use of every device in order to make headway against the present keen competition. Every grocer who wishes to enlarge his business must now pay considerable attention to window dressing. Notwithstanding the amount written on the subject, many merchants still follow their old custom, and are quite indifferent to this important branch of their advertising.

Generally speaking, it is not well to put too many kinds of goods in the window at once. It gives a confused appearance to the window and does not impress the passers-by forcibly enough. It is better to show one or two lines each time and make a thoroughly good and complete display of each line.

In the hot months, summer drinks are much in demand and may be shown to advantage. Occasionally devote your whole window to this line. Take advantage of the various sizes and shapes of the bottles; and of the different colored drinks exhibited. If canned fruit is handled the display will be much improved by the judicious arrangement of the large glass jars of fruit intended for such a display. Fresh fruit too would be quite in keeping with the rest of the window. At night the whole window would be improved by having lights placed behind so as to show the various colors to advantage.

The most important thing of all perhaps is change. Don't forget that the same people pass your store several times each week, every day perhaps. To see the same arrangement in a window for a long interval will not attract them, but repel them. Exercise common sense and do some extra work and you will soon see the results.

REMODELING OF THE TRADE RETURNS WANTED.

CANADA'S foreign trade for the fiscal year ending June 30th last aggregated $228,728,312. Of this $118,140,504 was exports and $110,587,808 imports. These figures are compiled from the monthly returns and are, of course, subject to revision.

There is not much to be said about the imports. They are smaller than they were last year by nearly $200,000, and reflect the conservatism which has characterized our importers during the past fiscal year.

If the figures regarding the exports are correct, they show that our sales to foreign countries last year were, with one exception, larger than at any time since Confederation. Compared with 1895, they are about five millions larger.

Curiosity as to the articles which have contributed to make this increase cannot be satisfied at the moment. We can look back over the monthly returns and get a general idea as to whether the products of the mine, the forest, the field, etc., have contributed most to the increase. But we can get no detailed statement. We must wait till the Trade and Navigation Returns for the fiscal year are brought down. Frequently we have to wait six or seven months after the close of the year for these. In the present instance, in view of the summer session of the House, we shall in all probability receive them much earlier than usual.

During the past few years there has been a decided improvement in the methods of the Government in furnishing the public with returns regarding the foreign trade of the Dominion. The monthly returns are better and the quarterly returns issued by the Department of Trade and Commerce during the past year or two have proved most valuable, giving as they do, not only trade figures, but agents' reports and Customs changes in foreign countries. But still there is great room for improvement.

What people are most interested in securing in regard to our foreign trade is information as to our exports. Every month we can learn the value of the exports under the headings: mines, manufactures, forest, etc. But as to the various articles that come under these several headings, we are in the dark till, as a rule, several months into the next fiscal year.

This is as annoying as it is unsatisfactory. In the United Kingdom and in the United States the public is from month to month in possession of a detailed statement of the exports.

Canada should be placed in the same position, and it is to be hoped that the new Minister of Trade and Commerce will give the matter his attention and hereafter see that the monthly and quarterly returns contain a detailed statement of the exports as well as of the imports.

IS THE TEA DAMAGED?

There have been considerable arrivals of new Japan teas at Montreal during the present week. These receipts consist of some of the tea which was on the Canadian Pacific train that was wrecked in British Columbia, and some anxiety is felt whether any of the lots are damaged.

So far as they have been inspected, the lots that have arrived seem to be all right; but of course, until they have been thoroughly gone over, the different importers will not know how they stand. Different houses have lots varying from 1,000 packages up, and these cannot be inspected in a day. But though no damage has been discovered so far, advices to some firms state that in their case fifty per cent. of their shipments are entirely lost.

The difficulty is that the number of the cars that went over is not known. If it was, it is possible that the goods that were on board such cars could be definitely specified. In any event, perhaps, it would be as well for the recipients of these teas to waste no time in having them thoroughly inspected.

As far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can learn, only one lot of tea that was on the wrecked train has arrived in Toronto. That which was received was all right, but as the consignees did not receive their full number of packages, they presume that they are in the bottom of the river.

NARROW PROVINCIALISM.

NEWSPAPERS that cannot see beyond the provinces in which they are nurtured are engaged in throwing off column after column of complaint at the representation of their respective provinces in the new Cabinet of the Dominion.

They are above this kind of thing in Great Britain; they are above it even in the United States. Let us in Canada be above it. We will never be an united people till we are. And until we are an united people we cannot be a nation in its full sense.

When capitalists organize a company and place a manager in position, they do not demand that, in employing his subordinates, there shall be an equal number drawn from English, Irish, Scotch and French. No, all they require is that these subordinates be employed because of their peculiar fitness for the positions they are called upon to fill.

The work of governing Canada must be done on business lines if it is to be governed efficiently. And if, in the pursuance of this principle, it is necessary that more men should be drawn from one province than in the eyes of the provincialites seems proper, go ahead, say we. This country requires a Cabinet such as will be fitted to rule it in the best possible way. That is what our concern should be for.

Provincialism has been the "accursed thing" within the camp of the Dominion ever since it was formed. Let the business common sense of the country, let the loyal people of the Dominion, drag it without the camp and bury it deep under the stones of their disapproval.

Criticise the Cabinet as to its ability, but let us stop this childish, senseless, narrow criticism bred of jealous provincialism.

Provincialism breeds provincialism: It is nationalism we want to breed.

HOW TO PACK DRIED FRUIT.

THE question of boxes versus sacks for shipping California dried fruits was again brought to the attention of THE CANADIAN GROCER this week by a sales agent, who stated that the fruit growers of the State were taking the matter up this season. It was pointed out that prior to the season of 1895 the sack as a package received very general attention owing to its apparent low cost, convenience in handling and slight charge for freight. This spirit of economy became more marked as prices for dried fruits declined, and packers as a rule sought for and purchased the thinnest and cheapest sack they could find.

The fruit growers contend that this was a mistake from the start, as the strongest and heaviest sack at the highest price would have proved cheapest in the end.

The general desire for a cheap package in which to pack dried fruit for shipment, accompanied with a growing demand from eastern buyers, not consumers, for sacked goods, was the rock on which the cheap package foundered.

Claims for shortage in weight from the bursted sacks and shrinkage and reclamations on account of unsightly condition of the fruit has caused the growers to be strong advocates for a change in the package and method of packing dried fruits. Besides, it is their contention, and also that of leading packers on the Coast, that if it must be sacks, only the strongest and heaviest should be used.

No tare being allowed on dried fruit sold packed in sacks, the cost of the package is largely reduced by the sale of the sack with the dried fruit, and at the same price. For illustration, a new jute sack may weigh 11 oz. and cost 7c.

Prunes packed in this sack sell at 4c. per pound and the sack costs only 4½c. If used for fruit selling at 8c. per pound it only costs 1½c. But the cost of delivery of fruit in sacks and boxes respectively is in favor of the latter. Last fall the rate of freight was $1 per 100 pounds in boxes, and $1.20 in sacks, or the cost of shipping in the latter package is 1-5 of a cent per pound more than in boxes.

On the other hand, it costs ¼ of a cent per pound more to pack in boxes than in sacks, hence the difference in cost of the fruit shipped in boxes compared with the sacks is 1-20 of a cent in favor of the latter.

This is all the margin that houses who repack from sacks into boxes in the east have to work on, and it hardly seems possible that, with this slight advantage, they can, grade for grade, undersell fruit coming direct in the original package as much as they do.

ARE THEY SHORT OF SMOKED MEATS?

It has been an interesting fact during the past fortnight in Montreal that despite the easy feeling generally current in the provision market there has been quite a demand experienced for smoked meats from the west.

This demand has not been from jobbing or retailing firms, but from western packers themselves.

Montreal packers can only account for it by assuming that some of the western men have run a little short on hams and bacon, and have been compelled to replenish stocks in the east.

The demand has been welcome to the easterners as their own local enquiry has not been of the briskest character.

TORONTO GROCERS AT THE FALLS.

The annual excursion and picnic of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association is a red letter day for the grocers of the "Queen City," for non-members as well as members turn out to take part in the outing, which is always enjoyable.

The excursion for this year of grace was held on Wednesday last to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and, like its predecessors, those who took part in it had a good time.

Besides the grocers, their wives and their friends, there was a good representation of manufacturers and jobbers.

Most of the excursionists left by the early morning boat. From Lewiston the new electric railway was taken, the trip along the bank of the river being both delightful and exciting. The greater part of the excursionists stopped at the Falls and took in the multitude of sights that are there to be seen, while quite a few went on to Buffalo.

The success which attended the excursion was largely due to the arrangements which had been made by the committee, of which J. S. Bond was chairman, for the entertainment of the excursionists both on the steamers and at the principal place of rendezvous.

POOR SALMON CATCH.

Malcolm & Windsor, Steveston, B. C., writing to THE GROCER July 15, say: "Since last writing you the position here has not changed to any appreciable extent. Fish still continue exceedingly scarce and a good portion of the fishermen have yet to go out, these latter hanging back till the fish are more plentiful. The river for the past few days has been falling steadily, but the catches have been miserably poor, some of the boats coming in with two or three fish and some with none at all. The fish for the most part, too, are large, a bad sign this early in the season. On the Skeena the canneries are having a very bad time, the fish being terribly scarce, though on Rivers Inlet the run is a good one and the strike ended."

THE APRICOT CROP.

Regarding the apricot situation in California the Cutting Fruit Packing Co. say in their circular letter of the 25th ult.: "The condition of the crop is about the same as at our last advices, excepting that the extreme hot, dry weather has caused a great falling and consequent reduction in quantity, also a great detriment to the quality, many orchards showing the fruit shriveled and of small size, the heat evidently arresting the full development. This will militate against the general good quality of the crop. Moorparks, especially are dropping more than Royals. The low opening prices on dried will work against high prices for canning stock, but as the general quality of the latter for the season is 'off,' good stock for extra goods will command a higher price than in 1895, while ordinary stock may, on the contrary, and probably will, be furnished at less."

ANOTHER CARGO OF MOLASSES.

A cargo lot of Barbadoes molasses now lying at Boston has been offering on the Montreal market this week. It comprises 700 odd puncheons, and the seller is asking 28c. for the lot, but has been bid 27½c. for half of it.

It is quite possible that the offer will be accepted, and also that the balance of the lot may be closed out at the same price.

THE BEAN GUESSING CONTEST.

Since the form containing the list of prize winners at the Montreal grocers' picnic went to press we learn that a mistake has been made in the winners of the coffee bean guessing contest for the prizes presented by the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. of Toronto. The corrected list is as follows: 1st prize, a silver service, was won by Miss Hebert, 292 St. Urbain street, guessed 3,850; 2nd prize, a silver set, won by Miss Alice Holland, St. Lamberts, guessed 3,875; 3rd prize, Mrs. (Ald.) R. Turner, 3,900. The actual number of beans in the jar was 3,853.

VICTORIA, B.C., BOARD OF TRADE.

These are the new officers of the Victoria Board of Trade: President, D. R. Ker; vice-president, G. Leiser; secretary, F. Elworthy. Council: T. S. Futcher, R. P. Rithet, J. H. Todd, Robert Ward, T. B. Hall, A. C. Flumerfelt, A. H. Scaife, B. W. Pearse, H. C. Macaulay, William Templeman, L. Crease, C. Hayward, E. Pearson, G. A. Kirk and F. B. Pemberton. Board of Arbitration: A. H. Scaife, T. S. Futcher, E. Pearson, J. H. Todd, A. C. Flumerfelt, G. A. Kirk, William Templeton, R. P. Rithet, L. Crease, B. W. Pearse, F. J. Claxton and H. F. Heisterman.

The membership annual subscription has been reduced from $30 to $20.

TRADE CHAT.

ON Friday, gold to the amount of $3,030,000 was taken from the sub-treasury, New York, for export. In addition to this sum $350,000 were withdrawn for shipment to Canada.

Huron county's apple crop may reach half a million barrels.

The wild berry crop in Manitoba is unusually heavy this year.

Mr. J. M. Irwin has been elected president of the Galt Board of Trade.

A movement is on foot to start a retailers' branch of the London, Ont., Board of Trade.

Reports from all parts of New Brunswick say the hay crop will be lighter than for many years.

Mrs. Mealer—I am sorry to say the tea is all exhausted. Crusty Boarder—I am not surprised. It has been very weak for some time.—American Grocer.

The Aylmer Canning Co. have been packing in the neighborhood of 25,000 cans of peas per day for the past week. The season will last about another week.

Immense quantities of raspberries, blackberries and peaches are being shipped from South Essex. The crop is said to have been one of the best for many years.

New post-offices have been opened in Ontario as follows: Buck Lake, Addington; Clark avenue, Glengarry; Lee avenue, Toronto; Tarbet, North Wellington.

The total land sales of the Northern Pacific company during the fiscal year just closed amounted to $1,641,551. "This is an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over the land sales of the previous years and is cited as evidence of a revival of business and settlement in the Northwest," remarks The Winnipeg Free Press.

An Ottawa despatch says: "The success of the shipment of lobsters to British Columbian waters is now assured. A large quantity which was recently sent westward by the Fisheries Service to plant the species in the west reached there in splendid condition. Besides these, 20,000 eastern oysters have been planted in the waters of British Columbia by direction of the late Government, and a large quantity of black bass, by way of experiment."

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

A HOUSE here and there are experiencing a fairly active trade, but it does not appear to be general, while it is generally conceded that the volume of business is not what the wholesale men would like to see. The chief source of discontent, however, is in regard to profits, the prices at which sugar is selling being anything but satisfactory. Sugar is still the commodity for which the demand is the most pronounced, but the output of this does not appear to be as large as it was a week ago. Canned tomatoes are still going out fairly well. New canned peas are on the market, but they are, of course, not receiving much attention yet. Canned salmon is active, with the market firm as to price. If anything, the tea market is attracting a little more attention, but the volume of business is not large. Syrups are quiet and scarce. Payments, are, on the whole, fairly satisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

A good demand is still being experienced for tomatoes. Most of the houses have new pack peas in stock, but there is naturally not much doing. There is a good demand for fresh and kippered herring. The market is almost bare of the former. Trade continues brisk in salmon with prices firm and unchanged. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 80c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

There is a fair demand for Rio coffee at quotations. We quote green in bags: Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Syrups are scarce, but there are not many wanted. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

There are no features to note in this line. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

Although the volume of business in sugar may not be as large as it was last week, yet there is a good deal going out. There was a slight advance in beet in London on Tuesday, but confidence in the market is still marked by its absence. Although Canadian refiners' prices are unchanged, wholesalers are quoting lower figures than they were a week ago. In fact, as far as the local market is concerned there can scarcely be said to be a basis to it. The ruling wholesale prices for granulated are $4.40 to $4.45, and for yellows $3.40 up.

SPICES.

Business continues fairly good, with the demand increasing for pickling spices. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

The same conditions obtain as for the past few weeks. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

There have been no new developments since a week ago. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Teas have been quiet during the past week, although shippers' representatives report that if anything a little more enquiry is heard from the wholesalers. In Japans, there have been a few parcels of dust moving; also medium grades. Japan dust is said to be none too plentiful. New Japans show fine values, although latest arrivals show falling off in liquor. There have been some enquiries for Young Hysons, but the market is bare. Some excellent values in China gunpowders have been offering with a view to clearing out present stocks, but they do not appear to have created purchases. New Monings are on the market and show fine values, ranging from 11½c. to 32c. In new Indians and Ceylons the liquors are not desirable, and as the autumn flavored old teas are scarce, they are in demand, but holders are firm, as these teas so far draw superior to new samples. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants are still in fair demand. The market is firm. The New York Journal of Commerce states that the new crop currants are offered for August shipment at 8s. 6d., and it is doubtful if old goods for immediate shipment can be bought at anything less. We quote wholesale prices as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

In raisins there is nothing new to report beyond the fact that our quotations on off-stalk Valencias are a little lower than they were. We quote: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.; Sultana raisins 5½ to 7½c., according to quality.

In regard to California evaporated fruits there is nothing new to report. The volume of business is light. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Prunes are receiving no attention whatever.

Dates are quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 7½c., according to quality.

GREEN FRUIT.

The demand for oranges continues good. Sorrento 200's are about the only kind on the market, and our quotations have not as wide a range in consequence. The demand is improving for lemons and prices are higher on 300's. The enquiry for watermelons is good. The demand for peaches, either domestic or Californian, is only fair. There is an abundant supply of raspberries, while the demand is scarcely as brisk as it was. Apples are arriving freely and the demand is good; in fact, the demand is good for all kinds of domestic fruit. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.75 to $3.50 for 360's and $3.25 to $4 for 300's. Oranges—Sorrentos, $5 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per dozen; Bermuda onions, $1.25 to $1.50 per small crate; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 25 to 35c. per dozen; tomatoes,, Canadian, $1 per basket, and American, 80 to 90c.; water melons, 25 to 30c. each; raspberries, 5 to 6½c.; gooseberries, 40 to 75c.; currants, black, 65 to 75c.; apples, Canadian, 15 to 25c. per basket, and $1.25 to $1.75 per bbl.; American, $2.50 to $2.75 per bbl.; California fruits, peaches, $1.25 to $1.50; pears, $2.25 to $3; Canadian peaches, 40 to 60c. per basket.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The condition of the market is still unsatisfactory. The demand at the moment is chiefly for pound prints, which is chiefly supplied from the creameries. There is a good deal of pound rolls made up in country stores coming on the market against which a great deal of complaint is heard. Offerings of dairy tubs are large and the feeling in regard to this kind of package is easier. Pound blocks, however, which are in good demand, as already noted, are steady in price. We quote as follows: Dairy butter—Tubs, 11 to 12c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 10c.; pound prints, 12 to 13c. Creamery—Tubs, 15 to 16c.; 1-lb. blocks, 16 to 17c., according to make.

CHEESE—The feeling is easier, with the local demand lighter than it was. The ruling prices are 7¼ to 7½c. Mail advices under date of London, July 11, state that at the previous Tuesday's auction the average price obtained for old Canadian cheese was 23s. per 112 lbs., or about equivalent to 5c. per lb. in London. At the time of writing, however, there was a better tone to the market. At the same auction in question new Canadian cheese was quoted at about equal to 7½c. London.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull, at 80 to 90c. per bushel.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Continue dull at 5½ to 6c. ordinarily. We hear of one transaction this week in which 5c. was paid by a jobber.

EGGS—There is a large supply of eggs on the market, while the demand is light and prices weak at 9 to 9½c.

POTATOES—The market is weak at 40c. per bushel for Canadian and $1 to $1.25 per 10-peck barrel for American.

HONEY—New is expected on the market this week, and it will probably sell at about 8 to 9c. for strained clover.

PROVISIONS.

The market continues active for smoked meats, and it is beginning to look as if there will be a shortage in some lines. Lard is quiet.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5¼ to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5¾ to 6c. for small lots; backs, 7¼ to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 9½c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¼c.; tubs, 7½c.; pails, 7¾ to 8c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12.50 to $13; Canadian short-cut, $13 to $13.50; clear shoulder mess, $10.50 to $11.

FISH.

There is no change either in prices or business. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100;

SALT.

There is no change, business still being good. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Prices are lower. We quote: White wheat, 65c.; red, 63 to 64c.; goose, 50.; barley, 30 to 31c.; oats, 23 to 24c.; peas, 30 to 50c.

BALED HAY—Quiet at $10 to $11 for new, and $12.50 to $13 for old, on track in carload lots.

FLOUR—Unchanged. Straight rollers are offering at $3.10 and patents at $3.20, middle freights west.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Trade is the same as it was a week ago. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; rolled wheat, $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues quiet and prices unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19 to 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Beet advanced 1½d. in London on Tuesday.

Lemons are dearer on the Toronto market this week.

New season's Moning teas are on the Toronto market this week.

This season the new crop of Brazil nuts arrived here two weeks earlier than it did last season, and from that time (Feb. 14) until the present date the receipts have amounted to 29,580 bags, against 18,216 bags for 1895, which shows a gain of 11,364 bags over 1895.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

Opening prices on new crop California raisins have been made in New York. They are about half a cent higher than a year ago, and half a cent lower than the initial quotations of 1894. "According to report," says The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, "the crop will not likely exceed 2,500 cars, against 4,200 cars last year and 4,100 cars in 1894. The time required for the recuperation of the vines after the spring frosts will make the crop much later for marketing than usual. Consequently no stock is offered for September shipment, the prices above referred to being for the first half of October shipment."

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 23, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE week has witnessed more activity in some staple lines of groceries, but as a rule the movement is still confined within the narrow limits of actual wants. That these actual wants are expanding, however, as indicated by the increased activity experienced, is considered a healthy sign. Sugar has been one of the more active lines, jobbers noting a better distributing demand, while the decline at the refineries also led to more enquiry at first hands. Tea continues quiet in a large way, but there has been considerable distributing of medium Japan stock during the past week. An active demand has also been felt for rice. Dried fruits of all kinds continue scarce, and there is nothing new in regard to canned goods, while produce and provisions continue at their former low level with no sign of improvement.

SUGAR.

There has been a better enquiry for refined sugar during the past week, but it was not of a very extensive character. Granulated has been moved from the refineries in considerable quantities. From second hands also the demand has been of a more active character, and we quote prices steady at 4½c. for granulated, with yellows 3⅜ to 3¾c. Outside advices have exhibited a rather firmer tone both for raw and refined also.

SYRUPS.

There has been no change in this market, demand being dull and prices unchanged at 1½ to 2¾c., as to grade.

MOLASSES.

There has been little life in the molasses market during the week, and outside of a few small lots of Barbadoes at 28½ to 30c. no wholesale business has been transacted Stocks of Barbadoes are ample at the moment and the demand rather quiet. The Guild prices are still retained at 30 to 31c., according to quantity, for both Barbadoes and Porto Rico.

RICE.

There has been a good active demand for rice, and the week's volume of business has been large from first hands. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There has been a small jobbing trade in spices, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market presents a rather easier feeling, though there is no quotable change in prices. No business of importance is noted, but sellers in the case of a round lot of goods would be apt to shade prices. We quote: Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 18 to 19c.; Java, 28c.; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

There has been very little chaage in the tea market since our last. Nothing is doing in a large way of importance, but the jobbers seem to be doing a better distributing trade with their customers. This is a healthy sign. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is no change in the California raisin market. Very little stock is available to do business in, and prices are firmly held on what remains. Standard brands of 2-crown are held at 4¾ to 5c., and a few 3-crown are quoted at 5¾ to 6c.

Valencia raisins are equally firm with California, with very few to be had here. Common off-stalk are held at 4¾ to 5c., and fine, 5½ to 6c., as to brand.

Currants remain quiet, but the market is firm. It is understood that new crop for August shipment has been offered at 8s. 6d. and that old goods for immediate shipment cannot be had for anything less. On spot we quote 4½ to 5½c. as to grade.

Prunes are quiet and unchanged at 5¼ to 5½c. for French, and 6 to 6½c. for Austrian.

NUTS.

There is only a quiet trade doing in nuts. We quote as follows: Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10½c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market is much as it was a week ago. Jobbers here are still reluctant buyers, and their contracts so far for supplies of new tomatoes, corn, strawberries and other fruit are unimportant. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half-tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has been a fairly active one. Receipts of new Canadian apples arrived this week, and were offered all the way from $2 to $2.50 per barrel. Oranges continue firm with stocks here very light, and the same applies to lemons, the warm weather leading to a largely increased demand. Bananas are not over plentiful. There have been heavy receipts of Canadian tomatoes, while strawberry pineapples are offering at 5 to 10c. California fruits of all kinds are offering more freely. We quote: Apples, new, $2.50 to $3.50 per barrel, dried, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 5 to 15c., and strawberries, 10 to 12c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $2.00 to $3.75, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has ruled rather easier under increased supplies. We quote: Firsts, 9 to 10c. and seconds, 8 to 8½c.

BEANS—Without change, but demand dull at 70 to 75c., carlots, and 80 to 90c. in small lots.

POTATOES — New potatoes are offering freely at $1 to $1.50 per bbl.

TALLOW—Featureless at 4 to 5½c., as to quality.

HOPS—Quiet and unchanged at 5c. to 7c., as to quality, for good to fine, and 4½ to 4¾c. for fair to medium.

HONEY—There is no change in honey. Extracted is still quoted at 7 to 8c.; bright comb, 12 to 14c., and dark do, 10 to 12c.

BALED HAY—The hay market has ruled easier, and a further decline is reported. No. 1 offering at $13, and No. 2, $10 to $10.25.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market has ruled weak and dull during the week, with prices, as a rule, in buyer's favor, Lard has been notably so, prices having been cut ½ to ¾c. per pound in sympathy with the west. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $11.50 to $12; Canadian short cut, mess, $12 to $13.00; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; ard, com., refined, per lb., 5¼ to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been a fair demand for flour, especially the Manitoba grades, during the past few days. Prices, however, have been again shaded on patents since last report, and are now 10c. lower than they were a week ago. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.60 to $3.75; straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.40.

There is no improvement in oatmeal, the demand being slow and trade dull at easy prices. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90 granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

The demand for bran and shorts continues good, and the market is active and steady. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

There is no improvement in the demand for cheese, and there is little prospect of any while the general run of breadstuffs and provisions are as cheap as they are at present. The public cable on colored cheese advanced a trifle Monday, but private cables were not encouraging. The only indication of spot values were the transactions at the wharf, where 5,000 cheese from down the river were offered. These sold at 6½c., subject to readjustment in the warehouse, which may mean anything from 6¼ up to 6½c. On this basis prices are fully ⅛ to ¼c. lower on Quebec makes than they were last week. Ontario makes are nominal, but an extreme price, from a buyer's standpoint, was 6⅞c.

HUGH WALKER & SON, Guelph, Ont.

The butter market continues quiet. Business in creamery was done in a small way at 16¾c., but this was a special case; 16 to 16¼c. is the idea, with few buyers inclined to concede more than the outside price. Townships dairy sold at 15c., but prices on it range from 14½ to 15c.

ASHES.

There is little change in this market, though prices are a shade firmer, We quote: First pots, $3.60 to $3.65; seconds, $3.30, and pearls, $4.75 to $4.80.

MONTREAL NOTES.

There is an easier feeling in Canadian canned meats, as will be seen by our market quotations.

The Laing Packing Co.'s new list for July quotes canned lunch ham at $2 instead of $1.60 as before.

The distributive demand for refined sugar has been of a more active character during the present week.

There is a better demand from second hands for medium grade Japan teas for the last ten days or so.

There have been sales of round lots of Barbadoes molasses at 28c., but all that buyers are prepared to offer is 27½c.

Offers of new pack Ontario tomatoes have been made at 70c., and new pack Quebec at 65c. This is about as last noted.

The Mount Royal Milling Co. note a good seasonable demand for rice, their trade being fully equal to last year's at this season.

Canadian lard in pails has declined over ½c. to ¾c. during the week, while common refined has been cut down to 5¼c. to 5½c.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 23, 1896.

THERE has been but light business in general lines during the week. Values as a whole tend lower. Our weather is, however, beautiful, and those who have time and money have every opportunity of enjoyment. Those who leave St. John—and many do—during the summer, must go for the change; it cannot be to find it cooler. Strangers arrive in large numbers daily by boat and train from the west. The greater number pass through to other points, Digby getting a large number. They would all be well repaid to stay longer here. In trade California raisins for fall are quoted, prices being rather higher than last season. Hops are held here in quite large quantities, having been bought at what was thought lowest prices. Price have, however, gone lower, with no pleasant prospects. There is a light sale. In cream of tartar the market is rather easier than last week. There is a steady demand, quite large quantities being sold here. Canned goods continue to have a large share of attention, chiefly futures, though the low prices asked have tempted some to buy old corn.

OIL—This is still a very quiet line. Very little burning oil is yet moving. As noted, cod oil receipts are very light. The larger quantity coming here is a mixed oil. Prices tend easy. We quote: American burning oil, 21 to 22½c.; best Canadian, 19 to 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—There is a steady demand, but not large. Stocks here are being well worked off, and prices tend firm, with supplies being now brought from Boston. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbls.; 10-lb bags, $3 per bbls.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl

CANNED GOODS—These are still a matter of interest to the wholesale dealers. In salmon our market is now about supplied, there being three cars of old here, with four cars new bought to arrive. Packers hold very firm, and in some cases are sold up. One reports selling 3,000 cases to Australia. In vegetables some four cars old corn have lately been sold here. As prices paid were low this will tend to weaken the market, price being well under that asked for new goods. Peas seem easy, but there is no old to weaken the market, as is the case with corn. Some new peas are to hand. Tomatoes are held fairly firm. Taken from year to year they hold their value better than either corn or peas. Many packers are still backward quoting peaches, and they are losing orders to those who are quoting. Strawberries are still held firm. Lobsters scarce, the pack being not large and chiefly sold for export. We quote: Corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 90c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.20 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.20 to $2.25; American, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's Canadian, $2.85 to $3.00; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.35 to $2.50; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $2; haddies, $1.25 to $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

DRIED FRUIT—While fall goods are being quoted sales so far are not large—chiefly peels and a few Valencia raisins. Should prices not be too high California loose muscatels will have a large sale and therefore the sale of Valencias will not be as large as usual. Some Valencias arriving each year are rather off quality, which hurts the trade. Buyers object very much to send letters of credit. Stocks of raisins here are very light, particularly loose muscatels. Dried apples show no improvement. All lines show small demand. Onions (Egyptian) sell freely. The Virginia Peanut Association has again broken up and prices are off somewhat. Filberts are quoted low. There is but light demand for nuts at this season. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4¾ to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, per lb., 1¾ to 2c.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—This is the active line. Oranges are now a light line and quality is but fair. Lemons are higher. Some very large fruit was on the market this week, but the medium is preferred. Melons are but light sale here and season about over, those arriving being, in many cases, soft. Georgia peaches are being received freely, and are much preferred to California. In pears the California are the best. A few sweet potatoes are received, but demand is small. Pines are about out of the market. Raspberries, which are now arriving, are a much smaller output. Gooseberries sell slowly. Blueberries are good sale. Very large quantities of berries are shipped west in half barrels for making jams, etc. Nova Scotia cherries arrive daily in good quantities. We quote as follows: Lemons, $4 to $4.50; Valencia oranges, $9 to $10; pineapples, 12 to 15c.; bananas, $1 to $1.50; strawberries, 9 to 10c. per box; cucumbers, 40 to 50c. per doz.; California apricots, $1.50 to $2.75 per crate; do plums, $2.50 to $2.75; tomatoes, $3 per crate; peaches, $1.50 to $1.75; melons, 45 to 50c.; squash, $2 per bbl.; cabbage, Boston, $1.50 per doz.; do native, 50 to 60c.; apples, $5 per bbl,; cherries, 20 to 25c. per box; sweet potatoes, $4 to $4.25 per bbl.; Georgia peaches, $3; do pears, $1.50 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCE — June cheese (local made) are coming in freely. There is a fairly steady demand, but prices keep low. Small size cheese are preferred. In eggs there is no change, except reports of quality of case eggs being not so good, and grocers prefer to buy small lots of strictly fresh in the country market at higher prices. In butter there is very dull sale; there is so much poor butter for which there is no sale. Butter makers are not careful enough about their tubs, often buying second-hand tubs, which should never be used. Creamery prints and tubs low. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c; new creamery, prints, 18c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c. Eggs, 9 to 10c.

MOLASSES—Market remains unchanged and stocks ample. Sales have been pushed and country dealers are well supplied. There is no change in price. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.; Trinidad, 30 to 31c.

SUGAR—Berry season has brought but fair demand, and there is no change in price for the better. The feeling is easy. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

FISH—Dry cod show rather better demand as stocks are light. Arrivals of new fish so far have been small, weather being too hot to cure successfully. Rather higher prices are expected. New potatoes usually bring a better demand for fish. Pollock is small stock but dull. Pickled herring arrive in but small quantities. Demand is still light. Smoked herring can be bought very low. In fresh fish salmon, though still low, are rather better than last week, the quantity arriving not being large, a few fresh shad are still to be had. Some sturgeon are being caught; they are shipped to Boston and as a rule find their way to New York, where they bring a fair price. Bass are being taken in small numbers. We quote: Large cod, $3 to $3.25; medium, $2.75 to $3; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $5; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 10 to 12c.; per lb.; smoked salmon, 20c.

PROVISIONS—Quite a quantity of clear pork and plate beef arrived this week at even lower prices than before. Such low prices were never known. In lard there is still a large stock and prices are easy. Smoked meats are very quiet. We quote: Clear pork, $12.75 to $13.25; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7½ to 8c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Flour continues a very light sale and prices low, tending easier every week. Manitobas hold their prices rather better than Ontarios and a greater difference is noticed in the prices than a few months ago. Oatmeal is easy, demand fair, and stocks good. Chief demand is for roller. Oats are plentiful, and Ontario oats are quoted low. In cornmeal, though values have shown no change during the past week, it has been somewhat hard to get, one local mill having a breakdown and the others being out of corn. Beans are a very large stock and they sell slowly. Price has been steady for some time, but very low. There is but little demand for feed. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.45 to $4.60; best Ontario, $4.05 to $4.15; medium, $3.90 to $4.00; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.90 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15.50 to $16; bran, do do, $14.50 to $15; handpicked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 30 to 32c.; hay, $14 to $15; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.10 to $1.20; split peas, $3.40 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

PURE GOLD M'F'G.CO. 31&33 FRONT ST. EAST. TORONTO.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Mr. A. P. Tippet, the well-known Montreal broker, and formerly of St. John, has been in the city during the past week. His friends were much pleased to see him.

The lobster season is over. The last shipment of live lobster went forward from Digby during the past week; there were about 5,000. They went to Portland, Me.

Seely's extracts are now being quite largely sold here. While the main house is in Detroit, they are put up in Windsor for the Canadian trade.

During the past three months Fredericton has exported to the United States $27,000 worth of hemlock boards, $2,000 worth of hemlock bark, and upwards of $36,000 worth of shingles.

The new lobster canning factory on Grand Manan this year packed 2,300 cases. The output was quickly sold at high prices.

Shipments from Round Hill, Annapolis County, of apples during the past year amounted to 11,261 barrels. Prospects this year are for a very large yield.

G. J. Worden, Wickham, Queen's county, has this season 3,000 hills of tomatoes that have fruited. The quality is extra.

Some idea of the importance of the lumber operations on the Upper St. John may be obtained when it is stated that 115,000,000 feet of lumber have gone into the booms at Fredericton.

Messrs. J. H. Todd & Son, Victoria, B.C., write: "We have sold 3,000 cases salmon for Australia. We regret to refuse orders, but demand is so heavy this year, could sell our different packs two or three times over.

Quite a quantity of sturgeon is being shipped to the American market. This fish, which has been as a rule considered inferior, has been bringing fully as high a price in the Boston market as salmon, which is our best fish. Bass are now being caught in small quantities.

In strawberries shipments have been very large through the Annapolis Valley. An extra train had to be put on to gather up the fruit, which was afterward shipped by express in refrigerator cars or by boat. Nine hundred crates were shipped in one day via steamer from Yarmouth to Boston. Strawberries are getting scarce. Raspberries, blueberries and gooseberries are now to hand.

The Town Council of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, voted $100 for the advertising of that town in a special number of a Toronto paper. This is a move in the right direction. Few towns in Nova Scotia or in the Lower Provinces have shown the growth during the last few years that this town has. It is push, such as the above, that is largely the reason.

Mr. Adam Watters, for many years a leading grocer in Quebec city, died rather suddenly a few days ago from cerebral apoplexy. Mr. Watters, who retired from business a few years ago, has since been in poor health, but was able to move about, and was on the street the day before his death.

NIAGARA FRUIT WANTED IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER:

SIR,—Would you kindly inform me the address of some reliable fruit grower or dealer in fruit in the Niagara district with whom I might correspond with a view to handling their products here? We handle American peaches, grapes, pears, etc., almost exclusively, in spite of the heavy duty, and it seems to me that, with existing facilities for quick transport in refrigerator cars via St. John, N.B., we should be able to handle the Niagara products to advantage if we can make proper connections at the other end and dispense with the army of middle men, who stand always ready to take three-fourths of the small profit, that properly belongs to the retailer.

Yours, etc.,
W. A. GODFREY.

Yarmouth, N.S., June 30, 1896.

REMARKS: Would some of our numerous readers in the Niagara district communicate with Mr. Godfrey? The Maritime Provinces should take more small fruit from Ontario, while the west should take more fish. Refrigerator cars might be used in both directions. The growing tourist travel in the east demands an increasing supply of fruit.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

TRADE in Halifax and throughout the province is looking up considerably, and a hopeful spirit prevails. In fact, our merchants have not been speaking so hopeful for many a day. In the principal staples there has been a good movement during the past week.

BREADSTUFFS—There has been considerable business doing during the last ten days in breadstuffs, and at favorable prices to buyers. We heard of sales being made for standard brands of flour at $3.55 to $3.60, equal Halifax freight. The market, however, is firmer at the present moment. Oats are also higher, owing to an export demand, being quoted at 29 to 30c. Quotations for flour, carloads, f.o.b. at vessel, are: "Ogilvies" or "Five Lilies," $4.30 to $4.40; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $3.75 to $3.90; Manitoba shipments, in sacks, $4.20 to $4.25; Ontario and Manitobas mixed, for patents, $3.75 to $3.85; 80 p.c. patents, $3.70 to $3.80; 90 p.c. patents, $3.60 to $3.70.

BUTTER AND CHEESE—The butter market is dull this week. Dairy is worth 16 to 17c.; creamery, 18 to 19c.; and prints, 19c. Cheese is also dull. The jobbing price is 8 to 8½c.

EGGS—Eggs are coming in freely from shore ports and P.E.I., but the demand is limited. The quotation is 10c. to jobbers.

SUGARS—The demand for refined sugar continues good, but prices are as low as ever. The refinery quotes granulated at 4 7-16c.; Circle C, 3⅞c.; extra Circle C, 3½c. For 100-bbl. lots they are shading these prices 1-16c. Advices to the refinery show that the raw market continues dull and inactive. Beet has declined to 9s. 1½d., owing to the failure of two large houses in London, who have been operating in this staple and whose holdings were in consequence thrown upon the market. As the general statistical position of sugar to-day remains as strong as it did when prices were very much higher, it is confidently expected that as soon as financial matters are adjusted considerable re-action will set in.

GREEN FRUITS—A good trade is being done in green fruit. The two trips per week of the Boston steamers allow our dealers to keep the market supplied with all kinds of fruit. Oranges are very scarce and high in price. Messinas sell at from $5.50 to $6 per box. Valencias will be along this week. Lemons—Some nice, large, bright stocks received to-day were selling at $4 to $4.50 per 300 count. Inferior stocks sold at less money. Bananas—A good trade is being done in bananas, weich sell at from $1.75 to $2.25. Strawberries—The strawberry season is about over. The crop this season in the Annapolis Valley has been a good one. Fully as many berries were received in this market as last year, and the shipments to the States have been large. Plums—California plums are selling at $2.25 per crate. This fruit is arriving in good order. Grapes—Delaware grapes sell well at $3.50 per crate. Moor's Early are coming in, but cannot realise the cost price, being offered at from $2 to $2.25 per crate. Peaches—Good-looking Georgia peaches sell at from $2.50 to $2.75 per crate. Gooseberries—The market is glutted with native gooseberries, which sell at from 4 to 6c. per quart. Pears—Bartletts are worth from $2.50 to $2.75 per box. Apples—Some very good American apples were received to-day, which sold at $4.25. Tomatoes—Boston natives are selling at $2.50 per box. They are not extra good.

FISHSTUFFS.—There have been large arrivals and large shipments of fishstuffs during the past week. About 900 bbls. of salmon have arrived during the past few days and the price is down to $12, although it was $23 ten days ago. The demand for mackerel is not quite so good as a week ago. New fat herrings sell at $3.50 to $4. The codfish catch on our shores and in Newfoundland is very large. Six schooners have arrived home from Labrador to Lunenburg with full fares.

MOLASSES—There is very little molasses at the various islands, and merchants have been stocking up, thus making our market somewhat active. Quotations are: St. Croix, 28c.; Port Rico, 35 to 36c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, M.R. brand, 39c. St. Kitts, 28c.

WHEN THE BEST TEAS ARRIVE.

I was talking tea to a well-known broker on the street a few days ago when he remarked: "There is one thing about the different growths of tea that is peculiar, and that is that while from some countries the best teas come first, from others it is the last that are best. For instance, from Japan the first teas are the best; and the same applies to China teas. Now from Ceylon and India, the first teas are the worst. It is the climate, I suppose, that is the cause of these conditions."

The early closing movement—9 o'clock on Saturdays—in Seaforth, is likely to prove a success.

MALT AND SPICED VINEGAR.

Last April Mr. Savile Webb, of Purnell, Webb & Co., Bristol, England, paid a flying visit to Canada in the interests of his firm, and while here appointed as their Canadian agents: W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton; J. Western & Co., Colborne street, Toronto; J. M. Kirk, St. James street, Montreal.

The malt and spiced vinegar manufactured by this house has been before the public for nearly a century. Mr. Webb says: "The absolute purity of all our vinegars is guaranteed by our written signature on every invoice. All malt and grain we brew from is most carefully selected, and we use no acids or chemicals. Our various qualities are fully maintained at fixed standards of strength, and in the important points of flavor and brightness we feel sure our vinegars will compare favorably with any in the market."

Mr. Webb states that, notwithstanding the heavy duty and freights, their trade has been steadily growing for over four years.

PATENT REPORT.

Minnows or Whales?

There is an old maxim to the effect that he who fishes for minnows never catches whales. Neither will the grocer who only keeps cheap goods and "substitutes" ever attract desirable trade.

Benson's Prepared Corn

is intended for the best trade, and customers who are particular about having the best are sure to want it. No "substitute" can take its place.

PUREST & BEST

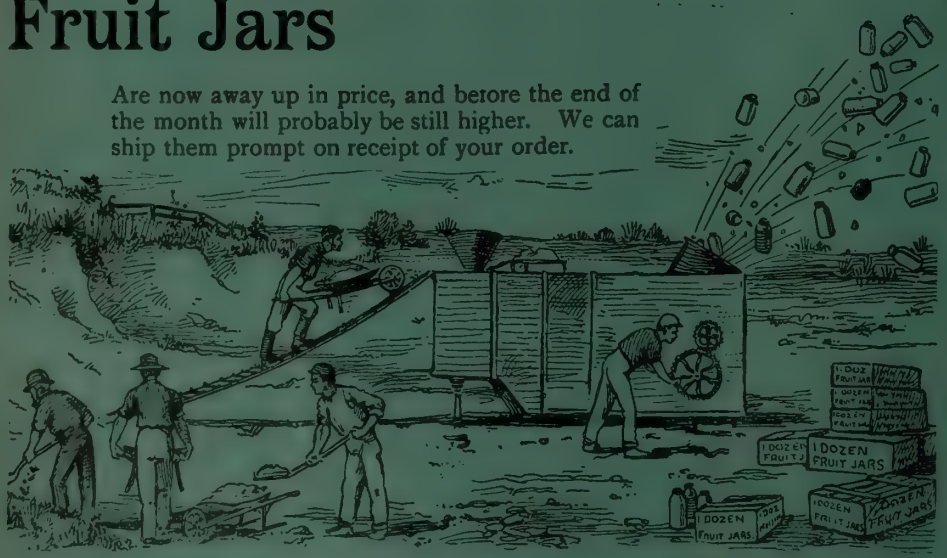
Is the title of a treatise on Buttermaking written by Mrs. E. M. Jones of Brockville, Ont. Mrs. Jones' Book has been so highly thought of by the Ontario Government that it has been printed and distributed free among farmers as an authority on this subject. The following letter explains itself.

Some time ago I commenced using the Windsor Salt in my dairy and I have been surprised and delighted at the result. It appears to me to be a PURER SALT than any I have ever used (although I have always obtained the very best, regardless of cost). It is entirely FREE FROM ANY BITTER TASTE and it DISSOLVES SO RAPIDLY as to be at once incorporated in the butter. To the practical dairyman these are vital points. MORE BUTTER IS SPOILED BY POOR SALT THAN IN ALL OTHER WAYS PUT TOGETHER. Not only is the taste disagreeable but the grain of such salt is so sharp and its nature so insoluble that butter has to be worked almost to a paste and is thereby spoiled before it is even put on the market. WINDSOR SALT IS FREE FROM THESE OBJECTIONS and its quality and price ought to make it a boon to every dairy in Canada, I shall use no other in future, and as the output of my private dairy is 7000 lbs. a year, which all brings the highest price ever reached by Canadian butter, the importance of my choice in salt can hardly be over-estimated.



Yours truly,
(Signed) ELIZA M. JONES.

Many a merchant who has essayed to jump from one business into another has learned that it was into a consuming fire that he leaped.

Attending to business by "fits and starts" does not help the business much, any more than does rowing by "fits and starts" force a boat up a swift stream.

It is not by might of ancestors' reputation or by power of present-day friends that a man should rely upon for success in business. If his own energy and ability are not equal to the task he had better shut up shop.

THE LOBSTER INDUSTRY.

THE St. John's Newfoundland correspondent of The Montreal Gazette writes: Our lobster fishery is every year becoming more prominent and important. In 1894 the value of the export of lobsters was $312,364, and last year it approached $360,000. This year it will probably exceed considerably the latter amount. The Newfoundland lobsters are pronounced by the best judges to be equal, if not superior, to those of any other country. A few years ago complaints were made as to the tinning of our lobsters; but there has been a great improvement in the method of packing them, and much greater care is taken. Much trouble and loss have been experienced of late years from the discoloration of lobsters after being tinned. This has been the case not only in Newfoundland, but equally in Canada and the United States. Numerous investigations as to the cause have been made, but hitherto without any satisfactory results, opinions of experts being of the most conflicting character. Mr. Nielsen, our superintendent, has given considerable attention to this matter. After lengthened investigations his conclusion is that the discoloration is mainly caused by the packing of lobsters which are not in season, and by the use of imperfectly coated tin. The remedy is to use only well coated tin, and having all the edges of the sides, bottoms and covers well tinned before they are made into cans; and also by fixing the close season so as to prevent the canning of soft lobsters or such as are not in season. Still, more extended investigations are required to get at the bottom of this trouble, which threatens to lower seriously the value of our lobster export.

A very important matter is the fixing of a close time for lobsters. Formerly fall fishing was allowed, so that after shelling the fishery was resumed in October. Now, however, the Department have fixed the closing of all canneries on the first day of August between Cape Ray and Cape Race, and the fifth day of August between Cape Race and Cape St. John. The effect of this rule has been to prevent soft lobsters coming into the market, and at the same time these valuable crustaceans are allowed to shell, pair and multiply in peace. A large majority of packers are now in favor of a short season and the total abolition of fall fishing, which they regard as injurious.

Another very important matter is the regulation of the lobster traps. The great point is to fix the space between the undermost laths on each side of the lobster traps so as to permit small immature lobsters to escape when they enter, and to retain the larger lobsters. This space Mr. Nielsen fixed at one and three-quarter inches. At first many packers objected to this as being too large, but most of them have now changed their minds and approve of the new rule, and admit that lobsters which can escape through a one and three-quarter inch space are not worth handling and should be allowed to escape. The Department have also laid down a rule that a distance of 60 fathoms shall be fixed, and that no trap shall be set at a less distance from a trap previously set and belonging to one person, by any other person. This rule is designed to prevent interference and quarreling among the lobster fishers.

The most important measure of all for the preservation and improvement of the lobster fishery is the system of artificial propagation by means of floating incubators, the invention of Mr. Nielsen. This is carried on here upon a scale far exceeding that reached in any other country. In five years ending 1894 no less than 2,240,657,000 young lobsters were hatched and planted in the various bays of the island, or at the rate of 468,131,000 annually. It should be noted that all these life-germs would have been consigned to the boilers of the lobster factories had they not been taken from the captured lobsters, hatched and planted in the waters. The value of artificial propagation is thus made clear. What proportion of the young fry survive and become mature lobsters it is impossible to determine; but if only 5 per cent. escape the dangers of their surroundings and grow up, that would mean an immense addition to the stock, and would not only sustain but increase the numbers in the waters, notwithstanding the heavy annual drafts on them. Of course, it is too soon to pronounce on the success of the experiment, but since the commencement of artificial propagation the catch has increased 70 per cent.; but, of course, many more are engaged in this industry than formerly. It is, however, an encouraging sign that from many quarters reports are received of increasing numbers of small lobsters being seen in the water.

It is a significant fact that the artificial propagation of marine food-fishes is rapidly extending among all nationalities having extensive fisheries. The decrease in the supply of food-fishes as population increases is experienced in all fishing countries, and practical and scientific men are everywhere giving increased attention to artificial propagation as a means, when combined with due protection and regulation of the fisheries, for increasing the wealth of the sea, as well as of the inland lakes and rivers. From the various marine hatcheries throughout the world it is found that about eleven hundred millions of salt water fish, including cod and various other round fishes, flat fishes, and also lobsters, are now hatched and planted annually. Of this amount Newfoundland contributes 63 per cent. in cod and lobsters. If we add to this the artificial propagation of anadromous fishes, and fresh water fishes, we find that seventeen hundred millions of food-fishes are now annually hatched and planted at the various hatching establishments of the world, in order to maintain and increase the food supply of man. The opponents of the artificial propagation of sea fishes are rapidly diminishing, and countries such as England, strongly conservative in their instincts, are now, one after another, introducing sea hatcheries.

On this side of the Atlantic the lobster is only found in the coastal waters of the Atlantic Ocean, from Delaware to Labrador—a strip of water some 1,300 miles in length, and from 30 to 50 miles wide. Its northern limit is a little above the Straits of Belle Isle —indeed it is rarely taken on Labrador. It is more abundant on the northern half of this coast range—that is, upon the coast of Maine and British America. Having this limited range, and being in great demand as an article of food, and, consequently, heavy drafts being made on it, which are increasing every year, there is a serious danger of its destruction. Indeed, on many stretches of coast, along which it was formerly abundant, it is now so scarce that, as an industry, the catching of lobsters has ceased to be remunerative. Hence the need of stringent laws to regulate this fishery, and hence the value of the artificial propagation above referred to. In the Old World the danger of its extermination in many countries is increasing.

CANADA'S PRIDE.

A little over a month hence the fall fairs will be commencing, and first and foremost will be the Industrial at Toronto, which is to be held this year from the 31st of August to the 12th of September.

Every Canadian is very properly interested in and justly proud of the success of this great Exhibition, because it brings prominently before them, as well as the outside world, the vast resources and products of our country, and the progress which is being made from year to year in its agricultural and industrial pursuits, consequently the approaching Industrial Fair is being looked forward to with increased interest and pleasurable anticipation, and many are already making arrangements to visit it. By thousands it is made the occasion of their annual holiday outing, and it is usually a very enjoyable one. There is every indication that it will this year fully equal, if not excel, its predecessors. To meet the desires of those who usually look for this kind of thing, a large number of special attractions are being provided, of a new and interesting character. The live stock and all other exhibits, except cut flowers and fruit, will be on the grounds from Sept. 3rd, so that the first week of the Fair will be equally as good as the second. All entries have to be made before the 8th of August. The Toronto Exhibition has now become one of the best and most popular educational and entertainment enterprises on this continent, and those who have never visited it would be surprised at its magnitude and attractiveness, being almost like a small World's Fair. Prize lists and entry forms can be procured by anyone desiring them by dropping a post card to Mr. H. J. Hill, manager, Toronto.

CAUSE OF BLACK LOBSTERS.

The results of the enquiry into the causes of the "blackening" of lobsters were explained to a number of packers and others interested at a meeting held in Charlottetown on Friday last. A series of five sample cans was submitted, The Examiner says, each one being put up by a different process, to decide which process should be adopted. The samples vary in quality, but two were pronounced perfect, one of which had been packed for twenty-nine days and exposed to a temperature of 86 degrees. the object of the test was to obtain the opinion of packers as to which process was the best. The one selected will be developed further and the whole results of the enquiry will be submitted to the packers as soon as possible.—Fishing Gazette.

WHAT'S IN THE SACK?

An exchange tells a story of a boy who went to market with a sack of rabbits and lingered around town all day. When asked by his mother why he had not sold the rabbits, he said no one had asked what was in the sack. How many merchants are like this boy? They have plenty of goods for sale, but fail to tell the people "what's in the sack." If you expect to sell goods in this day and age of the world you must open your sack and keep shouting the merits of your stock-in-trade.

A FIFTY-YEAR-OLD FIRM.

A COUPLE of weeks ago The Hamilton Spectator completed its fiftieth year of publication, and celebrated the event by issuing a jubilee number. In that jubilee number was a reproduction of an advertisement which appeared in the first number of the paper. This is a fac simile of the advertisement :

MESSRS. DALLEY & STEVENS,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUGGISTS,
MACNAB'S BUILDINGS, JAMES STREET,
HAMILTON,

BEG to inform the inhabitants of Hamilton and its vicinity, that they have opened a New Drug Establishment in Hamilton, where they hope by strict attention to business, and great care exercised in the preparation and purchase of Drugs, to merit a share of the public patronage. They can assure their customers that they keep none but the very best of English Chemicals, and that all their convinced that a good article, especially in Medicine, is most important, the Physician's skill often being made nugatory by the adulterations of the Druggist.

"This," explained The Spectator, "is the only survivor of the various firms whose advertisements appeared therein (the first issue)."

EDWIN DALLEY, founder of the firm.

Although the firm name has been changed somewhat, readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER will readily recognize that the firm in question is that of the F. F. Dalley Co., Ltd., of to-day.

Mr. Edwin Dalley, who founded this business and whose portrait we herewith produce, came from England in 1833 and bought out the wholesale and retail drug business of Mr. Webster early in 1846 and took in Mr. Stephens, an English chemist, and continued the business until 1870; then it was taken over by his two sons, F. F. and E. A., under the style of F. F. Dalley & Co., when the business was incorporated under the style of the F. F. Dalley Co., Ltd., in 1893.

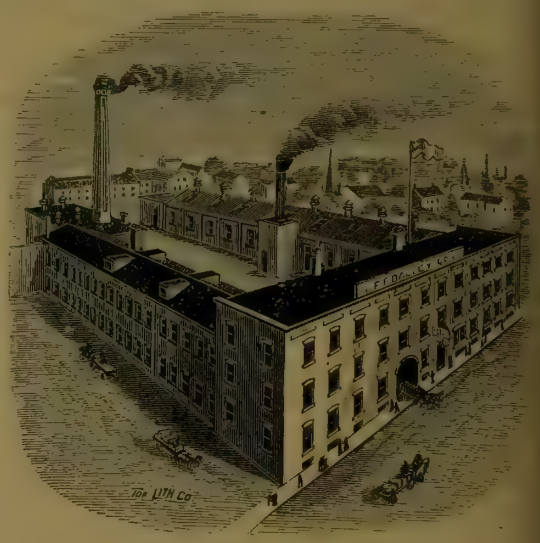
Mr. Edwin Dalley was also senior partner in the firm of Dalley, Ware & Co., scale manufacturers, who sold out his interest in the scale factory to E. & C. Gurney, and which is now the well known business of the Gurney Scale Co., of Hamilton.

The directors of the Dalley Co. are F. F. Dalley, president and treasurer ; E. A. Dalley, vice-president and manager ; Jos. B. Brown and Jno. R. Vert. Mr. O. S. Hillman is secretary of the company. The building, a cut of which is herewith shown, has a frontage of 120 feet, running back 185 feet. It is fitted up with all the latest improvements and appurtenances for carrying on the business, and are the largest premises for the purpose in Canada.

The specialties of the F. F. Dalley Co. are high-grade spices, self-rising hygienic flours, baking powders, mustards, flavoring extracts, blackings, shoe dressings, stove polishes, harness oils, soaps and dressings, inks, mucilages, chemical preparations, also importers and dealers in grocers' and druggists' supplies.

It is perhaps not generally known that both Messrs. F. F. and E. A. Dalley are qualified druggists.

A HINT TO DRIVERS.



If the horse's shoe is loose, or lost, if there is anything broken on the harness or on the wagon, the good, careful driver will at once attend to it, says Retail Grocers' Advocate. He will see that the shoe is fastened and he will inform his boss if anything has happened while he was driving,

THE LOBSTER PACK, 1896.

Up to Saturday, July 11th, the total shipments of lobsters were 99,660, as against 95,506 on the same date last year; or, an excess of about 4,600 cases. Of these, 28,500 went to Liverpool, as against 17,900 last year ; to London, 40,600, as against 32,200; and to continental ports, 21,000, as against 23,000 last year. Of course the total shipments for 1895 were less than for 1894 or 1893. In 1894 the total shipments were about 175,000, as against 160,000 in 1895; and for 1893 the total shipments were about 180,000. All the figures given above include all lobsters exported from Halifax, whether the product of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, P. E. Island, Cape Breton, Newfoundland, Magdalen Islands or Anticosti.—Chronicle, Halifax.

for one day, and it didn't demoralise the trade half as much as do the every day cut prices of these stores. But in the same paper in which these department store cut prices were advertised we noticed a retail grocer's advertisement, and therein cereals, canned goods, spices and miscellaneous products were unmercifully slashed. This does more harm than all the departmental stores. The retail grocer cutter is the bane of the trade ; he has no excuse for his tactics. He cannot afford so to sell—he doesn't employ the female cheap help of the big stores—how can he do it? Is it true that retail grocers supply the department stores with goods ? It is so stated. If so, we imagine the cutters are the suppliers. Birds of a feather sometimes flock together. —N. E. Grocer.

Robert Greig & Co. have an exceptionally fine range of Christmas specialties this season. The trade will do well to see these before placing orders ahead.

John Sloan & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Dandicolle & Gaudin's French goods, consisting of mushrooms, peas, capers in glass, anchovies and sardines.

Write to the Eby, Blain Co. for particulars of their bicycle scheme. The celebrated and reliable Stearns, $75 and $85 bicycle is the feature. It will pay you. Send for catalogue.

Just a few more of Noble's "Scripture" brand lobsters to be had of the Eby, Blain Co. Supply is short from packers, and bound to be high. Order now. XXX tall and flat 1's, and XX talls.

James Turner & Co. report that with an increased staff and extra appliances they are now up to date with their orders for "Mascot" tea, and are prepared to fill all orders in future without delay.

Following Pure Gold goods are finding ready sale with the Hamilton agents, Lucas, Steele & Bristol: Preserved ginger, Reception coffee, Delicatine; also chocolate and other icings and Electric soap powder.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have made an arrangement with the manufacturers of Dixon's Carburet of Iron stove polish by which they are enabled to place it on the market at $5 per gross, which will show the retailer a handsome margin in selling.

The F. F. Dalley Co. are in receipt of a large consignment of Singapore pepper, which is being ground for the trade. The firm never sells a mixed pepper, and buys only prime Singapore. The last lot was so favorably bought that the Messrs. Dalley are in a position to give good value in black pepper.

FISHING FOR COD.

IN the herring fishery everything is done with the seine. In fishing for cod, halibut and hake hand lines are used to a limited extent, says an exchange, but most of the captures are made by trawls. All of the craft are schooner rigged, and but few of them carry topmasts. This gives them a slovenly appearance aloft, but they do away with the spar because the craft rolls less in a sea when at anchor. There are no fine lines about the hulls. The object is room and stability, and, while they are good sea boats, they are not fast sailers. The owners of the craft find trawls, small boats, salt and provisions, and two trips a year is the average for the craft which salts her fish on board.

Out of the fleet a few take ice and return to market with fresh fish every two or three weeks, but the majority catch and salt down. The crew go on shares. When the craft returns, the owners figure up the expense of the outfit and add to it half the value of the catch. What is left is divided pro rata among the crew. If the catch has been good, each of the sixteen or eighteen men has about $40 per month, but it is quite as likely that he won't have made a dollar a day, though he has had free board all the time, and good board at that. Fishing on the banks at any time of the year is hard and disagreeable work.

Codfish are very erratic in their movements. A schooner may have fish around her for thirty days, one day being as good as another, or she may sail and drift for three or four days without getting a bite. If luck is with her, down goes the anchor, and the trawlers begin to work. A trawl may be described as a rope many hundred feet long, to which, at intervals of thirty-eight inches, fishhooks are attached by lines about two feet long. There are 3,000 hooks to the average trawl, which is attended by two men. Each man has 1,500 hooks to bait and care for. The rope is weighted to sink within a few feet of the bottom and is then buoyed. The trawl is generally set late in the afternoon and overhauled the next morning.

If luck is with the fishermen, 500 cod may be taken from a trawl. They are a voracious fish, and, in seizing the bait, firmly hook themselves. It often happens that the 3,000 hooks may be overhauled without securing more than 50 fish, but again the catch may be 2,500. The boats of the trawlers look something like ordinary river skiffs, but are very buoyant and easily handled. A schooner with sixteen men aboard puts out four trawls and eight men. The rest are left to work the craft and attend to the fish as they come in.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

DURING the course of a speech delivered a few days ago the Premier of the Dominion announced himself as an advocate of preferential trade with the United Kingdom.

Whatever may be the ultimate outcome of the movement for preferential trade it is obvious that it is a growing one just now. Whether it will develop to fruition remains to be seen.

In this country we now see both political parties smiling approvingly on the idea. True, in England there is still a strong feeling of opposition to the scheme. But it is chiefly centred in such manufacturing centres as Manchester and Birmingham. Taking the country as a whole, the hearts of the people are, however, softening.

As The British Trade Journal of July 1 last remarked: "At the Congress of 1892 there was much more opposition to differential treatment of foreign produce in the United Kingdom than at the Congress held last month; nor was there any proposal put forward for preferential treatment in favor of British and against foreign manufactured articles in the colonies themselves. In 1892 there was also much more heart in the arguments of the British free-importing body at home than there is now; and it must be remembered that four years ago the motion of Sir Charles Tupper in favor of a differential tariff against goods from outside the Empire was lost by fifty-five votes against thirty-four."

Although at the Congress held in June last no resolution directly favoring the preferential idea was adopted, yet it is beyond question that there was a strong following that would have given such motion their support. The journal we have just quoted declared that: "If we may judge from the number of speeches made in its favor, as against those opposed to it, it seems very probable that the preferential tariff motion would have carried."

The British Chancellor of the Exchequer, while not committing himself in favor of preferential trade, showed, in a speech delivered about a month ago, that he was at least open to consider the question. "We should," he said, "be wrong to refuse consideration even of theories that might seem crude and immature if we were satisfied that they were propounded with a sincere wish to make what would be a gigantic step in free trade by sweeping away all Customs barriers in an empire which contains three hundred million people."

It is evident that the average Englishman who favors preferential trade does so with the expectation that it will be a means to an end, namely free trade within the Empire. What the future may evolve no one can with certainty say. We know, however, that, as far as the colonies are concerned, and Canada in particular, it will be a long day before we can have free trade pure and simple. Aside altogether from the spirit of protection, we have a revenue to create, and both political parties in Canada concede that, for some time to come at least, the Customs is the most feasible revenue-producing source.

All great undertakings necessarily take time to work out and put into practice. The preferential trade scheme is a great one. It is only within the last few months that it can really be said to have even approached a live issue. Even without taking into consideration the time it will take to arrange details, a year's notice has to be given Belgium and Germany of the abrogation of the treaties of 1862 and 1865, before preferential trade can go into effect. Advocates of preferential trade will therefore have to wait as well as work.

ALLEGED INFERIOR PICKLING SPICES.

It has been alleged to THE CANADIAN GROCER that some inferior pickling spices are on the market this season. The cause seems to be the old one of the keenness of competition inducing makers to put up spices at a price irrespective of what the quality may be.

If what is alleged be true, it is to be regretted. Depreciation in the quality of a commodity is followed by depreciation in business in the same. The manufacturer or merchant who persists in sticking to quality is the best off in the long run.

It is well that the members of the trade should be acquainted with the rumors that are rife, for they will then be on the watch for the inferior goods. If a merchant wants to buy first-class goods he should get them.

One precaution is to deal with none but well-known and reputable houses. Another is, take a small handful of the different spices which are on the market, grind them separately and then pour hot water upon each. The aroma which arises will determine which are the best spices.

COMPLICATED ISSUES.

NEW issues in matters political often complicate old issues. We have an evidence of that in the United States to-day.

McKinley is the recognized high priest of the protection doctrine in the United States. It was because of this that he was nominated at the Republican convention for the Presidency. And it was understood that his election in November next would be followed by a revision of the tariff along protectionist lines.

Although the strength which the silver party has developed during the last few weeks has somewhat shaken the confidence of the Republican party, yet the chances are still in favor of its nominee.

But the prospects for a revision of the tariff do not seem as bright.

Arrayed against the Republican party are Democrats, Silverites and Populists. These three are united in regard to the tariff: they are all tariff-for-revenue men. In regard to free silver they are in favor of it almost to a unit. What prevents them from being a unit is the defection of the sound money Democrats. The Democratic candidate for the Presidency is, of course, an out-and-out free silver man.

With the Silverites free silver is first and foremost. All other questions are secondary. Free silver, in their minds, is the panacea for all trade ills that affect the United States. Whatever strength they may possess in the next Congress, and there is no question they will possess a great deal, will be uncompromisingly in favor of their pet scheme.

With the Republicans, on the other hand, the tariff is of first importance and the currency question nowhere, at least as far as any present change in existing currency conditions is concerned.

Now, it naturally follows that when the two forces meet in Congress the Democrats and Silverites will just as strongly oppose any effort that may be made to raise the tariff as they will fight for the adoption of a free silver measure.

The politicians recognize this, and in Washington they are beginning to talk of a compromise with the Silverites in order to get a tariff measure through Congress.

There is, however, we should think, no prospect of the sound money protectionists making any concessions, and particularly any that would be sufficient to either win over or satisfy the Silverites of the West and South.

American politics promise to be both aggravating and interesting for some time to come.

BULLISH SALMON NEWS.

A TELEGRAM received by a Toronto broker on Tuesday last from the Coast was somewhat startling. It stated that the price of canned salmon had advanced 25c. per case above the figures ruling a week ago, and that within the next sixty days there would probably be a further advance of 50 per cent.

The telegram in question was from a large and well-known firm of shippers, and naturally created a little excitement. At the same time, however, buyers spoken to by THE CANADIAN GROCER regarding the matter, declared they were unconcerned.

The telegram in question also stated that the salmon run on the Fraser so far has been an entire failure. It will be remembered that our own private information during the last week or two has indicated unsatisfactory conditions regarding the run. And it is quite possible that they may have become worse rather than better.

It must be remembered, however, that the fishing season has only just begun and that there is about a month before it closes. In the meantime, therefore, it is possible that there may be a good run. Last year the season opened poorly, but closed with some big runs.

It might be stated in this connection that on some salmon held on the Toronto market a bid of about 50c. per case above the price asked some time ago was refused.

It is generally conceded that the situation is strong, and yet the buyers are holding off.

SULTANA RAISINS, FIGS AND PRUNES.

Advices to P. L. Mason & Co., from Smyrna, regarding Sultana raisins, state that some forward sales to the Continent have been effected at prices much about the same as a year ago, but that figures are expected to rule higher this season, the statistical position of the fruit being against consumers.

Fig trees are progressing favorably, and although the crop will be less than last year, there will be sufficient to meet all requirements.

The firm's advices regarding Bosnia prunes state, that while the crop presents a favorable appearance, nothing is sure until the end of July, as the weather may largely affect the production.

NO ADVANCE IN SUGAR.

THE preserving demand for refined sugar has commenced in earnest, but it does not look at present as if it would have any influence towards lifting sugar values from their present level.

The notable feature of late in the news regarding the staple has been the continued weakness of the raw article, which declined as much as 7½d. in eight days, though it has recovered slightly since, being now quoted 9s. 5¼d. July and 9s. 9¾d. October. It touched 9s. 3d. for July once last week, which was the lowest price so far this year.

This weakness, according to all accounts, is not due to any inherent weakness in the legitimate market, but to heavy liquidation by speculative holders, and the changing from one month to the other.

Until this process is over and all the weak holders wiped out, legitimate traders do not look for much improvement in the situation.

It is difficult, with this condition of affairs prevalent, for refiners in Canada to try and obtain any advance, especially while their stocks are as heavy as they are and the position in regard to the duty as uncertain as it is.

In the matter of actual consumptive demand a good healthy enquiry is experienced, though there is no disposition to contract large quantities ahead. It is said that the refiners have shaded regular quotations for round lots of granulated, but if so it was in only one or two instances.

VALENCIA RAISIN CROP DAMAGED.

Advices received in Toronto this week from Mr. Arguimbau, under date of Denia, July 14, contain some interesting and rather unexpected news regarding the growing crop of Valencia raisins.

All advices heretofore have indicated a large crop of this fruit, but those in question just to hand report from all districts a partial failure of the crop owing to excessive heat.

"Farmers," continues Mr. Arguimbau, "say that it is much reduced and that we shall have a small crop. My opinion is that if we have no rain hereafter the quality will be finer than usual."

LOBSTERS A DOLLAR HIGHER.

Canned lobsters have opened the season at remarkably high prices in Montreal. Sales agents this week and last asked $8.25 to $9 per case.

This is a clean dollar higher than the highest price last year, and it is expected that values may go even higher, as the season's pack, both in Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, is lighter than usual. In the Canadian waters the Federal authorities extended the season a fortnight, but it is not expected that this will have much influence.

NEW CROP CALIFORNIA RAISINS.

THE first prices on new crop California raisins were received in Montreal this week. The brands were not specified, and it is considered that the offers in question are largely speculative, so that they have not resulted in any business. It cannot be said, therefore, that a quotation on new crop raisins has actually been made.

Based on the figures named, twos would cost 5c., threes, 5½c., and fours, 6c., laid down in Montreal. This is about ¼c. per pound lower than they opened at last year, and is not in accord with the advices that have been received during the summer from the Coast.

The latest advices direct from the orchards were to the effect that deliveries this season would be from a fortnight to a month later than last year. If this is correct, and there is reason to believe that it is so, firm, legitimate offers on good reliable brands are hardly possible as early as this. In New York, however, it is learned that prices have opened much lower than expected in view of the prospect of a short and late crop, and that the offers made there have not been allowed to go begging, but that a large quantity of goods had been sold for October delivery.

A QUESTION OF LEASE.

A SUBSCRIBER writes: "We mail you lease to-day. We would like to know how long this holds us. You see it states from one year with privilege of five years. The year is now past, but nothing has been said with regard to continuing for four years. Can we be compelled to rent building for four more years, or does this constitute a yearly lease? In case the landlord wished to dismiss us what time should we be allowed?"

REMARKS: The lease in question is really not a lease at all. Although it is filled out on the regular form it contains no seal, which deprives it of the power of being a lease. By law, therefore, it is really an agreement for a lease. The tenants being in possession, and having remained in possession beyond the definite period of one year fixed by the document, are entitled to remain for the balance of the period. Another thing overlooked in the document is that no time is fixed when the tenants shall give notice that they desire to continue the lease for the five year time. It is usually stipulated that such notice shall be given at the expiration of ten or eleven months.

THE EDITOR.

FAR NORTH STOREKEEPERS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER met at Edmonton, Alberta, Mr. A. L. Brick, of the firm of Brick Bros., Peace River. The Messrs. Brick Bros. are sons of the Rev. J. G. Brick, formerly English church missionary at Peace River Crossing. They have been in business eight years, and have a store at Peace River Crossing, 400 miles from Edmonton, and another 300 miles down the Peace River.

In order to reach their trading posts, they have to travel as follows: From Edmonton overland to Athabasca Landing on the Athabasca River, 90 miles; thence up the Athabasca River, 75 miles; up the Lesser Slave River, 60 miles; across Lesser Slave Lake, 85 miles; overland to Peace River, 90 miles, and down the Peace River, 300 miles.

Mr. Brick describes the country as mostly prairie, interspersed with a good supply of timber. Edmonton is their nearest post office and the market where they dispose of their furs. The country is a great fur-producing country, and they reach Edmonton annually in July laden with from ten to twenty thousand dollars' worth of choice furs. These they readily dispose of to the buyers for cash. They then purchase supplies for another year and return, the trip occupying from 30 to 40 days each way.

BOUGHT SMITH & KEIGHLEY'S STOCK.

The trade will be interested to know that the stock of Smith & Keighley, one of the oldest grocery houses in Toronto, has been purchased by Mr. James Adams.

Mr. Adams has been manager of the business for the past thirteen years, and the trade will no doubt wish him success in his new venture.

The stock is nearly all new and it is well assorted. As it was bought by Mr. Adams from the executors of the estate at a considerable reduction in price the retail trade should be able to secure some bargains.

As the business will be carried on under Mr. Adams' own name, the firm name of Smith & Keighley, one of the oldest among wholesale grocery houses in Toronto will be no more. For some time at least the business will be carried on at the present warehouse, No. 9 Front street east.

FRENCH PRUNES OPEN LOWER.

The indications at present point to a lower average opening for new crop French prunes this season than last.

Cable advices to hand this week at Montreal stated that prices in France had opened about 1s. per cwt. lower than last year.

Offers to arrive August delivery have been made in Montreal at a price which is about equivalent to 4¾ to 5c. for ordinary French prunes. The opening price last summer was 5 to 5½c., or ¼ to ½c. per pound higher.

TRAVELERS IN THE MOONLIGHT.

I WENT out with the city travelers of Toronto on Monday night on their fourth annual promenade concert on the steamer Chippewa. We had a delightful time, and the treasury of the City Travelers' Association an augmentation of many dollars.

It was just nine o'clock when the steamer left her moorings at the foot of Yonge street and wended her way past the sombre-looking wharves and brilliantly-lighted Hanlan's Point out into the lake.

The evening was an ideal one for a moonlight excursion. The bosom of the lake was unruffled save where here and there a gently passing breeze kissed it into dimples. Overhead the stars shone brightly. The moon, red and dirty, like a huge ball of molten iron beginning to cool off, peeped up over the horizon as the boat left the Western Gap, but almost immediately vanished behind a ridge of dark clouds which fringed the horizon. When she came out again, some twenty minutes later, she was polished and burnished to her old bright and natural appearance.

The crowd on board was a large one, but it was not too large for comfort. It consisted nearly altogether of young people; but all ages were represented. Here and there I noticed men and women whose hair was by time whitened. Then three or four families had brought their toddling infants rather than permit the said toddling infants to keep them home. Boys only fairly started in their teens were also there in goodly numbers.

The main deck was monopolized by dancers, and the music for these disciples of Terpsichore was supplied by two orchestras, one at either end of the deck. The captain's bridge on the upper deck was occupied by the band of the Royal Grenadiers. I should not forget to mention that for'ard on the main deck a band composed of an auto-harp and mouth organ dispensed music for the various knots of lovers who ensconced themselves there.

Down in the ladies' cabin the president of the association, R. Muat-Corrie, had charge of the concert programme. This programme was of unusual excellence. The cabin was packed by those who wanted to hear it, and those who could not get into the cabin grouped about the windows, standing on chairs, benches, etc. Those who contributed to the programme were the following: Mrs. Weir, Mr. W. J. A. Carnahan, Mr. H. M. Bennet, Miss Gertie Black, Miss H. Morrell, Miss May Dickenson,, Mr. Neil Burton, Mr. T. A. Baker, Mr. Chas. Dimmock, Mr. A. I. E. Davis, Mr. F. W. Howitt, Mr. Oscar Winborne. Mrs. B. Weir was accompanist.

Out in the lake the big steamer lazily described circles until about 11 o'clock, when her prow was pointed homeward, the dock being reached at 11.45 p.m.

An officer on board the Chippewa assured me it was by far the best moonlight excursion party that the boat had carried out this season.

CARGO OF MOLASSES.

The barque Flora, Captain Lowe, made the record run between Barbadoes and Montreal recently. She left Barbadoes on June 30th, having on board a large consignment of molasses for Laporte, Martin & Cie., reaching Montreal on the 23rd of July, making the entire sailing time only 23 days, which is the shortest time on record for this distance.

THE PRIZES PRESENTED.

President Vallieres and the Sports Committee of the Montreal Retail Grocers' Association, have presented the long list of prizes to the winners at the games the other week. The presentation was made Monday evening last in the Monument National Hall. All sorts of nice things were said to the successful contestants, and a hearty invitation extended to them in advance for next season's gathering.

OCCUPATIONS OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.

The Toronto Globe of July 28 had the following: Complete returns give the following as the occupations of the members of the new House of Commons: There are 63 lawyers, 33 farmers, 26 merchants, 21 physicians, 19 gentlemen, 12 manufacturers, 10 journalists, 6 mill owners, 3 contractors, 3 real estate agents, 2 surveyors, 1 veterinary surgeon, 1 township clerk, 2 distillers, 1 financial agent, 1 insurance manager, 1 banker, 1 shipowner, 1 rancher, 1 oil refiner, 1 printer and 1 civil engineer. The lawyers and gentlemen combined form nearly two-fifths of the whole house, so that the lookout is poor for the honest toilers who make up the remainder. Col. Domville, Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Bostock are returned as farmers, and Messrs. Wallace, McMullen, Penny, Tucker. Bain, Charlton, Morin, Stenson, Hackett, Brodeur, Blanchard, Scriver, Sutherland and Kaulbach as gentlemen. To these have been added Mr. Foster, Mr. Casey, Mr. Haggart, Mr. Beattie and Sir Richard Cartwright, who are not labelled with any occupation, and are therefore entitled to be classed as gentlemen. Only 19 gentlemen out of a total of 213.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE is assuming its usual midsummer quietude. Some houses report that they are well employed, but the report is not general. Since a week ago the volume of business has fallen off somewhat, and complaints are heard thereat. There is a good deal of sugar going out, but not as much as the trade would like to see. The outside sugar markets are a little better, and there is a better feeling here in consequence. Salmon is still in active demand, although, if anything, there does not appear to be as much going out as a week ago. Canned goods are in good demand on country account. Coffees are receiving fair attention for the season. In teas there is a nice trade doing, particularly in Japans. Foreign dried fruits, such as currants, Valencia raisins and Sultana raisins are receiving fair attention, the first-named particularly. Lemons are dearer outside and there is a stronger feeling locally. Oranges are scarce and firm. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

There is not as much doing as there was a week or two ago, but still there are a good many canned goods going out. Tomatoes, peas and corn are all in fairly good demand on country account, and in the city the first named are meeting with a fair sale. It is claimed that in tomatoes there will not be more than enough to supply the demand until the new pack is on the market. Canned salmon is still in good demand, although it is not as active as it was. Telegraphic advices received from the Coast on Tuesday announce an advance of 25c. per case, and furthermore stating that another advance of was extremely likely within the next sixty days. The lobster market is firmer, the cost having been advanced one dollar per case at outside points. Some of the local wholesalers have advanced their prices 10c. per dozen. We quote : Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 ; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

Trade is fairly good for this time of the year. The last shipments of Rio coffee are moving off well at from 17 to 17½c. It is almost impossible to get good selections of high grade coloring coffees. We quote green in bags : Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c. ; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Business is still at a standstill in this line. We quote : Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c. ; bright, 40 to 42c. ; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

There is practically nothing doing. We quote : New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

During the past week business has eased off a little, although there is a good deal of sugar going, nearly every order that is being received containing sugar. Shortly after our last review the raw market eased off a little and the feeling was weak. Since then, however, beets have advanced 1½d. on two distinct occasions on the London market, and the feeling is better in consequence. It is the general opinion that prices in Canada will remain unchanged for some time, unless the trade falls off sufficient to cause accummulation of stocks in refiners' hands. Wholesalers are quoting 4⅜ to 4.45c. for granulated, and 3.40 to 3.90c. for yellows.

SPICES.

The demand for pickling spices is fair. The price of ginger is very high in the primary market. We quote : Pure black pepp er, 10 to 12c. ; pure white, 18 to 25c. ; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

The demand for rice, sago and tapioca continues good. We quote : Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

The market is still devoid of feature. We quote : Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green ; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack ; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

The Ceylon tea market keeps firm, although the quality of the goods being offered is not as good as one would expect for the price. Teas from Japan are coming in satisfactorily and wholesalers are more inclined to buy in view of the fact that shippers have slightly advanced their views. Ceylon teas for price are expected to be dearer, as the quantity of teas arriving in London will be getting less within the next few months, while those coming forward will be chiefly teas of better quality. Indian teas are firm. The first new season's China teas have been placed on the market, but prices have not yet settled down to a regular basis. Local wholesalers report a fairly good demand for new season's Japans and for Indian and Ceylon teas. Good medium grade Japan teas of last season's growth are receiving a good deal of attention at about 15c. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are : Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades ; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

In currants, the low price and good quality continues to induce a good demand. We quote wholesale prices as follows': Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls. ; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c. ; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are not as much wanted as currants are, but there is a fair quantity going out for this time of year. As noted elsewhere, the growing crop of Valencia raisins has suffered extensively from excessive heat. A few good sales of Sultana raisins have been made during the week. Latest mail advices from the Coast are to the effect that muscatel raisins will be a little dearer than last year. We quote: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.; Sultana raisins 5½ to 6c., according to quality.

The demand for California goods is light, as might be expected with so many domestic green fruits on the market.. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Prunes appear to be in unusually light request. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

Dates are quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Stocks of oranges on the spot are limited, while the demand is good. There is a much stronger feeling in regard to lemons. The New York market has advanced $1 per box, and although quotations here are unchanged, yet it is not likely that they will long remain so. Lemons continue in good demand. Bananas are in good demand, but prices are lower on account of liberal supplies. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.75 to $3.50 for 360's and $3.25 to $4 for 300's. Oranges—Sorrentos, $5 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.60; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per dozen; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 25 to 30c. per dozen; tomatoes, Canadian, 50 to 65c. per basket, and American, 35 to 45c.; watermelons, 20 to 30c. each; raspberries, 4½ to 5c. for red and 3½ to 4½c. for black; gooseberries, 25 to 40c.; currants, black, 40 to 60c.; red, 25 to 50c.; apples, Canadian, 10 to 20c. per basket, and $1 to $1.50 per bbl.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The butter market seems to be even in a worse condition than it was before. Some houses talk of a scarcity of good butter; others again assert that in the large offerings a fair proportion is good butter. The demand is chiefly for pound prints, tub butter of all kinds being slow. Butter was offered this week from Winnipeg in car lots. We hear of five carloads of selected western butter being offered in London by cable at equal to 12½c. per pound, but it was refused. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 10 to 12½c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pound prints, 12 to 13c. Creamery—Tubs, 15 to 16c.; 1-lb. blocks, 16 to 17½c., according to make.

CHEESE—The market is a little better in regard to price, the English market being cabled ¼c. dearer on Monday last. Prices locally range from 7 to 7½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—There is no improvement, business being dull and prices unchanged at 80 to 90c. per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Dull, at 2¾ to 3c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Dull, at 5½ to 6c.

EGGS—The demand is light at 9c.

POTATOES—The wholesalers are not doing much, retailers in the city getting their supplies largely from the farmers direct. The ruling price is 40c. per bushel. The season is about over for American potatoes.

HONEY—New honey is offering but it is hard to sell. About 7 to 8c. seems to be the ruling price for strained clover.

PROVISIONS.

Smoked meats continue firm and in good demand. Local packers have had enquiries from outside packers for smoked hams, but in view of the anticipated scarcity they do not appear disposed to sell.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5¼ to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5¾ to 6c. for small lots; backs, 7¼ to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 9½c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7c.; tubs, 7¼c.; pails, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12.50 to $13; Canadian short-cut, $13 to $13.50; clear shoulder mess, $10.50 to $11.

FISH.

There is a large quantity of white fish on the market, both Lake Winnipeg and Lake Superior kinds. The demand is principally for white fish. Trade generally is quiet. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6 to 6½c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

SALT.

Business continues fairly good at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Grain deliveries have been a little better and prices are higher. We quote: White wheat, 67c.; red, 63 to 65c.; goose, 50½c.; oats, 23 to 23½c.; peas, 50c.

BALED HAY—New is being quoted at $11 to $12 per ton.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business continues to be of a moderate character. Although no active advance has taken place in oatmeal, there is a firm feeling in sympathy with the oat market. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; rolled wheat, $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

FLOUR—Is slow, but holders have advanced their prices owing to the advance in the price of wheat. Local dealers are asking 10c. more for Manitoba grades at $3.85 for patents and $3.45 for strong bakers'.

PETROLEUM.

There is no change, either in regard to business or prices. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19 to 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Canned lobster is held $1 per case higher.

High-grade colony coffees are scarce and hard to get.

Loose muscatel raisins are a little dearer on the Coast.

Beet sugar advanced 3d. in London during the past week.

Cheese advanced equal to ¼c. per pound in London on Monday.

A telegraph from the Coast quotes the price of salmon 25c. per case higher.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 30, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE more active feeling noted last week in groceries has continued and there have been other interesting features. Raw sugar outside continues weak, and this checks any tendency of refiners here to advance prices. The preserving season is now on in full force and an active demand is being experienced by jobbers. Quite an active movement of new Japan teas from first to second hands has been going on and prices rule steady to firm. In canned goods the feature has been the very high prices asked for new pack lobsters, which are held very firm. Nothing has been done in new salmon. Offers on new crop California raisins have also been made, and they also are too high to suit buyers, who are holding off. The weakness in produce and provisions of all kinds continues, with no prospects of improvement.

SUGAR.

The easy feeling in raw sugar that still prevails has had no influence on the position of refined sugar in this market. However, in the face of it any advance from the present low prices ruling is difficult when stocks are as large as they are at present. The better demand noted last week, however, has been maintained and refiners report a good healthy trade passing, and the same statement is made by jobbers. The preserving season is on in full force now and the enquiry from retailers is even brisker than it was last week. We quote values for jobbing purposes, 4 3/8c. to 4 1/2c. for granulated and 3 1/4c. to 3 3/4c. for yellows.

SYRUPS.

Business continues quiet in syrups, as jobbers have ample supplies on hand. Until these are worked down somewhat no change seems possible. We quote: 1 1/2c. to 2 3/4c. as to grade.

MOLASSES.

There has been more business doing in molasses in a large way since last report, but it has been confined almost wholly to the transfer of large lots from first to second hands. Barbadoes in 100 puncheon lots have sold at 28c. ex wharf, and Porto Rico at the same price. In a jobbing way, business is limited and prices unchanged at 30 to 31c. for both Barbadoes and Porto Rico.

RICE.

An active movement is maintained in rice from millers' hands, the business being fully equal to last year. Both country and city buyers have been taking in supplies. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

No material change is noted in spices, demand being of a slow, hand-to-mouth character. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues exceedingly quiet, the majority of buyers being pretty well stocked up. The easy feeling already noted continues, as shown by sales of Maracaibo in round lots at 17 1/2c., which is a shading of 1/2c. per lb. In an ordinary way, however, former quotations may be repeated. We quote: Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 18 to 18 1/2c.; Java, 28c.; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

The week has witnessed more activity in teas in a large way, especially in new Japan teas, receipts of which have been arriving pretty freely during the past eight or ten days. Business aggregating 1,600 packages Japans, at 15 to 17c., and 700 packages of blacks, at 10 to 13c., has been put through since last report. Low grade and medium Japans are the most enquired for, and offerings, if they show up right, are quickly absorbed. In a distributive way also there has been a good fair demand. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11 1/2 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The chief feature of the week in California dried fruit has been the first offers of new crop raisins, for which pretty high prices have been asked. So high, in fact, that jobbers here are not disposed to do any business, preferring to hold off. We quote values the same, at 4 3/4 to 5c. for 2-crown, and 3-crown 5 3/4 to 6c.

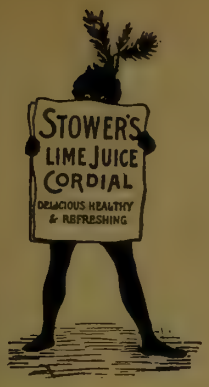
Valencia fruit are quiet and firm at 4 3/4 to 5c., for common off-stalk, and 5 1/2 to 6c. for fine off-stalk.

There is no change in currants, and we hear of no further offers on new crop in addition to those noted by us last week. We quote 4 1/2 to 5 1/2c. as to grade.

Prunes continue quiet and unchanged at 5 1/4 to 5 1/2c. for French, and 6 to 6 1/2c. for Austrian.

NUTS.

There is a quiet trade in nuts with prices steady. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11 1/2c.; filberts, 7 1/2 to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10 1/2c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.



CANNED GOODS.

Business in this market continues exceedingly dull, and wholesale grocers here seem disposed to let present stocks run down before they go in for any extensive purchasing. The most striking feature of the market now is the high price asked for new pack lobsters. Agents this week asked $8.25 to $9 per case, which is $1 per case and more higher than opening prices asked last year. Reports here indicate a large pack of peas and low prices are anticipated. No contracts of importance have yet been executed in new pack salmon. Agents are offering $4.50 f.o.b. for ordinary and for selected quality fancy label Clover Leaf flats delivered here $5.50 and talls $6. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37 1/2 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half-tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15.

GREEN FRUIT.

The week has been a very active one in all kinds of green fruit, receipts of California fruit especially being very large. For this reason there was a slump in peaches, which sell at 70c. per box; pears, $1.20 to $1.80; plums, 75c. to $1.65; very fancy lemons, $1.60 to $1.85; and good stock showing waste, 90c. to $1.05; one car American apples, $2.35 to $2.70 per barrel; one car Canadian apples, $1.80 to $2.20; one car tomatoes in crates, 60 to 77½c.; dried apples, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 5 to 15c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $2 to $3.75, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The easy feeling in eggs has continued under free receipts, and candled sell at 9 to 9½c. and seconds, 8 to 8½c.

BEANS—No change, with business quiet at 70 to 75c., in carlots, and 80 to 90c. in small lots.

POTATOES—New potatoes continue steady at $1 to $1.50 per bbl. In bags they sell at 50c.

TALLOW—Quiet at 4 to 5½c.

HOPS—Dull at 5c. to 7c., as to quality, for good to fine, and 4½ to 4¾c. for fair to medium.

HONEY—Business quiet and prices steady at 7 to 8c. for extracted; bright comb, 12 to 14c., and dark do, 10 to 12c.

BALED HAY—There is a better demand this week for hay, but prices are the same, at $13 for No. 1 and $10 to $10.25 for No. 2.

PROVISIONS.

There is little change in the provision market, which continues weak in tone. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $11.50 to $12; Canadian short cut, mess, $12 to $13.00; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; ard, com., refined, per lb., 5¼ to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been a good demand for all grades of flour. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.60 to $3.75; straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.40.

In oatmeal there was no material change. The demand is slow, and the market rules dull. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

An active business has been transacted in feed. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The buying that started in the country at the close of last week has been continued. In addition to 5,000 at Ste. Hyacinthe and 6,000 on spot on Monday, there was heavy purchasing both at Brockville and Kingston, over 10,000 boxes leaving factorymen's hands at the former market at 6⅞ to 7c. This is an advance of ⅛ to ¼c. on the prices ruling last week, and makes it plainly evident that some operators have got to have cheese even at an advance. On the other hand there is little encouragement over the cable in the matter of legitimate orders, the best prices that were paid here to-day for a few lots ranging from 6¾ to 7c. in Ontario, and 6¼ to 6½c. in Quebec. This makes it evident that the spot market is not on a parity with the prices paid during the past two days in the country. This heavy country buying, in fact, is due to speculation, being largely to cover short sales of last half of June cheese for July shipment.

The butter market is rather mixed at present with conflicting accounts. While many claim that it is difficult to make 16½c., it was asserted on good authority to-day that a shipper had bought a line of creamery that cost him 17c. here. This, however, may be set down as an extreme case, but for the reason that really fine quality creamery is difficult to get holders of it are firmer in their views at 16¼ to 16½c. But though this is so, there is a surfeit of butter offering, as we have pointed out before, which scales down so low as 15c., and this fact is the depressing influence.

ASHES.

There has been a decidedly weak feeling in ashes, and prices have declined 20 to 25c. per 100 lbs. This weakness is due principally to the receipts having increased fully 80 per cent. during the past two months, as compared with the same months last year. The impression is that prices have touched their lowest point for the present, and a reaction is now looked for. The demand from abroad is fair, and a moderately active business is doing. We quote: Firsts, $3.30 to $3.40; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.50 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Sales agents here are asking $1 per case higher than last year for new pack lobsters.

Cables from Bordeaux state that French prunes have opened this year 1s. lower than last.

First offers on new crop California raisins are from ¼ to ½c. per pound lower than last year,

Refiners have shaded 4¼c. for granulated sugar, it is reported, but the jobbing price is unchanged.

Sales agents still find it difficult to execute any contracts for new pack B. C. canned salmon. F.O.B. prices on the Coast remain as last quoted.

An active movement in new crop low grade and medium Japan teas has been one of the features of the week, over 1,500 packages leaving first hands.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 30, 1896.

The week has shown a fair amount of business, the up-river trade being better than usual at this season. Values show little change. The feeling all round is easy and buyers not only do not care to buy largely, but feel they should buy even under the very low prices quoted. The Nova Scotia packets are finding business very quiet. Not only is this a quiet season, but since the Dominion and Atlantic Railway have had on their own steamer they are taking much more of the Nova Scotia freight than was shipped when one company owned the steamer, and another the railway. There is still a large movement in lumber for the English market, and shippers are well pleased with results. In cordwood large shipments continue to go forward to the American market, chiefly to Rockland, Me., to be used for fencing line. Prices are very low. Canadian bottled pickles are having a freer sale than ever before, the quality of those to hand this summer being better than usual. The bulk of those sold, however, are still English.

OIL—Burning oil is still light sale. Prices tend easy, though no change has yet been made here. In Nova Scotia, Boston dealers, who have a very large direct trade, have been sending in large quantities of oil, and prices there are quoted rather lower. Lubricating shows some light movement. Turpentine is quoted lower. We quote: American burning oil, 21 to 22½c.; best Canadian, 19 to 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—Stock here is light. Supplies continue to arrive from Boston by schooner; there is fair demand, factory-filled selling freely at this season. The difference in cost between factory-filled and coarse is largely the difference in cost of bags and in profit to the manufacturer. In all cases the larger part of the cost is freight. Prices are firm. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—There is a good, fair demand. Peas have been moving freely since new came in, as market was altogether bare. Prices, it is expected, will be lower. Wholesale dealers are looking for a rebate on those so far received, as they were sold at guaranteed prices, and they were offered by first-class packers at lower than the invoice price previous to goods being shipped. There is no doubt this is a most unsatisfactory way to do business. Corn is held easy, there being so much old here. Tomatoes are the firmer line. Dealers here are offering the three lines at very low prices, such as show no profit. New gallon apples are finding fair demand for future. Lobsters are about out of the market. Salmon, when new arrive, will, or rather ought to, advance. Peaches are scarce here. We quote as follows: Corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 80 to 90c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's Canadian, $2.85 to $3.00; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $2.10; haddies, $1.25 to $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—Demand during the week has been good, but stocks have not been large. Strawberries are gone and raspberries are about over. Gooseberries dull. Currants very limited sale. Large quantities of blueberries are being shipped to the States. Cherries were much smaller receipts this season than last. Native tomatoes and cabbage come in freely and have taken the place of American. American cucumbers have been scarce during the week and price has been firmer, but it will soon fall off. In peaches and pears there is very little Georgia fruit offering, while California is to hand freely. Lemons are finding better demand and are firm. Pines and melons are about over. Sweet potatoes, while very light stock, are no sale, it being too early. Grapes continue to arrive more freely and have fair sale. We quote: Lemons, $4 to $4.75; Valencia oranges, $9.50 to $10; pineapples, 10 to 15c.; bananas, $1 to $1.50; raspberries, 10 to 12c.; grapes, $3.00 per crate; cucumbers, 50 to 70c. per doz.; California apricots, $1.50 to $2.75 per crate; do plums, $2 to $2.25; tomatoes, $2.50 per crate; peaches, $1.50 to $1.75; melons, 50 to 60c.; squash, $2 per bbl.; cabbage, native, 50 to 60c.; apples, $4 to $4.50 per bbl.; cherries, 20 to 25c. per box.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little of interest. Currants continue firm, with cleaned still having large demand, not only for cartoons but for bulk. Little has yet been done here in fall fruit. Loose muscatels are about out of the market. Raisins of all kinds are well cleaned up. Onions find steady sale. Stocks of evaporated are not large, but demand for these and dried apples is very dull. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4¾ to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, per lb., 1½ to 1¾c.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Cheese begins to come in more freely. Prices continue very low, with but light demand. Some factories do not take care to make the most saleable sizes for this market. Large cheese are not liked, particularly early make, but twins have good sale. Butter is a rather better movement for good stock. Medium is very dull. Creamery prints have small sale. Eggs continue to have fair steady demand. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c; new creamery, prints, 18c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c. Eggs, 9 to 10c.

SUGAR—Dealers have given up all hope of the expected advance. Sales continue only fair, with fairly large stock of granulated still held. In yellows some little trouble is noticed in refineries not matching sample in color, but tending darker; some claims are reported. A very nice grade of Barbadoes is offered here in barrels; stock is small. It is a beautiful sugar; it is sold at 3¾c. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—Another cargo of Porto Rico was landed here this week and is offered for sale. The arrivals of this grade of molasses have been very large this season—much larger than for a great many years. The importation of Barbadoes, on the other hand, which a few years ago was almost the only molasses arriving here, has been very light and quality but fair. Of late years quite a quantity of St. Croix comes here, largely consigned to shippers to the island. Quality this year has been very good. Values are easy, particularly Barbadoes. Very little New Orleans is at present moving. Syrup is very dull. We quote: Barbadoes, 26 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Shad are again being caught. So far only a few, but will soon come in more freely, and prices will be lower. Quality of catch at this season is better than at any other. Salmon still are quite plenty, and prices are higher, though still low. In dry cod stocks are still light with firmer prices and improving demand. There is now quite a demand from the west for boneless cod. The demand is increasing for the pure cod. It is well worth the difference in price from boneless fish, which is very apt to be hake. Dry hake are very dull, and demand for pollock very light. There is still but small movement in pickled fish, though it is now time new were arriving. New dry cod will come in more freely when the weather gets cooler. Alewives as yet show no demand, and it is expected prices obtained will be low. They are bought principally by New York parties for export. Smoked herring show no improvement. We quote: Large cod, $3.10 to $3.25; medium, $2.85 to $3; pollock, $1.30 to $1.35; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $5; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 11 to 12c.; per lb.; shad, fresh, 15 to 20c.

PROVISIONS—There is still a quantity of clear pork held here. It is hard to state a price. There is little moving, and market being off low prices would be accepted on round lots. Beef is also low. Lard is a drug, and the large stock shows little change. Rolls are very dull. Demand for hams is rather improving, and higher prices expected. We quote: Clear pork, $12.75 to $13.25; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7½ to 8c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL — Flour is rather firmer, with a rather better enquiry. Buyers, however, advance bids very slowly. Oatmeal was reported here lower, but there seems no ground for the reports of some millers' agents making sales at advanced prices. Cornmeal moves freely and still continues very low. There is a feeling here that corn will be higher. Oats are higher, but nothing startling. Our merchants are not buyers of beans, holding large stocks. Prices show no change. In hay new is now offered. There are prospects of good prices ruling, the crop being but fair and market rather bare. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.60; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.15; medium, $3.90 to $4.00; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.95 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15.50 to $16; bran, do do, $14.50 to $15; handpicked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 30 to 32c.; hay, $13 to $14; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.10 to $1.20; split peas, $3.40 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

pected about twenty hands will be employed. Already they have had a large order from Montreal, and everything points to a successful industry.

New China teas continue to arrive. Shipments are earlier than usual.

The St. John grocers intend holding their first picnic on August 18. They are making every effort to have it a success, and a splendid time is expected.

Mr. T. J. McPherson, of the well-known retail grocery firm of McPherson Bros., was during the past week elected an alderman.

Mr. Fisher, representing J. W. Windsor, packers of the celebrated Ice Castle brand of canned goods, called on THE GROCER this week. He was much surprised at the low prices at which some packers were selling vegetables in this market. Their large lobster pack he reported all sold in England. They intend, he said, to push the sale of their tomato catsup in this market, having a splendid trade in the west, where they find it is taking the place of the best American goods.

Much interest is being taken by outside manufacturers in the exhibition to be held here this fall. To get the best positions applications should be in early.

Mackerel fishing has proved very successful at Richibucto this season. The fish are iced and shipped. Four dollars per hundred is the price paid the fishermen. Shipments have been quite large.

Very extensive harbor improvements are to be made here this summer and fall, and our port will be in a better position this winter than ever to handle the export business of Canada. It is expected our Ontario friends will not, as they did last season, use an American port, but will do their business via St. John.

Shipment of lobsters, canned, from these Lower Provinces for this season is put at about 100,000 cases, as against 160,000 in 1895, 170,000 in 1894 and 180,000 in 1893. In local markets there are practically none to be had. Of those shipped, upwards of half went to London, about one-quarter to Liverpool and a fifth to the continent.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THIS is carnival week in Halifax. The city is crowded with visitors, and retail trade is having a big boom. A great many country merchants are in the city and they are embracing the opportunity to call on the firms they deal with, placing orders and becoming acquainted.

James Adams has been admitted a member of the firm of I. B. Shaffner & Co.

Reports from P.E.I. state that the majority of the lobster factories in the west have closed down. On the Egmont Bay side fishing has only begun.

The total number of strawberries sent from Middleton station this season was 1,101 crates, or 35,232 boxes. Of these, 466 crates came to Halifax, 383 went to Boston, 121 to St. John, 18 to local stations and 113 to the south.

There were shipped from Yarmouth on the 21st and 22nd inst., 79 crates gooseberries, 97 crates of strawberries, and 42 crates blueberries, to Boston. The blueberry business is assuming large proportions in Yarmouth and Queen's counties, the United States affording a ready market.

The flour dealers of Sydney and North Sydney have secured better tariff rates in flour over the I.C.R. The rate from Ontario is now the same as enjoyed by Halifax with 3c. per bbl. added for ferriage at the Strait of Canso.

The first shipment of cheese of the season from P.E. Island to the British markets was made last week by John Podware. It consisted of 1,300 boxes. Price paid was 7c.

Eggs are in good demand. P. E. Island stocks are worth from 10 to 11c. and Nova Scotia 12c.

Jones & McRae have gone into the business of canning fruit and vegetables at Charlottetown. They ran a similar business at Pownal and met with considerable success, enjoying a good local and export trade. They have received 1,000 empty pails from Montreal.

The flour markets continue to improve. Quotations remain: "Ogilvies" or "Five Lilies," $4.30 to $4.40; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $3.75 to $3.90; Manitoba shipments, in sacks, $4.20 to $4.25; Ontario and Manitobas mixed, for patents, $3.75 to $3.85; 80 p.c. patents, $3.70 to $3.80; 90 p.c. patents, $3.60 to $3.70.

An improved demand is noted for butter, owing, no doubt, to carnival week. Dairy in tubs is quoted at 14 to 15c., and small tubs, 15 to 16c. Creamery in tubs is worth 18c. and creamery prints 19c.

There is nothing doing in cheese. Quotations are about 8½c.

There is still a good demand for sugars. Refinery prices are: Granulated, 4 7-16c.; circle C, 3⅜c.; extra circle C, 3½ to 3 9-16c.

There have been some small arrivals of molasses. The market is quiet, but strong. A fairly large lot went forward to Newfoundland last week. Quotations are: St. Croix, 28c.; Port Rico, 35 to 36c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, M.R. brand, 39c. St. Kitts, 28c.

The green fruit market is having a boom this week. The market is well supplied with almost everything except oranges. Messinas are quoted at $5.50 to $6 in cases of 160 count. Lemons are higher, being quoted at $4 to $4.50 for choice. Pineapples do not sell well this season. The quotation is $1.50 to $1.75 per dozen for good fruit. Bananas are in good demand at $1.75 to $2.50 per bunch.

EARLY CLOSING IN STOUFFVILLE.

Early closing is a reality in Stouffville, Ont. Three evenings each week thirty-four places of business close at 6.30 o'clock. This number includes, we are assured, every house of importance in the town.

The merchants of Stouffville are to be congratulated, and it is to be hoped that the merchants of other towns who know not the benefit of early closing will follow their example.

MADE A HIT WITH SODA WATER.

The Laurentian Water Co. made a hit with their bottled ginger ales and sodas in Montreal last week. The peculiar natural advantages possessed by these waters have been referred to before. Last week while H.M. SS. Intrepid and Tartar were at Montreal the officers ordered some of the company's goods. They pronounced them excellent, in fact, the equal of their own English soda or other aerated waters.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Kinnear, of Toronto, returned home on Sunday from a trip to Europe.

Mr. Wallace Anderson, the representative in Toronto of the Acadia Sugar Refining Co., left on Thursday last for a trip to Great Britain. During his absence Mr. A. W. Davies, of Halifax, is looking after the firm's business in Toronto.

Mr. R. Keyes, northern representative of T. Kinnear & Co., who has been managing the firm's business during the absence of Mr. Kinnear in Europe, has again resumed his regular route.

J. C. Hazard, of T. B. Escott & Co., London, was in Toronto last week. He reported large sales of their teas. He was going east on business.

James Craig & Co., Trenton, are closing out their stock of groceries and crockery and intend removing to Kingston next month, where they will have better and more extended opportunities for increasing their business.

On Saturday afternoon the F. F. Dalley Co. baseball team played the Asylum team on the Asylum grounds and defeated them 24 to 7, and the hands around the factory are naturally jubilant. They expect to have a game next Saturday with the Calder Clothing Co.

speaks more eloquently of the great need of improving our product than any words we can offer.—American Agriculturist.

James T. Hurst, lumberman, of Wyandotte, Mich., has filed a trust deed, transferring a large portion of his property to his creditors. Mr. Hurst's inability to dispose of logs and lumber to meet his obligations, and his willingness to endorse for his business friends were the causes of the embarrassment. The total liabilities of the estate are estimated at $500,000 and the assets are valued at $1,000,000. The Traders Bank of Canada is interested to the extent of $12,000, and has taken out an attachment against the property in the United States. A marshal left Detroit for Bay City to levy on any property there. Mr. Hurst has considerable property in the Georgian Bay.

The importations of Australasian tinned meats into London have again decreased during June, and the total for the first half of 1896 presents a deficiency of 13,700 cases. There was at the same time some falling off in the receipts of cooked meats from North America into the United Kingdom, and the diminution up to the 30th ult. amounted to 18,160 cases. Of New Zealand frozen mutton, however, the supply to this port was immensely large, and for the past six months exhibited an increase of about 382,000 carcases over that in 1895 to this date. Liberal consignments were likewise received at London and Liverpool from the Argentine, and the arrivals of chilled beef from the United States to the ports just mentioned were still considerably in excess of those in the first six months of the preceding year.—London Grocer, July 4.

GOLD MINE INVESTMENTS.

IN the money that is being made in the revival of the gold mining industry in Canada just now, Canadians occupy the humiliating position of seeing by far the greater part of it going into the pockets of American and English capitalists.

They have themselves to blame for it. The assertion often made, that what Canada needs is more capital, can scarcely stand as a plea as long as there is capital in this country going abegging for investment.

We can stand a great deal more capital in the country, and the more foreign we have the better. But it is not so much the want of capital as the want of nerve that afflicts Canadians in regard to mining ventures.

True, they are now waking up. But it is only after they began to see foreigners carry away the spoils. Shrewd and sharp Canadians, who twelve months ago laughed when gold mine stocks were mentioned to them as an investment, are now falling over each other in their eagerness to secure that which such a short time ago they professed to hold in derision.

It is not every mining venture that proves a fortune-maker for its promoters. There is always a certain amount of uncertainty attached to the most promising mining properties. But what is there not uncertainty about? There is certainly uncertainty about every business venture that a man embarks into. The large number of those who go into business who fail proves it. No man going into business can guarantee that he will make 5 per cent. on the capital invested. But in spite of the uncertainties which attend business, men are branching into it every day.

Then there are bank and railway stocks, wheat, pork and other similar objects for speculative ventures, which great numbers of Canadians are launching continually into. And yet every ordinary newspaper reader knows that the fluctuations in the prices of these are nearly always the result of manipulation. During the last few days thousands of dollars have been lost by Canadians on foreign stocks, notably Commercial Cable.

Now, with mining property there is not this same manipulation. There has been, and no doubt still is, crooked work going on in regard to mining matters. But we are dealing with mining properties which are being controlled by men who have both reputation and capital. And in Canada today many of the best men of the country are interesting themselves in the promotion of our gold mining industries.

Men should not go into mining with their eyes shut any more than into any other venture.

In going into mining ventures in Canada there is no need for any man to do so blindly. It has been established beyond peradventure that within Canadian territory today are gold fields the equal of those in any other part of the world, the far-famed South Africa not excepted. Indeed, it has been maintained, and by those who base their opinion on what they have actually seen, that Canada occupies the premier position in this respect.

Some of the holders of rich gold lands in British Columbia to-day sold all they had in order that they might become possessed of promising properties, so great was their faith in possibilities of that which they had set their eyes upon. And the men of this great faith were as a rule Americans.

Such recklessness, however, is not to be commended. No man is wise in putting all his eggs into one basket. Nor should business men weaken their capital to engage in outside ventures. But there are in Canada to-day thousands of men who have money lying unemployed who can probably find no more promising field for investment than by purchasing shares in one or more of the reputable concerns that are now on the market. And in doing this they will be helping to develop the country as well as increasing their own opportunities for acquiring wealth.

The great trouble with mining ventures in the past is that there was not sufficient capital invested to develop them to a paying point. The risk in this particular no longer exists, at least to the same extent. The custom now is to form joint-stock companies with ample capital to work the claims.

Gold mining in Canada has a bright future before it and Canadians will have themselves to blame if foreigners get the lion's share of the resultant.

Whiteville, Mass.

This advertisement is fifty per cent. better than the average musical instrument announcement. Few articles are so poorly advertised as pianos and organs. The style of a quarter century ago seems to remain. The name of the instrument is billed in largest type and is generally followed by testimonials of celebrities. As almost any piano maker can buy as good expert opinion as can any other, testimonials are worth very little. Better let the patent medicine trade have the monopoly of subsidized letters of approval. All pianos are supposed to have a "beautiful tone," and to be of "Careful Construction." Better not suggest that "Money Is Not Wasted." If the reputation of your piano is good, why create suspicion by a negative assertion? Don't try to crowd a four inch advertisement into a two inch space. I rewrite the advertisement in an easy style. It needs more space for its full effectiveness.

THE PECAN NUT.

THE pecan nut, now so common and highly prized, was, according to an exchange, in early times very generally known as Illinois nut, although it grows in its greatest abundance far south of the state of Illinois. It is, however, indigenous to nearly or quite one-half the state, mainly along the bottomlands of the Mississippi and small tributaries of the great river. From the southern half of Illinois it extends westward into Missouri and rather sparingly in Iowa, but south of these states it becomes more abundant, and even plentiful in Indian Territory, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana, thence east of the river in Mississippi and along the gulf states, and scatteringly to the northward again. In fact, the pecan tree has a very wide climatic range, but is partial to most soils, especially the bottomlands along creeks and rivers. A half century ago the source of supply appeared to be almost inexhaustible, and no one thought of making any special effort to preserve or save the pecan forests; and as the wood of these trees is valuable for many other purposes besides firewood, it was used freely by all who happened to reside near pecan groves or where the timber could be readily obtained. The destruction of the wild pecan trees, when clearing land for cultivation or for their timber, and through pure vandalism, has been going on ever since the settlement of regions where this tree is a native, and yet the demand has been increasing through the natural increase of population. This is not only true of the south, but of the north as well, and almost thirty years ago the late Arthur Bryant, sr., in a paper read before the Northern Illinois Horticultural Society, in speaking of the pecan nut in Illinois, declared, "it was the prince of the nut tribe," and that "it would be much more common in market but for the practice—worthy only of savages—of felling the trees to come at the fruit more easily. This was extensively done along the Illinois river when I first came to the state, in the fall of 1830. It is said that the same vandalism was practised on the Kaskaskia river last autumn. I well remember the indignation I felt on seeing, many years since, on the banks of the Illinois, an immense pecan tree, three feet in diameter, with a straight, sound shaft fifty or sixty feet long, which had been felled and left to rot on the ground." If the people of Illinois have made any attempt to repair the loss sustained by such vandalism, or even to prevent its continuance, we have not been made aware of it. But the decrease in the source of supply of these nuts has at last become so widely apparent, that it has awakened a new interest in it, especially in the south, and efforts are being made not only to preserve the groves and individual trees still remaining, but to plant others as a source of revenue. This movement has come none too soon, because if there is no further destruction of wildings by the axe, there must be a continual loss of trees from old age. In the south, where the natural pecan groves have for years been a considerable source of profit, we are assured that very extensive plantations are now being made, with every prospect of profitable results. The idea, however, appears to have become somewhat prevalent that the pecan is adapted only to warm climates, and cannot be successfully cultivated anywhere in the northern states, although this tree is really indigenous to at least half a dozen of them, but not so plentiful there as further south. Of course, in looking for pecan trees for cultivation in the north, we must not go to the semi-tropical region, but near the northern range of this tree, where it has become hardy and adapted to the climate through thousands of years of acclimation. The climate of the entire state of New Jersey, all of Long Island, and the southern part of New England, is fully within the climatic range of the pecan, but how much further north it will eventually extend remains to be demonstrated by experiments. The warmer parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and westward come in the same line. All south of this, where the soil is suitable, may be considered as the home of the pecan. Unfortunately, pecan culture lacks one feature which prevents it from becoming immensely popular, and that is immediate results. Rapid growth and early fruiting of the pecan is not unusual in the south, where the seasons are long and favorable to its growth, and fruiting trees six to ten years of age are common, but in the north it will require some forcing to secure nuts from seedlings in much less time than fifteen to twenty years. But grafted trees will be far more precocious, provided the cions are taken from native bearing trees.

The man who expects to build up a business in a week is likely to be as greatly disappointed as the sons of Noah when they essayed to build a tower to Heaven.

The GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

System is the Great International Route

Between the EAST and the WEST

Is the ONLY LINE running THREE Fast Express Trains Daily (except Sundays) between MONTREAL, TORONTO, DETROIT, NIAGARA FALLS, AND CHICAGO.

(For Sunday Service consult TIME-TABLE.)

IT IS THE GREAT SCENIC AND TOURIST ROUTE. The only Line affording delightful views of all the principal cities and points of interest along the picturesque banks of the St. Lawrence River and shores of Lake Ontario.

The only all-rail route from the West to Cacouna, Dalhousie, and other Seaside Sea-bathing Resorts on the Gulf of the St. Lawrence.

The direct route to Boston, New York, the White Mountains, Portland, Me., Old Orchard Beach, and all Sea-bathing Resorts on the Atlantic Coast.

It is the only route to the MUSKOKA AND MID-LAND LAKES, and the short line to OTTAWA.

Ask for tickets via the Grand Trunk Railway and see that they read that way.

PAYS 1-300TH PART OF THE REVENUE.

For one firm to contribute one-three-hundreth part of the total revenue of the Dominion is a big thing, yet there is one firm in Canada which claims to do this. And it is a wholesale grocery firm doing business in Hamilton. If we had three hundred such firms in Canada the rest of us could go free.

BOLIVIAN SUGAR BOUNTIES.

The following is an extract from a decree of the Bolivian Government regarding bounties on sugar:

"A bounty of $4,000 (Bolivian) is created in favor of the sugar industry which may produce in one year up to 4,000 quintals of refined sugar.

"Bounties are created of first, second and third-class of $2,000, $1,000 and $500 (Bolivian) respectively, in favor of sugar refining establishments which may introduce improvements into processes and maintain them in their works for more than one year."

Minnows or Whales?

There is an old maxim to the effect that he who fishes for minnows never catches whales. Neither will the grocer who only keeps cheap goods and "substitutes" ever attract desirable trade.

Benson's Prepared Corn

is intended for the best trade, and customers who are particular about having the best are sure to want it. No "substitute" can take its place.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Business is a synonym for push.

Trade is cultivated upon the soil of confidence.

A liberal use of printers' ink will brighten dull times.

He who swears in the store is cursing his own business.

Almost any kind of temper is better than a sullen one.

Never mind your competitor's business; mind your own.

While a youth is a prig he will never bloom as a man.

Wink at the fault of others, but keep your eye on your own faults.

Earnestness in the store is what blood is to the body—life-giving.

The man who has brains does not go into business without capital.

Power to do business is derived from knowledge of its demands.

Teach your clerks to do their duty to themselves as well as to you.

A store window that cannot sell goods ought to have the shutters up.

There is nothing like brains and elbow grease to bring success in life.

Conceit builds a wall around a man several inches higher than he can look over.

Take a vacation if you would prolong your occupancy of your place of business.

A friend of mine declares that it is fortunate salt has been discovered in Toronto. He says there are too many "fresh" young men in the "Queen City" who would have spoilt otherwise.

He is an unwise man who refuses to accept the counsels of a friend.

Good goods, like a good character, are impregnable against the assaults of vilifiers.

A contemporary asks: "Is the lemon doomed?" Of course it is—to be squeezed.

Merchants who allow their notes to go to protest are allowing their credit to run to seed.

An association that is not alive must necessarily be dead; and what is dead is no use.

His own financial death warrant has many a man been signing when endorsing for a friend.

If you do not hoe your own row, weeds will choke that which you are trying to cultivate there.

All the money in the world could not make one man; but one man can make a lot of money.

If Bryan should ride into power on silver we may expect trade to float out of the country on gold.

A church sometimes persecutes a smoker, and a smoker with bad weed often persecutes many people.

The crushing of the gold bug by the Silverites would mean also the crushing out of a great deal of the life of the United States trade.

Many a young farmer who has quit raising cereals to go into business to raise customers has found that his creditors fructified faster than that which he desired to cultivate.

The egotist is a man who sees no one but himself, and imagines that everybody sees no one but himself.

Business is always bad with some merchants, and, for the community, it would be better if it was worse.

The ordinary retailer has at least one advantage over the departmental store man: He can do a personal trade if he will.

Search diligently for the customer you have lost, but do not in the meantime neglect the ninety and nine who went not astray.

The big apple crop may not indicate big profits for either growers or handlers, but it promises a big supply of apple jack and pie.

Many a man has been driven into the trench of bankruptcy because he failed to retrench when he was on the field of opportunity.

Were some merchants as careful in dressing their windows as they are themselves, what a difference would there be in many a shop window!

Goods cannot be sold unless there are customers. But, after all, it depends upon the manner of man a merchant is as to whether a business pays or not.

It is easier for you to travel in the footsteps of a foregoer, but it is better that you should be the foregoer and another the follower. It is the foregoer who is the winner.

It would be a thankless task to convince some merchants that there is good in their business. And yet there is good in everything. Even Old Nick has some good qualities.

TREATMENT OF DRAFTS.

THE treatment which business men too often give to drafts made on them for payments of accounts is a feature of business practice that calls for plain talking. A man cannot too highly prize his credit, and he has no surer way of losing that credit than by allowing drafts made on him by wholesale houses to be returned unaccepted, or if accepted, unpaid. That the practice is a trick with some merchants, there can be no doubt, though they themselves are the ones that will suffer in the end the severest loss. Usually before a draft is made on a customer, he has been notified, a statement has been sent him, and time is given to allow of checking his statement, and if there is any error, of notifying the wholesaler of such. It is, therefore, almost an unpardonable business sin to allow a draft to go unaccepted.

Quoting from a contemporary on this matter: "There are few things that will arouse a man to a state of greater disgust towards a customer than to have a draft that has been honestly drawn returned unpaid. An account is overdue, and a statement is sent which says that unless a remittance is made before a certain date a draft will be drawn for the amount. No attention is paid to this, which the seller takes as meaning that the draft will be honored, and consequently, when the time allowed has elapsed, a draft is made, only to be returned in nine cases out of ten without comment. It is not only an unbusiness like transaction, but it is a positive insult to the wholesaler to treat his request in such a manner. Frequently the most trivial and absurd excuses are given for dishonoring drafts. A claim of 50 or 75 cents for freight, if the goods were to be delivered, or a similar amount for damaged goods or something of that kind; but even allowing that the claim may be a just one, is it not a thousand times better and more honorable to pay the full amount of the draft, notify the house of the slight discrepancy or overlooked rebate and politely request an adjustment? There is not a respectable house in the country that would not see that the claim met with an immediate recognition.

"Buyers fail to appreciate the annoyance that it gives sellers as well as banks of having drafts returned when they are rightfully due, and should meet with prompt acceptance and payment. To say that you 'have written' or 'will settle with the traveling representative' are paltry and lame excuses, and only hurt you in many ways and put you under suspicion as being a man who desires to be unfair and tricky in business affairs. Endeavor to err on the side of right and you will always be fairly dealt with."

THE NOVA SCOTIA FRUIT CROP.

THE fruit prospects in the Annapolis valley show signs of an abundant crop, says The Kentville Advertiser. The orchards in June were in fuller bloom than at any previous year, and reports indicate that the apples have generally set well. Last season there was a large Gravenstein crop, but most of the trees bloomed again this year and have a show now for another good yield. Probably Kings will take the lead of all other varieties in this county. Unless the dry weather causes many of the apples on these trees to fall they will not be able to bear up in the autumn under the load of fruit which has formed. Baldwins, Russets, Ribstons and many other varieties, are showing well, and the fruit is rapidly developing. Many young orchards which have never produced heretofore will give a nice crop this year and help to largely increase the amount annually exported.

Reports which have come to us from England indicate a short crop of apples in that country. Already they are making anxious enquiries about the Nova Scotia prospects for their supply, and the impression is general that prices will be good. With better steamship facilities for quick transit to the British market and cold storage and other improvement in preserving the fruit in warehouses and on the passage, improved prospects will open up to the fruit growers of our country.

Communications have been sent to England asking about the advisability of putting Mediterranean fruit boats on for the apple carrying trade. These boats could load at Kingsport, Horton Landing and other ports in our county. In these boats the fruit would reach England in excellent condition, but the freight rates mentioned are considered too high.

SALMON SHIPMENTS.

Sea shipments of salmon from San Francisco in June were 3,353 cases and 201 packages, valued at $15,122, against 8,189 cases for the same month last year, that total including 775 cases to New York. Embraced in total that month were 2,270 cases to England. Shipments for the first six months of the calendar year were as follows:

	Cases.
Great Britain	25,331
Australia	16,096
New Zealand	3,757
Hawaiian Islands	2,532
China and East Indies	1,418
Central America and Mexico	930
Society Islands	701
New York	8,329
Miscellaneous	1,083
Total	60,177
In 1895	219,622

Also 3,915 packages this year, the whole valued at $217,161, against $924,952 last year.

A FRUIT WINDOW.

SOME years ago, says a writer in Commercial Enquirer, I was visiting a relative who managed a grocery in a Dakota town, and was doing a large business for that section. He had just received a large lot of fruit, and had "opened it up" in the usual style; that is, he had taken the covers off and set the boxes here and there on the floor and counters. There were peaches, oranges, lemons, apples and grapes, in fair condition, but with decayed fruit here and there. One or two customers had bought small quantities, and the goods began to look a little mixed.

"Why don't you give up one window to this fruit?" I asked. "It's a very good lot, and would sell well if displayed properly."

"I haven't got time," said E——. "I wish you'd do it and show us how."

There was still an hour to wait for dinner, and I undertook the job. I cleared out one window, covered the floor with clean, white paper and put in three sugar barrel covers, with fancy paper borders, setting a big earthenware dish in the centre of each. The oranges, lemons and apples were piled on the covers around the dishes. The centre dish was filled to overflowing with peaches, picked over and lightly wiped, and those on either side with clean and perfect muscatel and Tokay grapes. There was little decayed fruit, for the work was done in time. Some small parcels served to fill in and complete the display, and I went to dinner leaving a number of people admiring the fruit window.

After dinner I was kept busy elsewhere a couple of hours, and I got back to the store to find the window practically empty. They said they could have sold a much larger quantity of the finer fruits, and had been very busy until the stock was exhausted.

Nothing sold by the grocer gives him such an opportunity for a splendid display as plenty of fine fruit. With this a little green moss, and vine, maple, oak or carrot leaves, any window can be made a perfect picture of natural loveliness, and sure to attract universal commendation. Such an exhibition will pay every time, especially if the fruit offered for sale is good, ripe, perfect, and sold at its value, plus a fair profit.

THE NORTHERN SALMON PACK.

Most favorable reports have been received from the northern canneries and despite the drawbacks at the beginning of the season it looks as if the present pack will exceed that of last year and be the largest in the history of the northern rivers. Reports received by the ss. Danube place the pack now up at 147,550 cases as follows: Skeena River, including Lowe Inlet, 66,750; Naas, 9,800, and Rivers Inlet, 71,000. Last year the final figures were Skeena, 70,797; Naas, 19,550, and Rivers Inlet, 58,579. Total, 148,926. When the Danube sailed the canners were still packing and all of them expected to fill the tins on hand.

On the Fraser River the run has up to the present been poor, and were it not for the fish procured from the traps at Point Roberts and the Islands the outlook would be worse. A good spurt of sockeye salmon, while eagerly looked for, is very uncertain, and some of the canneries are shipping tins to the Skeena, where they have fish.

Eight new canneries are being operated on the Fraser this season, while two that were run last season are now closed, making a total increase of six, which is no small factor in the division of the fish caught.—B.C. Commercial Journal, July 28.

Hon. John Dryden writes from the Algoma Pioneer Farm that the crops in that vicinity look well and the prospects are bright.

The Executive Committee of the Vancouver Carnival Regatta has invited the Toronto Board of Trade members who are going to British Columbia to inspect the mines, to attend the summer sports, which will begin August 31.

FISH FREEZING.

LAKE fish—whitefish and trout—have been supplied to the markets of the country after the close of the fishing season by the fishermen on the Great Lakes since the year 1868, says a writer in Ice and Refrigeration. Before that time, when navigation closed in the fall with the coming of ice in the straits and the harbors, the supply of fish pretty generally ceased; but in 1868 a few tons of whitefish were frozen artificially, and since then the business has steadily increased from year to year, the estimated quantity handled in 1893 being 3,000 tons.

In freezing fish the stock should be perfectly fresh and should be frozen quickly and at a low temperature, as freezing does not improve the quality of the stock, but simply prevents its decay. The time occupied in freezing in "The Davis Freezing Pans" is generally about six hours, when the pans are properly packed.

These freezing pans are made of No. 24 Junietta galvanized iron, 28 inches long, 14 inches wide and 3 inches deep, fitted with a cover 2½ inches deep. The corners of the cover and pan should be turned, riveted and soldered, so as to be water-tight.

The fish are packed in pans, backs up, so that when the cover is put on it will be in contact with the iron and the freezing mixture in contact with the metal to produce rapid freezing.

After the fish are placed in the pans, these are packed in non-conducting boxes or bins, between alternate layers of fine ice and salt, where they remain until the fish are frozen solid. About thirty pounds of diamond salt to 100 pounds of ice is a good proportion. It should be well mixed, and should be put into the bins in layers about four inches thick, between the two layers of pans. This produces a temperature almost as low as zero F. on the outside surface of the pans, and the fish being in contact with the inside of the pan, it will be readily understood that the fish will freeze very quickly. After the fish are frozen they are removed from the pans to the storage-room.

Naturally, at this low temperature the fish being moist, they freeze solidly together, and also to the pan. To remove them, pour cold water on the pan, which will draw the frost sufficiently from the iron to allow them to be removed without breaking a scale.

After the fish are taken from the freezing pans, it is necessary to put them in the cold storage room as soon as possible, but before they are stored away they should be dipped in ice water for a moment, which will cover them with a film of ice about a thirty-second of an inch in thickness. It makes no difference how low the temperature is, there is a certain amount of evaporation going on all the time, and by coating the fish in this way it prevents the evaporation of the juices of the fish just as long as the coating lasts. Fish frozen and treated in this manner and kept in a temperature of 12 degrees below the freezing point of water, can be perfectly preserved for four or five months in a perfect condition. Fish not treated in this manner in a very short time get discolored and lose their flavor.

The temperature of the storage-room should be about 20 degrees, or 12 degrees below the freezing point. The cakes of fish should be put in boxes, in which case the chances for evaporation are very much reduced, and the fish keep better.

It is best to always freeze fish just as soon as it is possible to get them from the water, since the fresher they are, the finer the flavor, and this flavor does not deteriorate in freezing. It is impossible to put a coating of ice on the fish, after they are taken out of the freezing pans, of sufficient thickness to last for a length of time more than stated, owing to the great evaporation in the storage-rooms.

Fish dry out about two and a half pounds to the hundred in freezing, but gain five pounds in a hundred by the coating process.

It is not necessary to dress fish before freezing. The less fish are handled the firmer they will remain. Fish in the natural state handle and look better than dressed stock.

The above description is freezing by what is known as the dry process, and is used by all dealers in the United States and Canada, all patents having expired.

A process of freezing fish in ice, patented in 1880 by the author, may be deemed worthy of notice. By it the fish are handled and go through the same process of freezing as above described, except that they are packed in fine pulverized ice in the pans before being frozen, and when taken out of the pans the fish are so solidly imbedded and frozen therein that they are a part of the crystallized water, in fact, they are hermetically sealed and incased in a crystal jacket. Fish thus frozen and preserved have all the appearance of stock just taken from the water, as everything belonging to the fish is in the same natural condition that it was when alive in its native element, except that animation is suspended by the packing and refrigerating process; and so long as they are kept in this state there will be no change in their color, texture or taste, for they are hermetically sealed in ice; there is no chance for evaporation to take place, and the fish retain all their flavor and juices, and can be kept for ages in a fresh and perfect state.

"At the beginning of the present century, a Siberian hunter discovered an entire mammoth frozen in a mass of ice, and another has since been found, both of which were so perfectly preserved that microscopic examinations of sections of some of the tissues were able to be made. It was found in Siberia, and the bones were set up and are now in the museum at St. Petersburg," says the "Encyclopedia Britannica," Vol. VIII, 125, ninth edition, under the heading of "Fossil Elephants."

"In 1800 a Russian, Gabriel Sarytschen, discovered the body of a mammoth wrapped in a shroud of ice, and the body was in a complete state of preservation, for the permanent contact of the ice had kept out the air and prevented decomposition; the waters had disengaged the mammoth, which had been imprisoned in ice for thousands of years," says "The World Before the Deluge," by Louis Figuir.

The inference from the quotations is obvious.

COURTESY COSTS NOTHING.

It was in a Lowell grocery store the other day, remarks N.E. Grocer. The customer was a timid, pleading little woman, and the clerk was new and "flip." The lady had bought a pound of tea, and the clerk had done it up for her. The package burst, and the lady said to the clerk, "the paper has broken." "Yes," said the clerk, amiably. The lady looked at the package for a few seconds; pulled off her glove; felt for her pocket book and producing a dime said: "Would you be kind enough to sell me another piece of wrapping paper?" The clerk choked; looked startled; reached for the wrapping paper and passed it over without a word. "How much?" "Oh, nothing." "Thank you," and the lady took the package and paper and went over to another counter and began to do it up. Another clerk saw her and helped her, and the new clerk had such a spell of mortification that he gave the next customer five ounces overweight.

SARDINE FISHERMEN STRIKE.

Cable advices from France state that the sardine fishermen have struck. It was but a few days since that a strike of the solderers in the French sardine factories was settled and work resumed after a long period of idleness. The fishermen object to the present methods of fixing prices on the fish as it arrives at the wharf, and want one of their own choosing to name prices. They are violent in their demands, and only last week, the report says, almost killed one of the managers of a prominent factory because he would not agree to what they asked. The cable states that the value of the fresh fish had doubled within a week. The French market is reported to be bare of boneless sardines. There has been no fishing as yet in Portugal.

The last cargo of Barbadoes molasses received by Laporte, Martin & Cie. proved of unusually fine quality. The firm have only a little of it remaining and will quote it promptly.

Ewing, Herron & Co., Montreal, are offering a lot of brown nutmegs, just turned into stock, at 52½c. At the price the goods are certainly a purchase. Samples sent promptly on application.

"Our experience in handling the 'Crown' brand flavoring extracts has been so satisfactory that we are now pushing them to the exclusion of all others." This is what one of the largest wholesale houses in Canada write to Robert Greig & Co.

Ewing, Herron & Co., St. Paul street, Montreal, have not been able to keep pace with the orders for their new $1 package of French mustard. It is put up in four different patterns of cut glass tumblers, which are as attractive a package as there is on the market.

Hancock & Wood will continue the business of Barff & Co., Ltd., the well known currant packers, of Greece, who went into liquidation. Hancock & Wood were the Patras partners of Barff & Co. P. L. Mason & Co. are the Toronto agents of the new, as they were of the old, firm.

The material used in the manufacture of "Rising Sun" and "Sun Paste" stove polish is imported from Ceylon, India, and goes through a peculiar manipulation at the factory in Canton, Mass. The durable qualities of the stove polish are due to the high quality of the materials used.

LOW PRICE OF MOLASSES.

The Louisiana Planter says: "The low grades of centrifugal molasses are now quoted down to 3c. in New Orleans, which simply pays the cost of the barrel and its transportation to the city, without any consideration whatever for the molasses. As ample experience has now thoroughly proven that a pound of malasses is about equal to a pound of corn in its nutritive effect for stock feed, it would seem very absurd to sell molasses from the plantation at any price under 10c. or 12c. a gallon so long as there is any chance whatever to feed the molasses to live stock. Even on the basis of corn at 28c. a bushel, or ½c. a pound, molasses having a similar value would be worth 6c. for 12 pounds, or 6c. per gallon, plus the 3c. necessary to pay for the barrel and its transportation."

HONEY FOR CANNING FRUITS.

THE honey-raising industry all over the country has acquired a new importance in the fact that packers of fruits are beginning to use it in making a syrup in which to can fruits. If the use of honey for this purpose becomes anything like general, the cultivation of the product will take a decided step forward both in extent and remunerativeness. The fruit canners who have used honey in this fashion are chiefly in California, but the enthusiasm with which they laud their discovery will probably soon induce canners in other sections to adopt it also. Honey is said to leave nothing to be desired in the matter of perfect preserving, keeping quality and flavor.

California at present supplies the bulk of the honey used in this country, but there seems to be no special reason why it should do so. If the demand for the product increases, through its use in canning fruits, other states all over the country will begin to produce also.

The production of honey has been practised for the past forty years in California upon what might be termed a very loose system. There has never been a season since the state has been extensively stocked with bees that the output of honey could be definitely ascertained, and for statistics in relation to shipments we have to depend upon figures from the various transportation lines. The same lack of system and uncertainty prevails in relation to the number of colonies of bees owned, and even the number of persons engaged in the business is largely a conjecture. In Southern California there are over 1,000 bee-keepers, and the product, as far as can be ascertained from railroad statistics, is over 7,000,000 pounds for the year 1895.—Grocery World.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE AND THE LONDON TIMES.

Only Canada, among the colonies, is really desirous of a zollverein, and as the conditions of trade with Canada are altogether artificial, it behooves us to diagnose more fully the nature and extent of the causes which preclude the suggestion of a zollverein before consenting to a change in the whole fiscal system of the Empire. It will be strange if the Laurier Government, pledged as it is to the tradition of free trade, does not place greater reliance upon the relief obtainable by improved steamship and cable services than by creating obstacles in the erection of new tariff walls between Great Britain and her neighbors. This may do us a vital injury, and restrict our relations with foreign countries.

THIS, according to a cable despatch, appeared in The London (England) Times of July 27. With its pronunciamento that the question should be diagnosed more fully before it is adopted we quite agree. Canada, as well as Great Britain, should become seized of all the facts and possibilities before committing itself to a scheme which must necessarily make great inroads upon her fiscal policy. But we arrive at this conclusion from a different source than does The London Times.

Its conclusion is based on the premise that "the conditions of trade with Canada are altogether artificial." If we understand this clearly it means that Great Britain's trade with Canada, imports as well as exports, is "altogether artificial."

Our conclusion as to the necessity of a careful diagnosis of the matter is based upon the business principle that in making a deal we should be careful that we do not get the worst of the bargain. If we do not receive the quid pro quo in some way or other, we do not want preferential trade. A business man would be a fool to enter into an arrangement with a second party whereby he would yearly be made poorer. The wise arrangement, the just arrangement, is that which will produce mutual advantages.

As to Great Britain's trade with Canada being "altogether artificial," we are by no means ready to acknowledge. It is, of course, not altogether natural. But where are the two countries to-day whose trade with one another is altogether natural?

One nation has a Customs tariff for protection and revenue both; another has one which is for revenue producing only. Great Britain's is of the latter description; Canada's is of the former.

By her Customs revenue tariff Great Britain last year raised £20,501,180, or something like $2.50 per head of population. The amount raised by Canada the same year was $3.25 per head. Although per head of population Great Britain's Customs tax is 30 per cent. less than Canada's, it does not prevent it from being characterized as an interference with the naturalness of trade.

Naturally the Canadian tariff is a greater barrier against British goods than is the British tariff against Canadian goods. The British tariff is levied only against beer, chicory, cocoa, chocolate, coffee, currants, figs, plums, prunes, raisins, spirits, tea, tobacco, wines. We last year exported to Great Britain $39,256 worth of whiskey, $5,685 worth of tobacco and manufactures of, and $1,496 worth of wines. But this was about the sum total of our exports to that country which were subject to a tax on arriving there.

Altogether natural the trade between Canada and Great Britain decidedly is not. But it does not follow that it is, as The Times says it is, "altogether artificial." But granted, for the sake of argument, that it is as the "Thunderer" says it is; is that not really a good and sufficient reason for the establishment of the zollverein?

A zollverein, or preferential trade, as you may choose to call it, would entail the departure of Canada and the rest of the colonies who shared in its provisions from the high protectionist tariff now obtaining, at least as far as their attitude toward the Mother Land was concerned.

Mr. Chamberlain has clearly laid down the principle that the colonial tariffs must be revenue tariffs, not protectionist tariffs. But altogether aside from what Mr. Chamberlain has said, it is well understood that for any preferential privileges we may obtain in the British market we must accord the quid pro quo in the shape of a lower tariff on British goods.

In its essence, therefore, a zollverein such as that suggested between Great Britain and her colonies is a step in the direction of freer trade. In other words, making trade within the Empire more natural. Hence, for this very reason, it should receive the approval, instead of the disapproval, of The London Times.

As far as the Laurier Government is concerned, the Premier only a day or so before The Times' article was penned, declared in favor of preferential trade with Great Britain. And then if the "conditions of trade with Canada are altogether artificial," what is the use of the Government spending its energy in seeking relief by improved steamship and cable service?

To our mind that is grappling with an evil at its apex instead of at its base. A zollverein, on the other hand, would be beginning at the base.

THE SALMON PACK.

A NUMBER of mail advices have been received on the Toronto market this week regarding the salmon situation in British Columbia.

Their purport is to the effect that the run on the Fraser is poor and that on the northern rivers good. The run on the Fraser is declared by one correspondent to be the worst ever known.

Up to the end of July the pack on the Fraser had only reached 25,000 cases, and, judging from the correspondence, the canners there are feeling blue, fearing that they may not be able to fill their orders.

The total pack of salmon in British Columbia last year was 600,889 cases. Of this about 72 per cent. was packed on the Fraser river.

Notwithstanding the strength of the situation, buyers are not disposed to make purchases. They argue that while there may be a light pack on the Fraser, and hence a scarcity of what is termed No. 1 fish, there is likely to be a good pack on the northern rivers and enough to go around.

There are times when business men must move with more than usual caution. Speculation is dangerous. There is yet another month before the packing season ends, and the run between now and then may be large, even on the Fraser, and the trade is wise rather than otherwise in deciding not to anticipate its wants to any extent.

But whatever the future may bring forth, it is evident that the market is at the moment strong, and is likely to remain so for some time at any rate.

HE SHOULD RESIGN.

A Montreal firm has trouble with a Canadian Senator. He has owed them $3.39 for three years. He does not refuse to pay, but says times are so hard that he cannot do so.

Such a man is a disgrace to the Senate. No one should be appointed to that body who has not ample means to enable him to devote his time to the service of his country. If he has not he should be attending to his private affairs. If he lacks the ability to carry on business enough to enable him to pay his debts, he has not the ability necessary to assist in managing the business of the country, and should resign.

It is common talk that the late Government arranged with a wealthy Conservative to allow a Senator to resign in his favor, on condition that the latter would pay $30,000 of the Senator's debts and contribute handsomely to the campaign funds. The retiring Senator was to be provided with an easy position in the public service.

AN OLD CURRANT FIRM LIQUIDATES.

The well-known fruit packing firm of Barff & Co., Ltd., of Patras, Greece, will soon be numbered with the things of the past. The firm has decided to go into liquidation.

The announcement will no doubt cause universal regret. Barff & Co. have been in business for eighty years, and during that time have earned a reputation for the quality of their goods and their honest business methods.

The firm was organized at Zante in 1816 by Samuel Barff, the British consul there. The British consul at Patras was also associated with him. These were afterwards joined by Thomas Hancock. Some years ago the firm became a joint stock company, but most of the stock was held by the descendants of the original founders ; and so it continued to be, up to the time of going into liquidation.

Ever since the firm began business in 1816 it has issued an annual report regarding the currant crop of Greece, and a perusal of these reports show that the production of this fruit has increased from 8,542 tons in 1816, to 170,000 tons in 1895, or nearly 20-fold of an increase.

Although Barff & Co. have gone out of existence, the business which they conducted will be continued by Hancock & Wood, for many years the resident Patras partners of the firm. This house will continue the Greek connection, and ship under the brands of the late firm.

VALENCIA SHELLED ALMONDS.

An order cabled from Toronto has led to the discovery of the fact that Valencia shelled almonds are exhausted in Spain, there being orders there which cannot be executed.

Stocks on the Toronto market are rather light, and the new crop will not arrive till October next. It is expected that by that time the trade will be hungry for Valencia shelled almonds.

HEAVY IMPORTS OF RAW SUGAR.

CANADIAN refined sugar has taken another tumble of 1-16 to ⅛c. both on granulated and yellows at the Montreal refineries, and it is not at all certain that it has touched bed rock yet.

There are two reasons for the feverish feeling advanced. First, the uncertainty as to what the Government will do, and second, the exceptionally heavy stock of raw material which the refiners have on hand to work into refined sugar.

The quantity of raw sugar entered at the Custom House at Montreal so far this summer exceeds in quantity that of any other previous year. For instance, from July 23 to date no less than 41,277,061 pounds of raw sugar have arrived at that port, and every available inch of space at both the Canada and St. Lawrence refineries is packed with raw sugar, over $200,000 having been paid in duty alone since July 23.

The first ship to enter port this year with a sugar cargo was the Feliciana on May 4. She had on board 25,000 bags. The next was on May 6, which was the ss. Sicilian, with 13,000 bags.

Then followed the Sutherland on May 11, with 32,264 bags ; then ss. Bjorgvin with 35,000 bags. The ss. North Flint, already mentioned in these columns, arrived from Egypt on May 15 with one of the finest cargoes of raw sugar ever in port. May 27 brought the steamships Lorstakken and Queen Adelaide.

Then followed on June 1, ship Kingsport ; June 2, ss. Isis; July 4, bark Strathern, and on July 6, ship St. Francis.

Following these vessels came the extraordinary arrivals before spoken of. These include the ss. Sicilia, with 5,000 bags ; ss. Loanda, 75,704 mats ; ss. Rhosina, 96,319 mats; ss. Mareca, 26,712 bags; ss. Athelie, 30,000 bags ; s. Olof Kyrrie, 39,942 bags ; ship Selkirk, 86,613 mats, and ss. Baltimore City, 5,000 bags.

The cargoes have averaged more than 3,000 tons each. Nearly all of these vessels which have come to this port sugar-laden, have shipped a return cargo of lumber for South American ports.

The refiners, it is claimed, are anxious to work up and reduce this large stock of the raw article they have on hand as fast as possible. For this reason it is believed that no advance or improvement in values is possible.

SAULT STE. MARIE MERCHANTS ORGANIZE.

The retailers of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., have formed an association for mutual protection against slow and doubtful debtors, and also to curtail the illegitimate competition of pedlars, agents and transient traders, both Canadian and American.

THE CANADIAN GROCER congratulates the merchants of Sault Ste. Marie on the wisdom of their step and trusts they may attain their object.

CALIFORNIA LOOSE MUSCATELS.

The outlook for California loose muscatels favors higher prices. Advices under date of July 27 state that loose muscatels will be extremely scarce and that shipments during the first half of October will not be large.

The crop, it seems, is estimated at from 700 to 1,000 carloads short of last year, and prices are expected to rule about ¾c. above the opening figures of last season.

Last year money was lost by indiscriminate consignments, but as many of the firms who were in business then are now out of it, packers are looking for more satisfactory results during the next campaign.

SHORT JAPAN TEA CROP.

The Japan tea market has assumed increased strength. The cause, according to advices received in Toronto this week, is a shortness in the crop.

The shortage is said to be from fifty to sixty thousand piculs, or between six and seven million pounds.

One advice states that there is a possibility of there being no third crop of tea.

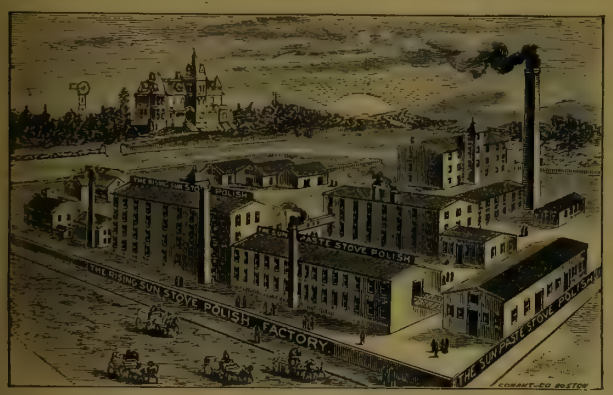
As far as can be ascertained, purchases of Japan tea on the Toronto market have so far this season been unusually small. A good many wholesalers appear to have been holding off with the expectation that prices would be lower later on, but the outlook now indicates conditions the very contrary.

WITH THE RETAILERS.

Ernst & Cressmann have bought out Rieder & Ruby, of New Hamburg.

Kane & Kane, Orillia, will in the course of a few weeks occupy their handsome new store opposite the Orillia House.

Wiley & Co., of Gravenhurst, have enlarged what was already a spacious grocery department. The addition is about thirty feet.



James Blain, of Gilford & S. Boddy, of Bradford, who are partners in a good many things, attended the Mulock picnic the other day.

W. Preston, of Playfair, Preston & Co., Ltd., Midland, is taking a much-needed holiday. THE CANADIAN GROCER wishes him success in his search for bass.

THE RISING SUN AND SUN PASTE STOVE POLISH FACTORY.

THE truthful illustration below of the establishment of Morse Brothers, at Canton, Mass., represents the largest stove polish works in the world. The Rising Sun stove polish is a household word and has been for many years in every English-speaking country on the face of the earth. Sixty-one thousand cases of this article were sold in London, England, last year, which gives some idea of its enormous sale in this and other lands.

The factory, an illustration of which is found below, covers four acres, contains 4,000,000 bricks, is run by two engines and five boilers, with a united capacity of 300 horse power. The chimney of the works, as seen in the cut, is one of the tallest in Eastern Massachusetts and is a land mark for miles around. The factory has a capacity of ten tons of stove polish per day, and within the last few years it has been found necessary to run it night and day some of the time, to meet the demand. Eight hundred cords of lumber are used annually in the manufacture of boxes for this establishment.

The machinery, ovens, conveyers, elevators and fixtures are all planned on original and scientific principles, especially adapted to the business, and the daily output has now reached immense proportions that astonish the visitor who may chance to visit these works. Twenty-three millions of packages were turned out in twelve months, and the packages if placed end to end would reach 1,000 miles—say from New York to Chicago, or from Boston to Cleveland and back again.

The Rising Sun stove polish in cakes is undoubtedly the most durable, economical and satisfactory article of its kind made in any land or country. Morse Brothers have recently added to their business a new branch, viz., the "Sun Paste Stove Polish," which is as much better than any other paste polish as Rising Sun stove polish in cakes is better than any other cake polish. It is put up in 5 and 10 cent boxes, it is more attractive in style, larger in quantity, and better in quality than any other paste polish. It will not eat or rust the box, and will not dry up while the box remains covered. Morse Brothers recommend the Rising Sun stove polish in cakes for general blacking and for durability and economy. It is applied and polished with a brush. The Sun Paste can be applied and polished with either brush or cloth and they recommend it for an after dinner shine and to touch up spots. The Sun Paste stove polish has already acquired a large sale and is rapidly increasing. The readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER will take notice that the above statements are truthful. We doubt if any legitimate business was ever set ahead by bombast, falsehood, lying and deception. The house has been in business for forty years, and invites the numerous readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER to an examination of their products, and solicits their custom and patronage.

FREIGHT ON TEA.

With a view to diverting the bulk of the tea trade from the Suez route and from Puget Sound ports to San Francisco, and making that city the tea-distributing point for the country the Southern Pacific and its connections, excepting the Union Pacific, have announced a reduction of from 33⅓ to 50 per cent. on the freight rates on that commodity. The lines co-operating are the Southern Pacific, Rio Grande Western, Denver and Rio Grande, Colorado Midland, Burlington & Missouri River, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, the Southern Pacific company's Atlantic system, via New Orleans, the Atlantic & Pacific, and the Sante Fe. A special rate is made on tea from California terminals to all points in the territory extending from Colorado to Chicago and points common therewith, and from Wisconsin to New Orleans.

AN UNWISE CLERK.

FOLLOWING out the ideas expressed in the article in the last issue, relative to the grocer who thought he could start in business with $200 capital, another instance of the futility of insufficient capital was brought to our attention last week, says Grocery World.

In a good-sized country town was a prosperous grocery store. In it was employed a young man who had become a first-class solicitor; that is, he could get a great deal of trade for his employer by going out after orders. Into the ear of this young man, a salesman who had an eye to the main chance, one day poured a roseate story of the money to be made from a store of his own. "You've got all this trade you've built up," argued the salesman, "why not open a little store of your own and profit by it yourself?"

The young man listened to the salesman's sophistries, and not seeing that the advice was poor, and that all the salesman was after was to gain a new customer, scraped together about $200, and opened a little store not far from his former employer's. For a while he prospered. The trade he had secured went with him, and he soon began to dream dreams of wealth and affluence. His friend the salesman procured him a moderate credit, and so things went on. After a little while—he did a credit business—one of his customers had a severe illness, and was in consequence unable to pay his grocery bill, another got out of work, the money from others couldn't be collected at the proper moment, and in a little while the young ship went to pieces on the rock of insufficient capital and indiscriminate credits. The young grocer had no money he could turn over, and it took but a very little while to reach the end of his rope.

Moral: Be sure you have enough capital; then go ahead.

UNSETTLED MARKET FOR LIMA BEANS.

ACCORDING to the advices received here recently from California, there will be a large crop of lima beans this year. In spite of increasing consumption of the dried beans in the east and in other sections, the supply seems to have exceeded requirements, and prices have been more or less in buyers' favor during the past season at least. To-day dried lima beans are selling on the spot at the low price of $1.60 to $1.70 per bushel. Lower prices may have been named in individual instances in the past, under pressure to sell on a dull market; but never before, it is said, have quotations generally been so low as at present.

The depression in the market arises chiefly from the fact that buyers are unwilling to enter into contracts for future delivery while the outlook for the future in financial and political questions is so uncertain. Apart from this is the fact that, according to all reports, the crop this year will be unusually large, and that there is moreover a large carry-over of last year's crop on the Coast, the quantity now there being estimated at about 300 cars.

Opening prices made on the new crop are unprecedentedly low, but in line with all other California products. For October shipment 2c. per pound, or the equivalent of $1.50 per bushel here, is named, while last year's crop is offered for immediate shipment at $2.10 f. o. b. per hundred pounds. So far as we have learned, very few sales for future delivery have been made. On the spot the stock is concentrated, and most holders want $1.70, but at the same time there are sellers at $1.65 to $1.67½ for immediate delivery. Buyers show little interest, and the market is in an unsettled condition.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THERE is a better feeling on the market this week. Two causes have contributed to that. First, the beginning of a new month usually brings an improved demand, and then the outside sugar markets have taken a turn for the better. The demand for sugar is fairly good, but prices on the Canadian market are a little lower. Salmon is one of the chief features of the market, the demand being active and prices strong. Pickling spices are receiving increased attention. The tea market is in fairly good condition, with the feeling stronger regarding certain growths. A good demand is still to be noted for currants. Trade is still active in green fruits, both foreign and domestic, and both lemons and oranges are dearer. In butter, prices are a little higher on rolls, but the market is still on the whole unsatisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

Salmon is the feature of the market, the demand for which is active and prices firm. As noted elsewhere, the pack on the Fraser is poor, but that on the northern rivers good. Stocks of No. 1 canned lobster are light, with prices firm. Canned tomatoes and corn are being freely offered by packers, but the jobbers are still holding off. Wholesalers are experiencing a fair demand from country points for canned tomatoes, peas and corn, but there is not much doing in the cities in these lines. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

There is a fairly good trade doing for this time of the year. We quote green in bags: Rio, 17 to 20c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Business is still quiet. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Very little doing. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets have improved during the past week, both in raws and refined. Towards the latter part of the week granulated and yellows advanced ⅛c. per lb. in New York, and the opening of the present week saw an appreciation of 1-16c. in some kinds of yellows. Stocks of raw sugars in New York are understood to be light. Prices in Canada have again suffered a slight decline, and ruling quotations on the local market are 4.35 to 4.40c. for granulated, and 3.35 to 3.75c. for yellows.

SPICES.

A fairly good trade is reported in pickling spice. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Tapioca for delivery January 1 next is very low. For present delivery, however, there is no change. The local demand for rice, tapioca and sago continues good. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Old stock of Valencia shelled almonds is exhausted in Spain. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Second crop Japan teas are coming on the market, and they are receiving some attention from retailers at from 18 to 22c. In both cup and style the quality is good. The tendency of the market in regard to Japan teas is upward. The Ceylon market is a little dearer in London. Locally the trade in Ceylon teas has been principally in low grades. The first new season's China black teas have arrived in stock during the week. They are showing good cup quality and a little better value than last year. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants continue in good demand at unchanged prices. We quote wholesale prices as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are quiet and unchanged. Mail advices from California, under date of July 27th, report that loose muscatels will be extremely scarce, and that the quantity shipped during the first half of October will be large. We quote: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.; Sultana raisins 5½ to 6c., according to quality.

Prunes are quiet, and some low prices are being quoted with a view to reducing stocks. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

Dates are quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

California evaporated fruits are dull. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Both oranges and lemons are dearer, with the demand good. There is an abundance of all domestic fruits on the market and prices in some lines fluctuate a great deal, some days there being two or three changes. Apples are a drug upon the market, barrels being sold as low as 50c. Plums are not yet receiving much attention, but when the regular preserving demand sets in higher prices are looked for. Domestic pears are beginning to arrive on the market. We quote: Lemons — Messina, $3.50 for 360's and $4 for 300's. Oranges —Sorrentos, $5 to $5.25 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.65; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per dozen; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 15c. per dozen; tomatoes, Canadian, 50 to 60c. per basket; watermelons, 20 to 30c. each; raspberries, 4 to 5c.; apples, Canadian, 8 to 20c. per basket, and 50c. to $1 per bbl.; pears, 20 to 40c. per basket; Lawton berries, 4 to 5c.; peaches, 25 to 40c. per basket; plums, 50 to 70c.; blueberries, 50 to 60c. for dry, and 30 to 40c. for wet; corn, 6 to 8c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Pound prints, both dairy and creamery, are quoted higher, the demand being chiefly for them. Tub butter is slow of sale, and a great deal of the dairy tub coming forward is poor in quality. Choice dairy tubs would sell readily. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 10 to 12c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 13 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 15 to 16c.; 1-lb. blocks, 17 to 18c., according to make.

CHEESE—The demand is not brisk. As the British market continues low, a great deal of the cheese being bought is going into cold storage. The ruling jobbing price is 7 to 7½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—As is usual at this time of the year, there is scarcely anything doing, and prices are low at 65 to 75c. per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—There have been a few offers of new dried apples during the week, but we hear of no transactions. Old stock is dull and weak at from 2¾ to 3½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—There is no change, and we still quote 5½ to 6c. as the ruling price.

EGGS—Trade is particularly bad. Eggs fit for bakers' use have offered at 5c. and been refused. The ruling price for fresh stock is 8½ to 9c.

HONEY—New honey is offering freely, but there is very little selling. Sections are quoted at $1.75 and strained at 8 to 9c.

POTATOES — Dull at 30 to 40c. per bushel.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for smoked meats continues brisk, with medium hams scarce and dearer.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10 to 10½c.; small hams, 10½c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD— Pure Canadian, tierces, 6¾c.; tubs, 7c.; pails, 7¼c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

FISH.

Trade is still quiet. Restigouche salmon is about out of the market and prices are higher. Pike is also a little dearer. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6 to 6½c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

SALT.

Trade is much about the same as a week ago. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Deliveries are light. We quote: White wheat, 66½ to 67c.; red, 63c.; goose, 50 to 52c.; oats, 23 to 24c.; peas, 50 to 51½c.

BALED HAY—Slow at $11 to $11.50 per ton.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Trade continues moderate, with prices much as before. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; rolled wheat, $2.10 to $2.25;

FLOUR—The market still rules quiet, with straight rollers quoted quiet at $3.10 to $3.15.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are unchanged, with cured quoted at 6¾ to 7c. Dealers pay 6½c. for No. 1, 5½c. for No. 2, and 4½c. for No. 3.

CALFSKINS—Market is dull at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2. Lambskins are firm at 40c. and pelts at 25c.

WOOL—Receipts are fair and prices unchanged. Fleece brings 18 to 19c.; rejections, 15c., and unwashed, 11c. Pulled supers are 20 to 20½c., and extras, 21 to 21½c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 3½ to 4c. for rendered and 1¼ for rough.

PETROLEUM.

Trade, if anything, is a little better than it was a week ago. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Butter in pound prints is dearer.

Ceylon teas are a little dearer in London.

Tapioca for delivery in January is very low.

Eggs are weak and lower at 8½ to 9c. for fresh.

Oranges and lemons are both quoted higher.

Higher prices are looked for in regard to glucose.

California loose muscatel raisins will rule about ¾c. per lb. higher than last year.

Sugar is firmer outside, but quotations in Canada are slightly lower than a week ago.

Medium-sized smoked hams, which are scarce, have been advanced ½ to 1c. per lb.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has been a fairly active one in one or two leading staples, but an unsettled feeling prevails in regard to sugar. Refineries have again cut their price on this article, and it is not at all certain that it will not go even lower. An active distributing demand is experienced, however, despite the decline. There has been a fairly active week in tea, while coffee exhibits an easier tendency. Dried fruit continues steady to firm, and the prospects do not indicate low prices either on new crop California or Mediterranean fruit, either in raisins or currants. Canned goods show little life, the large stocks which most wholesalers carried over being a weight on the market. Produce and provisions show little sign of improvement.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has shown marked weakness since last report and both granulated and low-grade yellows declined at the refineries at the close of last week. This is due to the weakness in raw and the large stocks of it which refiners here have on hand. The decline is all the more noticeable, inasmuch as a good active enquiry has been experienced for sugar during the week, and prices in a jobbing way are not shaded materially. We quote : Granulated, 4⅜c., and yellows, 3⅛ to 3¾c.

SYRUPS.

Refiners hold fair stocks of syrups, for which the demand is very limited. Still the tone is steady and values are maintained at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb., according to grade.

MOLASSES.

In a round way between large dealers there has been more doing in molasses, but in a strictly jobbing sense the market is quiet. Round lots of Barbadoes have sold at 28c., and Porto Rico at 29c. In a jobbing way we quote values on both 30 to 31c., according to quality.

RICE.

There is a good demand for rice, and prices are well maintained. We quote : Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

Business in spices remains quiet and of a small jobbing character. There is no change whatever in values. We quote : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c. ; pure white, 15 to 22c. ; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c. ; cloves, 15 to 20c. ; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c. ; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c. ; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb. ; allspice, 10 to 14c. ; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market is without improvement, with a slow demand and more liberal offerings, holders being disposed to make concessions. We quote prices rather easier in consequence, as follows : Rio, 17 to 18c. ; Maracaibo, 18 to 18½c. ; Java, 28c. ; and Mocha, 29c.

TEAS.

There has been a good active business transacted in teas, both from first and second hands and the movement is still maintained. Low-grade and medium Japans in 50 and 100 package lots have shown the most activity at prices ranging all the way from 15c. to 17c. New samples of China tea to hand this week from Vancouver show good value. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The first receipts of California raisins are expected here earlier than anticipated a week or so ago, recent reports from the Coast being of a decidedly altered tenor. The crop, however, will only be about three-quarters of last year, so it looks as though the speculative offers noted previously by THE GROCER were low. Demand for actual wants now is fair and spot stocks continue very light. We quote : 2-crown, 4½ to 5c. ; 3-crown, 5¾ to 6c.

Valencia raisins are firm and unchanged at 4½c. for common off-stalk and 5c. for fine. Very few selected are available here, and are held at 6c.

There is no change in currants, and nothing has been noted in an export way on spot in new crop. From New York, however, business is advised at 8s. 6d. August shipment, which is considered rather high. We quote 4½ to 5½c., according to grade.

Prunes continue quiet and firm, French 5½c. and Austrian 6c., while California range from 7 to 12c. according to quality.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 10 to 11½c. ; filberts, 7½ to 8c. ; Tarragona almonds, 10 to 10½c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is little improvement in canned goods. This is chiefly due to the ample stocks which most wholesale dealers carry. The advance in lobsters is maintained, in fact prices are pointing higher. New canned salmon remains in the same position, no orders having been placed for forward delivery. Ordinary brands are still offering at $4.50 f.o.b. Coast, and "Clover Leaf" $5.50 for flats and $6 for talls delivered in Montreal. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c. ; corn, 65c. ; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary ; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35 ; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50 ; beans, 70c. up ; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's ; raspberries, $1.40 to $2 ; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality ; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20 ; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45 ; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25 ; pumpkins, 75 to 85c. ; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45 ; "Clover Leaf," $1.35 ; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40 ; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20 ; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20 ; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25 ; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25 ; 6's, $6.75 to $7 ; 14's, $14 to $15 ; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has been quite active, and with heavy receipts of seasonable fruits, prices on such have varied very frequently. At this writing values stand about as follows: Peaches, 70c. per box ; pears, $1.45 to $1.80 ; plums, 70c. to $1.65 ; American apples, $2.35 to $2.70 per barrel ; Canadian apples, $1.80 to $2.20 ; tomatoes in crates, 60 to 77½c. ; dried apples, 3 to 3½c. ; evaporated, 5½ to 6c. ; bananas, 75c. to $1 ; pineapples, 6¼ to 10c. ; lemons, $2 to $3.50 ; oranges, $2 to $3.75, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market is without change, candled stock selling at 9 to 9½c. and seconds, 8 to 8½c.

BEANS—Without change, at 70 to 75c., in carlots, and 80 to 90c. in small packages.

POTATOES—New potatoes continue the same at $1 to $1.50 per bbl.

TALLOW—Dull but steady at 4 to 5½c.

HOPS—Featureless, at 5c. to 7c., as to quality.

HONEY—Receipts of new comb honey are arriving freely, and selling at 12½ to 15c. for bright, and dark stock 8 to 9c.

BALED HAY—There is no change in baled hay. We quote $13 for No. 1 and $10 to $10.25 for No. 2.

PROVISIONS.

The continued weakness created a weak feeling in this market, and it is reported that round lots of Canadian clear and mess pork have been offered at a further decline of 50c. per barrel without meeting with buyers. Lard is quiet and about steady, while the demand for hams and bacon continues good, and a fairly active business is doing at steady prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $10.50 to $11; Canadian short cut, mess, $11 to $11.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The tone of the flour market is firm, and sellers have been more disposed to hang on for outside prices this week than formerly. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.60 to $3.75; straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.40.

There was no change in oatmeal to note. The demand continues slow, and business is of a small jobbing character. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

There continues to be an active demand for feed, and sales are being made freely at firm prices. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market seems to be started on another advance, if the transactions in the country Saturday and the buying at the wharf here are any criterion. On the other hand, the statement was made quite as frequently as last week that there was no encouragement in the legitimate demand. Based on the prices paid on Saturday and to-day, the market is a 7c. to 7¼c. one, at the very outside, but whether such prices can be made over the cable in a regular way or not is another matter. The sales at the wharf Monday morning comprised 5,000 boxes, the ruling price being 7c. This is an advance of ¼c. per pound.

Butter is steady, with a fair demand for finest creamery at 16½c. to 16¾c.

ASHES.

The ashes market is quiet, and steady at the decline. We quote: Firsts, $3.30 to $3.40; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.50 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

New season's French prunes are offered at 23s. 9d. per 50 kilos, f.o.b. Bordeaux.

The first new samples of China tea have arrived during the week. They show good value.

It now appears that receipts of new crop California raisins will be received earlier than first expected.

Olive oil, young Messina, is quoted at 64s. 6d. per 100 kilos, c.i.f. Montreal, and Russian at 66s. 9d. c.i.f.

Sicily filberts for immediate shipment are quoted at 46s. per 100 kilos, c.i.f. Montreal, and 44s. 3d. for October shipment.

Reports just to hand to J. Taylor, 261 Commissioner street, Montreal, from Patras say that the weather is now favorable for the new crop of currants, and that shipments will begin about the 15th and 20th of August. With decreased stocks held in foreign markets and a smaller expected yield, average prices are expected to be higher than last season.

Sicily almonds for immediate shipment are offered at 94s. 3d. per 100 kilos, c.i.f. Montreal, and for October shipment at 94s. c.i.f. Montreal.

C.i.f. quotations on new Smyrna figs are quoted this week as follows: First quality extra fancy layers, 33s.; 2nd, superior, 29s.; 3rd, choice, 26s., and natural figs in bags, 12s. 6d.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 6, 1896.

THERE is a rather better feeling in business circles during the past week. There is a feeling that markets have touched bottom. Already in some lines there is a firmness, while in a few cases higher prices are asked. The sale of fall goods continues, particularly dried fruit; little has, however, as yet been done in raisins. New season's teas continue to come in, and reports of quality are very favorable; considerable business is being done. A number of our large retailers import direct, through our wholesale grocers, the teas coming in under their own marks. Quite an interest has been felt by many of our merchants to know, if the States should adopt free silver, how their life insurance would be paid. Many companies have instructed their agents to say payment would be made in gold. Bargain days are becoming quite popular with the dry goods men here, and the hardwaremen are also tending that way in some cases. We may expect to see the grocers follow suit.

OIL—The movement in burning oil shows little improvement as yet. The Nova Scotia demand is rather better than that from this province. Prices tend easy, but as yet show no change here. We quote: American burning oil, 22½c.; best Canadian, 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—Stocks of coarse are quite small, and prices are held firm and rather higher. There is a rather better demand. Small quantities continue to arrive via Boston. The stock of fine is much larger in comparison than that of coarse. For Canadian salt there is a good general demand. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3 to $3.25; 10-lb. bags in bbls.; $2.75 to $3; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.65 to $2.70 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—Wholesale dealers have bought about full stocks; quantities are smaller than usual. There is now considerable competition among them to sell the retailers, and in some cases quotations at cost, and even lower, are reported. As noted, the presence of some old corn here, bought low, makes a rather unfair competition with the new. Peas are easy. In this line there is a great difference in quality. Tomatoes are held firmer, but in round lots all three lines are quoted at same price. There is some little present spot demand for gallon apples, but at this season it lasts only a short time. Salmon are held firm, and higher prices are rather expected. Sale of canned beef tends lighter. Oysters also are a light demand. We quote as follows: Corn, 70 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; peaches, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.25 to $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—There is little really new, but a very active business is being done. Apples, both American and Canadian, are now having a free sale. There is a large demand for pears. The retail price of best qualities continues at about 25c. per doz. Peaches in baskets are now arriving. For California plums there is a fair sale. In apricots none are arriving. In vegetables our own province now supplies the market to a very large extent. Shipments west of wild strawberries and raspberries continue very large. Cherries are about over. Not near as many came from Nova Scotia as last year; the black are much preferred. The crop of red in New Brunswick exceeded the demand. About all fruit except lemons is quoted lower. We quote: Lemons, $4 to $4.50; Valencia oranges, $9 to $9.50; bananas, $1 to $2; cucumbers, 50c. per doz.; tomatoes, 3c. per lb.; California peaches, $1.50 to $2; cherries, 20 to 30c.; plums, $1.50 to $2; melons, 35 to 40c.

DRIED FRUIT—There is a good demand, for this season, in raisins and currants. Stocks of raisins are very light. There is quite a feeling in favor of the California product. The prices of those to hand are below opening price of last year. Very little business is yet reported in futures. Our merchants have about all bought their first shipments of figs, it is reported, at low prices. They have also begun to buy French prunes for September shipment. These have an advantage in duty of one-third over other importations. New dates are not yet quoted; they are not shipped till October. There is quite a quantity of Nova Scotia dried apples held here. There has been a very light demand this season, and it is now late. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c. to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 2c.; Bermuda onions, $1 to $1.25 per crate; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE — Cheese continues to come in freely and there is a fair demand. Price keeps low. Very little advance can be got for twins over price asked for large. In butter there is a rather better demand, but no improvement in price, which is low. Creamery dull. Eggs have fair sale at even prices. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c.; creamery rolls, 18 to 19c.; do. tubs, 16 to 17c. Eggs are steady at 8 to 9c. Cheese, 8 to 8½c.

SUGAR—There is a more hopeful feeling than for some time, though as yet prices here show no advance. The berry season did not bring as large a demand as usual. There are still fair stocks here. Refiners hold firm. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4¾c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES — Prices show no change. Quantity brought by West India steamer this trip was less than was expected, which was good news to holders. Except Porto Rico, stock held here is not large. It is said there is Porto Rico yet to arrive. We quote: Barbadoes, 26 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 32 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 34c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; St. Croix, 25 to 26c.

FISH—In salmon the catch is about over, and as a consequence prices are higher. Although the catch was very large prices were so low it can hardly be called a successful season. Shad are being caught freely and prices are easy. Those caught now are sold fresh; packing will, however, soon begin. Some extra quality fish are being caught. In dry cod there is a continued better feeling. Large are scarce. They are not as salable in this market as the medium size. The new fish, as yet, come in slowly. Pollock are but fair sale. In pickled fish bay herring is the only new goods in the market. They are the poorest pickled herring we get, but the price sells them. Spring caught shad are offered. A few old Shelburnes are still to be had. Smoked herrings show no improvement.

We quote: Large cod, $3.25 to $3.50; medium, $3 to $3.10; pollock, $1.20 to $1.35; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.50; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; $1.65 half bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 15c.

PROVISIONS—Said a large dealer to THE GROCER: "Could I but get cost for my pork and sugar I would be happy, at least for a time." There is still a quantity of old pork and lard here. Holders are anxious to sell. Beef shows less change. Smoked meat is quiet but rather firm. We quote: Clear pork, $12.50 to $13; mess, $12.75 to $13; plate beef, $12.25 to $13.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7½ to 8c.; compound, 6½ to 7c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the feeling is upward, and Ontarios are slightly higher and firmer. At this writing Manitobas are unchanged, though several times reported higher. Oats and oatmeal are firmer. Western people do not seem anxious to sell oats. In cornmeal the low price continues to make a very large demand, but there is no change. Beans are again easy, and dealers here are accepting low prices for round lots. New hay is coming in slowly and holds its price well We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.20; medium, $3.95 to $4.10; oatmeal, $3 to $3.15; cornmeal, $1.95 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $14.50 to $15.50; bran, do do, $13.50 to $14; handpicked beans, 90c.; prime, 80c.; oats, 30 to 32c.; hay, $14 to $15; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Middleton station this year shows shipments of over 1,000 crates of strawberries.

W. P. Innes, representing the Simcoe Canning Co., is in the city. I. C. Bowman is the local representative.

C. & E. Macmichael have received another shipment of Meyers' potted pastes. These goods are in 5c. tins.

Mr. Hastings, the popular salesman of the "Five Roses" Manitoba flour, is in the city. He has an increasing trade here.

Truro Condensed Milk Co. are this week loading three cars for Vancouver. This comes from push, enterprise and good goods.

Mr. Dougall, of Montreal, was in the city this week in the interest of A. C. Miller & Co. H. B. White is the local representative.

C. & E. Macmichael are selling peanuts, imported roasted, in five-cent packages, warranted to keep fresh. It is something new here.

St. John is not only a winter port but a summer port. The English steamer loading here at present takes 7 cars asbestos from Quebec.

While sardine herring are reported quite plentiful at Grand Manan, there is little sale. The chief demand is from American factories, and they are doing very little canning. Many of the employes are on strike owing to a cut having been made in wages. A cold storage warehouse is being built at White's Head.

The first St. John grocers' picnic, to be held on Aug. 18, gives promise of being a great success. Two steamers will take the party to and from the grounds.

John Sealy, who represents Connor Bros., is finding a good demand for their canned haddies, clams, etc. The fact that lobsters are so hard to get makes a demand for the other lines.

Prospects for plums from Nova Scotia are good. A good American demand is expected this season. One orchard is looking for a crop of 3,000 baskets. Peaches are becoming a factor in Nova Scotia. Quantity yet is light.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to note the death, suddenly, of J. Reed Kimball, proprietor of the St. Croix Exchange, Calais. He was well known by the commercial travelers, and his death will be a matter of deep regret to them.

The Dairy Department, Charlottetown, paid out over $13,000 in June. This is a matter of much importance on the island. Beside the above, so far this season $7,000 has been paid for P. E. Island cheese, a shipment of 1,300 boxes having already gone forward to the English market. The price paid by the shipper was 7c. This prompt marketing of early cheese is wise.

SHE WANTED FOREIGN BREAD.

One day last week I decided to make a call on my friend Mr. B, who has a grocery store on a prominent avenue in New York City. When I arrived there the clerks told me that the boss was up for supper, but that he would be down presently. Well, I waited and sat down. I had not sat long, when a young girl, whom I judged to be a nurse, came in. The first clerk approached her and asked what she would like to have. She answered. "My mistress sent me to get a loaf of bread; but, she told me not to get a 'domestic' loaf, as she was utterly tired of it. If there is any such thing as imported bread, I think she wants that." Just then the boss came into the store, and the clerk told him that she wanted an imported loaf. He answered, "Oh! Give her a Vienna loaf"—and she got it.—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

Griffin & Skelley, California fruit packers, advise their Toronto agents, W. G. A. Lambe & Co., that loose muscatel raisins are likely to rule ¾c. above last year's opening price and that the outlook for trade is better, because of an improbability of there being a continuance of indiscriminate consignments, as in 1895-96.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

REPORTS from all parts of the province show that the hay crop will be large—larger than for many years. The heavy rains of the past few weeks have caused very little damage. Last year considerable hay was shipped from this province, both to England and to the United States, and the indications are that more hay will go forward this year than last. Considerable of the hay used in this city comes from Quebec, but the importation this year will be very small.

The arrivals of green fruits on Monday's boat were not large. Bananas sell at $1.50 to $1.75.

There is a brisk demand for butter. Dairy in tubs is worth 13 to 16c. Creamery is worth 18c. and creamery prints 19c.

The quotation for cheese remains at about 8½c. Three pounds of good cheese can be purchased at almost any grocery store for 25c.

Allan R. McDonald, who has been doing a grocery business for about a year at the corner of Blowers and Grafton streets, has assigned to R. A Croucher.

The Summer Carnival is over and was voted a big success. The weather was fine, and thousands of people came to the city. The merchants expected a boom in business. This was realized in the grocery line, because the visitors had to eat. Dry goods men and others report no extra sales.

Eggs are coming in freely and are meeting with good demand. They are jobbing at 10c., which is a decline from last week's quotations.

There is some demand for poultry. Spring chickens are worth 60 to 90c.; ducklings, 60 to 90c.; turkeys, 12 to 15c. per lb.; fowls, 10c. per lb. There are no geese offering.

The apple crop in the Annapolis valley will be larger than for several years, and as the reports from England indicate a light crop there, shipments will be heavy. Shippers are already making arrangements for transportation.

Oats have reached rock bottom and are offering freely at 28 to 29c. for No. 2 Ontario white. P. E. Island black bring the same figure. It is said the oat crop is damaged, which may strengthen the market.

Walter Mitchell and Charles H. Mitchell, who have been doing a large West India and general commision business, separately, have entered into co-partnership under the name and style of W. & C. H. Mitchell.

Molasses is dull. Dealers are buying from hand to mouth. Another carload of Porto Rico arrived on Monday. Quotations are: St. Croix, 28c.; Port Rico, 35 to 36c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, M. R. brand, 39c. St. Kitts, 28c.

Tenders are asked by G. A. Hall, assignee, Truro, for the purchase of the stock of G. R. Archibald, Lower Stewiacke. The stock is almost new. The inventory places it at the following figures: Boots and shoes, $777; groceries, $1,243; dry goods, $645; ready-made clothing, $452; safe, etc., $200. Tenders close on Aug. 15.

Stocks of old potatoes are about used up, but good P.E. Island stocks are selling from schooners at 30c. New stocks are looking well, and there promises to be a good yield. They sell wholesale at 50c. Beets, carrots, turnips and other early vegetables are offering in bunches, but they are not large enough yet to offer by the bushel.

The tone of the fish market is very satisfactory. There is a brisk demand for good quality cod. Prices in St. John's, Newfoundland, have declined 75c., and are now about equal with Halifax. Salmon are unsteady and uncalled for at $12 for 1's, $10.50 for 2's, and $9 for large 3s. There is every prospect of their going lower. The arrivals are large. Alewives still hold at $3, and buyers are stocking up at that figure, as it will in all probability hold. The catch is not equal to last season's, which was a short one.

The "Pure Gold" Pickling Spice

but!!!

PURE GOLD M'F'G.CO. 31&33 FRONT ST. EAST. TORONTO.

Scattarie herring are worth $1.75. Mackeral are a little firmer, but the demand is checked for the time being.

The demand for sugar is brisk, but the refinery prices remain unchanged, viz., granulated 4¼c., and yellows 3 7-16 to 3¼c. There have been several consignments of sugar from the West Indies to our merchants here. Twenty years ago our merchants sent out fish on consignment and purchased sugar for the return freight. Now the fish is generally purchased before shipment and the sugar sent back on consignment. That is a happy change. The sugar thus consigned is sold to the Acadia Refinery Co.

The breadstuffs markets are quiet and steady. There are a few cars of flour arriving, which were secured before the later advance, thus allowing our people to sell at less than present prices asked by the millers. It has been reported that crops, both in Canada and the United States, have been more or less injured by wet weather and other causes, and that wheat is not turning out as well as expected. There is a division of opinion amongst operators; some claim there will be a further advance, whilst others hold that there will be ample wheat, including the stocks that are being carried over from last year's crop, and the prices, in the face of other things so cheap, cannot be maintained on flour. This question will probably be determined within the next few weeks. Quotations remain: "Ogilvies" or "Five Lilies," $4.30 to $4.40; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $3.75 to $3.90; Manitoba shipments, in sacks, $4.20 to $4.25; Ontario and Manitobas mixed, for patents, $3.75 to $3.85; 80 p.c. patents, $3.70 to $3.80; 90 p.c. patents, $3.60 to $3.70.

The retail provision market has been excellent on account of the Carnival, but there is no improvement in wholesale. Mess pork is quoted at $12.50, and by the single barrel at $13 to $13.50. Family mess is $2 less and prime $3 less. J. P. Tanton, a well-known pork packer of Charlottetown, who was in the city this week, informed THE GROCER that dealers on the Island stood to lose heavily. The demand is very light. J. A. Leaman & Co. continue to import live cattle from Ontario. They get four or five carloads every two weeks. Halifax prices, live weight, are $7 to $7.50. There is a fair demand for mutton, which is jobbing at 6½ to 7c. Lamb is worth 8 to 8½c. The only fresh pork on the market comes from Ontario and is slaughtered here. It is jobbing at 7½c. There is no demand.

TOMATO CHUTNEE IN LONDON.

M. P. Chard, of Guelph, the manufacturer of Tomato Chutnee, recently received the following, which explains itself:

CITY CARLTON CLUB,
St. Swithin's Lane, E.C.,

DEAR SIR,—I have to thank you for your sample of your Tomato Chutnee. It is decidedly unique, and I have no doubt it will be greatly welcomed as a novelty by the London caterers. You do not inform me of the address where it is procurable in England.

With compliments, I am, yours faithfully,

TO DRIVE FLIES OUT OF THE STABLE.

A correspondent give to The Rural New Yorker the following method of driving flies from the stable:

Take one ounce of camphor gum, one ounce of corrosive sublimate, one pint of oil of turpentine; grind the sublimate thoroughly, put into a strong bottle, and add the camphor gum. Pour on the turpentine and shake occasionally. Heat a piece of iron and drop a few drops on it in the stable. Flies may be driven out of the house in the same manner by dropping a few drops on a hot stove lid. By following these directions every other day, I think any one will soon be rid of flies.

APPLE CROP IN THE STATES.

THE condition of the growing apple crop for the various states on July 1st was as follows, according to the Government Crop Report: Maine, 98; New Hampshire, 90; Vermont, 98; Massachusetts, 93; Rhode Island, 60; Connecticut, 84; New York, 91; New Jersey, 53; Pennsylvania, 79; Delaware, 25; Maryland, 46; Virginia, 28; North Carolina, 37; South Carolina, 47; Georgia, 41; Florida, 75; Alabama, 39; Mississippi, 52; Louisiana, 45; Texas, 46; Arkansas, 47; Tennessee, 48; West Virginia, 50; Kentucky, 51; Ohio, 62; Michigan, 93; Indiana, 65; Illinois, 67; Wisconsin, 86; Minnesota, 94; Iowa, 82; Missouri, 67; Kansas, 56; Nebraska, 78; South Dakota, 110; Montana, 94; Colorado, 64; New Mexico, 80; Utah, 49; Nevada, 70; Idaho, 92; Washington, 84; Oregon, 58; California, 56. This makes a total for the whole country of 64.6 per cent., which is a decided drop from the previous month, when the condition was given as 71. New York, New England, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Iowa report high percentages, and conditions are fair in Nebraska and several mountain states. In other parts of the country the crop is below the average, being lowest in the Atlantic Coast states, where percentages are generally below 50.

Taking all into consideration, there will probably be a fair crop of apples, though the supply will certainly be much below that of last year's. The fruit now arriving is largely poor, much being no more than windfalls, and prices have ranged low. There is a very good demand for choice fruit, suitable for shipping, but comparatively little such received.

Makers of evaporated and sun-dried apples do not seem to have much confidence in the future market for dried, and have been offering their apples for future delivery at low prices. Some early sales were higher, but of late 4¾c. would buy prime evaporated, October or November delivery, with choice 5c. or a fraction more. The fruit which can be guaranteed wood-dried has a strong preference over that dried on zinc trays. Much of the fruit bought ahead is from makers having a reputation for producing high grade fruit.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

BRAZIL COFFEES.

The Rio News of July 7, just to hand, says: "The supply in Rio during the crop year, closed on the 30th ulto, somewhat exceeded the estimate of 2,225,000-2,300,000 bags, and including 98,853 bags received in transit, reached 2,497,841 bags; but Santos, which had been expected to furnish 3,500,000 bags, only received about 3,100,000 bags, so that the result of the two ports is not materially different from the original estimate of 5,700,000 bags. As regards the crop now opening, we hear of no change in the estimate for the Rio zone, 3,750,000 bags, but there appears to be some inclination to reduce still further the Santos estimates, to what extent, however, we have been unable to learn."

GOLD WITHDRAWALS FOR CANADA.

The withdrawals of gold from the Sub-Treasury for shipment to Canada have of late attracted considerable attention and much criticism has been indulged in on the ground that the withdrawals were only ostensibly for Canada, but actually for hoarding, and it is argued that all the gold withdrawn for Canada nets the alleged shippers a premium of at least half of 1 per cent. over and above any profit on the exchange transactions.

The agents of the Dominion banks, however, deny that the gold is withdrawn for the sake of the premium on it; that it is simply sent to Canada because it is cheaper to send gold than exchange. They say that as the money is owing and has to be remitted when called for, gold has to be sent because of the impossibility of getting exchange except at a much greater expense. —N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

HANDLING FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

I hate to sell mushmelons and watermelons, says a grocer, for customers do not want to pay a fair profit on them. Besides, they want to have the watermelons plucked and the mushmelons guaranteed to be sweet. How can you tell them? Sometimes you think you have a very good mushmelon, for it has a good color and smells nice and sweet. You send it to your customer and the next morning she will complain that it was the worst melon she ever put on the table. Watermelons crack, and with one or two of such your profit is gone.

The handling and selling of corn is just about as unprofitable, because in most cases, especially with inexperienced clerks, every ear is pulled all the way down, and if not quite perfect or shows a little sign of being wormy, it is thrown back. No other customer wants that corn, and you have to sell it either to a boarding house below cost or give it to your horses. A veterinary surgeon has told me, though, that it is not advisable to give your horses too much green corn.—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

to be found anywhere in Smith County and at such prices as will surprise you. Call and see him and compare goods and prices and you will be convinced.

All goods warranted first-class or money refunded,

John T. Smith, 44 Smith Ave., Smithville.

The above is a reduced reproduction, with fictitious name and address, of a genuine advertisement. This advertisement is as effective as 90 per cent. of local announcements. Its business-bringing value is handicapped for the following reasons: The name and address appear twice. Once is enough. The name is in type three times too large. A advertisement should advertise goods, not the folks who sell them. The advertisement is general, and general advertisements are not generally read. There is no sense in wasting good space in telling people to call, and compare goods and prices. It is understood that an advertisement is an invitation. It is taken for granted that the goods and prices compare. It is seldom advisable to advertise that you warrant goods, unless they be of special character. A warranted announcement is liable to create suspicion. Few first-class dealers announce that they will refund money, because if they be honest they will do so without saying it. It is bad policy to advertise "the largest and most complete line," for all lines are supposed to be large and complete, and the expression, by being overused, is useless. The one good point to the advertisement is that the prices will surprise you. That should be the foundation of the advertisement. I rewrite and reset the advertisement, making but this one point. If the store is not well known, it should state what class of goods it sells, but if it is well known to everybody locally this is not always necessary. The limited space prevents presentation of good and bad samples of advertisements. The reader will consider these samples as reduced about 75 per cent. from their proper size.

Surprise In Prices

I have marked down everything. I know how to buy and I know how to sell. If anybody else sells what I sell for less money than I sell it, tell me and I'll mark it down again.

HE SUITED.

A TRAVELING salesman is the authority for the following incident related in The Washington Star :

I was stopping at a cabin all night, and a pale, slender young man came during the evening to talk with my host.

"I'm thinking of starting a school here," he said, "and I wanted to see if you would subscribe."

"Kin yo' read?"

"Yes."

"Kin yo' write?"

"Certainly."

"Kin yo' figger?"

"Of course."

"Air yo' married?"

"No."

"Wal, we did want a married man nex' time. The las' three teachers has run off with gals, an' thar aint enough gals in this hyar neighborhood now. But I don't s'pose none of 'em would want a lean feller like yo'. I don't reckon yo' not bein' married 'ill make much difference. Couldn' expect sich a po'ly feller ter be married. Then thar's one thing. Me and Bill Simpkins an' Alf Tony is all gwine ter school an' larn ter read an' write. I licked Bill, an' he done licked Alf, so I reckon the only one ter settle with is me. We ain' gwine ter 'bey no man we kin lick. Kin yo' fout?"

"I studied boxing," said the stranger.

"Don' know nothin' 'bout that. Does makin' boxes make muscle?"

"Try one and see," was the cool rejoinder.

The big mountaineer hit at the little man, and when he regained consciousness he had his head in the wood-box and his feet sticking up in the air.

Looking about him with a dazed expression, he said :

"Young feller, shake; I'll go with yo' some day an' we'll git thet school ; an' say, young feller, set me ter work on them boxes, will yo'?"

ESSEX CROPS ARE ROTTING.

Reports from all parts of Essex County as to the prospects of the farmers are very discouraging. The wheat is standing out in sheafs and is being rotted by the rains, and what little of the oat crop has been cut has shared the same fate. A prominent miller estimates the loss to the farmers of the county at $200,000, and the estimate is admitted to be a conservative one. A farmer brought in a grist of 25 bushels of wheat to Windsor this morning and was abliged to sell it for feed. John Cady, of Pike Creek, has 60 acres in wheat and he will be fortunate if he can sell the produce for feed.

These are only samples of a state of affairs that prevails all over the county. The potato patches look as if they had been struck by the blight and the only crop that looks at all promising is corn, which will probably do well if there is no more rain. During the recent rains, the creeks rose four or five feet and many fields are under water.—Banner, Chatham.

ORANGE CROP OF MEXICO.

CONSUL-GENERAL Thos. T. Crittenden writes to the State Department as follows: "Owing to the injury to the orange trees in Florida from frost, the supply of oranges in the United States has been greatly diminished, causing the merchants to look to Mexico and elsewhere for the deficiency. About 400 carloads were shipped from Mexico to the United States last season. Since the injury to and destruction of the trees in Florida, the growers in Mexico are paying greater attention to production. Old trees and old orchards have been pruned, cultivated and reclaimed, and new orchards planted with care.

"Upon close investigations made by the agents of the various railway companies, the crop this season is estimated to be much larger than ever before. The railroads are gradually preparing for the shipment of at least 600 cars this season. It ordinarily takes eight or nine days, moderately fast freight, to send cars or trains to Chicago; it has been done in six days. The slow freights (due in part to the small number of cars going at any one time), the lack of fruit or refrigerator cars, and the inexperience of the packers here for long distance shipments, are the great drawbacks.

"The orange season of Mexico is from the latter part of September to the 1st of December. This season fits in between Florida and California, thus making Mexico absolute in its season and with practically no competition in our markets. The question of getting orange boxes is also a serious one, as there are in reality no factories for making orange boxes in this country, and importation is almost universal."

SALMON FISHING.

Advices by mail from San Francisco to the 23rd ult. are to the effect that salmon fishing has begun in British Columbia, and that the catch so far has been satisfactory, though packing has been interfered with at some points by the unreasonable demands of fishermen for excessive prices on raw fish. "In the Puget Sound section," the Cutting Packing Co. reports, "great preparations are being made to make a large pack of the rather inferior quality of fish found in those waters, but as these goods are marketed at less prices than the higher grade goods from Alaska and the Columbia River, they find ready sale in the United States trade, and the business induces the erection of new canneries yearly. It is expected that a vessel will be placed on berth on the Columbia for the United Kingdom, to sail the last of August, which will take such of the pack as may have that destination."—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

THEY LIKED HIS TEA.

A customer in one of the grocery stores on Talbot street on Saturday night had just completed a purchase and stopped at the door on his way out to remark to the proprietor, who was putting up an order:

"That tea I got from you was splendid," at the same time pocketing a banana from a bunch that was hanging near by.

The grocer was gratified and appeared not to notice the larceny.

"Yes; there's no flies on that tea. My wife likes it very much," and a second edition of the tropical fruit disappeared in his pocket.

"That's good," said the grocer, with less enthusiam.

"Yes; my mother always gets her tea here. She likes it, too," he said, as he slid another long yellow boy into his clothes.

The grocer glanced uneasily at him, and wondered if the individual's grandmother were living, and if she liked his tea. Somehow, he wished his tea wasn't quite so popular in that particular family.

"In fact," added the customer, as he cheerfully took another banana and said good night, "we all like your tea," and he departed and mingled with the madding crowd.

And the grocer sized up the dismantled bunch, and tried to calculate how long that bunch would have lasted if they had all liked his tea even to the third and fourth generation.—St. Thomas Times.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

DIFFICULTIES, ASSIGNMENTS, COMPROMISES.

A MEETING of the creditors of Carl Tremblay, general merchant, Stirnee, Que., has been held.

S. Lowry, general store, Fitzroy, has assigned to T. W. McDermott.

J. W. Shore, general merchant, Epping, has assigned to A. S. Vandusen.

J. W. Shore, general storekeeper, Epping, has assigned to A. S. VanDusen.

Villeneuve & Boivin, general merchants, Chicoutimi, Que., have assigned.

W. Monette & Co., grocers, Montreal; absentee called to appear on the 13th inst.

Theien & Frere, general merchants, St. Remi, Que., are preparing a statement of affairs.

Joseph Letendre, general merchant, St. David, Que., has compromised at 50 cents on the dollar.

George Baker, grocer, Brigden, has effected a settlement with his creditors at 25c. on the dollar.

F. W. Wight, general merchant, Lower Ireland, Que., is offering to compromise at 35c. on the dollar.

A statement of affairs is being prepared in the matter of Mrs. T. Leblanc, general merchant, Napierville, Que.

S. M. Osborne, grocer, Eugenia, has assigned to G. Mitchell, of Flesherton. The creditors will meet on August 7.

Miller & Griffith have been appointed curators of the estate of H. Levins & Co. general merchants, Cookshire, Que.

Charles Conard, lumber dealer, Moore street, St. Thomas, has made an assignment to Elizah Moore. Mr. Conard has been in business for a great many years. The liabilities are placed at $2,500, and the assets are nominally the same.

Geary & Co., general store, Pinkerton, have assigned to J. S. McMaster, Toronto. The statement of the firm shows a surplus over all liabilities, but a portion of the assets consists of farm property which has depreciated in value. Recently an offer of 60 cents on the dollar, secured, was made, but the creditors refused to accept this.

At a meeting of the creditors of the Howry & Sons Lumber Co., of Fenelon Falls, held in Toronto, an arrangement was made whereby the firm will continue business. The statement presented showed a large surplus of assets over liabilities. The headquarters of Howry & Sons are at Saginaw, Mich., but a number of Canadian firms are creditors, the Bank of Toronto having a claim for $490,000. A mortgage was given the bank on the saw mill plant and other property at Fenelon Falls, to cover the bank's advances. Besides this plant at Fenelon Falls, the firm owns about 3,000,000 feet of Canada pine, besides extensive timber limits. Other creditors have been secured by mortgages given on real estate to the value of $50,700, and property in New Mexico to the value of $40,000.

CHANGES.

E. Gagnon is opening a general store at Tremblay, Que.

James McNeilly, grocer, has been succeeded by F. M. Slocomb.

R. Flynn & Son is the style of a new grocery firm in Meaford.

The Canada Liquor Co., Montreal, has obtained charter of incorporation.

David Patterson, hotel, Rodney, has been succeeded by Minor, Barnes & Branton.

Robert Pinkey, fruit, etc., Cooksville, Ont., has been succeeded by John Cunningham.

Mrs. W. McEvilla, general merchant, Roxton Falls, Que., has retired from business.

W. Lee & Co., general merchants, Pavilion, B.C., have been succeeded by Cumming Bros.

Lindsay, McKinnon & Co. is the name of a new wholesale tea firm which has started into business in Montreal.

PARTNERSHIPS FORMED AND DISSOLVED.

Kennedy & Porter, grocers, Kaslo, B.C., have dissolved; J. F. Kennedy continues.

F. D. Barclay, general merchant, Wawanesa, Man., has admitted Charles Barclay as partner under the style of Barclay Bros.

SALES MADE AND PENDING.

The rolling stock of E. Brosseau, tobacconist, Quebec, has been sold.

Assets of E. Sylvain, grocer, Quebec, are to be sold by auction on the 7th inst.

The boot and shoe stock of Joseph Beaulieu, Montreal, has been sold at 75c. on the dollar.

The stock of the late James A. Rothwell, grocer, Walkerton, has been sold to W. D. Magee.

The stock of the estate of E. A. Pocock, grocer, London, has been sold to H. Bachelor.

J. B. Weldon & Co., general merchants, Little Britain, are advertising that they are selling out.

FIRES.

The stocks of McTavish & Co. and Thos. Shaw, produce merchants, Montreal, have been damaged by fire.

DEATHS.

A. Carriere, hotel, Caledonia Springs, is dead.

The Aylmer Canning Co. have leased the furniture factory, and are storing their goods in it. Owing to the change in Government and the uncertainty of their policy buyers will not buy, and for that reason have to store their goods instead of shipping as soon as packed, as in former years.—Times, St. Thomas.

Minnows or Whales?

There is an old maxim to the effect that he who fishes for minnows never catches whales. Neither will the grocer who only keeps cheap goods and "substitutes" ever attract desirable trade.

is intended for the best trade, and customers who are particular about having the best are sure to want it. No "substitute" can take its place.

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) MONTREAL AND TORONTO, AUGUST 14, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 33

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

It looks as if biscuits will win in North Grey.

Character is the pivot upon which business turns.

The only way to secure trade is to go or send after it.

Have a good foundation if you don't want a shaky apex.

The entry of free silver would mean the free exit of gold.

A man may die under the dissecting knife, but a business never.

Experience is a good teacher, but she demands big pay as a rule.

Economy which is over rigid usually breaks a man's generosity.

Business ethics inoculate politics against the imbibing of wild theorisms.

Clerks who are not entertaining should not be maintained in any store.

Stick too tenaciously to business and you will loosen your tenure upon life.

Honesty is good for policy's sake, whatever it may be for conscience sake.

A store crowded with loafers is not likely to become congested with customers.

The man who has no backbone may do for a jelly fish, but for a merchant never.

The battle of the standards is a glittering conflict which may have a darkening result.

The advertisement is the merchant's tongue, which he uses for selling his wares.

The average citizen of the United States is credited with possessing a good deal of horse sense. His sense will be more akin to that of the animal which has longer ears than the horse if he votes free silver in November next.

If a man owes you money, try to get it, but in the getting of it try not to get his ill-will.

He who is a merchant should throw in his influence with the good roads movement.

Merchants who take no relaxation, like machines without oil, become stiff and useless.

A cool store these hot days is a blessing, but a cool merchant is as great a curse as ever.

Days with the mercury at 90 in the shade try the patience of a saint, and drive the sinner to drink.

Many a man has been awakened from his lethargy by stubbing his toe against some financial difficulty.

If you are making an agreement which is of any importance, put it in writing. Ink is more durable than words.

A merchant naturally breathes easier when his business is not choked with unfulfilled financial obligations.

Early closing may be defined as a movement for the sweetening of the merchant's life and adding years to the same.

Talents hid do not, like mustard seed buried in the ground, fructify. Talents only increase as they are exposed and used.

There is no one who loves an outing more than the grocer ; and there is no one who shuts himself in his store so persistently.

Every clerk should be ambitious to become a merchant, but he should be careful that his ambition does not cause him to develop too much speed. Going into business too quickly often means coming out of it with alacrity.

Every young man who aims to be somebody should be himself.

Even the man who sells for cash should guard his credit with jealous care.

Man is his own architect, and if he makes bad plans he will have a bad superstructure.

Merchants should copy the politicians in one respect : They should have a policy, and the sounder and more vigorous it is the better.

The merchant without a trade paper is like a mariner without a compass, a ship without a pilot, a castaway on an uninhabited island.

If Jack Frost had been doing his duty last week he would have arrested the Sun for scorching, to the danger of a good many citizens.

A good many people who are not particular about the appearance of a man are fastidious indeed about the appearance of the goods they buy.

Save your money, but spend your energies and leisure moments in acquiring useful information. Then some day you will be rich in both gold and brains.

The foolish merchant says there is nothing in advertising, and then sitteth down and endeavors to advertise with many words the qualities of his particular party.

He who asks credit and refuses to produce the evidence of his worthiness may be rich in assets, but is poor indeed in common sense to be trusted with other people's goods.

POINTS FOR CLERKS.

EMERSON relates the following anecdote: An opulent merchant in Boston was called on by a friend in behalf of a charity. At that time he was admonishing his clerk for using whole wafers instead of halves; his friend thought the circumstance unpropitious; but to his surprise, on listening to the appeal, the merchant subscribed five hundred dollars. The applicant expressed his astonishment that any person who was so particular about half a wafer should present five hundred dollars to a charity; but the merchant said: "It is by saving half wafers, and attending to such little things, that I have now something to give."

"How did you acquire your great fortune?" asked a friend of Lampis, the shipowner. "My great fortune, easily," was the reply; "my small one, by dint of exertion."

Four years from the time Marshall Field left the rocky New England farm to seek his fortune in Chicago he was admitted as a partner in the firm of Coaley, Farwell & Co. The only reason the modest young man gave to explain his promotion when he had neither backing, wealth nor influence, was that he saved his money.

If a man will begin at the age of twenty and lay by twenty-six cents every working day, investing at seven per cent. compound interest, he will have thirty-two thousand dollars when he is seventy years old. Twenty cents a day is no unusual expenditure for beer or cigars, yet in fifty years it would easily amount to twenty thousand dollars. Even a saving of one dollar a week from the date of one's majority would give him one thousand dollars for each of the last ten of the alloted years of life. "What maintains one vice would bring up two children."

Such rigid economy, such high courage, enables one to surprise the world with gifts even if he is poor. In fact, the poor and middle classes give most in the aggregate to missions and hospitals and to the poor. Only frugality enables them to outdo the rich on their own ground.

But miserliness or avariciousness is a different thing from economy. The miserly is the miserable man, who hoards money from a love of it. A miser who spends a cent upon himself where another would spend a quarter does it from parsimony, which is a subordinate characteristic of avarice. Of this the following is an illustration: "True, I should like some soup, but I have no appetite for the meat," said the dying Ostervalde; "what is to become of that? It will be a sad waste." And so the rich Paris banker would not let his servant buy meat for broth.

A writer on political economy tells of the mishaps resulting from a broken latch on a farmyard gate. Everyone going through would shut the gate, but as the latch would not hold it, it would swing open with every breeze. One day a pig ran out into the woods. Everyone on the farm went to help get him back. A gardener jumped over a ditch to stop the pig and sprained his ankle so badly as to be confined to his bed for two weeks. When the cook returned she found that her linen, left to dry at the fire, was all badly scorched. The dairymaid in her excitement left the cows untied, and one of them broke the leg of a colt. The gardener lost several hours valuable time. Yet a new latch would not have cost five cents.

Guy, the London bookseller, and afterward the founder of the great hospital, was a great miser, living in the back part of his shop, eating upon an old bench and using his counter for a table, with a newspaper for a cloth. He did not marry. One day he was visited by "Vulture" Hopkins, another well-known miser. "What is your business?" asked Guy, lighting a candle. "To discuss your methods of saving money," was the reply, alluding to the niggardly economy for which Guy was famous. On learning Hopkins' business he blew out the light, saying, "We can do that in the dark." "Sir, you are my master in the art," said the "Vulture;" "I need ask no further. I see where your secret lies."

Yet that kind of economy which verges on the niggardly is better than the extravagance that laughs at it. Either, when carried to excess, is not only apt to cause misery, but to ruin the character.

Beecher says that we are all building a soul-house for eternity; yet with what differing architecture and what various care!

What if a man should see his neighbor getting workmen and building materials together, and should say to him: "What are you building?" and he should answer: "I don't exactly know. I am waiting to see what will come of it." And so walls are reared and room is added to room, while the man looks idly on, and all the bystanders exclaim, "What a fool he is!" Yet this is the way many men are building their characters for eternity, adding room to room, without plan or aim, and thoughtlessly waiting to see what the effect will be. Such builders will never dwell in "the house of God, not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Some people build as cathedrals are built, the part nearest the ground finished; but that part which soars towards heaven, the turrets and the spires, forever incomplete.

"The prosperity of fools shall destroy them." "However easy it may be to make money," said Barnum, "it is the most difficult thing in the world to keep it." Money often makes the mare—run away with you.

Very few men know how to use money properly. They can earn it, lavish it, hoard it; waste it; but to deal with it wisely, as a means to an end, is an education difficult of acquirement.—Architects of Fate.

THE GOLD MOVEMENT TO CANADA.

THERE were withdrawals of $250,000 in gold from the sub-treasury yesterday for shipment to Canada. Ever since the formation of the sterling exchange syndicate to prevent shipments of gold to Europe withdrawals for Canada have been of daily occurrence, and the idea has gained considerable ground that these withdrawals by Canadian bankers have not been legitimate. In some instances it has been charged that the gold thus withdrawn has not been shipped at all, but has been furnished to local brokers for the purpose of making a small profit on sales to hoarders.

In order to get a statement of the actual conditions of the gold movement to Canada Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and who is making a short visit to New York, was questioned yesterday at the office of Laird & Gray, the New York agents of the bank, 16 Exchange Place. Mr. Walker summed up the situation as follows :

"The Canadian banks that have branches in the United States have quite as large an interest in the finances and welfare of this country as the average American banker. They have not, as far as I know, shipped gold to Canada from a dread of future complications or fear as to the present situation ; but it is well to understand their business necessities at times. Nearly half of the products exported from Canada are sold in the United States. The purchase price of these, sooner or later, appears as the credit of a Canadian bank at its New York agency. Ordinarily the Canadian bank supplies the exporter in Canada with exchange on London through their New York agency, and thus enables the Canadian people to pay England for her imports by the money arising from Canadian exports to the United States. But if such operations do not precisely balance themselves, as is frequently the case, the difference, if in favor of Canada, must result in the shipment of gold from the United States to Canada. Any shipments made by Canadian banks having branches in this country, I am satisfied, have arisen solely from this cause. In the aggregate they amount to but a few millions of dollars and represent a very trifling percentage upon the volume of trading and financial operations between Canada and the United States. I think the American people may rely upon Canadian banks having branches here exercising quite as much courage in the present situation as do other banking institutions here."

The representative of another large Dominion bank said : "The gold withdrawn for Canada has actually gone to Canada. It has gone in the natural course of trade to settle trade balances. I believe, however, that the demand in this direction will soon terminate."—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

CHANGING THE ADVERTISING.

It is always a dangerous thing to change one's style of advertising after the public has become fully acquainted with it, says Business. A part of the prestige is lost and sometimes confusion follows. We can illustrate the point by what is reported to have occurred among the fraternity of itinerant scissors-grinders. Formerly these specialists announced their presence in the streets and solicited their orders with the ding-dong of a dinner bell carried in the hand. Lately they have substituted the fishman's horn, and now it is toot-toot instead of ding-dong. This has brought confusion to the mind of the well-regulated housewife. All her carefully arranged knowledge as to street cries and street sounds is turned upside down. When she wants fish and hears the toot of a horn she rushes to the door only to find that a man is there ready to grind her scissors. Again, when she wants her scissors or carving knife ground she waits in vain for the familiar ding-dong of a bell and is not aware that only a part of the toot-toot in the street belongs to the fish-peddling tra-ternity. For a fact it is a disastrous thing to change one's style of advertising. As a a matter of history the dinner bell has been the audible trademark of the scissors-grinder ever since there were scissors to be ground, there being some curious, indefinable connection between the two which has its roots away back in folk-lore itself. It would be interesting to know just why the recent transition to the horn has been made. In any event we regard it as a business mistake.

WINNIPEG CATERERS' PICNIC.

THE annual picnic of the caterers of Winnipeg has always been a complete success, but that held on Thursday, the 6th inst., at Portage la Prairie fairly outdid any previous effort put forth by this enterprising association. When it is taken into consideration that over three thousand Winnipeggers visited Portage la Prairie and were provided with meals and entertainment, it will be seen that the work of the committee is almost unprecedented. The weather was "Queen's weather" in every sense of the word, and there wasn't a hitch.

It was shortly before 11 when the first train of fourteen coaches steamed into Portage, and about an hour later when the second detachment arrived. The caterers, headed by the 90th band, started on a grand triumphal march through the town. At the conclusion of this a general move was made for luncheon, large crowds being entertained at all the hotels, while the ladies of the Baptist Church were also caterers for the day. After luncheon the citizens' and 90th bands headed for Island Park, whither the crowd shortly followed them. On arriving at the park such a variety of pastimes presented themselves as to make a selection, to say the least, difficult. Some rusticated under the shade or danced to the inspiring music of Emma's string band. By far the greatest part of the people went to the race track, where an excellent programme of horse, bicycle and foot races, interspersed with athletic sports, had been provided.

A short programme of horse races was run off, and in a very successful manner. In the open trot Mr. Anderson's horse, J. D., won after two most exciting finishes with Acadia. The most amusement was caused by an Indian race, which maintained a keen interest.

At 4 o'clock the lacrosse match, Capitals vs. Winnipeg, was called, and was won by the latter team by a score of 4 to 2.

Football succeeded the lacrosse match, and was between All-Comers and the "Tobas," the latter winning.

In the tug-of-war the visitors defeated the home men by two straight pulls.

Perhaps the greatest interest in the way of sports centred on the bicycle races. The meet combined the postponed races of the Portage club and the races put on by the caterers. All the provincial clubs had representatives in the races, but the Winnipeg club received the lion's share of the glory, securing three firsts and two seconds. The track was not in the best of condition near the pole, and several of the riders in consequence received nasty falls.

Following is the summary of the events :

One mile novice—1, D. Sprague, Rovers. 2, W. Anderson, Winnipegs. Time, 3.04. Also started, A. McDougall, A. Bell, M. H. Jones and H. Carper.

¼ mile open—1, D. Bain, Winnipegs. 2, G. Griffiths, Winnipegs. Time, 33 1-5. Also started, S. McDonald.

½ mile boys—1, A. Halstead, Portage. 2, F. Bailey, Portage. Time, 1.25. Also started, E. Bailey.

½ mile open—1, G. Griffiths, Winnipegs. 2, D. Bain, Winnipegs. Time, 1.40, Also started, W. Roxborough and J. Wilson.

One mile local handicap—1, J. Wilson, 50 yards. 2, W. Roxborough, 50 yards. Time, 2.29½.

One mile open—1, D. Bain, Winnipegs. 2, J. Wilson, Portage. Time, 2.47½. Also started, G. Griffiths and C. H. Snider.

The sports were exceedingly interesting, especially the jumps and the 100 yards' dash, which was won by Foulds, of Winnipeg. The results were as follows :

High jump—1 J. G. Cory, 2 G. Burns.

Pole vault—1 W. Burns, 2 W. G. Pierce.

Hammer throwing, professional—1 C. Rait, 121-6; 2 J. McLeod, 117.

Putting shot—1 G. McLeod, 2 J. Hopper.

Girls under 8—1 Nellie Doyle, 2 Ruth Ritchie, 3 Susie Golblutger, 4 Pearl Rosenblot.

Boys under 8—1 N. Kwvesky, 2 T. Finn, 3 L. LeBrun.

Boys, 9 to 12—1 A. Cameron, 2 D. McLeod, 3 L. Muirbaly, 4 F. Nevills.

Girls, 9 to 12—1 Nellie Buchanan, 2 Etta Ritchie, 3 L. Finn, 4 R. Lawler.

Boys, 12 to 14—1 J. Dyner, 2 S. Saunders, 3 B. Cohen.

Girls, 12 to 14—1 L. Finn, 2 Tena Antony, 3 Dollie Toye, 4 May Smith.

Girls under 16—1 E. Rolson, 2 Susie Thompson.

The trap shooting contests proved most interesting and were keenly contested by a large number of gun club members. The team shoot, six men a side, was taken part in by four teams. The result was : 1st, Winnipeg club team, 94; 2nd, Fort Garry club, 91; 3rd, Armstrong's Point club, 91; 4th, Portage la Prairie club, 89. The open shoot, 25 birds, was an interesting event. The leading scores were : J. G. Soper, 21; F. G. Simpson, 20; W. M. Ferguson, 20; F. W. Scott, 19; R. J. Whitla, 19; J. H. Walton, 18; G. Andrew, 18.

The following are the committees of the union, the membership thereof being nearly all in procession :

Officers—J. T. Speirs, president ; B. H. Holman, vice-president ; G. Tugwell, secretary ; K. J. Johnston, treasurer.

Finance Committee—W. Hunter, chairman ; R. R. Scott, secretary ; B. H. Holman, J. M. Scott, A. Bright, W. F. Ross, W. H. Stone, J. A. Mackerchar.

Printing Committee—L. R. Mackenzie, A. R. Christie, J. W. Horne, D. M. Horne.

Location—S. Jobin, H. G. Spurgeon.

Music—A. Pratt, chairman ; R. Buettner, secretary ; A. DeCow, J. Coltart, H. Toms, H. A. Holman.

Attractions—A. E. Scott, chairman ; A. S. Lock, secretary ; J. Whitmore, H. Price, G. Darby, G. Thompson, J. D. Windrum, G. Adam, W. J. Smith, A. K. Morrison, J. H. Braden, W. L. Capell, D. W. Maclean, C. K. Stewart, W. H. Morgan, G. Guillhuilly, T. Cowan, W. J. Boyd, A. Macdonald, Jno. Mouat, J. R. Gowler, D. B. MacRae, J. Douglas, G. Powis, A. D. Campbell, G. Bowes, W. A. Kemp, F. Marples, H. G. Spurgeon, J. Anderson, A. Bright, R. Galna, D. Cleland, J. H. Dickie, D. D. Munroe, J. B. Jones, J. C. Manshrick, A. T. Macmillan, G. T. Brown, M. B. Steele, W. Mitton, J. Cowles, C. F. Charrest, R. Paul, M. Johnson, N. Hughes, W. Beauchanan, A. Parsons, A. Hendry.

Two days before the picnic the caterers had a parade. It was quarter of a mile long and was accompanied by two bands.

NEW CURRANTS.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER.—I have just received the following advice from my friends in Patras, under date of 24th July, relative to the new season's currant crop which will I have no doubt be of interest to your readers :

We beg to inform you that our forwarding of new season's currant samples to your goodself may be delayed a few days longer than our competitors, and our object in doing so is that we may be able to give you an exact sampling of the new fruit, because an early sampling of the new fruit could never represent exactly the bulk of the crop, and so much the more, should any rain interfere, for such sampling would then turn out useless. From present appearances we have strong reasons to believe that the price for selected qualities will be easier a little after the beginning of first shipments, and we would, therefore, advise our friends not to be in too great a hurry to make their usual purchases.

Yours, etc.,

J, TAYLOR.

YOUNG MEN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

A PUBLICATION representing the Y.M.C.A. in an Eastern trade centre says :

There are large numbers of young men out of employment at the present time, and it is trying for us not to be able to place the many who apply to us. When scores of young men are ready to step into the first place that offers, a very little thing may turn the scale for or against a man. The following may be suggestive :

1. Expect to find work every day.
2. Never get discouraged.
3. Don't go from city to city.
4. Spend eight hours a day looking for work. If you had a position you would be expected to work that many hours.
5. Be in earnest.
6. Remove your hat when entering the office.
7. Be neat and clean in your personal appearance.
8. Don't have the fumes of tobacco on your breath and clothes.
9. Have nothing to do with intoxicating liquors of any kind.
10. Impress the gentleman on whom you call that you must have something to do.
11. When you get a position stick to it. Don't leave it unless you are sure of bettering yourself.
12. If you desire to advance, make your employer's interest your interest.
13. Say but little and do a good deal.
14. Be prompt and don't watch the clock for closing time.
15. Keep yourself thoroughly posted.

John Mackay & Co.'s "Kola-cafe" (Edinburgh) is in stock with Robert Greig & Co.

English "Club" pickles, handsomely put up, are in stock with the Davidson & Hay.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are showing good values in off-stalk, fine off-stalk and selected Valencia raisins.

The sales of "Kurma" tea last week exceeded any previous week since this tea was introduced.

The Eby, Blain Co. report that their output of "Kolona" is steadily and satisfactorily increasing.

The Toronto Salt Works report that last month's business exceeded that of all previous Julys in their history.

Robert Greig & Co. have booked some very heavy orders for castor oil this week for shipment to western points.

James Adams, who purchased Smith & Keighley's stock, announces that he is disposing of it at unheard-of prices.

T. Kinnear & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of their "Goat" brand tea, which they report is showing good value.

John Sloan & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of new season's Moning Congou teas, which, they announce, are showing fine value.

"Ludella" Ceylon tea in lead packages is becoming quite a favorite. H. P. Eck ardt & Co., Toronto, are the wholesale agents.

Increasing sales of "Victoria" Ceylon tea are reported by Laporte, Martin & Cie. Good Ceylon tea will sell easily on its own merits.

The new "Sun Paste" stove polish made by the proprietors of the "Rising Sun" stove polish, is put up in the most attractive sort of packages possible, and dealers appreciate goods which make a fine appearance on the shelves.

Robert Greig & Co. have on hand a supply of Purnell's English malt vinegar, for which they are quoting very close figures for original casks.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have received innumerable answers to their ad. in last week's GROCER from all points, not excluding the Maritime Provinces.

As the result of their advertisement in last week's number, the Toronto Coffee and Spice Co. have been making good shipments of spices and bicycles all week.

The "Gold Medal" Ceylon tea, put on the market two months ago by the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., has met with unbounded success. It's a 25c. 1-lb. retailer.

W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, are in receipt of two superb lines of new season's China black teas, thick creamy liquor and very desirable goods for high-class trade.

The Eby, Blain Co. call attention to their cleaned stemless currants this week. They received an order on Tuesday last for 50 cases of this fruit through one of their travelers.

New York ginger ale is in great demand as a hot weather drink. W. H. Gillard & Co., who are agents, say that it's a common thing to receive from 20 to 30 orders a day for 5-case lots.

Warren Bros. & Co. on Tuesday received a cable advising the shipment of another lot of Rio coffee. The firm will be able to dispose of this lot at a lower figure than the previous shipment.

There seems to be a big demand for a match which is cheap in price but not in quality. Laporte, Martin & Cie. report a sale of two carloads of their "Victoria" matches last month at $2.40 a case.

THE POSITION OF SUGAR.

THE Grocers' Gazette, London, has the following interesting article on sugar:

"Once more in taking a review of the position of this very fickle article have we to chronicle an almost complete reversal of the general expectation with regard to that very unknown quantity, 'the future.' All through the early part of the year the Cuban crop was a source of much anxiety and speculation, and as the suppression of the insurrection seemed to make no headway, it was generally agreed as a certainty that the total yield of the crop would not reach more than 250,000 tons. This would leave America bare of about 700,000 tons, and the question was, where would she obtain so large a quantity of sugar to fill the vacuum? Europe has a surplus of 800,000 tons of beet to dispose of, and Europe at once decided that America must come to her, take her sugar, and, what was more, pay her price for it. Everyone at once began to want a share of the profit which was to be made out of 'Jonathan's' extremity. Not only did all sorts of traders in the vicinity of Mincing lane speculate heavily in 'forward months,' but the Stock Exchange speculator joined in, and brokers put their private friends and professional acquaintances into this 'dead certainty.' But wiley Jonathan beat the lot! True, in the earlier months he bought a fair quantity of beetroot, but the great expectation was that from May onwards he would have to buy beet in 'hundreds of thousands' of tons. Instead of this America bought largely increased quantities of cane sugar in Java, Manilla and other eastern producing countries, and left Europe severely alone. About the middle of April, just when the highest point of the market was reached, and holders began to wonder when America was going to buy their sugar in anything like quantity, the possibility of a bill being passed to somewhat increase the bounty on export sugar in Germany began to dawn upon the general mind, and this increased the feeling of uneasiness which was beginning to arise. With the beginning of May some difficulty occurred as to the disposal of tendered sugar, and a little later modifications were introduced into the German sugar bill which would make it operative directly it was passed. These modifications destroyed all hope of a large German consumers' demand during June and July, and as the bill was now certain to become law the German refiner began to sell his extra holdings of raw beet. This pressure increased the uneasiness into a general stampede, and as it was generally known that the June account for beet was one of the heaviest on record, there was a perfect rush to liquidate as speedily as possible. The frightened 'bull' now became anxious about his August account, and renewed selling resulted in an absolute panic, values dropping about 1s. 9d. per cwt. from the middle of May to the end of June. Just when the bulk of the selling appeared over, fears arose as to the ability of many brokers to meet their engagements, as it became known that many of the outsiders above referred to had defaulted with regard to the large differences due from them. These fears caused a further downward movement, and almost immediately three or four failures occurred with liabilities running into rather large amounts, resulting in another serious decline in prices. There still exists some uneasiness as to the actual liquidation of the August account and the possibility of further failures, but we are inclined to think that the worst is now over.

"The value of 88 per cent. beet on January 4 was 10s. 9d., and first marks granulated 12s. 7½d. f.o.b. On April 18 the values had risen respectively to 12s. 10½d. and 14s. 3d. f.o.b. To-day's quotations stand at 9s. 6¾d. and 11s. 4½d. f.o.b., or about 1s. 6d. per cwt. below prices ruling at the commencement of the year. The last few weeks there has been some renewal of demand from America, and we should not be at all surprised to see Jonathan, who must have lately been displaying great mirth 'up his sleeve,' step in and quietly take the sugar he wants off the poor broken back of the outwitted speculator. We need say but little as regards the future. The retailer did not stock sugar during the late rise, and has not lost money by the fall. Prices are now again extremely low, and on such a level it is quite safe to buy cheap parcels as opportunities offer, even if it should mean the holding of a larger stock. It is too early yet to give any definite opinion as to the growing beet crop, but up to the present the weather has been favorable, and prospects are good."

BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE TOWARDS CANADA.

OPPOSITION to the preferential trade idea continues to crop up in England. Among the latest personages to raise his voice in denunciation of the scheme is Sir William Harcourt, leader of the Liberal party in the House of Commons.

He characterized it as "the most absurd ever propounded, and one which received no support whatever."

The faster a vessel ploughs her way through the sea the greater is the resistance offered by the waves. Slow as is the progress of the preferential trade idea, it is moving faster than a year ago. And the fact that such English statesmen as Asquith, Courteney and Harcourt, and such an influential paper as The London Times have been stirred up to treat the question with hostility, is evidence of this—as great evidence probably as the fact that the Secretary of State for the Colonies is championing it.

But sometimes the waves resist to such a degree that they obtain the mastery. Perhaps the opposition in Great Britain may finally swamp the preferential trade or any substitutionary movement. It will be regrettable if such does happen.

In Canada, while in part the desire for preferential trade with Great Britain is born of sentiment, the major part of it comes of a necessity for trade expansion. Our home market is limited. Our population is only about five millions. And there does not appear to be any indication that it will grow as fast as our capability to produce goods, either of the field, forest, mine or factory.

The Motherland can help us if she will in securing the desideratum. And the way in which she can help Canada is by giving her products, as well as those of the other colonies, a preference in her markets.

We do not ask her to do for our products what we are not prepared to do with hers. The House of Commons has signified its willingness to give British goods a preference under the tariff, and various boards of trade throughout the country have cordially endorsed the idea.

While the freedom to manage their own affairs which Great Britain has given her colonies is proverbial, so also is the persistency with which she neglects their interests. If the same neglect of the Motherland's interests had characterized Canada in times past as has characterized the Motherland's concern in Canada's interests, this country would not have been what is to-day the richest jewel in the crown of the Empire.

Canada's trade with the continent of which we form a part might have been larger than it is to-day had we chosen to obtain it at the price of ignoring the commercial interests of the Motherland.

There is no use mincing matters, Canada must find means for enlarging her foreign trade unless she is satisfied with her present rate of growth in this respect. And beyond question we are not that, although we are by no means standing still.

For many of our products Great Britain is our natural market; for others it is the United States. Against our products there is, in the latter country, an embargo, almost prohibitory in some respects. Had we chosen to have less conscientious scruples of our duty to the Motherland it is possible the conditions would have been more favorable. At any rate they were offered us.

But if English newspapers continue to term trade between Canada and Great Britain as "altogether artificial," and English statesmen to dub the preferential trade idea as "the most absurd ever propounded," it is possible we may make bargains where and how we best can, even if somebody's corns do get pinched. Self-preservation demands it.

A CORRECTION.

An unfortunate error crept into our issue of July 31. In the business changes in that issue it was stated, "James Douglas, general merchant, Dobbington, Ont., has assigned in trust to Alfred Robinson."

Instead of having assigned, however, James Douglas was succeeded by Douglas & Thompson.

The error was caused by a paragraph referring to a merchant who had assigned to Alfred Robinson getting mixed up with that referring to the change in Mr. Douglas' business.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets exceedingly that the mistake was made, and hopes that Mr. Douglas suffered no inconvenience therefrom.

ONTARIO'S GOLD FIELDS.

SLOW but sure is now the safest plan to develope the gold mines of Ontario. We do not want a boom. Companies floated with from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 capital on mere surface indications cannot but prove disastrous or disappointing to investors.

Mr. J. H. Chewett, M.E., of Toronto, has just returned from a visit to the mining districts of British Columbia, whither he had gone upon professional business. Mr. Chewett spent two weeks in the Trail Creek region, in the vicinity of Rossland, and speaking of gold mines there he said: "I would prefer to mine in the Rainy River district of Ontario, where the character and treatment of the ore are much better understood. The ore deposits in Trail Creek are not veins, strictly speaking, but masses, like the nickel and copper ores of Sudbury, and like them existing in the form of lenses. The ore, too, is almost identical with the Sudbury ore, being chiefly pyrrhotite with a small percentage of copper pyrites. There is no doubt that it exists in large quantity, and some of it is of very high grade. It is, however, a difficult ore to treat, as it is not free milling except in one or two instances. Smelting is the only successful process, and the smelter's charges vary from $7 or $8 to $10 or $11 per ton, in addition to which the ore has to stand the cost of transport from the mines to the smelters, which, in the situation, is necessarily high. When you consider that a smelter costs about $500,000, you will see how great is the advantage of ore that can be treated by a stamp mill, which may be set up even in British Columbia at a cost inclusive of freight and power not exceeding $1,000 per stamp. Every mine of moderate and steady output may warrant the building of a mill to treat the ore on the spot, in the Rainy River district. In British Columbia very few mines have their own smelting plants, and, if the ore is not of the right composition, suitable ores must be procured elsewhere to provide the right mixture for fluxing; otherwise there may be a serious loss of the precious metals. I would not care to tackle a smelting proposition in British Columbia to treat Trail Creek ores, with less than half a million dollars; while in Rainy River I would undertake with a stamp mill to treat per day the same quantity of the ore of that district with a capital of under $100,000. Then, too, the cost of operating a stamp mill would be very much less than that of a smelting plant."

Asked as to the Saw Bill Lake gold mine on the Seine River, which he reported upon for the owners last winter, Mr. Chewett said he understood it was showing up very well.

"I expressed the opinion," said he, "that from appearances the vein would widen in depth, and I believe that this is found to be the case. The officers of the company at Hamilton tell me that the shaft had at last reports reached a depth of 80 feet, where the width is six feet, whereas at the surface it is only three feet. I understand, too, that more free gold is visible than at the surface."

"I am going next week," Mr. Chewett said, "to examine and report upon other locations in the same region, on both sides of the C.P.R., and after that I may have to go and spend some time in British Columbia again."

The following letter was received a few days ago by the secretary-treasurer of the Saw Bill mine from the police magistrate of Port Arthur:

"Hold 50 shares more of Saw Bill for me at $1, and draw on me for the money. The stock must go up shortly. You will hear of, and perhaps see shortly, something that will open your eyes. The mine is looking well and better as it goes down, and I saw to-day a bottle of pieces of quartz that would make you dance. Africa and British Columbia are not in it with us. I tell you, if I am any judge, you have the best thing in Algoma. Hurrah for Algoma! Wiley is working that mine well, and in accordance with my ideas, and if you do not have a big pile of pay rock, rich, ready for your stamp mill next year, then I will be ready to say that I don't know what I am talking about. The stock to-day is worth $5 easy. Saw Bill is all right."

It is stated that $100,000 cash was refused for the Golden Gate property, which is near Rat Portage. The owners will probably form a company and put stock on market.

Last week a specimen of quartz from Saw Bill Lake mine was assayed by the Excelsior Refining Works, Toronto, and showed free gold to the value of $1,740 to the ton.

BISCUIT MEN IN NORTH GREY.

The Hon. William Paterson, of Brantford, and Mr. James McLauchlan once worked side by side in the same biscuit factory. Now they are wrestling with each other for political honors in North Grey.

It is a pity both cannot win. Both are able and successful business men and both are needed in Parliament. Although one must suffer defeat, we do not despair of seeing both in Parliament eventually.

But whichever is defeated business and biscuits will win. Biscuits are to be king in North Grey.

THE ADVANCE IN CHEESE.

CHEESE almost went begging at the beginning of July at 6½c. per pound. Since that time there has been a welcome change, prices advancing fully 1¼c. per pound.

At this writing there is an active demand for finest cheese at 7¾c., that figure being paid at several country points during the past few days.

Even at the improved price there is little enough margin for the farmer, but he has to content himself with the assurance that if cheese is low, other food products are equally so.

It used to be an axiom with the trade that June cheese at 8c., and last half July at 8¼ to 8½c. were cheap, but the proverb no longer holds.

With bacon and all other foods abnormally low, the English retailer, according to the very best authorities, has to get his cheese at a cost which will permit of a fivepenny cut. He formerly realized six, and even sevenpence, but a return to these figures at present would, it is contended, curtail the consumption of cheese.

Now, to retail cheese at fivepence in England it should not cost much more than 7½c. in Canada, and some of the more conservative traders are commencing to consider this fact, asserting that there is too much steam on.

Up to within a fortnight the English buyer practically made the price, but, since then, he has entirely lost control of values.

The advance first started by large purchases, to cover rather heavy short sales made for July shipment. When these were filled, the idea began to spread that the make was short, and the speculative element on this side of the Atlantic took hold, and ran the price up to where it is now.

Within the past day or so, for the first time this season, the Britishers have exhibited a desire to respond more to this market, the public cable advancing one shilling and sixpence last week.

It will be interesting to see whether they will follow it further, as it is the evident intention of the bulls to try and hold the market up. They claim that not only is the Canadian make 10 to 20 per cent. short, but that the yield in England is below the average. So far as the Canadian make goes, they are probably correct. The movements of cheese at Montreal lend strong support to the belief, while the large increase in the manufacture of butter must have diverted a lot of milk from the cheese factories.

From the 1st of May to date the total receipts of cheese at Montreal are from 100,000 to 125,000 boxes short of what they were last year. There has been a heavy decrease in the exports also, which are 681,612, against 709,500 for the same period in 1895, a decrease of 27,000 boxes, and there has been a heavy decrease at New York also.

LOOKING AFTER CANADIAN TRADE.

SPOKANE, Washington Territory, has been declared a sub-port by the Interior Department of the United States Government, and bonded warehouses will soon be established there for the handling of Canadian and other foreign goods in bond.

From advices just received from Spokane by THE CANADIAN GROCER it is learned that the wholesale merchants there are getting ready to take hold of Canadian goods, especially with a view to selling them to the retail trade in the Slocan and Kootenay country in British Columbia, which is about one hundred miles north of Spokane.

It seems that in the past the jobbers of Spokane have not been able to do as much business in British Columbia as they would have liked on account of the Canadian tariff. With the establishment of bonded warehouses, however, in that city the conditions will be more favorable for the gratification of this desire.

Canadian wholesale merchants had better bestir themselves, or our enterprising cousins across the border will outstrip them in the race for business in the British Columbia mining fields.

ANTICIPATED SCARCITY OF JAPANS.

If advices received in Toronto from Japan can be taken as a criterion, low-grade Japan teas are likely to be scarce and dear this campaign.

From advices received early in the season we were led to expect better teas than a year ago. But these anticipations have not been realized, the teas lacking in the usual twist and cup qualities.

Then, as regards quantity, it is anticipated that the first crop will be about five million pounds short, while the shortage of all kinds is estimated at eight to ten million pounds.

It now looks as though old teas of good twist and good cup in first hands will be valuable property, because of the likelihood of our getting but few low-grade teas of this year's growth here and the necessity there will be, therefore, of falling back upon those of last year's production.

LARGE STOCK OF OLD SALMON.

THERE appears to be little anxiety among jobbers in regard to future supplies of canned salmon.

Montreal houses, for instance, commenced to place contracts last year as early as the month of May, and by this date most of the leading agents there had gathered in the bulk of their contracts. This season they have hardly sold a case of salmon yet.

The chief reason for this indifference on the part of buyers is, that nearly every one of them got stuck on last season's purchases.

The majority carried over a heavy stock, and still have a large quantity on hand ; in fact, in two or three cases, houses have yet remaining enough goods to supply their trade for six months, unless they desire to sacrifice their stock for much less than cost.

It is this large stock of old fish which has made it so difficult this season to place orders for new pack.

It was all the more marked inasmuch as, throughout the past month or so, advices from the Coast in regard to the pack on the northern rivers were steadily bullish. Lately there has been some alteration in the nature of the advices, but the fact does not appear to have altered the position taken by canners on the Coast.

Montreal brokers who tried to secure supplies for some customers inside of $4.50 f.o.b. this week were unable to do so.

The canners wired back that that was their price, that they had no difficulty in getting English orders around it, and that while this was the case Canadians buyers could wait.

Last year the very lowest f.o.b. prices on canned salmon on the Coast were $4.20 to $4.25 for some northern river brands, which were sold to leading French houses in Montreal.

DEAR LEMONS.

Stocks of lemons on the Toronto market, in consequence of the hot weather demand, are getting lower every day and prices higher. Compared with a week ago, figures show an appreciation of one dollar per box.

The stocks held in Canada to-day consist of the fruit brought into Montreal in May last. When these are exhausted and dealers are compelled to import, prices are expected to further appreciate.

In New York there is also a scarcity of lemons. The N.Y. Journal of Tuesday, in its market report, said : "There was a small sale of fancy lemons to-day and comparatively high prices were realized. To-morrow the cargo of the Lisnacrieve will be offered at auction and is expected to bring higher prices, as the stock in local jobbers' hands is closely cleaned up, and there are a considerable number of out-of-town orders here, thus ensuring spirited bidding at the sale. At the auction sale of Sorrento and Majoris ex Werra to-day prices were on the average $1 per box higher than at the previous sale of the same grade of fruit."

LOW PRICES ON FRENCH PRUNES.

THE CANADIAN GROCER on July 31st referred to some low offers on French prunes which indicated a lower opening this year than last. Since then further low offers have been noted, and finally this week Montreal importers placed orders for some small supplies which will cost, laid down in Montreal, from 4c. to 4¾c. per pound, according to grade.

This is over 1c. to 1¼c. per pound less than the same grade of fruit cost last year, bearing out the accuracy of the information given previously.

Buyers, as a rule, are pursuing a conservative course, not alone in regard to prunes, but everything else. As the conditions go, their course is a proper one, on French prunes at any rate. The small contracts so far closed in Montreal are for August shipment.

NEW VALENCIA RAISINS OPEN HIGHER.

The first definite intelligence in regard to new crop Valencia raisins was received in Montreal this week.

It was an offer of prime off-stalk Valencia, August shipment, at 17s., cost and freight via Liverpool. This is about equivalent to $4.80 per cwt., or 5c. per lb., laid down in Montreal. It is 1s. per cwt. higher than the opening quotations cabled to Montreal last year, which were 16s. per cwt., cost and freight Liverpool, or 4¼ to 4½c. laid down Montreal for prime off-stalk.

So far, only a few hundred packages have been contracted for by Montreal jobbers at the above prices, they being in no hurry to buy despite the higher opening.

REPORTED LOW OFFERS ON SALMON.

A Montreal man who has just returned from the Maritime Provinces states that while he was in Halifax he was told by members of the trade there that new pack canned salmon had been offered at $4.25 f.o.b. on the Coast.

He learned, however, that no brand was specified, and for this reason does not put much stock in the report.

TORONTO BISCUIT CO'S ASSETS.

The assets of the Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co. have been disposed of. The purchasers are Major A. W. Porte, so well-known as the managing director of the McCormick Biscuit Mfg. Co., of London, and Mr. S. R. Parsons, late of Parsons, Bell & Co., Winnipeg.

The new proprietors took possession on Wednesday. Their intention is to carry on the manufacture of such lines as hitherto turned out by the Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co., with the addition of others from time to time.

The formation of a joint-stock company is contemplated. The services of Mr. H. C. Fortier, former manager of the business, have been retained by the new proprietors.

Major Porte, who has resided in London all his life-time up to the present, will now become a citizen of the "Queen City."

BIG CUT IN FLANNELETTES.

Since the Parks mill at St. John, N.B., went into the manufacture of flannelettes and offered several lines of lighter weights at less prices than the flannelettes of the Morrice mills, the latter has been threatening to meet the cut. The cut has now come, and is much greater than was expected. The circular of D. Morrice & Co. reduces prices from 6⅝c. to 5c. Other lines reduced are : Single yarns unbleached 10c., colored 18c., former prices 15 and 23c.; carpet warps unbleached 14c., colored 18c., former prices 16 and 20c.

The Parks mill has met the cut in all lines.

THE SALMON OUTLOOK.

Malcolm & Windsor, Gulf of Georgia Cannery, B.C., write THE CANADIAN GROCER regarding the salmon outlook as follows :

"Since last writing you the salmon outlook on the Fraser River has changed slightly for the better. There have been one or two small spurts lasting, however, only for a day at a time. There are fair numbers of 'sockeye' reported out in the salt water, and it is anticipated that this body of fish will, in all likelihood, strike the river about the 9th of this month, this being new moon. The high price remains unchanged, and packers are very dissatisfied, the season up to now having proved an exceedingly unsatisfactory one for them. One feature of this season is the large number of fancy shapes being put up on the Fraser, to the neglect of the better known 'talls.'"

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS is of a hand-to-mouth character, but trade is fairly active notwithstanding, for although retailers are, as a rule, buying in small lots, they are buying frequently, and they want their goods shipped promptly. There is still a great deal of sugar going out, although the demand is purely consumptive. The markets are quiet and steady, although locally jobbers are selling at pretty low figures. There has been no change in the canned goods situation, the demand for salmon being active at firm prices, while vegetables are in fair request at outside points. Rio coffees are quiet and easy outside. Locally, stocks are again getting reduced. Teas are in moderate request, but no new features have developed. There is a fair business doing in molasses, but scarcely anything doing in syrups. In foreign dried fruits, the demand continues active for currants, with only a moderate business doing in other lines. Lemons are scarce and dear, and stocks of oranges are momentarily bare. In general, payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

The activity and firmness of salmon continues to be the feature of the canned-goods market. Canned vegetables are in request at country points, but taking it in general the demand is of the character usual at this time of the year. In both supply and demand, lobster is light. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50; "Maple Leaf," $1.40; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.50 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

Stocks of the better grades of Rio coffees are again getting reduced on the local market, and the demand is fair. The primary markets for Rio coffees are quiet and easier. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15½ to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is very little doing. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Trade is fair at unchanged prices. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The steadiness noted in New York last week has, up to the time of writing, been maintained on refined sugars, although molasses sugar declined 1-16c. on Wednesday in sympathy with an easier feeling in beets in London. On Friday last the Acadia people advanced prices 1-16c. per pound all round, but the Toronto agents of the Montreal refineries are quoting as before. Locally, however, the market is still unsatisfactory as regards prices, figures quoted by the wholesale houses being very low. The trouble with the local market is that some of the jobbers who have stocks on hand are desirous of pushing them off. The ruling wholesale price for granulated is $4.35, although some houses have sold net at slightly lower figures. There is still a great deal of sugar being turned over, orders, although small, being numerous. Yellows run from $3.35 up.

In New York last week raw sugars advanced ¼c. on Muscovados, and 3-16c. on centrifugals. Refined advanced ⅛c. Total stocks of Europe and America, 1,631,731 tons, against 1,,629,926 tons last week, and 1,854,186 tons last year at the same uneven dates. The deficiency of stock is now 222,455 tons, against a deficiency of 233,947 tons last week, and surplus of 758,248 tons December 27, 1895.

SPICES.

There is nothing new to report. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Trade is seasonably fair in the articles enumerated below. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Much about as before. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

About the usual seasonable demand is being experienced. Japan teas are still receiving the most attention at about 18c. Then come Indian and Ceylon teas, at from 18 to 30c. Firmness is still the characteristic of the primary markets. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants continue in fair demand. We still quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are in light demand. We quote as follows: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; seedless, 4½ to 5c.; Sultana raisins 5½ to 6c., according to quality.

In prunes there is very little doing. We quote as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-

Dates are quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

California evaporated fruits are receiving little or no attention. We quote as follows: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Lemons are scarce and much higher, as high as $5 being quoted. The market is bare of oranges. There is a superabundance of domestic green fruits and prices are unusually low. The demand is poor, except in a few lines, and in these few lines peaches occupy the most prominent place. There are a few domestic grapes coming forward. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $4.50 to $5. Oranges—Sorrentos, nominally, $5 to $5.25 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.65; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 asack and 60c. per dozen; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 10c. per dozen; tomatoes, Canadian, 10 to 12½c. per basket; watermelons, 27 to 30c. each; apples, Canadian, 5 to 10c. per basket, and 60 to 75c. per bbl.; pears, 15 to 50c. per basket; Lawton berries, 2½ to 3c.; peaches, 35 to 60c. per basket; plums, 35 to 60c.; grapes, 25 to 50c. per 10 lb. basket; musk melons, $1.50 crate.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The condition of the market is still unsatisfactory. There is a good deal of dairy butter offering, and as but a very small proportion of it is good stock it is not much wanted, while buyers and sellers are apart in their views. There is a demand for choice butter, and creamery pound prints are going chiefly to supply it. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 10 to 12c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 14 to 16c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c.; 1-lb. blocks, 19 to 20c., according to make.

CHEESE—A better feeling prevails in the English market. The local demand is light at 7½ to 7¾c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—There is nothing doing and prices are nominally 65 to 75c. per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Weak and dull at 2¾ to 3½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—We hear of offers of new stock at 5¼ to 5½c., but no transactions are reported. Jobbers are quoting last season's fruit at 5½ to 6c.

EGGS—The market is much as before, the demand being light and prices weak at 8½c. for good stock.

HONEY—Quiet at $1.75 per dozen for comb, and 9c. per lb. for strained in 10 and 50-lb. tins.

POTATOES — Quiet at 30 to 35c. per bushel.

PROVISIONS.

There are no new features to note, the demand for smoked meats still being active at firm and unchanged prices.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10 to 10½c.; small hams, 10½c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 6¾c.; tubs, 7c.; pails, 7¼c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

FISH.

Fish of all kinds are scarce this week, owing to the hot weather, together with the fact that freezing operations for next winter's supply have begun. We quote as follows: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6 to 6½c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

SALT.

The local demand is good and business in carload lots is beginning to pick up again. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Receipts are not heavy. We quote: White wheat, 65c. for new and 68 to 69c. for old; red, 65c.; goose, 50 to 52c.; oats, 24½ to 25c.; peas, 50 to 51½c.

FLOUR—Trade is dull. Straight roller sold at $3.10, Toronto freights, and Ontario patents are quoted at $3.30, same freights.

BALED HAY—Choice new hay is in fair demand at $11.

BREAKFAST FOODS—The warm weather naturally interferes with trade in this line. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; rolled wheat, $2.10 to $2.25; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are unchanged, with cured quoted at 6¾ to 7c. Dealers pay 6½c. for No. 1, 5½c. for No. 2, and 4½c. for No. 3.

CALFSKINS—Market is dull at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2. Lambskins are firm at 40c. and pelts at 25c.

WOOL—Receipts are fair and prices unchanged. Fleece brings 18 to 19c.; rejections, 15c., and unwashed, 11c. Pulled supers are 20 to 20½c., and extras, 21 to 21½c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 3¼ to 4c. for rendered and 1¼ for rough.

PETROLEUM.

Business continues much about the same as before. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Barff & Co., Ltd., is the style of a new fruit firm, with a capital of £25,000,000, which has been organized in London, Eng. The firm will work in connection with Hancock & Wood, of Patras, the successors of Barff & Co., of Zante, Patras & London, which recently went into liquidation.

Lemons have advanced to $4.50 to $5.

Stocks of oranges in Toronto are bare.

The Toronto banks have issued a notice to the effect that they will not accept United States silver certificates except at a discount of 10 per cent.

GROCERIES.

The grocery market has shown no striking change during the past week, but the situation is not entirely without interesting features. The distributive demand for sugar is brisk, while prices are unaffected by it—remaining at the decline, despite the fact, and also in the face of strength in both raw and refined on outside markets. Syrups are dull, but trading between dealers in molasses has been good. Jobbing business, however, is nil. Spices and coffees are motionless. In teas, business is not quite as brisk as it was last week, but the tone, especially in medium and low grade Japans, is firm. Coffees continue easy in feeling. In dried fruit, advices on California raisins are again contradictory. Offers on new crop Valencias have been made, but are not considered reliable. In prunes, forward business in French for August shipment has transpired at a low cost. Canned goods exhibit no improvement, while produce is dull, except for cheese and butter, on which the speculative element are advancing prices.

SUGAR.

Demand has been good, as the preserving season is on in full force, and a good volume of business has been transacted in a jobbing way at 4⅜c. for granulated and 3⅛ to 3¾c. for yellows. The refiners on Wednesday, however, reduced their prices 1-16c. all round. Cables on beet on Tuesday were rather easier, quoting August down to 9s. 10½d. Fair refining Muscovado, on the other hand, is 6d. higher for the outside quotation in London at 10s. Centrifugals, according to cables to refiners here, have not varied at all during the past week. In New York granulated continues steady at 4⅞c., refiners' terms.

SYRUPS.

There is no improvement in the syrup market, and little prospect of any with the weather as torrid as it is at present. Offerings are fair, while demand is quiet and prices unchanged at 1½ to 2¾c., according to grade.

MOLASSES.

A fair business has been done in molasses between traders, several large lots, including an extra cargo of 500 odd puncheons, changing hands. In fact, there is some desire to stock up, which causes more activity in a large way at 28 to 28½c. for Barbadoes and Porto Rico. Jobbing demand is almost nil, and prices unchanged at 30 to 31c., according to quantity.

RICE.

A good demand has been maintained for rice at the mills during the week, and values are steady. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There is a quiet, steady demand for spices at former values. We quote : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues dull and easy in tone, though there is no quotable change in prices. We quote : Rio, 17 to 18c.; Maracaibo, 17½ to 18c.; Java, 25 to 28c., and Mocha, 26 to 29c.

TEAS.

The tea market has not been so active this week in a large way, but the tone generally is firm, especially on medium and low-grade Japans, which are not coming forward as freely as buyers anticipated. We note sales all the way from 15 to 17c.; which seem to be the grades most in demand. China blacks have a slow sale in grades around 18c. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been little change in the situation of the dried fruit market except that further contradictory advices have been received regarding the date of first shipments of California. Advices now are that it will be October before any shipments are made. We quote : 2-crown, 4½ to 5c.; 3 do., 5¾ to 6c.; 4 do., 7 to 7½c.

Some orders have, it is claimed, gone forward to Denia for Valencias, but the figures given are irregular. We quote : Off-stalk ordinary, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine, 5c., and selected, 5½ to 6c.

There is no change in currants, which we quote at 3½ to 3¾c. barrels, 4 to 4¼c. half-barrels, and 5c. in cases.

Sales of new French prunes for forward delivery, shipment in August, have been made at lower prices. Spot quotations, however, are unchanged at 5 to 5¼c. for French and 6c. for Austrian.

NUTS.

There is little change in nuts. New Grenoble walnuts are offering at 11c. per lb., and we quote : Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c. ; Brazils, 11c. ; almonds, 10½ to 11c. ; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

This market still fails to furnish any life, demand for all lines being of a limited character. The firm feeling in lobsters is fully maintained, while sales of new pack salmon are as difficult to make as ever. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50 ; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality ; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20 ; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25 ; pumpkins, 75 to 85c. ; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45 ; "Clover Leaf," $1.35 ; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15 ; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

The chief feature in green fruit has been the heavy receipts of new apples with which the market is overloaded, and prices have declined sharply in consequence. Bananas continue in limited supply, while receipts of Ontario peaches are almost on a par with those of apples. All kinds of California fruit are in good demand at steady prices. We quote: Peaches, 30 to 50c. per box; pears, 50c. ; plums, 70c.; Canadian apples, $1 to $1.40; tomatoes in crates, 60c. to 77½c.; dried apples, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1; pineapples, 6¼ to 10c.; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $2 to $3.75, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The demand for eggs is slow and prices continue to decline under accumulating stock. We quote : 8½ to 9c. for No. 1 and 7c. for culls. New laid stock sells at 12c.

BEANS—Continue dull at 70 to 75c. in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a small way.

POTATOES—Increasing receipts have led to a further decline in potatoes, which are now offered freely in barrels at 90c. to $1.15 and in sacks at 40 to 50c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 4c.

HOPS—Quiet, at 5c. to 7c., as to quality.

HONEY—New honey is offering at 10 to 12c..

BALED HAY—Business in hay has been quiet. The first receipts of new hay arrived here this week. It is offering at $10.50 to $11. Old No. 1 is still quoted at $13 and No. 2 at $10.50, car lots on track.

PROVISIONS.

The continued hot weather has not improved the position of the provision market, and business is absolutely motionless. We quote as follows : Canadian short cut, clear, $10.50 to $11; Canadian short cut, mess, $11 to $11.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been an easier feeling in flour since last report and prices were cut by millers on everything except winter wheat. patents and strong bakers'. At this writing demand is quiet as follows: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.50 to $3.65; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.40.

The oatmeal business continues dull, and present prices would be shaded for round lots. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

A fairly active demand was done in feed at firm prices. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market has been an excited one since last report and prices are fully ½ to ¾c. per pound higher than they were a week ago. The advance is mainly due to speculators who took hold last week and ran prices up at the different country boards. At this writing 7½ to 8c. is the range for spot business, and it is doubtful if finest could be had under the outside price as a lot of 900, Quebec makes, sold to-day at 7¾c.

The butter market is equally strong, as shippers have paid an advance of ½c. in the country since last report, 17½c. being paid at the creamery last week for some of the last half of July make. On this basis no finest can be had here under 17½c. Seconds show little improvement, ranging from 15½ to 16c.

ASHES.

Continue quiet and unchanged. We quote: Firsts, $3.30 to $3.40; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.50 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

No forward business of any consequence is yet reported in new pack canned salmon.

Jobbing demand for molasses is nil, but quite a few round lots have changed hands between traders at 28½c.

The first offers on new crop Valencia raisins this year are 1s. higher than the opening offers last summer.

Demand for new Japan tea is not quite so brisk as it was last week, but the tone is very firm on medium and low grades, owing to stronger advices from primary markets.

Canned lobsters continue firm, and jobbers are finding it difficult to have orders accepted, except at extreme figures.

It is said that the sugar refineries are not so anxious to make forward contracts this week at ruling prices as they were last week.

Enormous receipts of summer apples during the past week have caused a regular glut. The great bulk of the arrivals are going begging at $1 per barrel.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 13, 1896.

THE week has shown but a fair movement of goods. In markets there is a rather better feeling, noticeably in fish, flour, sugar and pork, while in canned goods the very active competition has driven prices down, and goods are offered rather lower than at any time previously this season. New teas are now well in ; the direct importations coming here from year to year continue to increase. Hops are at present a large stock, one dealer having a car. They have been sold lower during the past few weeks than ever. In Canadian pickles there has been quite a stir owing to competition between two Upper Canadian houses selling here, and prices have somewhat suffered. Good sales are reported. In jams and jellies also packers are making a strong push for business. In these goods, chiefly jams in pails, the trade has grown very much during the past few years.

OIL—There is still but a small movement. In burning oil prices show no change. Cod oil is coming in more freely, and while fishermen are very firm in their price, dealers report but a quiet demand at even figures. We quote: American burning oil, 21 to 22½c.; best Canadian, 19 to 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—The sardine people at Eastern Maine have used but little salt this season, and this has had quite an effect on the general demand. At present the movement is light, outside dealers and consumers being well supplied. Stock here is very light and prices rather higher. Small quantities continue to arrive via Boston. We quote: Coarse, 50c.; factory-filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl ; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c ; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.

CANNED GOODS—A car of old tomatoes was received this week and distributed among the wholesale dealers. While as regards quality there may be a little difference between them and the new, the presence of old corn and tomatoes tends to keep the price low, but outside of that the packers themselves offer new goods very low. Pears are not very plentiful, nor do many packers offer peaches freely. They hold gallon apples firmer than a week ago, though the price is still low. Salmon are held firm. From the present outlook, stocks held here will not be as large this season as last. Lobsters are all but out of the market. For the few here high prices are asked. Oysters are a light stock and held firm ; demand is not large. We quote as follows : Corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, 75 to 80c. ; tomatoes, 75 to 80c. ; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25 ; corned beef, 2-lb tins, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35 ; American, $2.40 to $2.50 ; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50 ; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25 ; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50 ; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75 ; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40 ; lobsters, $2.10 ; haddies, $1.25 $1.30 ; clams, $5 for 4 doz ; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz. ; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

GREEN FRUIT—There is lots of business moving. Berries, which have continued to come forward freely till the last few days, are about out of the market. The shipments to the States have been very large of late, immense quantities of blueberries being shipped Cherries have also continued to arrive in small quantities. Canadian apples are now received regularly, and early Nova Scotia fruit is being offered. Canadian plums are now arriving. It will be but a very short time before the Nova Scotia plum is here. In both these and apples a very large crop in Nova Scotia is expected. Delaware peaches have not given satisfaction in quality and some have had to be sold low. Owing to the quality of oranges sale is light. Barreled pears are now coming in and demand for all grades is large. Melons are dull. Two grades lemons are quoted. Market is still bare of apricots. We quote: Lemons, $4.50 to $5.75 ; Valencia oranges, $9.50 to $10; bananas, $1 to $1.50; grapes, $3 per crate; California plums, $2 to $2.25; tomatoes, $1.25 per crate; peaches, $2 to $2.25; melons, 40 to 50c.: apples, $2.25 to $3 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—There is still a light movement. In raisins, stocks are very light. Currants have been in good demand all summer. The cleaned are now sold almost altogether. Even the exporters in Greece are quoting them cleaned, having imported the machinery to clean them. Orders are being sent forward for French prunes and plums, but in limited quantities. In dried and evaporated apples there is nothing new, the demand being very light. In evaporated, dealers begin to ask the price of new. There is no sale whatever for California evaporated goods. The sale in St. John of sultana raisins is very limited. Values show no change. We quote as follows : Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L.

M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, cases, 4¼ to 5c; bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4¾ to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6¾ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 1¾c.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—In butter there is rather better demand, but it is only for best quality, and even yet it is hard to get the price asked by creameries. Poor stock is plentiful. Demand is rather better for eggs this week and price is rather higher. This is another article in which buyers are particular at this season about quality. In cheese, people begin to enquire for July make. Prince Edward Island this year sold their June cheese. Other years they have held them and sold the season's make together. It did not prove satisfactory, and this year they have taken the wiser plan. All our factories have done this as much as possible. Prices have been low, but for July makes are firmer. But few factories have this year sold the season's make, buyers being offish, owing to low prices last year. We quote: Dairy butter, 14 to 15c.; new creamery, prints, 18c.; creamery, tubs, 17 to 18c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c. Eggs, 9 to 10c.

SUGAR—There is as yet no change here in price, although the feeling continues to grow firmer. There has been a better demand during the past week, owing to stocks becoming light. Some of our larger merchants have still heavy stocks—one has over three thousand barrels—but the larger number are again beginning to buy. Higher prices are looked for. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—Importations this year have been heavy, but chiefly of Porto Rico. Stocks held in the city at present, though ample, cannot be called large. Prices are hardly as firm as a week ago. There is beginning to be some enquiry for New Orleans. This molasses gave splendid satisfaction during the past season. Syrup, as yet, shows very little movement. We quote: Barbadoes, 26 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.

FISH—The demand which is usual at this season for dry fish has found an almost bare market and this has caused some advance in dry cod. Pollock is not showing a corresponding firmness. Hake are also dull; they have been very quiet this season. New fish come in more freely, but as yet not in any large quantities. In pickled the bay herring, as yet, show light arrivals. Some new Canso are in the market. Smoked herring are still the dull feature in the trade and good stock can be bought low. In fresh fish a few salmon are still caught and they now bring a high price. While the shad are of good quality, the catch so far has been light, and they sell freely fresh. Pickled shad do not have, at this season, a very large sale. In mackerel some continue to pass through St. John for the American market. We quote: Large cod, $3.40 to $3.45; medium, $3.15 to $3.25; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.50; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 18 to 20c. per lb.; shad, fresh, 12 to 15c.; Canso, 4c.

PROVISIONS—Pork, much to the satisfaction of holders, has taken a turn upward, and higher prices are asked. Mess, of which there is no American in the market, is held higher than clear. In beef, the price is off, and some American has been offered very low. Hams have again been marked higher. Rolls show little demand. Lard continues very low. Stock of old here is still large. We quote: Clear pork, $13 to $13.50; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $11.50 to $12.25; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7 to 8c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour price shows little, if any, change from last week. The effort to advance Manitobas did not succeed. The Ontarios still show firmness, with the slight advance maintained. Though oats are rather higher, oatmeal shows no change. Even with the large stocks of beans here there continues some demand and prices are no higher. The large sale of cornmeal still continues, with prices still at the low figure. Feed is still light sale. Hay shows prospect of a good season and full prices are expected. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.15; medium, $3.90 to $4; oatmeal, $2.25 to $3.10; cornmeal, $1.95 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15.50 to $16; bran, do do, $14.50 to $15; handpicked beans, 90c. to $1; prime, 80c.; oats, 31 to 33c.; hay, $13 to $14; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.10 to $1.20; split peas, $3.40 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

St. John has a new oil house, the A. B. McLean Co. They also sell belting.

Two cars of wool, bought in this province by Yarmouth parties, passed through the city for Ontario this week.

A small cargo of Barbadoes molasses arrived this week at Campbellton containing 145 casks and 50 barrels.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, Montreal, spent a few days in our city, calling on the trade, with their local representative, Mr. F. R. Titus.

Mr. John J. Ryan, the popular representative of Lefebvre, was in the city this week. He does a large trade in St. John, particularly in keg pickles.

Although not as many sardines are put up by the Canadians as by their friends on the other side of the line, the quality is said to be better. John Sealy this week received a consignment from Connors Bros.

No business man is better known or more popular than Mr. Ganong, of the St. Croix Soap Co., nor is there any doing a larger business in his line here. The dealers have to keep Surprise soap. It has two most popular features: it sells quickly and pays a profit.

There is nothing nicer in its line than Beardsley's "Acme" chipped beef. It is a little higher than some brands, but it is

St. John is to have a new cornmeal mill. It will be situated on the west side of the harbor, and will have a capacity of 400 barrels in 10 hours. The builders, who are Messrs. Fowler & Calhoune, who have long been the largest millers here, are talking of adding a flour mill of 200 barrels in 10 hours capacity. The mill will have an elevator in connection 40 feet square and 70 feet high. They now have here, and in transit, 28 cars of corn.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

GENERAL trade still remains good, although the boom of Carnival week has slackened the retail trade somewhat.

There is a small sized scare on here over American silver. As Halifax is a sort of head centre for American tourists, there is naturally a large amount of American silver in circulation, which up to Monday was taken at its face value by most of our business men and all the hotels and saloons. Now it is being taken with a large discount, or refused altogether. The banks have refused to take it, and they have placed a discount of 1 per cent. on American paper. The discount was formerly ½ per cent.

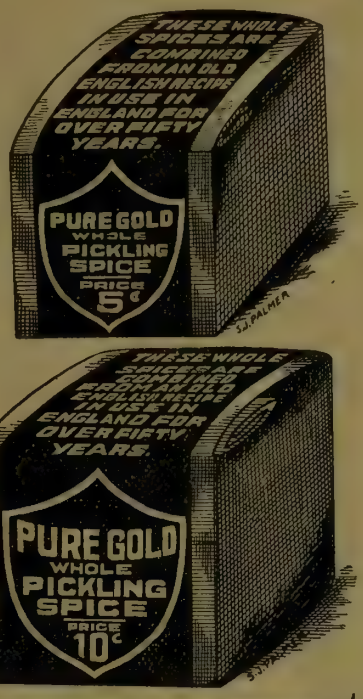
The Halifax fish market continues to sustain its good feeling. The first news from Labrador states that traps at Battle Harbor have all been taken up, as catching fish is at an end for the season. The salmon fishing there is over and has been the worst for years. The fishermen of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County, are reaping a rich harvest in shad. They are large and fat. Boats averaged 5 bbls., which were sold at $12 to $15 per bbl. A number of vessels at Digby are fitting out and will be soon on the grounds.

As intimated last week, the Nova Scotia crops are looking well. THE GROCER has a report from P. E. Island showing that the crops there are wonderfully good. Hay is above the average, and grain never looked better. The fruit crop is good, apples being particularly plentiful. The potato bug has been troublesome, but farmers used Paris green with good effect.

The domestic sugar market still shows considerable activity, although prices have not advanced, quotations being: Granulated, 4¼c., and yellows, 3 7-16 to 3¼c. The refinery has met with a heavy demand, most of which called for immediate shipment, showing that the country was practically bare of sugar. As both refined and raw have advanced, there is every reason to expect refined prices in Canada to make a forward move.

The green fruit market is quite active. The steamer Olivette brought large supplies from Boston on Monday. Oranges are higher, being quoted at $7 per box of 160 count. Lemons are worth $5, 300 count, for good stock. Bananas keep about the same, being quoted at $1.75 to $2.25 for good shipping stock. Melons are coming in freely and sell at 30c. each. California pears are quoted at $2.75 per box and California plums at $1.75. Peaches are worth $1.50 to $1.75. There is a good demand for raspberries at 10c. per box. They are not very plentiful as yet, but are expected to be in a few days, when the quotation will be lowered. Some few very green Nova Scotia August apples have arrived, but they are unsalable. Good American are worth $2.50 per barrel.

There is a good demand for cheese, which is quoted at 8½c. in jobbing lots.



Butter is rather slow. Creamery is jobbing in tubs at 19c., and prints about the same. Dairy is running at from 16 to 18c.

Eggs are quoted at 8½c. on P.E. Island for candled stocks, which is about 9c. landed here. There is a good demand.

The green market is quiet. Considerable truck and young vegetables in bunches are on the market. New potatoes are worth 40c. P.E. Island oats are quoted at 27 to 29c., and Canadian at 26 to 28c.

The provision market is fairly brisk, good fat beef is worth $8; grass fed, $7, and lean, $6.50. There is not much native coming in as farmers are busy at haying. Lambs are worth $2.25 to $2.75; mutton sells at 5c., and veal at 5c.

There is not much doing in poultry. Chickens are still small. They sell at 40c. Fowls are worth from 50 to 55c., and turkeys, $1 to $1.50.

P. E. Island mess pork is quoted at $13.50 and thin mess at $12.50. Some local "operators" are said to have made considerable money by the recent rise in Chicago.

The demand for flour still continues satisfactory, and dealers are looking for higher prices. Quotations are: Hungarian patent, Manitoban, $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', $4 to $4.10; Canadian, pastry, $3.90 to $4; 75 per cent. roller patents, $3.75 to $3.80; 80 per cent. do., $3.70 to $3.75; 90 per cent. do., $3.65 to $3.70.

Considerable dried and pickled fish is going forward, principally to the United States. Quotations are: Shore cod, dry, tol quol, prime, $2.50 to $3.50; small bank do., $1.75 to $2.25; large do., $3; bay do., $1.75 to $2.25; Labrador, $2; Cape Breton, haddock, $1.50 to $1.75; hake, $1.25 to $1.50; pollock, $1.50; split herrings, No. 1, $1; shore do., large fat, $3 to $3.50; alewives, $3; mackerel, No. 3, large, $7 t $7.50; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10.50; No. 1, small, $9.

Sales of molasses continue to consist of very small lots. Quotations are: St. Croix, 28c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; Trinidad, 27c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, "M. R." brand, 39c.; St. Kitts, 28c.

Canned goods are not in great demand. Dealers are endeavoring to force sales on old stocks, which are said to be light. Nominal prices are: Gallon apples, $1.90; butter and string beans, 90c.; Boston baked beans, $2.15; corn, 90c.; peas, 95c.; pears, 1's, $1.75; peaches, 2's, $1.85; pineapples, sliced, $2; plums, $1.75; raspberries, $1.25; strawberries, $2.40; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25; 2's, $2.25; 14's, $15 per doz.; sardines, $1.25, $1.40 and $1.60, as to quality for imported, and $5 per case of 100 cans of medium quality home packed.

Dried fruits are quiet. Off-stalk raisins are worth 5c., and fine do., 5¾ to 6½c., with higher grades at 6 to 6½c. Prunes are jobbing satisfactorily at 5½c. for good California stocks, and 4 to 5c. for French.

A. M. Boutillier has taken the large premises on Gottingen street vacated by Freeman & McPherson, and now has the handsomest retail grocery in the city.

ROQUEFORT CHEESE.

It is supposed that hundreds of years ago the south of France was disturbed by volcanic eruptions, which split up the ancient granite rocks, causing streams of lava to flow from them, says The Mercury.

The new surface consisted of basaltic rocks, which in turn were fissured by eruptions and thrown up on to a mountain range. The whole of the interior of a mountain was thus formed into caverns and caves, which belched forth hot, sulphurous springs.

It is here that the celebrated Roquefort cheeses are made.

The village of Roquefort is situated on the mountain Larzac, which is about twenty-five miles in length and nearly 3,000 feet high. It consists chiefly of limestone, covered with sufficient pasture to feed the 300,000 sheep kept for their milk. The caves, being formed by the displacement of rocks, consist of an intricate labyrinth of open spaces and passages, connected with each other and with a subterranean outlet. A cool current of air, therefore, always of the same degree of humidity and temperature, flows in a never-interrupted stream through the caves.

There is nothing in the milk or in the preparation of the cheeses that gives them that peculiar flavor and delicious mellowness for which they are so renowned. This is entirely effected by the method by which they are cured.

THE COMPLAINTS OF CUSTOMERS.

THE ideal business is conducted without friction, says an exchange. Everything moves along without jar, and the proprietor is never troubled by strife within, or complaints from his clients, but each year as it rolls round to its close displays one of prosperity and profit. That this ideal business does not exist we are inclined to believe. There are always some things going wrong, even in spite of the best organized effort; and one of the things which tends to cast a cloud over business prosperity of any house is the complaints of customers.

No matter how perfect the system, or how closely every detail is attended to, there will be little misunderstandings and disagreements suddenly crop out, and cause some customer to become dissatisfied or offended at the manner in which he is treated. The cause of disagreement may be but slight, yet it generally calls for prompt and careful treatment or a customer is lost. When the cause of the trouble is known it is more easily remedied. But oft-times people get offended, and the business man is ignorant that there is anything wrong. Every business man should keep a close watch over his books, and notice when any account gradually grows less and less until it is ended, or an otherwise good buyer suddenly ceases to buy. He should make it a point to find out, if possible, the reason, and if he is as shrewd as he should be, he can generally do so.

By making enquiries, he will, in most cases, learn that the party is buying elsewhere because of some grievance. This grievance may be either real or fancied. Very often it is a fancied one, and a short conversation with the proprietor himself will generally bring about a reconciliation. But in many cases a real cause of dispute does exist, and the customer has reason to consider himself unjustly or carelessly treated.

In a matter of overcharge it is generally the better plan to make concessions, even more than justice would demand, rather than not fully satisfy the customer. Some people are so unreasonable that it is hard to satisfy them, but it pays in the long run to do so, even if there is not any profit left in the transaction, as it should be made an invariable rule to satisfy every customer if you desire to retain his trade and build up business. A dissatisfied customer may do a good deal of harm. If he kept his grievance to himself it perhaps might not make the matter so bad, but beside losing his trade you lose his good-will, and this means a great deal to anyone doing business. If you get a former customer's ill-will, he can do you a great deal of harm if he is so disposed. It is always desirable to make as few enemies and as many friends as possible in business.

In every business which has grown to be a successful one, it will generally be found that one of the primary principles on which its success has been achieved has been to retain, as far as possible, the good-will of everyone who has any dealings with the house, and endeavor to not engender the ill-will of any. Another cause of dissatisfaction is in refusing to make donations to some object, generally religious, with which some customer is identified, and for which he may be soliciting aid. Leaving out the question of moral obligation or duty, if the request is not in some way responded to offence is given and trade is lost. It pays to give to many calls of this kind, purely as a matter of business. The contribution need not be large. It is an advertisement to the house and generally pays well. One instance came under the writer's notice, where the proprietor of a wholesale house was asked to contribute to a church building fund and generously responded. The result was that the asker of the donation, who had previously bought little of the wholesaler, became a regular customer, and bought largely ; while in another case a wholesale house being asked for a donation of this kind, the proprietor, who, though he could have well afforded it, refused to give anything, and turned the matter off by writing a very polite note. But his politeness failed him in this case, and a customer, whose trade was worth hundreds of pounds during a single year, was lost, and no amount of coaxing was sufficient to bring him back again. The demands for money for these objects are very frequent, but where a client of the house is in any way connected, it is the surest way to give something, for if the opposite course is chosen it is almost always sure to cause offence.

Complaints are sometimes made of the inattention of assistants. Every effort should be used to prevent such complaints being made. Prompt attention to customers should be the rule. It is in the majority of shops, we believe. But in some there is neither the rule nor the observance.

Ordinary slowness in tying up a parcel or waiting on a customer can be condoned. But to allow a customer to stand in a shop awaiting the pleasure of those who should be awaiting his or her pleasure is one of the unpardonable sins of trade. Every man behind the counter should remember that the customer is not seeking his pleasure, but that it is his duty to await the pleasure of the customer, whether that customer be rich man or poor man, woman or child.

THE MERCANTILE GUERRILLA.

THERE can be no question but that irregular methods of doing business are among some of the more prominent causes of demoralization and disaster. It is an old saying that there is no sentiment in business, and in a strictly commercial sense this is so. It is, however, impossible to separate the man from his business. If he is avaricious, or tricky, if he is vain or pretentious, if he lacks in judgment, or is overloaded with impulsiveness or indiscretion, he carries his vices or failings into his business, as he does his skin into a bath tub. He may be submerged in groceries, dry goods, hardware or pig iron, but the man in the centre of the pile colors his business, as the glass of a signal light makes it red or green. The idea that a man leaves his character, whether good or bad, on the street side of his office, and is cut and dried to a certain shape, as is a paper collar or a tin soldier, is if a prevalent yet a mistaken notion. If a man has a conscience he cannot hang it up with a latch key—if he has none, being in business will not supply the missing article. In our business establishments, as in Noah's Ark, the clean and the unclean, the lamb that eats grass and the wolf that eats lamb, are all enclosed in the same building. This menagerie will always exist, and no matter how business men may organize for mutual protection, and how perfectly they may formulate their maxims of trade, the vices as well as the virtues of men will show themselves. Uniformity of character is impossible either in cats or dogs, men or women. Hence the secret of much that is discreditable, selfish and irregular in business lies beneath the lining of the vest and the curvature of a rib. Bad debts are piled up in pyramids ; the constable and the sheriff rake in the fees at all seasons of the year ; dishonest men fill up their shelves with goods that are never paid for; men rush into business with as little fitness for the same as a blind man would have in running a locomotive, and others sell goods at a loss, expecting to find golden eggs in the nest of a dead goose. All this is possible behind a stone front and a gilded signboard, or an elegant office chair, or in an artistic enclosure of bronzed lattice work. Hence the world of business can never be free from its troubles and uncertainties, its fools or its knaves. There might be less of these, however, if these evils were not encouraged as they too often are. In pushing business, prudence is often forgotten, inducements are offered to unreliable men, and risks assumed that savor more of a betting ring than a business house. Prices are butchered and values demoralized, and one might as reasonably expect to make a necktie of a rainbow as to secure prosperity by such means. It is done, however, every day, and those who hire the piper must pay for the music.—Age of Steel.

MANCHESTER SHIP CANAL.

The traffic on the Manchester Ship Canal keeps steadily on the up-grade. Some significant figures have been quoted by The Manchester City News, which shows gratifying progress. The canal has now been working two years and a half. If we take the five half-years, we find the tonnage work out as follows :

	Tons.
First half-year	262,000
Second half-year	425,000
Third half-year	481,000
Fourth half-year	605,000
Fifth half-year	668,000

That gives monthly averages of :

	Tons.	Increase.
1894	57,000	— per cent.
1896 (six months)	111,000	23½ "

The above advertisement is neither much better nor much worse than the average announcement of those who sell goods for men, and expect men to read them. Most men, and all women, read advertisements. All men, and some women, say they don't read advertisements. Everybody reads advertisements. Very few read many advertisements. Most folks read advertisements with the eye, without brain accompaniment. Advertisements must be so simple that the understanding isn't obliged to exert itself to understand. There would be no objection to filling an advertisement full of solidly set matter if a bill could be introduced into the legislature, and passed, compelling all buyers to read all advertisements. So long as the buyer remains a free agent, just so long will he read the brief and simple advertisement, and not read the advertisement that requires time and study. It makes little difference what the advertiser thinks. It makes a great difference what the reader thinks. The advertisement pleasing to the advertiser is frequently unprofitable to him. As the advertiser wants the buyer more than the buyer wants him, he must make an effort to get the buyer. He must adapt his advertising to the buyer's taste, to the buyer's understanding, and to the buyer's time, and the shorter he makes the advertisement, the more buyers will read it. Better have a short advertisement read by ten men than a long advertisement read by one man, particularly as that one man is likely to be a man without money, who reads advertisements for recreative purposes.

NEW SEASON'S CALIFORNIA PRUNES.

WITHIN the week the first sales of new crop California prunes have been made. The quantity sold approximated 20 carloads, and the price paid was about 1⅛c. per lb. less than the first prunes sold at a year ago. The goods were sold for September shipment, although, according to some reports, they were not to be started from the Coast until early October. Since these sales were made the Coast market has stiffened somewhat, and at present writing there are no sellers below 3c. in bags and 3¼c. in 50-lb. boxes, an advance of one-eighth of a cent on the prices paid so far.

On the other hand there appears to be little interest shown now by the eastern trade, although Chicago buyers are reported to be ready to take a considerable quantity at a slight shading from present quotations. Several lots are said to be under negotiation, but so far nothing has resulted. Prices are not general as yet, there having been but one or two sellers on the Coast at the prices named above.

The outlook for the crop appears to be somewhat uncertain. Most of the information received from California points to a larger output this year than last, but our informants state that the proportion of large sizes will be smaller than in 1895. The fruit is said to be ripening and the drop has been heavy, hence the uncertainty as to the size of the crop. The California Fruit Grower, which is considered to be a reliable authority, says on this point in its issue of the 30th ult.: "The growing crop will no doubt ripen early. The hot weather has caused prunes to turn color, ripen and drop much earlier than usual. These prunes, we learn, are on the trays drying. It is a question about the quality of the fruit they will produce. Dealers are making firm offers to sell new crop prunes at 3½c. for equal quantities of the four sizes in bags f.o.b. for September shipment. For 40 to 50's 5½c., and 50 to 60's 5c. is asked, but thus far we do not learn of any sales." —N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

SALMON PACKING ON THE COAST.

Advices from the Fraser River are very discouraging. The average pack for the past week for each cannery is only a little over 1,000 cases.

Reports to The Commercial Journal up to Saturday night show an average of 3,747 cases for 21 canneries on the main river and an average of 1,650 cases for seven canneries on the North Arm, while the general average is 3,225 cases for 28 canneries.

The following are the approximate packs of the canneries by cases to August 1st inclusive:

Atlas Cannery, 1,100 cases; Malcolm, Windsor & Co., 4,750; Star (Costello & McM.), 4,875; Federation Canning Co., 4,500; Brunswick Cannery, 4,375; Imperial Cannery, 4,200; J. A. Hume & Co., Ltd., 975; Britannia-Phoenix, 6,450; Pacific C. P. Co., 4,000; Beaver Cannery, 3,950; Can. Pac. P. Co., 4,000; Westham Isl. Pkg. Co., 1,700; Anglo-American Cannery, 1,600; British-America, 7,650; Wellington Pkg. Co., 1,750; Harlock P. Co., 1,500; Fishermans Cannery, 5,250; Wadham's Cannery, 8,100; Delta Cannery, 1,950; British Columbia, 2,000; Boutillier & Co., 4,150; Richmond Cannery, 1,900; Alliance, 850; Sexthsmith, 900; Terra Nova Cannery, 1,975; Bon Accord Cannery, 4,000; Densmore Cannery, 975; Goodmurphy & Co., 950; total, 90,275.—B.C. Commercial Journal, August 4.

DISHONESTY IN BUSINESS.

THERE is a good deal of rank dishonesty in business that passes for enterprise and business necessity, says Minneapolis Commercial Bulletin. The fact is, there is no difference between it and highway robbery, so far as the moral and ethical principle involved is concerned. The social life of the people is adulterated with this species of dishonesty, and, generally speaking, there is little of common honesty among men. There is a great deal of the honesty that would not waylay a fellow and rob him on the highway, but there is much less of the honesty that would not waylay a fellow in one's place of business and rob him by selling him goods under misrepresentation that will not bear the light of day. What is the difference?

There is no difference in principle; there is a difference in method. The violation of moral principle is as great in one instance as in the other, and perhaps it is greater in the case of the man who misrepresents his goods for the purpose of gaining custom. Our mercantile life is pitched on a low plane when we can buy silks worth $1.25 a yard for 69 cents. And this is what the merchants are telling us can be done, when, as a plain matter of common sense, we all know that it cannot be done, and is not done.

I was in a store in this city not long ago and overheard the floor-walker say to his salesman: "We only sold about 100 of them to-day; if I had put a bankrupt-sale card on them I think we would have sold 1,500; I shall put one on to-morrow." In other words, here is a store that permits the wholesale misrepresentation of goods. I saw myself a stock placarded as if bought in another city, when I knew that not one article in it was ever in that city. What is the moral result of a school of trade like this? Every clerk in it is taught to misrepresent, and of these people we are making future business men and women. Is this a trivial matter? On the other hand, it is a very serious matter.

FRUIT TRADE OF SICILY.

U.S. Consul Caughy, reporting to the Department of State on the fruit trade of Sicily, says that the season of 1895-96, now drawing to a close, will leave behind it a record that will have no rival in the history of the industry. Over two and a half million boxes were exported, with an average loss of one dollar per box. The cause of this deplorable condition is an indiscriminate distribution of letters of credit among people who were absolutely irresponsible. This resulted in the shipment of fruit of the commonest quality and in enormous quantities.

CANADA SUPPLANTING IRISH BACON.

Irish bacon is not in the good odor it once was, and the public, who take all things as a matter of course, and therefore do not marvel at it, have been recently getting the benefit of the low range of prices which the growing disfavor has brought about, the influence thereof extending to hams, perhaps never so cheap as now. Hog raising is not the science across the St. George's Channel it is with our Continental neighbors, and Denmark holds the palm, just as she does in butter. Canada, however, is coming forward as a supplanter of home-fed porkers, and the fine flavor imparted by the system of pea-feeding adopted in the Dominion has caused a set-in of demand for it which has made imports from Montreal assume quite a respectable figure in the returns. What Ireland looks like losing Canada seems likely to gain.—English Exchange.

A NEW TEA FIRM.

LINDSAY, McKINNON & CO., 392 St. Paul street, Montreal, is the title of a new wholesale firm, who will devote their attention solely to tea and coffee. Both gentlemen are well qualified for the business they are undertaking. W. B. Lindsay is one of the patriarchs of the trade in Montreal, having been over 40 years in the business, the bulk of them as a partner in the old and well-known house of Kinloch, Lindsay & Co. Rod McKinnon, the other partner, has until very lately represented Stroud Bros., the wholesale tea men, on the road. The new firm will carry a stock both of teas and coffees, and their premises will be ready and stocked for business in about the middle of the month.

AN ENTERPRISING FIRM.

EAST End people have reason to be proud of the enterprise shown by Edgett Bros., the well-known grocers. The firm comprises H. A. and F. A. Edgett, and they commenced business on Harris street, near Dunlevy avenue, five years ago, starting the first store in that section of the city. By carrying a good stock, paying strict attention to business and endeavoring to suit the wants of their customers they have built up a large and lucrative business, which has not remained by any means confined to the immediate district in which the store is situated. The increase in business necessitated the securing of larger premises, and accordingly the firm has erected a store on the corner of Dunlevy avenue and Harris street, a short distance west of their original premises. The building is a two-storey frame, and was erected by day labor under the personal supervision of H. A. Edgett. The building is 25x65 ft., and the first floor is devoted to the store and store room, and later the old building will be moved to the rear and used in connection with the business. The store fittings are neat and unique and the stock is one of the best and most complete in the city. The second storey has been arranged for living apartments. The member of the firm who showed the newspaper man through the premises did not say what use these rooms were to be put to, but the reporter thinks that a pleasant event is on the tapis. The World wishes the firm the continued success that enterprise deserves.—World, Vancouver, B.C.

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) MONTREAL AND TORONTO, AUGUST 21, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 34

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

A rusty business, like a rusty leaf, denotes decay.

Business built upon fake methods will soon dissipate.

Free silver is the shadow of business demoralization.

Remember that a well-dressed window is a constant trade winner.

Many a man's objects are laudable, but their impracticability kills them.

Competition may be the life of trade, but advertising is a great deal more so.

Cutting prices is a dangerous thing: Many a cutter has been his own executioner.

The trouble with a great many theories is that they are "flighty" and take wings.

System saves sweat drops, economizes time, and avoids a multitude of heart aches.

The man who wakes up some morning to find himself famous is the man who works hard.

Some merchants are experiencing hard times because their business methods are hard.

The launch of a bright business idea means the floating of a money-making scheme.

A business cannot breathe without credit any more than can a man live without breath.

Merchants who are loose in their habits have not generally a tight hold upon their business.

A number of contemporaries "drop on" to these "drops" and drop them into their columns, but they seldom "drop on" to their duty of crediting them to THE CANADIAN GROCER.

If you must fail, by all means fail honestly; if you cannot fail honestly, do not fail at all.

Where integrity is wanting, credit should not be given. The one is the foundation of the other.

Confidence, after all, is more to be desired than the gold we hear so much about these days.

If you cannot remain in business by telling the truth, it is certain you cannot by telling a lie.

Because a firm is old it should not be taken as an indication that disintegration is near at hand.

Ambition is a good thing, but overmuch of it draggeth a man down rather than lifteth him up.

He is a mistaken man who imagines that questionable sharp methods will bring him success in life.

When a man offers you a "sure thing," ten to one he will get the "sure thing" and you the nothing.

The price of rolled oats in the United States has rolled up about 50 per cent. within a few weeks.

It is because merchants keep their heads so far apart from each other that so many businesses go to smash.

When a merchant is retrenching he should be careful that he does not cut into the foundations of his business.

Silver advocates who put gold clauses in their contracts evidently do not want to be paid back in their own coin.

The greater a man's bank account is the greater are his responsibilities; but the most of us are quite willing to increase our bank account, notwithstanding.

It is usually the laziest man who complains most about hard work, and the slowest merchants about hard times.

The consumer is the storekeeper's judge, and whether or no the latter shall remain in business depends upon his verdict.

Account every man honest until you prove him otherwise; but check over your goods when you receive them nevertheless.

It is well for a merchant to sometimes imagine himself in the place of his customers. He then gets a partial glimpse of himself as others see him.

The young man who will do the great things in the world is he who condescends first to do the little things. Children have to walk before they can run.

Most of us value object lessons, but few of us relish being made the object of lessons, especially when it is our weaknesses that are the subjects exhibited.

There is many an intelligent young man who is steering for Nobodyism who would be established in Somebodyism were it not that he had mistaken his calling.

The looser a merchant is in giving credit the more unfair is he to his creditor. If a reservoir is allowed to leak, it is to be expected that there will be no water in it some day when the water is wanted.

Every member of a business men's association ought to be sufficiently interested in the organization to not only attend the regular meetings but to do his best to build up the membership. The greater its membership the fewer will be the evils with which the trade will have to contend.

PEANUT CROP OF 1896.

AS usual with us at this season of the year, says The Norfolk, Va., Journal of Commerce, we have prepared a report on the growing crop of peanuts in Virginia and North Carolina, and present below the result of investigations. We do not claim these reports to be perfect, but give out the best information obtainable from reliable sources in response to numerous enquiries sent through the sections that raise peanuts. The answers to our questions cover the period between the 10th and 25th of July.

The first enquiry was, "How does the acreage planted in peanuts in your vicinity compare with that of last year?"

The answers to this question, when tabulated and averaged, show that 44 per cent. give an increased acreage of 20 per cent. over last year, 44 per cent. say the acreage is about the same and 12 per cent. report a decrease.

The second inquiry—"How is the stand?"

Thirty-four per cent. report the stand poor to very poor; 45 per cent. only fair; 15 per cent. good, and 5 per cent. very good.

The third question—"Have there been excessive rains, and if so, what effect have they had on the planting and subsequent growth of the vine?"

There is great uniformity in the replies to this inquiry. In almost every case excessive rains are reported retarding the growth, rendering the vines very small and grassy, and precluding working the plant. In a number of cases fields have been abandoned, a few under water. Stiff lands have not suffered much, but on light lands the vines are small, grassy and in poor condition. Ten per cent. of the replies, however, say that the rains have been beneficial.

The fourth question was: "From present condition of crop is it expected that with favorable seasons it will be a full one?"

Seventy-five per cent. report that a full crop cannot be made, a large proportion of them giving it as an opinion that not over a half crop can be expected. Twenty-five per cent. report that an average to a full crop will be made if seasons are favorable from now on.

A resume of the above leads us to the conclusion that there is an increase of acreage over last year of possibly 12 to 15 per cent., induced by good prices obtained through the past season; the stand is under average, being only fair; the excessive rains have proved a serious drawback, though not an unmitigated evil in many cases, and the almost unanimous opinion is that a full crop cannot be made. The reports indicate about two-thirds of a crop for the coming season.

We find that in dividing the replies from Virginia from those of North Carolina that the condition of the crop is more favorable in the latter state. The increase of acreage is slightly greater in Virginia than in North Carolina. The rains have done less damage in North Carolina, because of the fact that they were not so general, the tier of northern counties suffering mostly.

We hear from Tennessee that the crop there is in good condition.

The peanut is a hardy plant and will live under discouraging conditions. It is extremely difficult in the face of a present poor or only fair stand to foretell what effect possible future perfect weather conditions will have on the crop. Our experience teaches us that it is often underestimated.

The present peanut season, which will soon close, has been rather a remarkable one. Early in the new crop the cleaners became convinced that there would be a shortage, and this feeling strengthening, culminated in the month of January in the highest price paid for several seasons, a few lots going as high as 4c. der pound.

The large amount of money invested in stocking up on peanuts by reason of the price being nearly double that of the previous year, and the exceeding slowness of the jobbing trade to take them, caused a complete congestion of the market for farmers' goods early in February. For four months there was practically no market, buyers not even caring to look at offerings, and only within the past month or six weeks has there been any disposition to purchase. Buying is not yet general, and figures are reduced to 2½c. to 3c.

On the whole, the past season has been a fortunate one for the producers, the large bulk of the crop having been moved at remunerative figures. Owing to the crop having been short of an average, there has been no excess of peanuts offered within the past few months; the cleaners are gradually reducing their stocks, and the likelihood is that prices will be maintained until new crop nuts put in an appearance.

With fair trade it is expected that nearly all, if not all, of the old stock of peanuts now on hand will be bought up and sold by the time new ones can be used, and were all other conditions favorable we might expect good prices, when the market opens, for new nuts. There is so much uncertainty in financial circles as to what is to be the policy of the Government that it promotes timidity among the jobbing trade, and the policy which has prevailed so long among them of buying from hand to mouth is likely to be kept up for some time longer. Presidential years are ever years of more or less stagnation in trade, and this will prove no exception to the rule.

DEATH OF W. M. MILLIGAN.

W. M. Milligan, who for many years carried on business in Toronto as a retail grocer, died at his residence, 195 College street, on Friday morning. The deceased was 45 years of age, and had been in ill-health for some time. Pneumonia was the cause of death. The funeral took place on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

ONE MAN'S SUCCESS.

A BRIGHT young man, just from the country, entered one of the large city stores as a salesman, and showed his capacity for business by quickly acquiring a large personal trade, says Grocery World. He rapidly passed older and more experienced salesmen, and incurred no little disfavor with some of his envious fellow clerks. It provoked their jealousy to have good customers make special request to have this young man wait on them. When they found out the secret of his popularity, many of them also found they had formed habits of working that almost entirely deprived them of the ability to become as good a salesman as this young country man, whose experience, previous to entering the larger field, had been confined to the little village store owned by his father.

He, with his fresh, receptive mind, discovered, very soon, the secret of the success of the best salesmen in the big store. The other clerks were satisfied to ascribe success to ability to pull the wool over the "old man's" eyes, or to some accident or relationship. The young man from the country at once saw that success was the result of the ability to sell goods. He was satisfied that the "old man" (he never thought or spoke of the proprietor in such terms, however), was only looking for real business ability. He felt himself able, but his great study was how to show his capacity in the shortest possible time. He discovered there were more good customers than the really good salesmen could handle, and that many new people came to the store every day. He also observed that the average salesmen were practically indifferent as to whether they pleased the customer or not, and that they attempted to judge customers by this or that standard, and their indifference was usually gauged by the probable importance of the person they were waiting on. Only a very few seemed to have a personal trade. He was convinced that if he could make people ask for him, his success and advancement were assured. He accordingly set about to make acquaintances. His appearance attracted very few to him. He was evidently a new clerk, and people at least expect those with experience to be best able to serve them. The young man, being the latest addition to the force in his department, was obliged to follow the custom and take such customers as the other clerks did not want. However, he kept his eyes and ears open, and improved every opportunity to do some ever so slight a favor for a customer. He made himself perfectly familiar with the stock, and often made suggestions, politely, which pleased the customer. Often he would see a customer leave the counter, having failed to get suited. The shrewd young man would have in mind just such goods as he felt she would want, and would politely stop her before she left the store, and show her the goods which the other clerk was too careless to look for. He would also manage to learn the customers' names, and also to have them learn his. In many ways he added one after another to those who would insist upon having him wait upon them, until the proprietor was forced to recognize his value, and advancement followed rapidly. This young man became a very successful merchant afterwards, in one of the smaller towns, where he preferred to live, rather than in the city. While he might have been more prominent had he remained in the larger sphere, he was satisfied with less money, less honor, perhaps, with less worry, less anxiety, and more real comfort and enjoyment than is the lot of the very "successful" merchant in the large cities. He also enjoyed the consciousness of having earned his success by diligent use of the talents with which nature had endowed him. As this story was gotten from the gentleman's own lips, we trust the good example he set his fellow clerks years ago may live on, doing good to those who read it.

LARGE RUN OF SALMON.

The run of salmon in the St. John river, in the neighborhood of Springhill, during the present season has been the greatest for many years past. Fishermen residing between this city and Long's Creek, have recently been making some splendid hauls, some of them capturing as many as eight or ten in a single night. Mr. Wilmot Guion, who handles probably about two-thirds of the catch between his store at Springhill and Long's Creek, reports that during the past three weeks he has purchased from fishermen, on an average, not less than 200 pounds of salmon a day, or about 3,600 pounds during the three weeks. Fishermen who operate between this city and Springhill and quite a number residing above the latter place, bring their salmon direct to this city, and no account is kept of the number taken. The average price paid to fishermen just now is from eight to ten cents per pound, so it will readily be seen that the big run of salmon is an important item to residents along the river.

A gentleman who has resided at Springhill off and on for nearly half a century, informed The Herald that in all his experience he never knew salmon and grilse to be as plentiful in his locality as they are at the present time. The season for salmon fishing with nets closed on Saturday, August 15th.—Halifax Herald.

Scott & Millman, grocers, Guelph, have sent THE CANADIAN GROCER a sample of a paper bag for putting up tea in. The outside has the appearance of red leather, while lead paper covers the inside. The firm's name and brand of tea is well brought out in letters of gold, black, red and green. It is a handsome as well as an useful bag.

Peek Bros. & Winch, Ltd., the well-known tea merchants, of London, Eng., have opened a branch at Colombo, Ceylon. Mr. Halford, the firm's Toronto representative, informs THE CANADIAN GROCER that the firm will pay special attention to the Canadian trade, shipping direct to this market.

THE CREDIT QUESTION.

THE following is an extract from an address delivered by J. G. Cannon, vice-president of the Fourth National Bank, New York, before the National Association of Credit Men at Toledo :

Modern commercial firms cannot exist without borrowing ; and if their financial condition and their balances at bank warrant them in asking for funds, they are entitled, as a matter of commercial custom, to the money, and the whole matter of borrowing is thus placed upon a business basis and depends not merely upon favoritism.

When a statement is received it should be carefully analyzed. It is especially desirable to investigate the personal record and character of the would be debtor, for, after all, everything depends upon his honesty. The psalmist says : "The righteous is ever merciful and lendeth : the ungodly borroweth and payeth not again," and the truth of this verse of Scripture is fully exemplified in this day and generation. The sacred writer also says, "The borrower is servant to the lender :" but sometimes it seems as if this was reversed, as many borrowers assume a position where they believe themselves masters of those from whom they secure credit.

In investigating the honesty of an applicant for credit it is always well to find out in an indirect way his idea as to what constitutes honesty. Another point which should receive attention is the man's ability ; also the circumstances under which he started business life—whether he made his money by his own efforts, or it came to him through the assistance of his friends or relatives, or he inherited it.

A statement should show how much stock a concern carries, what its indebtedness is, on what terms it sells its goods and whether its credits are settled by note. One should also ascertain what are the firm's running expenses and what amount is withdrawn by its members for living expenses ; what accommodation it receives at its bank, and whether it is out of debt once or twice a year.

One of the principal points for investigation is the manner in which a concern buys its goods, and whether the buyer has a proper idea of what he buys, and buys in accordance with his requirements. Injudicious buying and the piling up of undesirable stock will seriously impair the resources of any. concern and place it in a position where it will be difficult to turn its merchandise profitably. The old adage runs: "Goods well bought are half sold."

All statements should be analyzed with liquidation in view.

There are, generally speaking, two classes of people who make failures ; first, those who will not talk at all ; second, those who will tell all that anybody wants to know and a considerable more besides. A credit man should beware of both under ordinary circumstances.

Many credit men make bad debts because they do not pay enough attention to little things ; in other words, they do not appreciate the force of the saying that "straws indicate the way the wind blows." To illustrate : A friend of mine some time since cited an instance where he had turned a party down because of information received by a member of his family from their dressmaker, to the effect that this party was not paying the dressmaker's bills promptly. He also told me of a livery stable keeper who had given him valuable information which caused him to refuse credit to a man who had become dilatory in paying his livery bills and who, a little later on, failed. Many credit men hear and know things about those to whom they are granting credit, that they do not at the time regard as significant; but when the concern fails they are reminded that they heard so and so a few years before. If they had followed up these leads, they would probably have escaped loss.

It is especially desirable also to investigate each firm closely and frequently. A great many losses are incurred because credit-men consider a man good for the reason that he has been good in the past. Each case ought to be carefully investigated about every time it comes up, in order to ascertain if the party is holding his own, making advancement, or running behind.

An excellent idea can be gained regarding the credit of concerns by ascertaining the class of firms from whom they buy their goods. A poor credit risk may do business with one or two first-class houses ; but it will be difficult to do business with a dozen or more houses of high standing, as houses that pay close attention to credits are not likely to sell a party of doubtful reputation. In other words, if a dozen good credit-men whose business it is to investigate a man's good standing and character, look him up thoroughly and are ready to sell him, it hardly stands to reason that all of them will be led astray ; consequently, if you find a man dealing with a number of first-class houses, you can sell him more freely than you otherwise would.

The manner in which a firm pays its bills is an important subject for enquiry, for if a concern borrows money in the open market and also allows its bills to run to maturity, it plainly indicates that something is wrong, as it is virtually burning the candle at both ends.

The sales, capital and terms on which a house sell its goods should be carefully considered and compared. There is a proper relation between them, and a mathematical calculation will prove the truth or falsity of the statement. If we have data covering these points, together with a detailed statement, we can form a good judgment of the credit of a concern. These facts will also serve to bring to light any dead or doubtful assets, and they will frequently show whether a concern has the capital it claims. I therefore consider this information of great importance, and it should be the aim of every credit-man to obtain it.

A man's personal habits should be closely enquired into, for if he is loose in these he cannot be expected so to change his life that he will be straight in his business affairs. This leads me to say that I hope this association will give its closest attention to the punishment of those people who make false representations of their condition and thus obtain credit when their financial affairs do not warrant its extension. Another thing of which I am firmly convinced is, that where a concern fails and pays a dividend of only twenty-five per cent. or less, when it goes into business again it should not be accorded the same terms and privileges as a firm in the same town that has paid one hundred cents on the dollar for its stock ; in other words, a man who has compromised his credit should not be placed upon a plane of equality with a man who is strictly honest and honorable and has paid dollar for dollar Too frequently the trade are anxious to commence selling to a man immediately after his failure and compromise, which only serves to encourage dishonest practices.

Dishonesty and fraudulent failures are attracting too little notice, and the parties are too often allowed to escape unscathed ; whereas, if they were held to a strict accountability for their crimes, it would clear the business atmosphere and the result would be of great value to the mercantile community. Its moral influence would be excellent, and it would be plainly indicative to other dishonest debtors that they must expect the same fate. I sometimes feel that banks and mercantile creditors are in a measure responsible for allowing guilty parties to escape merited punishment, When a dishonest failure occurs, creditors are often too anxious to secure whatever dividends may be coming to them, and this encourages the swindler in carrying out his nefarious practices.

The head of one of the largest mercantile houses in this country told me some time ago that he had caused the imprisonment of a man for deceiving him as to his financial affairs, with the result that had been surprising ; and since that time, in a number of cases, parties on the verge of making an assignment had come to him and squared up their accounts simply because they were fearful lest he should push them if they failed while owing him.

There is no good reason, to my mind, why parties who are guilty of making fraudulent failures should not be punished to the fullest extent, for there is little difference, if any, between a man who robs you of your purse and one who, by a successfully constructed network of falsehoods, has obtained money or its equivalent in merchandise from an institution or firm. Dishonesty and deceit are at the bottom of these failures, and men with propensities in that line are certainly better behind the bars, where they are restrained from doing further evil.

I am thoroughly convinced there should be erected a bar of public opinion beyond which these dishonest parties cannot pass. They should be ostracised from the society of all honest and upright business men, and should be made to pay the full penalty of their acts.

The Laing Packing and Provision Co., Montreal, have just issued their new wholesale price list, which went into force on August 12. Buyers generally and readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER can have it mailed by addressing the company, 839 St. Catherine street, Montreal.

Morse Bros. received orders one day last week for immediate shipments of "Rising Sun" stove polish and "Sun" paste stove polish, amounting to eleven carloads of fifteen tons each. At this season of the year such a day's sales of stove polish is phenomenal, and attests the popularity of these goods.

Hon. Elijah A. Morse, M.C., who is the sole proprietor of the firm of Morse Brothers, Canton, Mass., has served in the National House of Representatives, eight years as a representative of one of the most historic districts in the old Bay State. He still continues in the active management of the business, and the popularity of the "Rising Sun" stove polish well illustrates the force of his business methods.

COLD STORAGE TRANSPORTATION.

THE question of cold storage transportation of dairy produce across the Atlantic was fully discussed at Montreal last week.

The Premier, the Minister of Agriculture and the Minister of Trade and Commerce met by appointment deputations of the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association and the different Dairymen's Boards of Trade there. Spokesmen from each had their say, and the representatives of the Government gave their assurance that the matter would have immediate attention.

Perhaps the most practical information pertaining to the problem was imparted by Jno. McKergow, of Ayer & Co. That gentleman pointed out that the railways already provided a certain amount of cold storage accommodation on land. All that was wanting was the ocean facilities. Both he and President Grant gave plenty of reasons why the matter should receive immediate attention. Denmark, a smaller country than Canada, sent last year $29,000,000 worth of butter to Great Britain. New Zealand also contributed a large amount. Both the Danish and New Zealand butter commanded higher prices in England than Candian. This was due to the fact that both were landed in better condition in England, because they were carried in cold storage compartments.

This being so, Canada should certainly not be behind-hand, and THE CANADIAN GROCER unites with others in requesting that the Government will announce its decision with as little delay as possible.

It may be pointed out that in a modified sense the experiment of cold storage has been tried with direct practical benefit from Montreal. The Elder-Dempster boats, which sail between Montreal and Bristol, are provided with a limited quantity of cold storage space. This space has been filled every trip, and no later than last week the Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, entered into an arrangement with them to extend this space.

The increase in the exports of butter to Bristol in 1895, and this year since this company made the departure, show that it has only to be universally adopted to quadruple our butter exports. Bristol this year so far has trebled her imports of Canadian butter, having taken fully three-quarters of the total Canadian exports so far this year. This is mainly due to the above fact.

Canadian creamery butter is as fine as any in the world, and consumers in Bristol who get it in proper shape acknowledge the fact by increasing their orders. Why should this port be the exception?

THE TRADE SITUATION.

THE trade outlook in Canada may not be roseate ; neither is it gloomy. Our prospects naturally depend a great deal upon the crops. In Ontario we have more of everything in the way of cereals except beans than we had in 1895. In horned cattle there is a slight increase, but in other descriptions of live stock a small decrease is to be noted. The shortage experienced last year in fodder is, no doubt, responsible for the decrease in live stock. It is gratifying to know that there is not any probability of a shortage in feed during the next winter and spring, the crop of hay being something like 400,000 tons larger than a year ago, while such supplementary fodder as corn and straw is abundant.

The magnitude of the fruit crop, of course, everyone is conversant with, and the bounty of Nature in this particular is not confined to any one province.

Manitoba has one-third less wheat than in 1895, but a twenty-million-bushel yield is no insignificant crop. Barley and oats are good crops in the province, while dairying and stock raising there are rapidly developing.

Although mining in Canada is only fractionally what it might or will be, yet never in the history of the country has there been as much interest taken in the industry nor has the development of the mines been so extensive.

In Ontario gold mines of unusual richness are being worked. British Columbia has become the Mecca of gold-hunting speculators ; and in that province large quantities of silver, lead and copper are being mined as well. Gold-mining operations are also being vigorously pushed in Nova Scotia, while coal mining there is enjoying unusual activity and the prospects are for its continuance.

Turning to the commercial institutions, we find the conditions fairly healthy. For some time all classes of dealers have been buying with a great deal of caution, with the result that continuous buying is necessary in order to keep stocks assorted.

Hand-to-mouth buying is not always the most satisfactory for the manufacturer or the jobber, but it is the best and consequently the healthiest way in which to do business when trade is quiet and confidence in it inclined to be weak.

A natural concomitant of cautious buying is light liabilities. And country merchants' liabilities to the wholesaler and manufacturer are not only light, but, what is more, they are being well met as they mature. Of course, the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retailer are all scrutinizing their accounts more carefully than formerly, and to this is no doubt in part due the fact that payments are not bad in spite of the quiet times that we hear so much about. But whatever may be the cause, payments are, on the whole, fairly satisfactory.

Another favorable condition is the earnings of the railways, these still showing increases over both 1895 and 1894. The monthly bank statements are also on the whole favorable. Here are then at least two business barometers whose readings are encouraging.

The most disturbing element in the situation is the currency question in the United States. It decidedly threatens to demoralize trade there ; and the commercial conditions there are not without their influence on this country, relatively small as that influence may be. Then there is our own promised tariff reform. That undoubtedly is not without its influence upon the trade of to-day. But the Government has promised that there shall be no radical change, and that whatever changes may be made will only be made after the different interests concerned have been conferred with.

But we are of opinion that the deterring influence of the tariff upon trade is not as great as some imagine. People have been buying from hand to mouth for a long time, and, tariff reform or no tariff reform, they are likely to do so for some time to come. What they need they will buy ; and that is about all they have been doing for a year or more.

As far as Canada is concerned, there is nothing in evidence to cause alarm. There is, however, a great deal that is food for confidence if the merchants of the country choose to digest it.

A QUESTION OF BUSINESS, NOT POLITICS.

IT does not necessarily follow that, in the the adoption of preferential trade within the British Empire, free traders shall sink their free trade doctrines, or protectionists their protectionist doctrines.

Although expansive oceans separate the different members of the British Empire one from the other, yet we are none the less one nation, just as much as are the different states composing the German Empire, or the different states which make up the republic to the south of us.

He would be a narrow man indeed who would to-day aver that, in the consummation of the schemes which created these countries as they now are, there had been any sacrifice of principles, either free trade or protection.

Great Britain is asked to place a small import tax on goods produced without the empire, not because free trade has proved a failure in Great Britain. Nor are Canada and the other protectionist colonies asked to lower their tariff against imports from the Motherland because protection has proved a failure. The object sought is the upbuilding of trade within the Empire. And the method suggested is conceived to be the best for attaining it.

But even granting that the preferential trade idea means the paring of a principle here and there in order to create a wide enough passage-way for its consummation, it is certainly not sufficiently unrighteous to cause any sharp pricks of conscience.

Nations, as well as individuals, have to give and take continually. It is only right that they should. And, in order to the furtherance of a scheme of such importance, free traders on the one hand and protectionists on the other should not think at least more than twice before lending their aid to the movement.

To look at the question from either a protectionist's or a free trader's standpoint will be fatal to it. We need to look at it primarily from a business standpoint. That means looking at it in a practical way. The other would mean a theoretical way. And theories are never of any use till they are reduced to practice.

Preferential trade is worth being obtained. Its attainment would mean increased financial interest in each part of the British Empire with the other. And following this would come a tightening of the strings of nationalism. It was the snapping of the commercial strings that caused the severance a century and a quarter ago of the national strings that held the North American colonies to the British Crown.

The cause responsible for that event will never be a factor again ; but neglect may.

Great Britain cannot afford to ignore her colonies, Canada particularly.

Britain's trade with foreign countries is not monopolized as it was. Other nations are learning the arts of peace, and they are becoming proficient in it, as the Motherland is realizing. Even from a financial aspect it seems that Great Britain's wisest policy is to look after her colonies. And the best way in sight at the moment for doing this is by promoting preferential trade with her children.

VALENCIA RAISIN OUTLOOK.

THE first of the early shipments of new season's Valencia raisins, according to a cable despatch, left Denia on Monday.

Last season, it will be remembered, Valencia raisins were not much of a factor in the United States market on account of the figure cut by raisins of California growth. This campaign the influence of the latter is not likely to be so great, the crop being smaller and prices higher.

In Spain, on the other hand, the crop is larger than it was a year ago, while prices are expected to rule about the same as they did in 1895. What might have otherwise been lower prices is due to the fact that the consignments of Valencia raisins for England are so large that only about the same quantity as usual will be left for other consuming centres.

As intimated by a letter received in Toronto this week, raisin firms in Denia are already building their hopes upon an increased trade with the United States, and steps have been taken by them whereby they may be promptly advised of every turn the market may take.

SHORT INDIAN TEA CROP.

The Indian tea market has assumed a much stronger position lately. The cause is the likelihood of a greatly reduced yield.

The weather this season in some of the tea-growing districts has been very unfavorable. The particular trouble, according to private advices received in Toronto this week, has been the want of rain, while the weather has been very hot, and leaf prospects are disheartening. In one district, the Jalpiguri, there has been fifteen inches less rain than usual. The celebrated Assam district is among the sufferers, the gardens there losing their green appearance, and very little leaf is showing on the plants.

The statistical position is much stronger in consequence and prices are higher in sympathy.

RICHARD FLACK, ABSCONDER.

LONG years of acquaintanceship does not always enable one to gauge rightly the character of a man.

For several years Richard Flack carried on a grocery business at Gerrard and Sword streets, Toronto. He was industrious, and because of his geniality, popular. His wife, too, was politeness personified. Unlike most grocers, Mr. Flack's grocery was the only one within two or three blocks. He kept good goods and did a good trade, and until about two years ago was looked upon as being a prosperous grocer.

Honesty was supposed to be his most predominating characteristic. But whatever it once was, it now appears to be one of his predominating shortcomings.

Richard Flack is to-day an absconder.

About two years ago he began to get slow in his payments. Instead of getting better he began to get worse, until at last most of the wholesalers with whom he dealt sent out goods to him marked "C.O.D." Sometimes when a bill of goods was wanted very badly and the money could not be scraped together Mrs. Flack would appear before the wholesaler or manufacturer who averred that if there was no money no goods would be forthcoming, and weep so copiously that the goods were frequently delivered.

There are a number of grocers in Toronto who close their places of business at 1 p.m. Wednesdays. Until Wednesday, the 12th inst., Mr. Flack was not one of them. On that afternoon, however, he closed, and the store remained closed until the bailiff, a day or two later, opened it.

Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Flack closed their store on Wednesday they turned their backs on the city of Toronto. At any rate they were not in evidence Thursday morning, nor have they been since. Where they are no one can tell. On Wednesday morning Mrs. Flack is said to have borrowed a valise from a friend, stating that she was going over to Niagara and wanted to bring some things back with her. Perhaps the "things" will be depreciated American silver dollars to liquidate her husband's liabilities.

The worst feature of the circumstance is not Mr. Flack's merely going away. Nor is it the money which he owes. The worst feature is the methods which he is alleged to have adopted to raise money.

For some time he has been industriously borrowing money from his friends and relatives. Some endorsed for him. His poor old father, a man of 84, chiefly did this latter office for him. And when his father was not conveniently accessible and he wanted his parent's signature he sometimes affixed it himself. The consequnece is that wholesalers and others who are holding notes endorsed by father and son are wondering if they have the genuine endorsation.

Mr. Flack, sen., was also Mr. Richard Flack's landlord, and it is alleged that for two years he has received no rent. The bailiff is in possession at the father's instigation. As a result of his son's defalcations he is ruined financially, and will have to spend his latter days with another son. It would have been better for himself and for all concerned if Richard Flack had died at his birth.

NEW CROP CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

SOME definite and interesting information was received in Montreal this week regarding new crop California dried fruit.

The raisin crop is estimated at about 70 per cent. of last year's, and there will be only a limted quantity shipped during September. No prices have been made on leading brands for September shipment, but they are anticipated to be high. Any sales so far made are for October shipment, a new feature being the almost complete absence of consignments this year; the great bulk of the October arrivals will be goods sold f.o.b. Coast. For this reason it is anticipated that the consigned goods this year will be of diminished volume and much later than last season. Another feature of the situation is the diminished quantity of bunch stock. As a rule lower prices are not looked for, as there is great risk of the second crop not being cured to its full capacity.

Forward sales of leading brands so far made for October shipment, will cost 5½c. for 3-crown and 6½c. for 4-crown, laid down in Montreal.

New crop apricots promise to be phenomenally low, while peaches are expected to average about the same as last year. The former are offered about 2c. less than last year, and the latter about ¼ to ½c. higher.

Prunes will run chiefly to the smaller sizes, and 40's and 50's are going to be scarce. Prices so far spoken of appear reasonable.

A CALIFORNIA MAN IN TOWN.

Mr. A. G. Griffin, of the Griffin & Skelley Co., San Francisco, was in Toronto last week. He is taking a trip through the United States and Canada. When he left Toronto it was for Maine, his native state. Referring to business matters, he said it was his opinion that the markets of the United States were so bare of raisins at the end of last season that there will be no difficulty in maintaining present prices for some time to come. He was convinced that last year's low prices would not be touched this year.

ENCOURAGING BUTTER MARKET.

CREAMERY butter recorded a sharp jump during the past fortnight. Two weeks ago the very best price that a seller could realize on the Montreal market was 16½c. To-day buyers are free bidders of 18c., and have taken all the way from 9,000 to 10,000 packages at the advance, which means the nice little difference of $9,400 odd more to the farmer. In fact, the butter situation has been the one encouraging feature for producers of dairy stock this season. That they have realized this the large increase in production fully proves.

The output has been increased fully 50 per cent. this year, for the total receipts to date at Montreal are 119,420, against 66,086 for the same period in 1895. The improvement in the export business is equally marked, shipments from Montreal to Great Britain being fully double what they were last year, viz., 28,590 packages for 1896, against 12,151 for 1895.

The prices this year also have averaged fully as high as those realized last year, viz., about $12 per tub of 70 pounds, or $197,268 more into the pockets of the farmer than for the same period last year.

They certainly need it badly, for the results from cheese have not been very encouraging.

Bristol is taking the great bulk of the Canadian butter exports, and from all accounts seems likely to do so.

Whether present prices will be maintained is difficult to say. Recent advices from Great Britain state that prices there have advanced fully 4s. 6d. per cwt. lately owing chiefly to remarkable drought, which has greatly decreased the domestic English output.

It is worthy of note, however, that in addition to our own Canadian shipments being greater, New York lately has been sending from 10,000 to 12,000 packages weekly across the ocean.

Whether the English consumption will be sufficient to absorb all this great quantity, with what it is receiving from Denmark and other points, is unlikely, and for this reason the advance may be checked.

At 18c. the factorymen ought to make money, and it would be unwise for them to hold out for higher prices, judging from previous experience.

THE ALMOND CROP.

Mr. E. Fielding, of Toronto, representing Oliver & Co., of Denia, has been advised as follows: "We think those requiring almonds are very unwise not to order them now, for we could engage with growers at beginning of season and obtain lower prices. Later on our market will be very much higher, for the French demand enhances prices. The crop progresses well, but it is rather behind, and we do not expect first shipments before August 20. There is a demand from the United States, and we should not wonder if prices were to be high directly after the opening of the market."

FICKLE ROMEO.

About two years ago an Italian possessing the romantic name of Romeo pitched his tent in the Italian settlement of Toronto. There are sundry wholesale fruit dealers in Toronto who wish that he had remained in sunny Italy.

Like a great many Italians who settle in Toronto, Mr. Romeo took to the fruit trade; now he has taken to his heels, carrying with him money that rightfully belongs to half a dozen or more wholesale fruit dealers in the "Queen City." Up to Saturday last he was a free buyer, and it is said his defalcations amount to something like $3,000.

"O, Romeo, wherefore art thou, Romeo."

CHINA TEA EXPORTS.

The exports of China tea from Shanghai to Great Britain, up to July 23rd, showed 1,036,659 pounds more of black, and 96,664 pounds less of green, tea. Exports to the United States and Canada showed a decrease of 1,509,049 pounds in black tea and 4,118,407 pounds of green, a total of 5,627,456 pounds. The decrease of exports of black teas to Odessa was no less than 8,071,048 pounds.

THE SALMON PACK.

THE B.C. Commercial Journal, Victoria, August 11th, says: Reports received Monday place the approximate total pack of the northern rivers at 234,000 cases. Some of the canneries were still in operation when the steamer sailed, but it is believed that the run in the north is over and final figures are not expected to show a material difference from those to hand.

The Fraser River canneries have had a big week, and estimates place the pack for 31 canneries at 201,535 cases. Twenty-three on the main river packed 174,350 cases, and eight on the North Arm 27,185 cases. The total pack so far reported totals 435,535 cases, with two canneries on the west coast of Vancouver Island to hear from. The average for the Fraser River is now about 6,500 cases, compared with 3,225 a week ago.

Last season the northern canneries put up 166,027 cases, and the Fraser River 400,368 cases; total, 566,395. In 1894 the total for British Columbia was 495,371 cases.

The following is an approximate estimate of the packs of the B. C. canneries up to August 8th inclusive:

THE SIZE OF THE WINDOW.

Many a man neglects window dressing because he is not able to afford the elaborate displays of some of his competitors. It is a poor reason. It is little better than none at all. Size certainly makes a difference. A large window is more striking than a small one, provided that one is as skilfully draped as the other. But a window is by no means twice as striking as one half the size. Choose a subject in keeping with the size of your window. A large window partly draped is about as attractive as a house partly built. That kind of a window doesn't sell goods. Neither does a window with too much draping. Perfection is always attractive. A small thing can be perfect as well as a large one. Make your window as perfect as possible.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS does not exhibit much that is interesting. Some houses report being fairly active, but others again have a different tale to tell. It is evident that business is not, on the whole, as active as it was a week ago. Another spell of weakness has attacked the outside sugar markets, but so far the only effect it has had upon the Canadian market is to weaken confidence. Canned salmon is firm and higher prices are being quoted this week by some of the houses. The position in teas continues strong, those of Indian and Japan growths being particularly so. Currants are in good demand with prices firm. Other kings of foreign dried fruits are quiet. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

The salmon position continues strong, and some of the local wholesale men have this week advanced prices five cents per dozen. Some are of the opinion that there is not enough of the cheaper grades on the market to last until the new pack arrives. Lobster is also held five cents per dozen higher. It is understood that $1 per dozen more than wholesalers in Canada will pay is being obtained in England. Canned vegetables are in light demand, and there is little or nothing being done in fruits. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50 to $1.55; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 to $1.45; Lowe Inlet, $1.30 to $1.35, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.60 to $2.65; half tins, $1.55 to $1.60; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The situation is unchanged, the demand being small and stocks of high-grade Rios light. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15½ to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Quiet and unchanged. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Trade is fair at unchanged prices. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The past week has witnessed a return of the easier feeling in the outside sugar markets. London led on Friday with a decline of 3d. for fair refining, and 1½d. on beet. New York followed on Monday with a decline of ⅛ to 3-16c. in both raw and refined sugar, and The N.Y. Journal of Commerce of Tuesday reported that buying was light on account of the belief that values would go lower. London was again easier on Tuesday. In Canada prices are as before. There is still a great deal of sugar going out, but the market lacks life, the buying still being of a hand-to-mouth character. The idea as to wholesale price is 4.35c. for granulated and 3.35c. up for yellows.

SPICES.

The demand for pickling spices is being well maintained. There is no change in prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Business remains much as before. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Business quiet and prices as before. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

The position of the Indian tea market is much stronger, unfavorable weather having caused a substantial decrease in the crop. Japan teas also continue to gather strength, and the lowest quotable tea in Japan to-day would cost 15c. laid down on this market. Shippers' agents report that local wholsalers are buying a good many Japan teas, principally medium grades. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Mail advices from Patras regarding currants state that the weather continues favorable, and that the quality of the fruit continues to be good. "It is too early to speak positively of the opening prices," says the writer. Locally the demand for currants continues good. We still quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

A cable advice to P. L. Mason & Co. announces that the early shipment of Valencia raisins was effected on Monday, the 17th inst. According to this same cable, quotations for August are moderate. The demand locally is quiet and prices unchanged. Quotations for new crop California raisins reached Toronto this week. They are higher than last year. We quote as follows: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.; Sultana raisins, 6 to 7½c., according to quality.

Quotations just received on new crop Bosnia prunes indicate that much lower values will rule than last year. The crop prospects are good. Locally there is very little doing in prunes. We quote as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

Quotations received in Toronto this week on new crop California evaporated fruit show that peaches will be about the same as last year, while apricots will be a little lower than a year ago We quote as follows: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Dates, quiet at 4½ to 5½c. First quotations on new crop were received this week.

GREEN FRUIT.

Further appreciation is shown in the orange and lemon market. Rodis are the only oranges on the market, and they are quoted as high as $6.50. The demand is light. Stocks of lemons are getting into still smaller compass, while the demand is being well maintained. Watermelons are in fair demand. Receipts of domestic fruit continue large. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $5.50 to $6. Oranges—Rodis, $6 to $6.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.65; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per doz; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 10c. per dozen; tomatoes, Canadian, 10 to 15c. per basket; watermelons, 25 to 30c. each; apples, Canadian, 5 to 10c. per basket, and 50c. to $1 per bbl.; pears, 40 to 50c. per basket; Lawton berries, 4 to 5c.; peaches, 50c. to $1 per basket; plums, 35 to 60c.; grapes, 25 to 50c. per 10 lb. basket; musk melons, $1.50 crate.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Good butter is wanted, but it is scarce. Transactions are largely confined to creamery pound prints, the price of which is dearer; in fact, all good butter is quoted higher. There is a great deal of medium and low-grade butter, and this naturally tends to keep down the price of the choice article, although, as we have already stated, there has been an appreciation in values. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 13 to 15c.; for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 15 to 16c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c. 1-lb. blocks, 19 to 20c., according to make.

CHEESE—There has been a marked advance in the Old Country markets, and prices are a good deal higher here in consequence. It is said that as high as 8⅝c. has been paid on the board. The idea with wholesalers is 8 to 8½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull at 65 to 75c. per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Dull and unchanged at 2¾ to 3½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Inactive at 5½ to 6c.

EGGS—Shipments are still arriving in bad condition. The demand is light, with 8 to 8½c. as the ruling price.

HONEY—Quiet at $1.75 per dozen for comb, and 9c. per lb. for strained in 10 and 50-lb. tins.

POTATOES—Are in fair demand at 30 to 35c. per bag.

PROVISIONS.

There is no change, the demand for smoked meats continuing good at quotations.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 8½ to 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10 to 10½c.; small hams, 10½c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 6¾c.; tubs, 7c.; pails, 7¼c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

FISH.

There is not much doing, and prices are much as before. We quote as follows: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6 to 6½c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

SALT.

The local trade is good and the demand for carload lots keeps up well. in carload lots is beginning to pick up again. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Deliveries are fairly liberal. We quote: White wheat, 65c. for new; red, 63c. for new; goose, 52c.; oats, 22½ to 23½c.; peas, 51c.

FLOUR—Business continues quiet. Straight roller is quoted at $3, Toronto freights, and at $2.90 west. There is a fair demand for Manitoba flour at $3.85 to $3.90 for patents, and $3.40 for strong bakers.

BALED HAY—There is an enquiry for No. 1 at $11 to $11.25.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Trade is much as before. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; rolled wheat, $2.10 to $2.25; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are unchanged, with cured quoted at 6¾ to 7c. Dealers pay 6½c. for No. 1, 5½c. for No. 2, and 4½c. for No. 3.

CALFSKINS—Market is dull at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2. Lambskins are firm at 40c. and pelts at 25c.

WOOL—Receipts are fair and prices unchanged. Fleece brings 18 to 19c.; rejections, 15c., and unwashed, 11c. Pulled supers are 20 to 20½c., and extras, 21 to 21½c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 3¼ to 4c. for rendered and 1¼ for rough.

MARKET NOTES

Both oranges and lemons are dearer locally.

Cheese is dearer both at home and abroad.

Indian teas are dearer on account of a short crop.

Canned salmon and lobster are dearer on the Toronto market.

Contrary to expectations, the glucose market in Chicago rules low.

According to present indications there will be a large pack of peaches and pears in California.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been no important change in the situation of the sugar market since our last. The feeling has been about steady at last week's reduction in prices. The demand is only fair and the market on the whole is quiet, sales being confined principally to small lots at 4⅜c.; yellows range from 3⅛ to 3¾c., as to quality, at the factory.

SYRUPS.

Business in syrups continues quiet, and the market is without any new feature to note. The stock in refiners' hands is fair, for which the demand is slow, but prices rule steady at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb., as to quality, at the factory.

MOLASSES.

During the past week the demand for molasses has been of a limited character, and few sales of importance have been made on account of the fact that wholesale grocers have ample stocks on hand, and until such are reduced, importers and brokers do not look forward to much activity. The tone of the market is easier and round lots of Barbadoes are offering at 27½ to 28c., car lots at 30c., and smaller quantities at 31c.

RICE.

An active business continues to be done in rice, the demand being good from local and country buyers, and as advices from abroad are very firm, prices here are fully maintained. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

As usual at this season of the year the demand for spices is limited, and the market is quiet with no change in values to note. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

There has been no improvement in the coffee market. The demand is slow and holders would no doubt shade present prices in order to place a round lot. We quote : Rio, 16½ to 17½c.; Maracaibo, 17½ to 18c.; Java, 24 to 27c., and Mocha, 23 to 28c.

TEAS.

A fair amount of business has been transacted in teas between houses, but the demand is principally for small lots to fill actual wants, and the market, on the whole, is quiet. Some fair-sized sales of new crop Japans are reported at 15 to 17c., and common blacks at 11 to 13c. We quote as follows : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

This market is without any new feature to note. Business is quiet in California stock owing to the fact that buyers generally are holding off for the first arrivals of the new crop, which are not expected for some little time yet. Prices are unchanged at 4½c. to 5c. for 2-crown ; 5¾c. to 6c. for 3-crown ; and 7c. to 7½c. for 4-crown.

The feeling in Valencia raisins is firm and as stocks are small business is of a jobbing character. We quote : Off-stalk ordinary, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine, 5c., and selected, 5½ to 6c.

The market for currants rules quiet and prices steady at 3½ to 3¾c. barrels, 4 to 4¼c., half-barrels, and 5c. in cases.

There is a fair enquiry for French prunes and further sales have been made for forward delivery, shipment in August. On spot prices rule steady at 5 to 5¼c. for French and 6c. for Austrian.

NUTS.

The demand for all kinds of nuts is limited and the market is quiet and steady with only a jobbing business doing. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c.; Brazils, 11c. ; almonds, 10½ to 11c. ; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been no important change in the canned goods market, except that the feeling in all lines of fruit is easier, and, although no actual decline in prices has taken place, holders are disposed to make concessions for round lots. Lobsters rule firm, while salmon is dull, there not being a single sale of the pack made yet in this market. Agents are offering ordinary brands freely at $4.50 f.o.b. Coast, and selected quality, "Clover Leaf" brands, at $5.50 to $6, delivered here. We quote as follows : Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50 ; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality ; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20 ; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25 ; pumpkins, 75 to 85c. ; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45 ; "Clover Leaf," $1.35 ; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15 ; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

The receipts of apples continue very liberal, and the market at present is glutted with stock. There is very little demand, and holders in some cases state that it is almost impossible to get a bid from buyers, consequently the market has been weaker and prices rule lower, recent sales of Canadian Duchess having been made at 75c. to $1.25 per bbl. An active business has been done in lemons, and the large stocks that were held here have been considerably reduced, and the feeling is very firm at the recent advance in prices. Sales of sound fruit in its original condition have taken place at $4 to $4.50, repacked at $3 to $3.50 and inferior at $2 to $2.50 per box. Bananas are in light supply and prices are higher at 75c. to $1.50 per bunch. Canadian peaches are firmer on account of lighter receipts, while pears are lower owing to heavy receipts. We quote: Peaches, 45 to 55c. per box; pears, 30 to 40c. ; plums, 70c.; Canadian apples, 75c. to $1.25 ; tomatoes in crates, 60c. to 77½c.; dried apples, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1.50; pineapples, 6¼ to 10c.; lemons, $2 to $4.50; oranges, $2 to $3.25, according to brand and package.

quiet at 8½ to 9c. for choice candled stock and at 7c. for culls per dozen.

BEANS—The demand is exceedingly slow and holders find it difficult to make sales even at the low prices ruling, viz., 70 to 75c., in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a jobbing way.

TALLOW—Demand slow. Prices steady at 4c.

HOPS—The market rules quiet and steady at 5c. to 7c., as to quality.

HONEY—Several lots of new honey have been received and sold at 10 to 12c..

BALED HAY—This market has been weaker, and prices have declined fully 50c. to $1 per ton. The demand is fair for old hay, and sales are reported at $12 to $12.50 for No. 1, and at $10 to $10.50 for No. 2 in car lots on track.

PROVISIONS.

During the past week another decline of 50c. per barrel in the price of pork has taken place, and one or two fair-sized lots of mess have been placed at $10.50. Hams and bacon are in good demand, and the feeling is firmer. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $10 to $10.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $10.50 to $11; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7 to 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

A stronger feeling has prevailed in the flour market for Manitoba grades and prices have advanced 10 to 25c. per barrel. This action on the part of millers has been principally due to the high prices which they are paying the Manitoba farmer for their wheat, viz., 50c. per bushel at country points. The market for Ontario grades is firm in tone, but no actual change in values has taken place.. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.50.

The demand for oatmeal does not improve any, and the market is dull and easy. We quote: Standard, bbls, $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls, $2.60 to $2.70.

An active trade continues to be done in feed and prices rule firm. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The excitement in the cheese market noted last week was continued, and a further advance of fully ½c. has been scored in prices. On Monday 4,000 boxes arrived by boat and rail from the French districts, and after a protracted negotiation they were all disposed of at 8 to 8¼c., while holders of finest western are asking 8⅜ to 8½c.

There has been an active enquiry for finest creamery butter from shippers, who bid 18c., but the difficulty of finding such stock has limited business to small quantities.

ASHES.

The market for ashes has been strong for first sorts, and prices have advanced 15 to 20c. owing to smaller receipts and the improved demand from abroad. We quote: Firsts, $3.50 to $3.55; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.55 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 20, 1896.

THE week has not been a very active one. The particular feature, perhaps, has been an enquiry for beans, for though there is a large stock held here, when it was found prices were likely to go higher there were a number of buyers. Western people, however, were not sellers, and not much was done. In shipping, which is such a large interest here, owners, particularly of small vessels such as run to American ports, find business so dull that they are laying vessels up. Merchants complain somewhat this month that collections are hard to make, and that paper is not very well met, and what makes it more unpleasant is that the country merchant often fails to send any word of the fact that he will not meet his obligation. It is a most surprising thing, and something that ought not to be, that people who continue to do this are still able to get all the credit they want.

OIL—There is little of importance to report. Cod oil continues to come in in fair quantities and seal oil is higher. In burning oil there is no change, but lower prices are looked for. We quote: American burning oil, 22½c.; best Canadian, 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—The stocks are still light, and there is a fair demand. Supplies which come from Boston cost higher than merchants care to pay. As yet none is reported afloat from Liverpool, but some may be expected as soon as it can be shipped at a fair rate of freight. A fair demand is noticed for Canadian fine in 200 lb. bags. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 52c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3 to $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $2.75 to $3; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl

CANNED GOODS—With the exception of peas and strawberries no new goods have yet been received. Another car of old tomatoes arrived this week. Prices on new goods quoted by dealers are very low, and fair sales are reported. Local demand for haddies continues low. A good sale is, however, noted on western account. Here we live too near the salt water, and get the fresh fish and fresh smoked. Lobsters are very hard to get. Stocks of peaches held here are very small. In pears but limited quantities are quoted by Canadian packers. Stock of salmon here is held at firm prices. New, to arrive, is likely to be quoted higher than last season, as Coast prices were higher this year. We quote as follows: Corn, 70 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80.; tomatoes, 75 to 90c.; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 o $1.40; haddies, $1.25 $1.30; clams, $5 or 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scal-

GREEN FRUIT—Movement continues very large. The quality of Delaware peaches to hand is much better than earlier in the season. California peaches and pears now coming forward are very fine. Peaches especially are better than usual. Quite large quantities of plums are selling, but very few apricots. The few Canadian plums coming found little or no sale. In berries, raspberries have had a good season, but are about over. Blueberries will be in the market for a few weeks yet. Very large quantities of these berries are daily shipped to Boston. Apples are now of good quality and move freely. Bananas are a very large sale. Lemons are quoted much higher and have a good sale. Movement in oranges is light. We quote: Lemons, $5 to $5.50; Valencia oranges, $9 to $9.50; bananas, $1 to $2; California peaches, $1.50 to $1.75; plums, $1.50 to $1.75; melons, 35 to 40c.; Delaware peaches, $1.75 to $2; apples, $1.50 to $3; California pears, $2.50 to $2.75; Bartletts, bbl., $7 to $8.

DRIED FRUIT—There is still but a light movement. New evaporated apples are quoted low for early shipment. Currants for direct shipment are being bought. During the week some small shipments of old arrived. There is fair, steady demand. In dried apples there is quite a quantity of old held here and they would be sold low, but there is no demand. In raisins, though a few are bought for early shipment, not much has yet been done. In California raisins 4-crown loose muscatels are reported scarce and prices are very firm. California prunes, it is said, will run low for the small sizes, but the larger sizes will be scarce. Raisins are a very small stock here, there being no Californias. Sale for prunes and dates is very light. American onions are now arriving quite freely. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; currants, cases, 4 to 4¼c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxe, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4 to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 2c.; American onions, $3 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Demand for best butter is rather better and the price obtainable is also better, but poor to fair is still dull at low figures. In cheese, owing to advances reported west, the market is firmer, but no change is noted in price here. June cheese moves slowly. Eggs show no change, but price is well maintained. We quote : Dairy butter, 14 to 15c. ; creamery, rolls, 19 to 20c.; do., tubs, 17 to 18c. Eggs are steady at 9 to 9½c. Cheese, 8½c.

SUGAR—Little new can be said. While market is firm there is no advance nor any particular demand. Dark yellows have very little sale here. We quote : Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—The first New Orleans for some time arrived this week. Demand has been very quiet owing to the quantity of new West India to hand. The New Orleans has, however, made itself a good reputation here. The 40-gallon package makes a very handy package. Color of these goods arriving here is bright and value good. In Porto Rico there is quite a range in price, owing to difference in quality, and holders of best, which cost high, find themselves at a disadvantage, as it is all Porto Rico. We quote : Barbadoes, 26 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 34c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; St. Croix, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Dry cod arrive slowly, the weather being too hot to cure ; prices are quite firm. In pollock there is but a small demand. Sale of this grade is very much lighter than it used to be. Pickled herring are still light arrivals, but prices keep low. A few Canso (new) and shad find a fair market. In smoked herring, dealers say they are selling the boxes and giving the fish away, prices are so low. In fresh salmon a few still arrive. Shad as yet are a very light catch. Shipments of fresh haddock are being sent west. We quote: Large cod, $3.25 to $3.50; medium, $3 to $3.10 ; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25 ; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl.; smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.50; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; salmon, fresh, 16 to 18c.; fresh shad, 10 to 15c.; Canso herring, $4 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—There has been somewhat of an advance in beef, but pork shows little change. Some small quantities of Canadian plate continue to arrive on this market. In lard the stock continues large and prices low. American is quoted well under Canadian. Hams have a fair sale and the market is firmer. We quote : Clear pork, $13 to $13.50 ; mess, $12.75 to $13 ; plate beef, $12.50 to $13 ; hams, 10 to 11c. ; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7½ to 8c. ; compound, 6½ to 7c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL —Although outside markets report flour higher, there is little or no change in prices here. It, however, makes market firm. Oatmeal shows no change this week, though oats are rather higher. Cornmeal is also a little higher, though still low and moving freely. There is quite an excitement in beans. Though stocks are large when it was known there was quite an advance a number wanted to buy. There is little change in the spot price, however. In feed the demand is very light. Hay is turning out a fair crop, but price is held firm. We quote as follows : Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50 ; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.20 ; medium, $3.95 to $4.10; oatmeal, $2.90 to $3.10; cornmeal, $2 ; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15 to $16 ; bran, do do, $14 to $15 ; hand-picked beans, 90c. to $1; prime, 80 to 90c.; oats, 31 to 33c. ; hay, $13 to $14 ; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50 ; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Arrivals of new teas this week amount to upward of ten thousand packages.

New potatoes are low here, selling at one dollar a barrel. Quality is good.

The Canning Co., at Charlottetown is meeting with every success. They have now twenty employes at work on peas alone.

It is considered a small business, but some St. John banks are charging postage on bills discounted beside the usual discount and commission.

Quite large shipments of fresh haddock are being made to Montreal by express. Also smoked haddies from Digby are beginning to go forward.

The grocers' picnic held this week was a great success. The grocers, both wholesale and retail, attended in large numbers. Fuller particulars next week.

Connor Bros., whose large fish canning factory was burned down a short time ago, had the sills for the new one laid that same evening, and expect soon to be in it.

The Maritime Board of Trade will meet in St. John, about September 25. Already outside Boards are electing delegates. The meeting will be an important one.

C. H. Clerk, St. Stephen, has so far received two consignments of tea from China, the first via Northern Pacific, the other via the Canadian Pacific. The first left on June 8th and the latter the 29th. He received them together.

Another car of Lytle's pickles and jams was received here this week. These goods are meeting an almost unprecedented demand. For some time in keg pickles one Canadian firm has had the trade here, but many kegs of Lytle's are now seen.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is pleased to learn that the fact regretted by it a few weeks ago, namely that American roads were getting freight that should come by Canadian has been changed and the Canadian roads, having lowered their rates, are carrying the goods. The despatch is found to be much better.

The berry business continues to increase from year to year. In raspberries a car arrives every morning for the Boston market. The berries are in kegs of 100 lbs. each. They are sent forward by steamer. The season is about over. In blueberries, which season will yet last for some time, upward of 300 crates arrive each morning containing 30 quarts each for shipment in the same way. Large quantities of blueberries are canned here in two pound and gallon tins. The money brought into the province is very large and is distributed Cold storage is again a live question. We have two companies asking for incorporation. One is composed of D. J. McLaughlin, John Sealy, W. Frank Hatheway, Thos. Gorman, and A. L. Goodwin, all St. John merchants ; name of company, Maritime Cold Storage Co. Ltd., capital $90,000, in $50 shares. The other is composed of William Johnson, Montreal ; Geo. McAvity, St. John ; J. D. Chipman, St. Stephen ; F. P. Thompson, Fredericton ; J. T. Dibblee, Woodstock ; and J. Peters, Moncton ; name of company, New Brunswick Cold Storage Co., Ltd., ; head office, St. John ; capital $300,000, in $100 shares ; half stock to be ordinary, half preferred. Fredericton City Council has voted seven years exemption from taxes to any company putting a warehouse there. Woodstock offers exemption from taxes for 21 years and water at 10c. per 1000 gallons, with an appropriation towards land and dynamo. The Quoddy Fish Co., Ltd., of Grand Manan, have their warehouse about completed. It is sixty feet long, forty feet wide, and three storeys high ; capacity six hundred hogsheads of large herring.

The stock of beet in the United Kingdom is 163,000 tons, against 127,000 tons same time last year.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

WE are enjoying a fair measure of trade for the season. Complaints are not very numerous, and this in itself is a good sign.

Large shipments of fish continue to go forward, principally to the West India markets.

The local sugar market is unchanged, granulated being quoted at 4¼c. and yellows 3 7-16c. to 3¼c. The Acadia refinery received a cable on Monday from London, stating that settlements there for the first half of August were most satisfactory, which had restored confidence, and that an improvement in values was expected. The fact that large contracts expired on that date had a depressing effect on the market last week and beet sugar fell in consequence to 9s. 7½d. f.o.b.

The cheese market has taken a turn for the better. There is a splendid demand. Quotations are 8½ to 9c., which is an advance of 1c. since last report.

In butter, there is an advance in creamery, for which the demand is good. Prints are worth 19½c. and tubs 19c. Dairy sells from 17 to 18c.

Eggs have advanced ½c. since last report. P. E. Island stocks are now quoted at 10½c., and country at 11c. The demand is good.

Green fruit continues in good demand, but the stocks arriving are not of the best. Blueberries seem to be a drug on the market. Large shipments are being made from Yarmouth to Boston, but none from this port. The quotation to-day was 1½c. per quart.

Produce is dull. New potatoes are already a drug on the market. Last week they were quoted at 40c., and this week they are being offered at 25c. P.E.I. oats are worth 25 to 26c., and Canadian, 26 to 27c.

Poultry continues in good demand. Chickens are worth 40 to 45c. per pair, and fowls, 45 to 50c. There is no enquiry for turkeys. What little are selling are quoted at $1 to $1.25 each.

The flour trade, on the whole, is possibly a fair average volume for this season of the year, but margins of profits must be very small. There is a slightly easier feeling, as opinions conflict in regard to the results of the harvest and the future tendency of the markets. Quotations are : Hungarian patent, Manitoban, $3.25 to $3.35 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $4 to $4.05 ; Canadian pastry, $3.85 to $4 ; 75 per cent. roller patents, $3.70 to $3.75 ; 80 per cent. do.,

There are 20 different spices in

PURE GOLD M'F'G.CO. 31&33 FRONT ST. EAST. TORONTO.

$3.65 to $3.70 ; 90 per cent. do., $3.60 to $.65.

No sales of molasses of any consequence have been made. Stocks are large and dealers are offering in Montreal. Quotations are : St. Croix, 28c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; Trinidad, 27c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, M.R. brand, 39c.; Demerara, N. brand, none ; St. Kitts, 28c.

Provisions continue quiet. P. E. Island mess pork is quoted at $13.50 and thin mess at $12.50, while American clear pork is quoted at $16 and mess at $14.

Salmon are firm. Alewives are in good demand yet at $3. New grocery herrings are coming along, and enjoy good demand at the low prices they are now obtainable at ex vessel. Late reports just to hand from Labrador are not very encouraging. At some places there have been large catches, while at others the voyage has not turned out an average one. Several vessels have arrived the past few days with cargoes, but they were out much longer to get them. At Grand Bank and Quero fish were exceedingly abundant, and every vessel hails with a full load. The voyages on the whole will be fully up to last season's. Quotations are: Shore cod, dry, tol quol, prime, $2.50 to $3.50 ; small bank do., $2 to $2.25 ; large do., $3 to $3.25 ; bay do., $2 to $2.25 ; Labrador, $2 ; Cape Breton haddock, $1.50 to $1.75 ; hake, $1.25 to $1.50 ; pollock, $1.50 ; split herrings, No. 1, $1 ; shore do., large fat, $3 to $3.50 ; alewives, $3 ; mackerel, No. 3, large, $7 to $7.50 ; salmon, No. 1, $12 ; No. 2, $10.50; No. 1, small, $9.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Theo. Leonard, of Detroit, representing Kingsford's Oswego starch, is in Toronto this week on his usual monthly tour.

Mr. Frank Magor, of Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, representing Keen's mustard, was in Toronto on Monday on his way home from the Pacific Coast.

Mr. J. C. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, Montreal, is looking up business in Toronto this week.

Amongst those who attended the Oddfellows' excursion to Seattle on Saturday was W. Boulter, Esq., of Picton, Ont. Mr. Boulter is the senior member of W. Boulter & Sons, of Picton and Toronto, the pioneer firm of the canned goods industry in Canada. He is an old and enthusiastic Oddfellow, and, although out here on business, joined the excursion for the purpose of having a pleasant day with the Pacific Coast brethren. He is much pleased with the courtesy extended to him, and also much impressed with the rising and progressive city of Seattle, this having been his first visit to Puget Sound.—Times, Victoria, B.C.

LONDON RETAIL GROCERS.

The annual meeting of the above association was held on the 11th inst. The evening being extremely warm, any business that could be laid over until the next meeting was shelved, and the election of officers proceeded with, resulting as follows :

President ..... Mr. F. Harley.
Vice-president ..... R. A. Jones.
Treasurer ..... W. H. Branton.
Secretary ..... E. Sutton.
Guard ..... W. J. McComb.

The committee that had charge of the excursion reported it a success, and a balance in cash after all expenses were paid. The auditors were requested to audit the books and report at next meeting. A communication from the Elgin Mercantile Association was read, having reference to petitioning the Ontario Government at its next session, to amend the Act relating to transient traders, etc. A committee was appointed to obtain further information, and report at the next meeting. The secretary was voted $15 for extra services in connection with the excursion, and the meeting adjourned at 9:30.

BUSINESS-PAPER ADVANTAGES.

By Nath'l C. Fowler, Jr.

THE representative trade paper is of composite contents. It contains every form and style of matter, from the technical article to the story, and from news to humorous items.

The trade paper is at once a newspaper, a lesson book; a magazine of entertainment, and a catalogue of business.

The advertising pages of the good trade paper are virtually mirrors of success, reflecting ways and means of doing business and of increasing business.

They not only suggest commercial needs but they are guides to the reaching of those necessities.

Every reader of a trade paper reads the advertisements, for in them is the concentrated essense of business information, and the fact that they are written in the interest of the advertiser, does not remove one particle of their value to the reader.

The trade paper advertisement, if good for anything, is of mutual benefit quality, as valuable to the one who reads it as to the one who writes it.

The custom of using several trade paper pages for the reproduction of catalogue and circular matter, either printed from original plates or set by the paper, is rapidly receiving recognition, and is considered to furnish a unique and economical way of increasing the circulation and value of the catalogue.

The expense is not great, and the impression this method creates is sometimes worth more than the cost.

The fact that some manufacturers can afford to use a half a dozen or a dozen pages, or more pages, in any one issue of a trade paper, indicates that they have confidence in their goods, and that business is good, or will be good, with them.

It is positive evidence of prosperity, and everybody prefers to buy of the successful house, for the successful house can better attend to the wants of the customer.

It has been considered that the partial, or entire, reproduction of the catalogue in the trade paper, pays four distinct ways.

First, it is direct advertising.

Second, it is progressive advertising.

Third, it is impressive advertising.

Fourth, it is economical advertising.

It is impossible for this class of advertising to remain unseen, and even if it is not read it does its work, for the very impressiveness of it may be worth more than its cost.

The trade paper is a natural harmonizer and vender of business cordiality.

It reaches the inside of the trade, and is recognized by everyone interested in its line of business.

The wrapper may never be torn from the catalogue, and the circular may not be unfolded, but the trade paper is opened, read and filed, simply because it contains matter of profit.

There's not much difference . . .

in price, but a wonderful difference in quality, between reliable goods such as ours and the unreliable product of unknown canners. There's another difference to be considered, too—the difference between satisfied and dissatisfied customers. Put our goods to any test you please. They will stand it.

DISEASE IN CLOVE AND NUTMEG TREES.

THE Agricultural Bulletin of the Malay Peninsula No. 5, contains a report by Mr. H. N. Ridley, Director of Gardens and Forests, Straits Settlements, upon the causes of injury to clove and nutmeg trees which have come under his notice, and of which report the following is an abstract: The most serious cause of injury to nutmeg trees is a small beetle, belonging to the group of Hylesini (Scolytidæ). It is about one-eight of an inch long, deep blackish-brown in color, cylindrical in outline and quite blunt at both ends. This beetle deposits its eggs under the bark of the tree, and the grubs hatched therefrom feed on the cambium layer, eventually causing the bark to flake off. It also burrows into the twigs at their bases, causing the leaves to die, so that when the leaves on the lower branches hang dead while those on the upper ones are still alive, this beetle may be looked for with confidence. Further still, it attacks the underground portion of the stem and the strong tap root, and then works upwards. From this stage the course of the disease is very rapid, as other kinds of beetles begin to feed on those portions of the tree which are already dead.

Mr. Ridley considers that it was this beetle which, in 1860, nearly destroyed the nutmeg plantations in Penang and Singapore. He insists upon the importance of burning all dead branches and dying trees in order to check the spread of the disease. As a means of prevention, it is recommended that the base of the stems should be tarred, or that the trees should be surrounded with a hedge of cocoanut fibre, tarred and firmly pressed into the ground; also that notices in Chinese should be circulated, explaining the cause of the disease and its remedy. None of the well-known insecticides have been tried as yet, so their use cannot be advocated. Another source of danger is known as the mango-borer. This is a caterpillar which burrows into the branches of the mango tree, aud if this fails it often attacks nutmeg trees. As the fruit of the mango is comparatively worthless, the destruction of such trees growing near nutmeg plantations is recommended. Various kinds of mistletoe (Loranthus) are also prejudicial. The branches afflicted should be cut off below the parasitic portion. The Chinese are in the habit of removing the plant, but often leave the roots in the tree, so that it eventually sprouts again. Less important enemies are the common blight (a Coccus), a leaf-mining caterpillar, a beautiful silvery spangle-like scale, and gall-insects. Burning the infected leaves would probably keep these pests under.

Mr. Ridley also points out that the production of white nutmegs is probably due to insufficient fertilization. In these, the mace is white or slightly tinted, the seed is soft and useless, and the shell is pale or brown in color. The nutmeg tree is usually unisexual, but some trees have both male and female flowers. The cultivators in Penang and Province Wellesley destroy all non-bearing trees, so that the males are systematically cut down. The process of fertilization is thus entirely dependent on the male flowers in hermaphrodite trees, for which purpose their number is quite inadequate. Certain spots which occur on the husks of white nutmegs are probably only an external mould, and in no way connected with the production of white nutmegs.

In Penang, a number of clove-trees were observed to be dying from the attacks of a boring caterpillar, about an inch-and-a-half long, which is black-bodied with yellow rings, and covered with rather sparse long hairs. Its habit of boring a straight tunnel renders possible its destruction by spearing it with a thin wire. This course is more desirable than excision from the tree, but small boughs which are affected should be cut off and burnt.

A CHAT ON WINDOW DRESSING.

"WE'VE seen all this before, dozens of times." Of course you have. Like most good things the suggestions here are not new by any means. But still the fact remains that too many of our stores are remiss as regards attractive display in their windows. Especially in the hot months of the year, when even spending money is too great an exertion, it is necessary for the merchant to make his store attractive outside and in. First of all, the display outside must be attractive in order to get people inside; then the interior must be pleasing to retain their custom. In walking down the street of your town notice the places which pay attention to this line. Are they not the best houses in the town, and do they not carry on a large business? Are they not, as a rule, among the most wealthy of the men in the trade.

Many say it costs money and time, and that they cannot afford it. What, not afford to increase your business! It is rather the other way. The large merchant cannot afford to do without it. It pays him. He is not spending money for fun, as the expression is. He has built up his business in this way. Then, why not follow in his footsteps? What he has done you also can do if you only believe so and apply yourself towards that end.

To be effective, a window display must not remain too long unchanged. People get tired of seeing the same thing in the same place, and are apt to think that you have no other goods to display. Change frequently. It is not necessary to make a complete change of the material, as a limit would soon be reached, but alter the arrangement, make another color more prominent, or some such change, so as to give the whole a different appearance.

Another point worth noticing is not to put too much in a window at once. No one demands of you to put your whole stock on exhibition. There is, of course, a danger in having too little, but the most common error is in having too much. There is a happy medium which a little thought, together with ordinary common sense, will enable each merchant to find out for himself.—Dry Goods Review.

QUESTIONS REGARDING CREDIT.

The dealer who refuses to answer every question relating to his credit and business cannot blame the jobber if his ability to pay is questioned, says Inter-State Grocer. The men who grant credit nowadays have no confidence in the men who are afraid to answer questions about themselves and their business.

The tradesman who attaches no importance to his commercial standing either possesses no business acumen, or is entirely devoid of commercial probity. In short, the merchant who does not care for himself has no right to ask creditors to take care of him.

Energy is capital as well as cash, and honesty counts for as much as real estate in our business system. To ignore these facts is to argue that the tradesman is incompetent or ignorant.

Allof which means that intelligence counts for as much as money in our modern trade transactions. Hence, the only merchant who can afford to disregard personal integrity is the tradesman who is so rich that he need not depend upon the profits of his business, or the one who places no value upon his records. The conscientious tradesman is so jealous of his reputation that he will defend it by open statements. The ambitious merchant will save his credit at the cost of pride. Is it any wonder, therefore, that integrity is measured by frankness, and that frankness often determines the worth and extent of credit ?

A TRIVIAL DETAIL.

Perhaps none of the details of the grocery business can properly be termed trivial, for success sometimes depends upon very small matters, but the custom of draping the store in musquito netting, as a protection against flies, seems trivial enough, remarks Merchants' Review. Yet a little thing like that is often a sufficient indication to the observant mind which of two or more competing grocers is destined to make the most money.

The writer was passing through a town in the interior of this state one summer day and took occasion to visit the grocers there. Of all their places of business only one looked cool and attractive, owing to having been draped with gauze, not that it was any cooler than the other stores, but it looked so ; in the other stores the flies held high revels and left their signs upon stock and fixtures indiscriminately. Before leaving the town we made enquiries regarding the comparative wealth of the competing grocers, and learned that the owner of the well-kept store had the best trade and the reputation of having the most money, although not the oldest grocer. Of course, we expected that answer ; little things tell volumes as to character and business skill, and we felt positive that the one dealer who knew enough to make his store look as presentable as possible, also knew enough to beat out all of his rivals in the course of time.

CULTIVATION OF OYSTERS.

The world owes the first attempt at the systematic cultivation of oysters to Sergius Orata, who, as Pliny tells us, established oyster beds at Baiæ, says London Caterer. Like a practical oyster-lover, Sergius built a palace just on the bank of his great oyster farm, and there held high revel with his friends, opening and eating the delicious mollusc all day long. There are unpleasant stories still extant apropos of the gluttonous orgies indulged in by Sergius and his fellow-enthusiasts, and perhaps one ought to be shocked and slightly revolted at these stories. But with oysters at their present prohibitive price, one is denied the privilege of experimenting with them in a sufficiently liberal manner, and so attaining a knowledge of where sufficiency ends and surfeit begins. Vitellius himself could alone speak as to moral and physical results of a feast of a thousand oysters. Such extended investigations are only permitted to purses of a truly imperial length.

TRADE CHAT.

THE Tillson Roller and Cornmeal Mills commence operation again after four or five days shut down, while they were repairing the lower dam.

Two cars of fish from Selkirk left for Boston, New York and Detroit on Monday week.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. a few days ago shipped 24 cars of flour to Australia, via Vancouver.

W. H. Nelson, grocer, who shot himself in a cemetery at Kingsville on Friday, died on Sunday from his injuries.

The Messrs. McDonald, of St. Johns, Quebec, have sold their valuable crockery plant at St. Johns for $120,000 to a Parisian syndicate.

A London fruit merchant, Mr. J. B. Shuttleworth, is buying up the products of Kent apple orchards, to help fill an Old Country order for 75,000 barrels.

Mr. T. W. Crothers, solicitor for J. Slade, has issued a writ in an action against, Apps & Hankinson, grocers, St. Thomas, claiming $600 damages for alleged wrongful dismissal.

In order to meet the growing demands for accommodation for the dairy and honey departments at Toronto Exhibition, the directors have decided to locate the departments at the grand stand.

The earnings of the C.P.R. this year up to August 1st were $10,748,000, against $8,897,000 in a similar period last year. The Grand Trunk main line figures were $9,752,000 and $9,528,000.

For the year ended June 30th, 135,332 tons of freight were landed at Port Dover from the boats. This freight required 6,003 cars to carry. The Customs receipts were over $52,000. In June 555 cars of coal were brought over for the G.T.R., and in July the total was 814 cars. From August 1 to August 11 at noon, 457 cars were landed, both boats being in commission since the 4th inst.

Mr. Geo. Glasgow, for many years in the grocery business in London, has disposed of his stand at the corner of Richmond and Oxford streets. He leaves shortly for Detroit, where his family now is.

England this year is likely to suffer from a lack of hay and other live stock provender. There has been a shortness in the rainfall and the meadows are dried up. This is likely to mean a demand for Canadian hay on Old Country account. Canada is one of the few countries that can supply British wants in this respect.—Gazette, Montreal.

The Ridgetown correspondent of The St. Thomas Journal says that in that district plums and peaches, but especially plums, are rotting very rapidly. There won't be one bushel where two, and even three, were expected. Exactly how peaches will turn out cannot be definitely stated yet, but the earlier varieties show signs of decay, which is very discouraging to the fruit-grower.

Mr. Robert Scott, proprietor of the Shoal Lake creamery, is at the Leland. He states that he will commence shipping butter from his factory to China and Japan in about three weeks, the first lot amounting to about 6,000 pounds. Regular shipments packed in French tins will continue all through the fall and winter by each C.P.R. boat. Mr. Scott intends to devote all his attention to developing this trade.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

The West Elgin License Commissioners met at the Wilcox House yesterday. The shop license of Rallis Bros. was transferred to J. H. Price and the license of the Paterson House, Rodney, was transferred to Minor Barnes, of this city. The Commissioners were informed that certain grocers in the city take orders for liquors, take the orders to the liquor stores and receive a commission from the proprietors. The Board passed a resolution condemning the practice, as it is a violation of the Liquor License Act, and that if a license holder is caught doing it he will do so at the risk of losing his license.—Times, St. Thomas.

The St. Thomas Board of Trade held an excursion to Niagara Falls on the 13th inst. The train consisted of five vestibuled coaches, one a smoker upholstered in green plush, and a baggage. All the coaches were new and two just out of the shops. Two hours and fourteen minutes after leaving the city the excursionists were viewing the wonderful cataract. The train left promptly at 8.30 a.m., and arrived at the Falls in two hours and fourteen minutes, making the run of 114 miles in 124 minutes, deducting 10 minutes laying over at Hagersville to meet No. 31. There were 200 passengers on board.

A HEAVY FAILURE.

A heavy failure was recorded Thursday, when Geo. Patrick Browne, of 416 St. Paul street, Montreal, assigned on the demand of William Brown, butcher. The assignee's assets consist of a stock of liquors, wines, spirits and fixtures, horses, sleigh, carriage, harness, and appliances for loading ships. The liabilities are not much short of $30,000. The largest creditors are the Molsons' Bank, $1,477; G. Reinhardt & Sons, $1,793; H. Joseph & Co., $450; Wm. Brown, $519; Mrs. R. G. Taylor, $784; E. A. Ogilvy, $425; Collector of Customs, $227; Wm. WINE PRODUCTION OF THE WORLD.

CONSUL GERMAIN, of Zurich, Switzerland, has sent to the State Department of the United States statistics regarding the wine production of the world, which show that it is estimated to be 3,671,963,000 gallons annually, having slightly increased during the last few years in consequence of the decrease of the ravages of the phylloxera, which induced French wine growers to replant their devastated vineyards. The quality of wines did not improve in the same ratio with the quantity, the new methods of wine culture tending more to increase quantity than improve quality.

"The investigations which were made," he says, "have shown that the general extension of vine culture in countries other than France did not help to increase the national wealth. It is a fact that in Austria and in a few other countries wine making has not proved profitable, and producers have become discouraged. In Australia, the Government had to grant subsidies to encourage growers, while in other countries more profitable branches of agriculture were resorted to. Ranking in importance as wine-producing countries the different nations stand as follows: (1) France, (2) Italy, (3) Spain, (4) Portugal, (5) Germany, (6) Austria-Hungary, (7) Russia, (8) Switzerland, (9) The Balkan States, (10) Argentine Republic, (11) Chile, (12) United States, (13) Brazil, (14) Australia, (15) Cape Colony.

"The exertions of Italy to establish foreign markets for her wines are worthy of mention. Large stocks and technical control stations have been established at Berlin, Vienna, Trieste, Budapest, Zurich, Buenos Ayres and New York. Spain, in spite of her having been very much afflicted by the phylloxera in certain regions, has been able to maintain her wine production on the former scale. That country has made great progress in wine culture. Spain has established a central station at New York. She is constantly replanting the vines that have been destroyed by the phylloxera, and the Government is buying land on which American vines known to be of great resisting quality are being planted."

Consul-General Mill, of Hawaii, reports that under the operations of a new tariff law which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1897, California wines which now pay a duty of 15 cents a gallon will be admitted into Hawaii free, and the duty on Japanese "saki" will be advanced from 15 to 60 cents a gallon.

DEATHS.

W. H. Nelson, grocer, crockery, etc., Kingsville, is dead.

A SALESMAN'S ESSENTIAL.

It is one of the most essential characteristics of a successful salesman, remarks Commercial Enquirer, that he should be entertaining. Not entertaining after the negro minstrel style; no low comedian business, but entertaining in an intelligent, manly, business fashion. To be acceptable in full to customers one must be more or less attractive, one must make an impression decidedly in his own favor. The neutrality that neither attracts nor repels will not do. There must be some particular influence that gives him an advantage over the average either in conversation, in appearance, or intellectually. The customer must be favorably disposed to him and willing to accept his reasoning; in fact, he or she must be willing to be convinced, in order to be convinced, and the personality of the clerk is the factor which must create this willing disposition on the part of the customer.

BANANAS FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

A press despatch from Boston says: Since the abandonment of the Cuban ports for the shipment of bananas negotiations have been in progress between a prominent firm of local fruit importers and Central American parties, looking towards the establishment of a regular line of fruit steamers between Central American ports and Boston, for the importation of bananas and other tropical fruit. It has been definitely decided to send the Norwegian steamer Harald from Boca del Toro to this port at an early date, and she is scheduled to arrive here about September 1 with the first cargo. This shipment will be somewhat in the nature of an experiment, and upon its success probably depends the establishment of the regular line. The quality of the Central American fruit is said to be very fine.

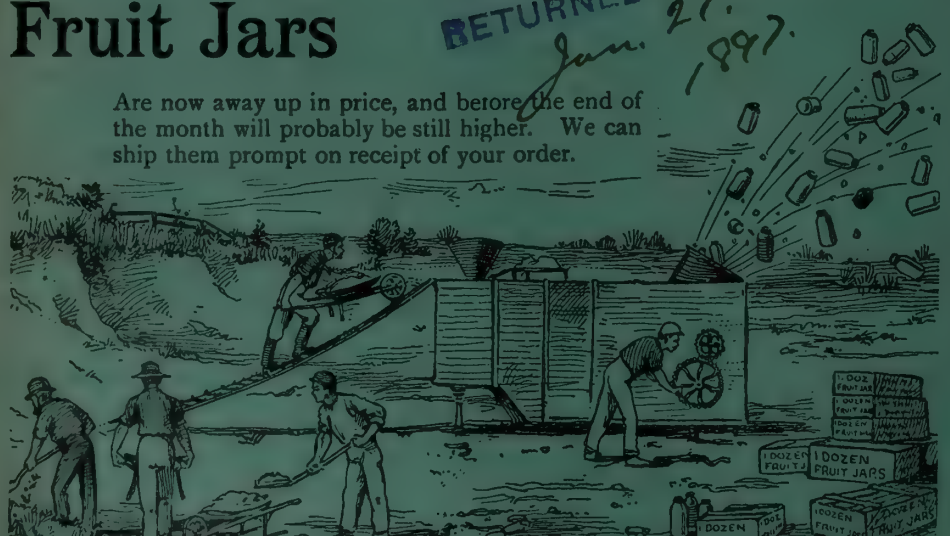
Table Salt Pays Well!

There's nothing you sell pays better! The only fault is, you don't sell enough! Why not increase your trade by selling

Windsor Table Salt?



It gives customers more satisfaction than ordinary salts do. They find it does not cake when in use on the table, and when it costs no more than common salt, will want no other. Any wholesale house can supply you.

TEA TRADE IN JAPAN.

THE tea manufacturers of the western provinces of Japan, says The London Grocer, recently held a meeting in Kioto to consider measures for rehabilitating the tea trade of Japan. The following resolutions were adopted: 1. As regards direct export tea, every order that is in hand, for which samples are held, and which has been undertaken by the Teadealers' Union, shall be fulfilled. In order to bring about a more extensive demand a fund shall be raised by subscriptions from the general body of tea dealers, and with this fund direct or indirect support shall be given to direct exporters. 2. Direct exporters who ship over fifty thousand catties of tea to Europe or America through the Union shall receive a subsidy of one yen per hundred catties. 3. In order to maintain prices at times when a sudden fall occurs in the market, through a panic or owing to any other cause, the Union shall make suitable advances, free of interest, to the tea dealers in Yokohama or Kobe and other places, to relieve holders of tea from the risk of being forced to sell their goods in haste. 4. As the demand for Japan teas has been greatly injured by the recent introduction of Indian (Ceylon) tea in the American market, some good plan for the protection of our tea traders against rival producers must be studied, and for this purpose a large sum of money shall be set aside for the purpose of opening up new markets for Japan teas. 5. If, through political changes in a country where Japan tea is consumed, anything happen prejudicial to the tea trade, the matter must be attended to promptly. If there should be ground for anxiety regarding the future of the tea trade the Union shall memorialize the Government to take such steps as may appear necessary. 6. From April to July a simple and carefully compiled daily report on arrivals and sales of tea at Yokohama and Kobe shall be expeditiously distributed to tea markets and producing districts in the interior, in order that tea dealers and producers may perceive the real state of the tea trade. It was resolved to ask the Government to set aside the export duty on tea as a fund for subsidizing the tea industry.

OUR FLOUR IN AUSTRALIA.

"I DO not see much prospect of securing a market for Canadian flour in this market, except in case of such droughts as last year, and then not to a large extent."

The above is a sentence in the latest report sent to the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa by Mr. J. S. Larke, the Canadian commercial agent at Sydney, N.S.W.

In view of the large exports of Canadian and American flour from Vancouver and San Francisco to Australia, since November last, this statement appeared so extraordinary that a Herald reporter yesterday saw Mr. Robert Meighen, president of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., on the subject.

"All I can say," replied Mr. Meigher, when he was shown the blue book, "is that, so far from there being no market for Canadian flour in Sydney, we have more orders from that market than we are able to fill. I have just passed the invoices of a shipment of 5,000 barrels of flour for Sydney, which we are shipping from Vancouver by the Empress of Japan on the 24th. That consignment will have to go to Hong Kong and be there transhipped to Sydney, because we cannot get enough freight room on the direct steamers. Then we will send a shipment equivalent to 1,000 tons of wheat by the ss. Miowera, which is to sail from Vancouver for Sydney direct on September 8th.

"In fact, we have engaged all the freight space in sight, and even then cannot fill anything like the orders which are offered us. Of course, our chief competitors are the Americans, and their competition is very keen, but the Canadian flour is so superior in quality that it more than holds its own, both as to price and demand. We have every cause for satisfaction in the Australian trade, and it certainly looks to me as capable of indefinite expansion."

The idea of there being no market for Canadian flour in Sydney is ridiculous. The ss. Warrimoo landed over 29,000 sacks of flour in Sydney in April last, and since then every steamer has taken out full cargoes of wheat and flour. It is true that vast quantities of American flour from Seattle, Olympia and San Francisco were landed at the same time, but the Canadian flour at once gained a reputation and sold at from 20s. to 30s. per ton higher than that from the States.

The Ogilvie Milling Company is not now exporting any flour, as it finds the home demand quite equal to even its large capacity. But The Herald was told by a representative of that company that the shipments to Australia had been most satisfactory, and that there had been further enquiries, which the company could not see its way to fill.—Montreal Herald.

THE GOLD CLAUSE.

An official of the registrar's office, speaking of the use of the gold clause in real estate mortgages since the agitation of the silver question, said yesterday that at least seven-tenths of the mortgages passing through that office had the usual phrase "lawful money" erased and the words "gold coin" substituted. This revision of the wording of the mortgages has occurred only in the last two months. Before that period the proportion of cases where gold was specified was small.—Wall street News.

EUROPE'S BIGGEST PORT.

From figures recently given in The Liverpool Post it would appear that the first port in Europe is Hamburg. The tonnage for two years is as follows :

	1895. Tons.	1896. Tons.
Liverpool	4,278,881	5,965,959
Hamburg	3,704,312	6,256,000
Antwerp	3,422,172	5,340,247
Rotterdam	2,120,347	4,038,017
Bremen	1,289,399	2,184,274

Mr. Holland attributes the advance of the continental ports chiefly to the high dock charges and local dues at Liverpool.

THE INACTION OF CANADIAN MERCHANTS.

THREE weeks ago THE CANADIAN GROCER announced that business men in Spokane, Washington, were making preparations to push trade in the Kootenay country, British Columbia, and that some of them, desirous of forming connections with wholesale houses and manufacturers in Canada, had written asking, through this paper, such to correspond with them.

So far, the only firms that have taken the matter seriously, and have asked to be placed in communication with the Spokane people, are those situated in the United States cities along the Canadian border. This is a sad commentary upon the enterprise of Canadian business men.

The correspondents did not solicit the names of United States business houses. It was Canadian firms they wanted. But it was enough for the firms just across the border to learn, through THE CANADIAN GROCER, that trade with the Kootenay country was made more possible with the making of Spokane a sub-port and the establishment of bonded warehouses there. And to know was to act.

Canadian merchants, on the other hand, from whom correspondence was particularly solicited, are as if they were sphinxes. This is humiliating, particularly to Canadians who have faith in their country.

The chief reason why Canada has not made greater strides than it has is, that Canadians have neither exhibited faith nor works relatively as great as our possibilities warranted.

The condition of affairs in the Kootenay gold country is an evidence of this. Ninety per cent. of the people there are from the United States, and under their ownership has fallen most of the richest mining properties there. British law reigns there, but United States customs predominate. Imagine Canadian towns being given up to celebrating the Fourth of July! That, however, is what is to be witnessed in Rossland and such mining towns.

Canadians have one of the grandest countries that Nature has given to any people. In the products of the field, forest and mine our possibilities are unlimited. But those outside are often the first to recognize these facts and consequently they are the first to gather the fruit. They may, perhaps, not have more faith than we have, but they exhibit more works. That is evident.

Our merchants, manufacturers and others are often heard to complain regarding the limited character of the home market. Here in the Kootenay gold country we have an expansion: The great percentage of the people coming in there are from the United States; it is not the transference of the population of one part of Canada to another, such, for instance, as was witnessed a year or two ago when young farmers from eastern Canada swarmed to Manitoba and the Northwest. No, the influx of people to the Kootenay country is a distinct gain to the population of the Dominion.

One disadvantage to getting into the Kootenay country with goods is the absence of efficient transportation facilities. But the pathway from Spokane into that part of the Dominion is not without its obstacles. One thing the Canadian manufacturer or wholesaler has not to contend with is a high tariff. This his confreres across the border have to contend with.

People are going into Rossland, Trail and other mining centres in swarms. This people must be fed and clothed. They produce nothing for themselves. All their attention is devoted to digging gold and other metals from the earth. And while they are doing this the people in the outside commercial centres must provide the necessaries of life. At present the manufacturers and merchants outside the country are doing this. That is, they are practically doing it, for in Canada it is only a business man here and there who has the courage to compete for the trade of that part of the Dominion in question. And the longer it is deferred the more difficult will it be to go up and possess the trade.

The market is worth seeking. As will be noticed, in an interview with Mr. T. C. Irving published in another column, it is estimated that in the lower half of West Kootenay something like 1,360 carloads of various kinds of merchandise will be consumed during the present year of grace.

Canadian manufacturers and merchants should go up and possess what is theirs. And the sooner they go up the better.

THE TERM "VALUE."

THE agitation in favor of the free coinage of silver, which is now attracting so much attention in the United States, is based upon an economical misconception: they labor under the delusion that value can be created at the mere ipse dixit of the Legislature.

If diamonds could be created at the mere impulse of the will, they would not be worth a cent apiece, for everyone could produce diamonds at a lower price if he wanted them.

Value can only be created by the expenditure of labor. Value is the cost of labor. In other words the value of a thing is determined by its cost of production. Another element it must possess is utility. A man may spend a whole year in producing a thing, but unless it is useful it has no value.

Silver has value. It costs the expenditure of labor to produce, and it has utility. But it is proposed, by legislation, to give it a value that it does not possess. Its marketable value to-day, compared to gold, is, roughly speaking, something like 32 to 1. And yet Bryan and his fellow Silverites propose to pass legislative enactments fixing it at 16 to 1.

You may declare a black man a white man, but he is a white man just the same. When silver costs as much to produce, other elements conducive to value being equal, it will be as valuable as gold. Until such is the case, not even the legislative enactments of a United States Congress can make it otherwise.

It may decree that sixteen ounces of silver is equal to one of gold. But gold relatively will still be above the ratio at which the Silverites propose to fix it.

The buying and selling of to-day is merely an improvement of the old bartering methods of by-gone days. We are still giving value for value. The law of exchange is value for value.

Money is to-day the medium of exchange. If we want to buy a pair of boots we do not give our surplus of some other product for it; we give money. Money must therefore possess value. And it must possess an honest value. Money given a fictitious value is not honest. When men were bartering horses in the old days each expected to get a sound horse in return. And to-day, when a man is exchanging a horse for money, it is only proper that he should receive sound money in return.

The United States Congress may pass a law stipulating that a man may pay his debts in either gold or silver at the ratio of sixteen ounces of the latter to one of the former. But there will only be one standard of value: Gold will go out of circulation. Most of it will go out of the country, and that which remains will be hoarded.

With the loss of the United States' gold currency will come the loss of her credit. And the nation without credit is, like the individual in a similar condition, a fit subject for bankruptcy.

A silver dollar at 16 to 1 is practically fiat money. "A standard coin is one of which the value in exchange depends solely upon the value of the material contained in it." This is what Jevons, the well-known authority, says, and those, in both the United States and Canada, who are squinting at free silver coinage would do well to lay to heart the gospel therein contained.

MONTREAL GROCERY CLERKS' ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the executive of the above association was held in St. Joseph's Hall, St. Catherine St., on Sunday. The principal business before the meeting was the arranging for their annual social gathering to be held in the Monument Nationale on Sept. 23. The comedy entitled "La Cagnotte," by D' Eugene, member of the French Academy, will be produced under the direction of Mr. L. Petitjean. The clerks expect to have a bumper house, as in past years. The Lieut.-Governor of the Province, Sir A. Chapleau, will be present and an address will be presented to him. It was expected that the Hon. Mr. Laurier would have been present, but he has sent word that owing to other engagements he will be unable to attend.

MR. BOULTER'S BIG PIN.

Mr. Wellington Boulter, the well-known packer, of Picton and Toronto, returned on Wednesday from his annual business trip to the Pacific Coast. "Competition is keen and prices very low," was his somewhat laconic reply to a question regarding the result of his trip. On his way back he spent a week in the Kootenay country and four days in the Lake of the Woods mining district. He was voluble enough about the richness of these parts of the Dominion in the yelloy metal.

"But," said he, "plentiful as gold is in British Columbia, people cannot be too careful where and how they invest their money."

In his necktie Mr. Boulter wore a pin whose head is a chunk of free gold nearly as large as a walnut. "That," he explained, as THE GROCER examined it, "is from one of the Lake of Woods mines. It was given to me by a friend of mine out there whom I have not seen for forty years." The gold weighs a little over an ounce, and is worth $20.60.

FIRST SALES OF CALIFORNIA RAISINS.

WITHIN the past week or so somewhat conflicting information has been obtained in Montreal in regard to forward sales of new crop California raisins.

So far most of the leading operators on that market have been offering for October shipment. No important business has yet been noted on September account, but the variation in the values quoted is a noteworthy fact.

The other day information came to hand that 4-crown were held firm at 4¼c. on the Coast, but it is well known that quite a quantity of stock has been sold at 4c. for 4-crown, 3¼c. for 3-crown, and 2¾c. for 2-crown. These figures, however, are not general with all the agents, for one or two of these state that their principals refuse point blank to make any sales at these prices. If they did so they allege that there is every likelihood of their having to stand a heavy loss.

It may be interesting to note, however, that the above prices, while slightly lower than the opening prices last year, are away above the bottom prices at which California raisins were sold in 1895.

Sales of 4-crown fruit were made in Montreal last year down as low as 3½c. on the Coast, or ½c. below the figures quoted today, and 3-crown down to 2⅛c., or over 1c. below this year's opening quotations.

It is simply a speculation, and whether buyers will come out right or not is for the future to decide.

PROGRESS OF THE SALMON PACK.

ADVICES received in Toronto this week from the Coast bring the information that there has been a continuance of the good run of salmon previously noted, resulting in a substantial increase in the total pack.

Advices received by The Commercial Journal, of Victoria, estimated that the pack on the Fraser was, up to the night of the 17th inst., 263,615 cases, a gain of 62,000 cases for the week. According to this same journal the total pack for British Columbia was, up to the 17th inst., 497,615 cases, as compared with 566,395 for the full season last year, and 495,371 in 1894.

The fishing season ordinarily should have ended on the 25th inst., but a press despatch under date of Vancouver, August 24, stated that the time had been extended five days. "As the Government was not asked to extend the season," continues the despatch, "the canners held an indignation meeting, and expressed emphatic displeasure at the Government's action." According to this same despatch the salmon had stopped running and most of the canneries had closed down.

A significant feature of the situation is that, according to various private advices which have been received in Toronto the past week, the bulk of the pack is in flat tins for the English market, and that consequently the quantity for the home market will be small. This, however, remains to be seen. It is generally conceded too that the quantity of cans prepared for the pack has not been sufficient for the demands made upon it. Another thing not to be overlooked is that the canners have been, as a rule, compelled to pay high prices for fish. The price at the start was 25c. per fish. Regarding this matter it is well to again quote The B. C. Commercial Journal of the 18th inst.: "In the early part of the week there was a spurt and in consequence of an abundant supply of fish, for which some were not prepared, prices dropped to 10c., but recovered later to 20c. per fish."

It will thus be seen that all the factors have not been bearish in character.

THE KOOTENAY COUNTRY.

MR. T. C. IRVING, superintendent of the Toronto branch of the Bradstreet Co., returned to the "Queen City" on Saturday last from a trip through the Kootenay country. Mr. Irving is always a healthy, vigorous man, but he looks so more than ever before.

"Few people in the east," he said "are at all familiar with the mining camp of the west. In the first place, speaking in general terms, a mining camp is mainly a consumer. The miner raises nothing that he eats and he manufactures nothing that he wears. For these he is dependent wholly and entirely upon the eastern prairies, eastern merchants and eastern manufacturers. A few figures upon the different lines of business carried on in the British Columbia mining camps may surprise eastern Canadians at the enormous consumpton which goes on in the mining camps where the population, comparatively speaking, is small. Another factor entering into these calculations is that the miner and prospector must have and will only accept the best that can be obtained. He will not eat indifferent butter, nor indifferent groceries; he will not use inferior candles, inferior powder, nor inferior steel. He must have the best and the most expensive that the market affords. He is a good wage-earner; he never gets less than $3 per day, and in the silver camps of British Columbia he gets $3.50 per day. He invariably is paid every month and is always 'flush.'

"Rossland, which was two years ago this month a camp of 30 or 40 people with but one house in it, is now a place of at least 6,000 people, with a fine, wide avenue, built up as no American mining town of its size or age is built up."

"And how about the Rossland market?" he was asked.

"A conservative estimate," he replied, "as to the amount of dry goods, groceries and hardware which will be consumed in the Rossland camp during 1896, is about 300 carloads of fifteen tons each. Trail will receive at least 150 carloads, or 2,250 tons of light merchandise; Nelson, 200 carloads, or 3,000 tons; Kaslo, 200 carloads, or 3,000 tons; Sandon, 200 carloads, or 3,000 tons; New Denver and Three Forks, 200 carloads, or 3,000 tons; Pilot Bay, 75 carloads, or 1,125 tons; Ainsworth, 25 carloads, or 375 tons; Waneta, 10 carloads, or 200 tons, making in all about 1,360 carloads, or 20,400 tons. These figures only apply to the lower half of West Kootenay.

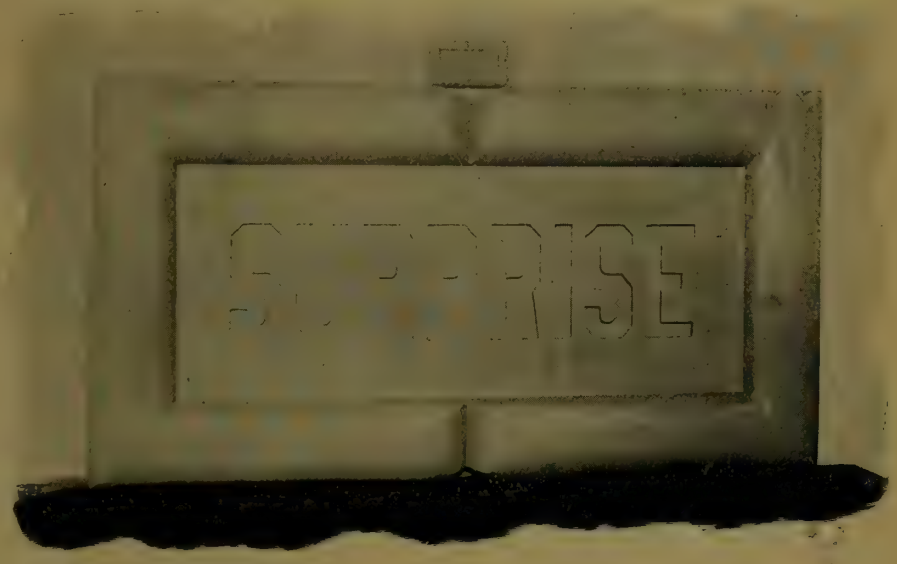
"How much of these goods of all descriptions and kinds have been raised or manufactured in our own country.

"A recent and, I believe, careful estimate made by a lawyer in New Denver, in presenting the case for the appointment of a County Court judge, estimated that West Kootenay paid into the Dominion Treasury for customs and excise one-sixteenth of the whole revenue of Canada. This revenue is imposed upon goods and has been paid into the Customs houses in Rossland, Trail, Waneta, Nelson and Kaslo. When it is considered that possibly one of the most populous wards in the city of Toronto will equal the population of the whole of South Kootenay some idea may be gathered of what this market is worth to eastern Canada. At least one-third of the products of all kinds consumed in Southern Kootenay are purchased and brought in from the United States.

"Another fact worthy of consideration," he continued, "is that a goodly portion of the goods sold by eastern Canada have been brought in over American railways instead of the Canadian Pacific Railway, especially during the winter months, because of defective transportation. The greatest portion of the vegetables and hay, and nearly all the sheep and hogs are brought in from the states of Washington and Oregon. One of the great longings of Canadian farmers, especially in Manitoba and the Northwest, is for a market for their products and for their beef, sheep and hogs. What they need, and what the mining camps of British Columbia need, is a quick and cheap transportation of all that the Manitoba and Northwest farmer has to sell, and all that the British Columbia miner desires to consume. The present arrangements do not supply the needs of either the people of Manitoba and the Northwest or those in British Columbia. A line of railway through the Crow's Nest Pass, connecting with the inland waterways of British Columbia (Lake Kootenay and the Columbia River) through by way of Nelson, Rossland and the Okanagan district would, when the district is fully developed, find such a traffic, both passenger and freight, that not only would it pay all fixed charges for its construction and rolling stock, but also operating expenses, and, no doubt, reasonable dividends upon the stock."

"Within the past two years," continued Mr. Irving, "three smelters have been established in South Kootenay, the first at Pilot Bay, the next at Nelson and the third at Trail. These smelters were erected under disadvantageous circumstances. They cannot get a supply of coke except at very high prices. If southern British Columbia had cheap coke we would in truth see the tall chimneys from Fort Steele to Hope. In order that this may be accomplished it is absolutely necessary and essential to the well-being of the mining industry of British Columbia, and also for the eastern merchant and manufacturer and the Manitoba and Northwest farmer, that the Crow's Nest railway should be built without delay to give this cheap and direct communication.



"Perhaps a word may now be profitably said as to what is the output which the mining industry of British Columbia expects to put forth. American smelters have had their representatives through southern British Columbia during the past year, making various estimates of the expected output from the mines. The most recent was made by one of the largest smelting companies in the United States, whose engineer has reported that the Rossland camp alone, without any additional mines being opened up, will produce after the first day of October, 1896, a thousand tons of ore per day, or not less than 365,000 tons a year, the gross product of which will amount in the neighborhood of $7,000,000 to $8,000,000, one-half of which is profit, while the remaining half goes into wages and purchase of machinery. With the new mines which are coming producers this tonnage must be largely augmented. The Slocan and Ainsworth districts this year ought to ship at least 50,000 tons of ore, making a net profit of nearly $5,000,000. If the Boundary Creek district had cheap railway transportation, its production, after being opened up for two years, ought to reach $5,000,000 a year, so that it may be reasonably estimated that with the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass railway the mining industry of southern British Columbia alone would amount to $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 a year for five years, a greater output, it is declared, than any state in the American Union. In the meantime, there is abundant evidence, through the building and projected building of railways, etc., by the Americans, that they are fully aware of the importance of securing this market."

"One thing the people of Canada should remember," concluded Mr. Irving, "and that is this: the people settling in Kootenay country are a distinct adjunct to the population of the Dominion."

A MAMMOTH BAR OF SOAP.

NO matter how great the merit of an article or commodity may be, it is only by persistent pushing that it can be maintained in public favor. Business is a race; and the moment that a merchant or manufacturer ceases his exertions, that moment do his competitors begin to gain upon him.

The St. Croix Soap Mfg. Co., of St. Stephen, N. B., makers of the well-known "Surprise" soap, have established a reputation for the excellence of the article they turn out: it has spread throughout the Dominion to foreign countries. But they do not make the mistake some people do, in imagining they can maintain their position by their past reputation. First of all, they maintain the quality of their soap, and then, instead of diminishing they are rather increasing their advertising, as the readers of the trade and daily press can attest.

In their advertising methods they are unique as well as persistent. The accompanying cut is an illustration of a mammoth bar of "Surprise" soap which the firm has turned out. It is 3 feet 8 inches long, 2 feet 2 inches high and 1 foot 2 inches thick. This mammoth bar will be placed on exhibition at the Industrial Fair, Toronto. Alongside it will be an $800 piano, and the man, woman or child who guesses nearest to the actual weight of the soap will secure the piano. The guessing competition will be free, coupons being served out to whosoever chooses to take one.

The value of Surprise soap is well known, but the St. Croix Soap Co. are determined that it shall not only be well known, but that it shall be even better known. Hence the guessing contest.

His Worship the Mayor has consented to act as referee, and with him will be associated a couple of well-known business men.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THERE is still a great deal of sugar going out, but in all lines appertaining to the grocery trade there appears to be a tendency towards a lighter movement. Canned goods of any kind are receiving very little attention, and advices from the Coast are inducing people to be still more careless about placing orders for salmon. Teas are this week without special interest. In foreign dried fruits increased strength is to be noted in both currants and Turkish prunes. Sultana raisins are also cabled firmer. Samples of new season's California dried fruits are being shown this week on the Toronto market, and they are showing good quality. Payments remain fair.

CANNED GOODS.

Advices from the Coast received this week indicate that the pack is larger than early in the season it promised to be. As a result there is even less disposition than there even was before. Representatives of packers report that they are doing nothing. At the same time, however, no lower prices are being quoted, and the contention is that most of the pack is in flat tins for the English market. The first shipment of new pack salmon is expected to arrive on the Toronto market in a week or ten days. Cheap canned salmon, such as retails for 10c. per tin, is scarcely to be had on the local market. In lobsters the situation is still strong on account of the expected scarcity. Canned vegetables are receiving little or no attention. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50 to $1.55; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 to $1.45; Lowe Inlet, $1.30 to $1.35, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.60 to $2.65; half tins, $1.55 to $1.60; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The coffee market is quiet and uninteresting. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15½ to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Quiet and unchanged. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Business is much as before, and devoid of special feature. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

Trade in sugar during the past week has not been as active with jobbers as it was, although there is still a great deal of it going out in hand-to-mouth lots. Prices in London and New York have again been easier, but the Canadian refiners have made no change in their figures. Representatives of the refineries report business dull. The ruling price of granulated is 4⅜ to 4.35c., and yellows sell at from 3.35c. up.

SPICES.

The feature of the trade is still the demand for pickling spices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

The demand continues fair. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

There is no change to note. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

A fair amount of trade has been done during the past week in Japan teas, and holders are looking for better prices. Indian and Ceylon teas of low grade have been receiving a little attention. China teas have been very quiet. Good value is being offered in Young Hysons. In Colombo, teas of good cup quality are firm, some stiff prices having been paid for invoices of Ceylons there. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Cable quotations received in Toronto are 9 to 10s. per cwt. above the opening prices of last year. The demand locally is fair and prices are unchanged. We still quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4¼c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do., half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

A cable from Smyrna announces that the market for Sultana raisins has opened and at higher prices than last year. The crop is smaller than a year ago. The idea as to price is 6 to 7½c.

Valencia raisins are not receiving much attention on the local market. We quote as follows: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.

The cable announces an advance of 1s. to 1s. 6d. in Turkish prunes. Business on the local market is still quiet. We quote as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

Business doing in California fruits is small. First shipments of new season's fruit are expected here about the middle of October. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Dates, quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are still in light supply, with the demand good at quotations. Lemons are not as much wanted as they were a week ago. There is a liberal supply of watermelons on the street; the demand is light. Grapes are in liberal supply, with business only moderate. Peaches are in good demand. Plums, on the other hand, are quiet. Apples are in so large demand that there is practically no marketable value for them. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $6 to $6.50. Oranges—Rodis, $6 to $6.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.65; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per doz; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 10c. per dozen; tomatoes, Canadian, 10 to 15c. per basket; watermelons, 25 to 30c. each; apples, Canadian, 60c. to $1.25 per bbl.; pears, 40c. per basket, $3 per bbl. for Bartletts; peaches, 60 to 85c. per basket, for Crawfords; plums, 25 to 75c.; grapes, 2½ to 3c. per lb.; musk melons, 75c. to $1 per crate.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—There is a better feeling for choice selections of dairy butter. Creamery butter is in better demand on account of the lighter supply of choice dairy butter. Medium and low grade dairy butter is accumulating. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 12 to 14c.; for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 15 to 16c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c. 1-lb. blocks, 19 to 20c., according to make.

CHEESE—There is a good demand locally, and stocks are light. Prices are firm at 8½ to 9c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull at 75 to 85c. per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Dull and unchanged at 2¾ to 3½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Inactive at 5½ to 6c.

EGGS—There is a quantity of No. 2 stock on the market and until this is cleared up the trade does not expect a healthy market. With this difficulty out of the way there would, no doubt, be an improvement in the egg market. We quote: No. 1 stock at 9½ to 10c., and No. 2 at 7 to 8c.

HONEY—Quiet at $1.75 per dozen for comb, and 9c. per lb. for strained in 10 and 50-lb. tins.

POTATOES—The demand is fair at 30 to 35c.

PROVISIONS.

Provisions are in good demand. Smoked meats all continue active. The shortage in breakfast bacon and hams appears to be more pronounced, a number of packers now being buyers. The low price of long clear bacon is increasing the consumption and sales are larger than they have been for many years at this time.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9½ to 10c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11c.; small hams, 11 to 11½c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 6½c.; tubs, 6¾c.; pails, 7c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

FISH.

Fish is scarce this week, most of the whitefish now being required for freezing. A more liberal supply is expected next week. We quote: Lake Erie herring, 2½ to 3c. each; blue back herring, $1.25 per 100; pike, 4½ to 5c. per lb.; Restigouche salmon, 12½ to 18c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; Lake Erie white fish, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Winnipeg white fish, 6 to 6½c.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; eels, 5 to 6c. per lb.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN — Deliveries are more liberal. Prices are steady. We quote: White wheat, 65c. for new; red, 64c. for new; goose, 50½ to 52½c.; oats, 22 to 22½c. for old, and 20 to 20½c. for new; peas, 51c.

FLOUR—Business is quiet at $3.10 for straight roller, Toronto freights.

BALED HAY—Is steady at $11 for carloads of choice on track.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is lower on account of the freer offerings of new grain. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.60; rolled wheat, $2 to $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

SALT.

Business is keeping fairly good at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are dull, with cured quoted at 6¼ to 6¾c. Dealers pay 6c. for No. 1, 5c. for No. 2, and 4c. for No. 3.

CALFSKINS—Market is dull at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2. Lambskins are firm at 40 to 45c. and pelts at 25c.

WOOL—Receipts are fair and prices unchanged. Fleece brings 18 to 19c.; rejections, 15c., and unwashed, 11c. Pulled supers are 20 to 20½c., and extras, 21 to 21½c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 3 to 3¾c. for rendered and 1 ¼c. for rough.

PETROLEUM.

Prices are a little firmer and business is improving. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

MARKET NOTES.

Pimento is firmer.

The Toronto market is almost without fish this week.

First shipments of California dried and evaporated fruits are expected about the middle of October.

P. L. Mason & Co. have been advised by cable of an advance of 1s. to 1s. 6d. in the price of Turkish prunes.

The best materials only will be used and every care taken in the manufacture of same to secure goods of the highest uniform quality, that cannot possibly be excelled in the Dominion." As already stated by THE GROCER, the services of the manager of the late company, Mr. H. C. Fortier, have been retained.

beet show very little change, while in New York the market for both raw and refined has ruled quiet and about steady at the recent decline. The demand on spot has been of a limited character owing to the fact that buyers have ample supplies on hand and until such are worked off refiners do not anticipate much activity in the near future. The market on the whole is quiet and the volume of business is small for this season of the year. Granulated in round lots of 250 barrels and over is offering at 4⅛c. and in a jobbing way at 4⅜c., while yellows range from 3⅛c. to 3¾c., as to quality, at the factory.

SYRUPS.

The demand for syrups does not improve any and, in consequence, the market rules quiet but steady at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb., as to quality, at the factory.

MOLASSES.

The market for molasses has continued to rule very quiet, and no sales of importance have taken place owing to the fact that wholesale grocers have ample stocks on hand, consequently importers do not anticipate much improvement until such are moved off. The stock in first hands is large and the feeling is somewhat easier, but no actual decline in prices has taken place, although holders would probably shade present prices in order to place a round lot. We quote Barbadoes at 27½ to 28c., and in a jobbing way at 30 to 31c.

RICE.

The demand for rice is still good and the market is active and firm. We quote: Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There is no change in spices and business rules quiet, the demand being only for small lots. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

This market is dull and without any new feature to note, the demand being only for small lots to fill actual wants. We quote : Rio, 16½ to 17½c.; Maracaibo, 17½ to 18c.; Java, 24 to 27c., and Mocha, 23 to 28c.

TEAS.

The demand for teas continues to be principally of a jobbing character and the volume of business doing is small, but as stocks in second hands are said to be small, a decided improvement is looked forward to after the turn of the month. A few small sales of new crop Japans are reported at 14¾ to 15½c., and some of fine quality at 17½c., while blacks have sold all the way from 10½ to 20c., according to quality. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

Business in California dried fruit on spot has been quiet, but for future delivery a fair number of orders have been placed for new crop goods at full prices. We quote: 4½c. to 5c. for 2-crown ; 5¾c. to 6c. for 3-crown ; and 7c. to 7½c. for 4-crown.

In Valencia raisins there is no change. Cables from Denia have been received quoting all August shipments to New York at 13s. to 20s., as to quality, cost and freight. We quote : Off-stalk ordinary, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine, 5c., and selected, 5½ to 6c.

Currants continue quiet and unchanged at 3½ to 3¾c. barrels, 4 to 4¼c., half-barrels, and 5c. in cases.

A fair business is reported in prunes, and values rule steady at 5 to 5¼c. for French and 6c. for Austrian.

NUTS.

This market is very quiet, as is usual at this season, and prices show no change. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c. ; Brazils, 11c. ; almonds, 10½ to 11c. ; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

In this branch of the trade business continues exceedingly quiet, owing to the fact that buyers have ample stocks on hand, and until they reduce such, few contracts for the new pack will be made. We quote as follows : Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50 ; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality ; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20 ; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25 ; pumpkins, 75 to 85c. ; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45 ; "Clover Leaf," $1.35 ; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15 ; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

Under lighter receipts the apple market has been somewhat firmer and sales of Canadian Duchesses have been made at an advance of 25 to 50c. per barrel over the previous week, but the prospects are that this rise will not be maintained. The stock of oranges is about exhausted here, consequently it is difficult to quote prices. The advance in lemons has been fully sustained, and as further large shipments have been made to New York and other points it is said that stocks here are now light. Bananas continue in slow demand owing to the large offerings of other kinds of fruit. The receipts of Canadian peaches have been more liberal, but as the demand is ample to absorb all offerings prices rule about steady. We quote : Peaches, 45 to 75c. per Canadian basket ; pears, 30 to 40c. ; plums, 50 to 60c. ; apples, $1 to $.75; dried apples, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1.50; lemons, $2 to $4.50; oranges, $2 to $3.25, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The tone of the egg market has been strong, and prices have advanced ½ to 1c. per dozen, which is due principally to the considerable enquiry from foreign buyers by cable of late for new laid stock, and a number of sales have been effected for prompt shipment at satisfactory prices. This has caused a scarcity of choice stock to some extent, and as there is only 20 to 25 per cent. of the receipts coming forward fit for shipping the advance in prices is likely to be maintained. Choice near by new laid are selling at 12½ to 13c.; choice candled stock at 9½ to 10c., and culls at 7½ to 8c. per doz.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE MERCHANTS OF CANADA

Dear Sirs:

It has been our custom for a number of years to invite our friends and patrons visiting the Great Industrial Exhibition, to make our offices and warehouses their headquarters during their stay. We feel gratified at the manner in which so very many have in the past taken advantage of our invitation and herewith extend a cordial invitation to all our friends in the trade to call upon us. Our travellers and salesmen will be on hand to render any assistance and furnish information desired and make your stay pleasant and profitable. Come, a hearty welcome awaits you.

Respectfully yours,

THE EBY, BLAIN COMPANY, Ltd.

Wholesale Importing and Manufacturing Grocers

Cor. Front and Scott Streets TORONTO, CANADA

BEANS—There is no change in the market for beans, sales being very slow and prices nominal at 70 to 75c., in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a jobbing way.

TALLOW—Market dull and unchanged at 4c.

HOPS—Demand limited at 5c. to 7c., as to quality.

HONEY—Receipts fair, but the demand is slow at 10 to 12c. per lb. for comb.

BALED HAY—The demand for baled hay continues fair, and prices have ruled steady at last week's decline, old No. 1 selling at $12 to $12.50, No. 2 at $10 to $10.50, and new No. 1 at $11 to $11.50 per ton, in car lots on track.

PROVISIONS.

A fairly active trade has been passing in hams and bacon, and prices show no change. In pork the feeling is easy at the decline noted last week, and holders would probably shade present prices in order to place a round lot. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $10 to $10.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $10.50 to $11; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7 to 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

In Manitoba grades of flour a fair volume of business is reported on both local and country account, and prices rule firm at the advance noted last week. Business in Ontario grades has only been moderate, and holders in some cases show a disposition to shade prices for round lots. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.50.

The market for meal is in an unsettled state and further cutting in prices for rolled oats has been done, recent sales in barrels having been made at $2.50, but we quote $2.50 to $2.60.

The demand for feed keeps up and prices are maintained. We quote: Bran, $11 to $12; shorts, $11 to $13; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

During the past week the cheese market has been somewhat unsettled, and the edge is off. On Monday, between 3,000 and 4,000 boxes arrived by boat and rail from the French districts and sold at 8c., which is a decline of ¼c. on last week's figures. In western goods no important business has been done, but 8¼c. is about the idea for finest.

In butter, buyers of creamery have hardly been so enthusiastic as they were last week, and sellers who were asking 19c. for choice are in the minoritp, and some shippers who found themselves over-supplied have been offering fresh made at 18½c., and even this figure shows an advance of ½c. on the week.

ASHES.

This market has ruled quiet and prices are unchanged. We quote: Firsts, $3.50 to $3.55; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.55 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

Every theory has not value, but every theory should be weighed or tested before being thrown away.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 27, 1896.

THIS, the last week in August, has in no way changed its reputation as a quiet month. Merchants are, however, making preparations for a much larger trade during September. There is little new. The small excitement in beans noted last week has quieted down. During this week there has been no further advance, but the market is firm at 5 to 10c. per bush. higher than two weeks ago. Some American lard in tubs, pails and tins is now here. Style of package and quality of goods are both good. In fruit New Brunswick plums and apples arrive freely. Nova Scotia apples are also arriving and their plums will be right along in large quantities.

OIL—Present demand continues light, and as yet but few orders for future have been taken. Prices for Canadian are rather higher, but to some points of shipment small concessions have been made. We quote: American burning oil, 21 to 22½c.; best Canadian, 19 to 20½c.; prime, 17 to 18c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—The amount of freight paid on coarse salt has much to do with its cost. The fact that only steamer freights offer from Liverpool, and those would be too high, the more on account of the small quantity that would be needed, account for no direct importations, as the market is bare and dealers would buy if they could get it here. What supplies are coming dealers buy and have shipped via Boston. Prices here are held firm, and there is fair demand. The demand for Canadian 3, 5, and 10 lb. bags is less from year to year, the wood boxes being preferred. We quote: Coarse, 50c.; factory-filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls. $3; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz

CANNED GOODS — There is little new. Owing to the low prices quoted a larger quantity of corn, peas and tomatoes have been bought than the earlier season gave promise of. In fruits, outside of peaches and gallon apples, few are bought for this market. Pears, perhaps, range next in quantity. California cherries, it is reported, will be high, owing to an almost failure of crop. Nova Scotia packers are offering gallon apples, plums and pears below Ontario prices. Quality, particularly apples, is very fair. Dealers, however, look for still lower prices in apples. Nova Scotia crab apples are also offered low, but no demand is noted here. We quote as follows: Corn, 70 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80.; tomatoes, 75 to 90c.; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.25 $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz.; Digby

Eminently Interesting...

Is the constantly increasing demand for goods which give uniform satisfaction. As an aid to the development of trade close touch with such goods is invaluable. They give double profit to the wide-awake grocer who gives them a prominent display.

Try the experiment with Cottams Bird Seed. Its intrinsic worth as a seed is unequalled. And the patent "Bird Bread," patent Holder and Beak Sharpener in each packet, make it double the worth of any other brand. All wholesalers.

GREEN FRUIT — In both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the apple crop is very large; those grown in New Brunswick are chiefly fall apples. This fruit coming forward has about driven other apples out of the market. Some very good fruit is to hand and prices rule low and easy. A great improvement could be made in the apple business if all apples from Nova Scotia were consigned to dealers in place of being retailed from schooners, in which they are brought here, by the captain of the vessel. In plums the New Brunswick fruit has been to hand about a week, and Nova Scotia are now coming. Crops are large and prices rule low for so early in season. Malaga grapes are to hand; prices are higher than are expected when next shipment is received. Canadian grapes are daily expected. Very large quantities of this fruit are sold here. Demand for California pears is large. Deleware peaches are being freely received. We quote: Lemons, $6 to $6.25; Valencia oranges, $6 to $6.10; bananas, $1 to $2.50; grapes, $3 per crate; California plums, $2 to $2.25; peaches, $1.50 to $2.25; melons, 40 to 50c.; apples, $1 to $2 per bbl.; keg grapes, $5.

DRIED FRUIT—Evaporated apples (new) are daily expected. They are early this season. Prices are low, but the feeling is easy so far. But a small quantity has been bought, as the quality of later apples is better, and it is thought prices at least will not be higher. For dried there is no sale, though a quantity are still held. Dealers have largely placed their orders for dates and figs. Raisins have not yet been largely bought, but enquiries are being made. From present outlook California loose muscatels will likely range higher than last season. Cocoanuts find active demand. Quotations received on Virginia peanuts are lower. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; currants, cases, 4 to 4½c., bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4 to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 1¾c.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Except eggs, market is firmer all round. There is a much better demand noted for good butter, but, though prices are better, dealers will not pay the prices quoted by local creameries. Cheese shows but little increased demand. Our factorymen have not pushed sales owing to low prices, and have stocks still in hand. A much better feeling is noted, and they look for higher prices. It is very much hoped prices will advance, as they have been too low and the interest is a very important one. It will be found, however, hard to move June made cheese. We quote : Dairy butter, 16 to 17c.; new creamery, prints, 20c.; do., tubs, 18 to 19c. Cheese, 9c. Eggs 9 to 10c.

SUGAR—There continue to be but limited sales made by refineries owing to stock here still being large, on some of which a loss is being made. Demand is but fair. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4 5/8c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—There is but a quiet sale at present. A small cargo arrived this week of Porto Rico for Fredericton—the second this summer. Prices are easy, with Barbadoes ruling low. In syrup the trade here is light. Quality of Canadian syrup does not give satisfaction, and best quality rules high, while American syrup is largely prohibited by the high duty. Except for this a good syrup could be sold low. We quote : Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.

FISH—In this line trade during the week has been rather quiet. Dry cod show the best movement, and prices are held firm ; but small supplies are coming in. Large cod are very scarce. In pickled herring, while Bay herring are in light supply, better grades (as Eastern Shore) are hardly yet in the market, though a few have been received. Shad so far have been a very light catch, and there is a good demand for them fresh. Quite a large quantity are smoked, and they are very much liked here that way. Pickled shad have fair demand, those packed from fall-caught fish being the best. Alewives have made little movement as yet, but prospects are for low figures. Fresh smoked haddies have a large sale here, and rightly. In smoked herring there is no improvement. We quote: Large cod, $3.40 to $3.45; medium, $3.20 to $3.25; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl.; new smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.50 to $5 ; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; shad, fresh, 8 to 9c.; Canso, 4c.

PROVISIONS—There is little new to report, except the arrival of a car of American lard, which is found very attractive in both style of package and quality of goods. Pork has not advanced, as was hoped. We quote : Clear pork, $13 to $13.50 ; mess, $13 to $13.50 ; beef, $11.50 to $12.25 ; hams, 10 to 11c. ; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, tubs, 7 to 8c. ; compound, 6½ to 7¼c. ; pure lard, pails, 8 to 8½c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL —There is quite a good inquiry for old-wheat flours, and prices are held firm. For low-grade flours and feed the demand is light. Beans are held firmer here, and though a large part of the present stock was bought above selling price, even with advance holders are hopeful of better things. Hay is turning out a better crop than was expected. Prices hold firm. New hay will soon be a feature. There is still a very large demand for cornmeal. We quote as follows : Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50 ; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.20 ; medium, $3.85 to $3.95; oatmeal, $2.90 to $3.10; cornmeal, $1.95 to $2 ; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $15.50 to $16 ; bran, do do, $14.50 to $15 ; hand-picked beans, 90c. to $1; prime, 80c.; oats, 31 to 33c. ; hay, $12.50 to $13.50 ; barley, $3.50 ; round peas, $1.10 to $1.20; split peas, $3.40 to $3.50 ; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Moncton offers special inducements to a company putting a cold storage warehouse there.

American lard can afford to pay 2c. per lb. duty and freight from Chicago and then cost less than Ontario lard.

SS. Pentagoet is again running regular trips between New York and St. John. The influence on freights is at least appreciated by importers.

A display of "La Delicatesse" cheese in the window of W. A. Magee's handsome store attracts much attention. This cheese is much appreciated by connoisseurs.

The St. John grocers are not the only ones to have a picnic. This week those of Calais, Milltown and St. Stephen joined in a day's outing, which was a success, and it is thought to make it an annual affair.

Importers of Maconochie's pickles, for which there is a large and growing demand here, have been much disappointed through the delay of late in receiving their shipments. THE GROCER learns the delay has been caused by the moving of the pickle factory to London, and that shipments will be received by next steamer. Maconochie Bros. regret the delay very much, but believe the move will much facilitate future business.

The banks through the Lower Provinces are now charging 5 per cent. discount on American paper. Our city banks have not, for years, taken the silver, but those banks that have now charge 20 per cent. Some banks include American checks in the 5 per cent discount. Quite a number of requests are being received by the banks from Americans to put money on deposit and interest. As a rule the banks will not allow them the same interest they pay province depositors. Some merchants are making an ad. of the banks' position on American money, and offer 5 per cent. premium to purchasers of five dollars' worth of goods.

OFFICE RULES.

Smoke a short clay pipe at the door. It will attract custom.

Spit on the floor. A clean floor gets wearisome.

Talk and laugh loudly in the presence of customers. They like it.

Stand at the back of the store. Customers enter by the lane.

Whistle popular songs. You can be sure people never heard them before.

The bookkeeper has nothing to do. Go and have a chat with him. He likes company during office hours.

Use lots of technical language to your customers. The less they understand the more they buy.

Never forget for a moment that you are an ornament to the store and to the business.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THE crop report of the Nova Scotia Government just issued is of a most encouraging nature and bears out the forecast which has already appeared in THE GROCER. It says :

"It may be said generally that this is a most fruitful year. With the exception of a somewhat light hay crop, and this principally in the western part of the province, the outlook is of a very satisfactory character. As will be seen by reference to the returns from Annapolis and Kings, the garden fruit counties of the province, the promise of a magnificent output of apples places this important branch of agriculture beyond peradventure."

The following summary gives the condition and probable yield over the whole province :

Hay on upland 96 per cent. of a full average crop.
Hay on improved dykeland, 97 per cent. of a full average crop.

Some months ago a Retail Grocers' Association for Halifax and Dartmouth was started, with every prospect of a useful and long existence. The secretary of the association, who has conducted a department in the interests of that association in the columns of The Maritime Merchant, filled up his space last week with the following :

"This may be the last occasion that we are privileged to devote this space to the support of the Halifax and Dartmouth Retail Grocers' Association. At the moment of writing the life of this honorable body, which in its infancy gave promise of a useful and vigorous manhood, seems doomed to premature decay. It has not exactly dried up and blown away, for the pillars of the organization are still hopeful of resuscitating it, but the rank and file of its fighting strength, the people who vote and take part in the discussion at its monthly meetings, have gathered up the folds of their garments and by their action have said, 'no more of it.' A final action will be made this week to rally the members together, and if that proves unsuccessful, the executive will square up its accounts and go out of business. We refrain from moralizing on this possible ending of what might with general co-operation be a real good thing. We have said so much and endeavored to impress so earnestly upon the retail grocery trade the benefits of association work that to proffer additional advice would be but tearing a leaf from the parable of the man who 'cast his seed upon strong ground.'"

But the association lives, moves and has a being. The secretary adopted the above means to rouse the members. It was successful. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held on Tuesday evening and the members discussed the peddlers' nuisance. They will ask the Dry Goods Association to help them suppress the nuisance. The association is a very lively corpse and has entered a most emphatic protest against being buried.

The markets in breadstuffs are quiet, but steady. Wheat advanced 2c. in Chicago at the close of last week. From all appearances flour will not go lower. Manitobas have advanced 15c. per barrel recently.

Oatmeals and rolled oats have touched bottom.

Oats are dearer.

Corn and cornmeal are quiet and steady at the low prices recently touched.

Beans are advancing. The crop is said to be injured.

Mill feeds are slightly firmer than last week.

Quotations are merely nominal, as there is always someone on this market ready to sell goods below cost. We quote : Flour, Ogilvies or "Five Lilies," $4.40 to $4.50 ; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $3.80 to $4; Manitoba shipments, in sacks, $4.20 to $4.25 ; Ontario and Manitoba mixed: for patents, $3.75 to $3.85; 80 per cent. do., $3.70 to $3.80 ; 90 per cent. do., $3.60 to $3.70 ; low grades, $3.15 to $3.25 ; oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80 ; cornmeal, $1.85 to $1.95 ; middlings, per ton, $17 to $18 ; shorts, $15 to $16.50 ; bran, per ton, $15 to $16.50 ; white oats, per bush., in sacks, 31 to 32c.; cotton seed meal, per ton, $22 to $23 ; oat cake meal, per ton, $23 to $24 ; hay, per ton, $12 to $13; split peas, $3.15 ; pot barley, $3.50 ; white beans, per bush., 85 to 95c. ; No. 1 chopped feed, per ton, $18.50.

Considerable fish is going forward. The P. E. Island mackerel catch is a failure. Louis Butter is loading the steamer Beta for Haytian ports. Her cargo will be principally fish. He sends a cargo out every month. Last month's cargo was worth $32,000. Quotations are as follows : Shore cod, dry, tol quol, prime, $2.50 to $3.50; small bank do., $2.25 to $2.50; large do., $2.75 to $3; bay do., $2 to $2.25; Labrador, $2 to $2.25; Cape Breton haddock, $1.50 to $1.75 ; hake, $1.25 to $1.50 ; pollock, $1.50 ; split herrings, No. 1, $1 ; shore do., large fat, $3 to $3.50 ; alewives, $3 ; mackerel, No. 3, large, $7.50 to $8 ; salmon, No. 1, $12 ; No. 2, $10.50; No. 1, small, $9.

The molasses market remains quiet and unchanged. Quotations are : St. Croix, 28c.; Porto Rico, 32c.; Trinidad, 27c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, "M. R." brand,

The Importance of Pushing High-Class Goods must not be Overlooked

WE HAVE DONE IT SINCE WE STARTED BUSINESS AND ARE SATISFIED WITH THE RESULT.

In Baking Powder PUSH only those made from absolutely pure Cream Tartar and Soda. (There is a demand for cheap powders at present, which you must meet—but don't PUSH them ; they will not add to your business reputation).

We claim PURE GOLD BAKING POWDER to be the BEST IN THE WORLD. It gives your customers best satisfaction and costs you less than any other Cream Tartar Powder.

PURE GOLD M'F'G.CO. 31&33 FRONT ST. EAST. TORONTO.

39c. ; Demerara, "N" brand, none ; St. Kitts, 28c.

Provisions are inactive. Hams are ¼c. higher. Chicago mess pork, duty paid, is worth $14 to $14.25; clear mess, $15 to $15.25; P.E.I. mess is quiet at $12 to $12.50. Sugar-cured hams are worth 11½c.

Canned goods are in fair demand, and dealers are expecting a good season's trade. Gallon apples are worth $1.90 ; butter and string beans, 90c.; Boston baked beans, $2.15 ; corn, 90c. ; peas, 85 to 90c. ; pears, 1's, $1.75; peaches, 2's, $1.85 ; pineapples, sliced, $2; plums, $1.75; strawberries, $2.40; tomatoes, 95c. to $1.

The market is fairly well stocked with green fruits. Native apples are coming in and are looking well. There are no oranges in the market. Lemons show another advance, being quoted at $6 to $7 per case of 300 Messinas. Bananas are steady at $1.75 to $2.25. California Bartlett pears sell readily at $2.75 per bushel basket. California peaches are in good demand at $1.50 per 15-lb. box. American cucumbers sell at $2.50 per 100. California plums are worth $2 per crate of four baskets. Some American grapes are coming in, but are not as yet in demand.

There is no change in the sugar market. Granulated is quoted at 4¼c., and yellows 37-16 to 3¼c., at the refinery.

Eggs are dull at 11c. Cheese is jobbing at 8 to 8½c. Butter is without change. Creamery in tubs is worth 19c., and creamery prints, 19c.

CITY TRAVELERS' GAMES.

The first annual half-day outing of the City Travelers' Association, of Toronto, was held at Hanlan's Point on Wednesday. An interesting programme had been prepared, but, owing to the rain, it was found impossible to run them off. The events left to be contested at a future date are two bicycle races, two ladies' races, baseball match between grocers and travelers, and a tug-of-war—Retail Grocers' Association vs. City Travelers' Association. The judges were Messrs. Robert Christie, R. McKay and C. E. Edmonds.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Percy Eby, of the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., Toronto, is again back to business after a holiday trip extending as far as Winnipeg.

D. J. McLeod, who represented Balfour & Co., Hamilton, on the road for a number of years, has opened a grocery store in Tilsonburg. He is a constant reader of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

Mr. Patrick, representing Robert Greig & Co., went to London, Ont., this week. He is making some good sales.

Mr. A. R. Heath, formerly of Toronto, but now of the firm of Rodewald & Heath, Shanghai and Hankow, China, is in Toronto this week, on his way to Germany and Russia. He states that last year's operations were satisfactory, and he looks forward to a good business this year.

A MEAN THING TO DO.

I have met with many mean things in the way of business, writes "Vulcan" in Ironmonger, but the incident I am about to relate surpasses all that has come within my knowledge. A trader lost his father, and according to custom had some funeral cards printed in orthodox fashion. He supplied himself with more cards than he could send out, and in order to utilise them, and to take advantage of the reforms placed at his disposal by the postal authorities, he thought it a good thing to use the surplus as postcards. He drew his pen through the printed announcements, the text of Scripture, and the usual verse of poetry, wrote the address on one side, and his business communications on the other side. A friend a day or two ago showed me one he had received, on which, strangely enough, was an order which any man with a due regard to the amenities of commerce would have sent under seal. In my mild manner I have described the action as mean, but my friend said it was positively indecent, and sure enough he was right.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have made arrangements with the Michigan Salt Association, the largest manufacturers in America of the finest vacuum process salt, to handle their products, and are prepared to quote prices on all grades of salt : common, fine dairy, table, rock, crushed rock salt, refrigerating, etc., delivered in carload lots at any railway station in Canada. They solicit inquiries for quotations.

THE ST. JOHN GROCERS' PICNIC.

FOLLOWING the example of western cities St. John has had a grocers' picnic. Though gotten up by the retailers it was largely attended by the wholesale men. Among the grocers in the city there was an appearance of a public holiday. The leading wholesale stores were closed all day, and between ten and twelve of the retailers closed. The picnic was held on the Isle of Pines, about two hours sail up the beautiful St. John River. The sail up and back was a great pleasure in itself. The scenery, always beautiful, looked its best. The return journey was by moonlight. The day was almost perfect, being fine and cool. Upwards of 2,000 attended, three steamers being required, one of which made two trips each way. The day was somewhat marred by an accident which might have proved serious, Mrs. Daniel Vanwait being shot in the hip by a stray bullet from a gun being used in target competition. Mrs. Vanwait suffered a good deal, but besides being laid up for a few days nothing more serious is expected.

The chief interest of the day was in the races, which consisted of yacht races, canoe races, lapstreak and four-oared race. During the afternoon two tugs brought up large parties to see these, particularly the four-oared race. A game of ball between the north and south-end grocers resulted in a victory for the former. Much was added to the general pleasure of the day by the music of the band in attendance. It is expected to make this an annual outing, and no doubt the lessons learned from the weak points in this year's picnic will add much to the pleasure of that of next. The park fund will be the richer on account of the day's pleasure, as the surplus funds are to be given in aid of this popular movement.

CALIFORNIA PRUNE CROP.

The California Fruit Grower says in its issue of August 15 : "The prune harvest in the Santa Clara valley has commenced in a small way and buyers are paying from $20 to $27.50 per ton. Some estimate a shortage as compared with the crop of 1895 and others that the yield will be about the same in weight. The fruit will run smaller in size ; 40's to 50's will be in light supply. Sales of new crop prunes for early shipment are reported to have been made at 3 to 3¼c. basis of the 4 sizes. On the 3c. basis the range would be as follows : 30-40, 5¼c.; 40-50, 4¾c.; 50-60, 4¼c.; 60-70, 3¾c.; 70-80, 3¼c.; 80-90, 2¾c.; 90-100, 2¼c.; 100-110, 1¾c.; 110-120, 1¼c. The Oregon prune crop will be very short, estimated at only 40 to 50 cars for shipment. Southern California reports a failure, while the San Joaquin valley crop will prove comparatively large. Several cars of new crop prunes have been contracted on the basis of 3⅛c. for 4 sizes in 50-lb. boxes."

There's not much difference . . .

in price, but a wonderful difference in quality, between reliable goods such as ours and the unreliable product of unknown canners. There's another difference to be considered, too—the difference between satisfied and dissatisfied customers. Put our goods to any test you please. They will stand it.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

JOHN SLOAN & CO. are offering 10-lb. figs, which have been kept in cold storage during the hot weather.

T. B. Escott & Co. have just received a large shipment of Japan tea, great value for 25c. retail.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. say that the quickening fall trade in whisky has been felt in the sales of Mitchell's Scotch.

"Silver Leaf" lard is having a large sale with T. B. Escott & Co. At the low price prevailing it is a splendid purchase.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have some remarkable values in Japan teas, to retail at 25c., and leave the grocer a good margin.

D. Gunn, Bros. & Co. report a good demand for breakfast bacon, and intimate that as stocks are low orders should be sent in promptly.

T. A. Lytle & Co., vinegar manufacturers, make no complaint of hard times ; on the contrary, they have enjoyed a good season's business in all lines.

A new brand of finest Sockeye salmon has appeared on the market, put up by the Carlisle Packing Co., Skeena River. The brand is "White Rose," and as a good quantity of the goods have been placed here the trade will have an opportunity of becoming familiar with it.

A large shipment of fine Congou teas arrived ex ss. Empress of Japan this week for the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.

"Proof spirit vinegar is going out rapidly, indicating that pickling time is here, and that our vinegar is the right thing," write T. B. Escott & Co., of London.

The O. & W. Thum Co. are adding 26,600 sq. ft. of floor space to their "Tanglefoot" plant in order to keep up with the increased demand for their product.

W. H. Gillard & Co. direct the attention of the trade to their advertisement of summer beverages on another page. They are selling thousands of cases of these drinks.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report a lively demand for their blends of black teas, notably the "400 Select," which seems to have touched the right spot.

The Davidson & Hay, Ltd., report that their sales of "Kurma" tea have materially increased during the past month, and that without any special effort on their part.

The F. F. Dalley Co., Ltd., of Hamilton, report that their sale of spices this season is far in advance of what they were last year, and still a-booming. They have received in stock a large shipment and another on the road. "It is the quality and prices of the spices that are doing the trick," remarked a member of the firm.

The "Grand Mogul" tea exhibit at the Winnipeg Fair was a great success. "Thousands who tasted the tea pronounced it the best they ever drank," write T. B. Escott & Co.

A. E. Richards & Co. have been appointed Canadian agents for Gaskin's Colonial Cocoa, which is manufactured fresh from the bean where grown, in British Guiana.

P. Richard's brandy is gaining a good trade through its Canadian agents, Laporte, Martin & Cie. They believe this brandy deserves to become as popular here as it is in Europe.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., are making a prominent exhibit at the Fair of their "Kolona" Ceylon tea. Grocers visiting the Exhibition will find the exhibit at the eastern end of the main building.

A. E. Richards & Co. have recently received large orders for "East India" pickles from the Northwest and report increasing demand for these goods throughout the Dominion.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., report the arrival of another shipment of "Excelsior" olives, which they claim are equal to any imported. The attention of the trade is called to The Eby, Blain Co's ad. in this week's edition.

SALMON PACKING.

Malcolm & Windsor, Ltd., of Steveston, B. C., under date of Aug. 13th, write THE CANADIAN GROCER as follows : "Last Sunday night (new moon) the fish, which till then had been playing about in the clear water outside, entered the river in good round numbers, and by Tuesday most, if not all, the canneries had as much fish as they could possibly handle. This spurt, however, has proved but a 'flash in the pan,' as to-day (Thursday) fish are again pretty scarce and in great request. The sudden rush of fish into the river last Sunday night is attributed by a good many to the hatchery, the quantity of fish caught up to date this season being largely in excess of that usually secured on the Fraser in previous poor years. On the other hand, there are some who think that this good run of fish, for such a poor year as this is reckoned to be, is due entirely to natural causes. The fact of the matter is that no one knows exactly how to account for this."

THE BIGGEST KNOWN HOG.

There is a hog on exhibition at Kaufman, Tex., according to a contemporary, which is, perhaps, the largest living hog in the known world. It will be four years old this month, and was raised in Robertson County, Tex., by Mr. Briggs. When he sold the hog six months ago it weighed 1,430 lbs. He is 8 feet 3 inches long, 4 feet 1 inch high, measures 6 feet around the neck, 8 feet around the body and 23 inches around the forearm.

His feet are as large as those of a common ox, and the leg bone larger than that of the largest steer's. He is Poland China and Red Jersey. He eats corn like an ox, takes the whole ear in his mouth at once, and eats the cob as well as the corn, eating from 40 to 50 ears of corn at a time. There seems to be no surplus flesh on him, and physicians who have examined the hog say he can easily be made to reach 2,200 lbs.

The present owner, T. Ratigan, paid $250 for the hog, and has been offered $1,500 for him. He has a fire policy on the animal for $5,000. No other hog, it is said, ever reached such tremendous proportions.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Lie low for business, but never lie for business.

He who would succeed in business must be a tactician.

When you dun a man do not be done with until he comes to time

The advertisement is the poker which stirs trade into activity.

A true advertisement will not unduly color the thing which it advertiseth.

It requires a cool-headed man to make things hot for his competitors.

Make your advertisements breezy, but do not be too "windy" yourself.

Hard times may dull business, but it sharpens the wits of the merchant.

Underselling your competitor often entails the undermining of your business.

Many a man lying in the dust of failure has been thrown there by his hobby.

There is sometimes a danger that the 'cute young man will become too sharp.

Have a goal. Climb for it; but don't step on other people's necks to get there.

As an incentive to work love is as far superior to gold as is diamonds to coal dust.

New and bright ideas always have the same old end in view—the expansion of trade.

Money makes the mare go, but if you haven't the money you cannot get the mare.

The travelers of a good many of the Toronto houses are this week having their customers call upon them instead of them calling upon their customers. It is Exhibition time.

The clerk who can write an "ad" as well as sell goods is a valuable acquisition to any store.

The better you are acquainted with your customers the less likely are you to know the sheriff.

The merchant who is too sharp occasionally severs the connection between himself and his customers.

The utility of a business men's association is in ratio to the interest and energy of the members thereof.

A merchant ought to be as much ashamed of a naked window as a modest man is of a naked figure.

He who steals these "drops" may be stealing trash; but if they are worth being stolen they are worth being credited.

The cloud which is hanging over the free silver party in the United States does not seem to have even a silver lining.

The greater the pains taken to establish a business on sound business principles the less irksome are the duties of business.

The trouble with a great many of the free silver men is that they hope to settle with their creditors at 50 cents on the dollar.

If a young man in his youth sows the seeds of indolence he cannot hope in middle or old age to reap the fruits of industry.

Good stationery in the store helps to give the impression that you are stationary in business, in the sense that you are stable.

The size of a newspaper's circulation does not always indicate quality any more than does the avoirdupois of a man's body guarantee the quality of his brains.

In getting rich the first essential is to know yourself. And you will probably find it easier to know other people than yourself.

Style is a great factor in this world: The style in which a merchant transacts business is an indication whether he will succeed or not.

Months may add to the quality of wine, but to the quality of eggs never. People who persist in holding eggs should remember this.

He is a wise man who courts the ability to do right rather than practise the tricks that sometimes bring a short-lived popularity.

It is the lean and not the fat that is the popular bacon on the English market. The lean hog has, as it were, swallowed up the fat hog.

A man needs to be a saint to succeed in business as much as he does to succeed to the future better life, for great is the trial of his patience.

Cleanliness may be next to godliness in ordinary life, but cleanliness in the store occupies no secondry place in the opinion of most customers.

It is beginning to look as if a constitutional question is again going to take precedence in the House of Commons over the business interests of the country.

A merchant without a motive does not amount to much; but it all depends upon the motive as to whether the merchant amounts to much or not.

The merchant who stops advertising because his competitor does is a fit companion for the fool who hangs himself because somebody else has done so.

The same authority places the yield of 1895 at 195,000,000 bushels in the three states. Many good judges place the yield this year as low as 90,000,000 bushels. In 1894 it was 120,000,000 bushels.

"BLACKENING" OF CANNED LOBSTERS.

FOR several years past the lobster trade has been seriously affected by a defect known as "blackening," which has appeared in a large number of cases in tins packed in various parts of Canada and in the United States.

Investigations as to the cause of this blackening have been made by the United States Government and also by the Canadian Government without any beneficial result until quite recently. About six months ago the Department of Marine and Fisheries appointed Dr. Andrew McPhail, professor of bacteriology in the Montreal medical school, and Dr. Bruere to make an enquiry into the deterioration of lobsters through blackening and other causes. Dr. McPhail carried on his enquiry mostly in Prince Edward Island during the past lobster fishing season, and received very material assistance in his investigation from the Hon. L. H. Davies, now Minister of Marine and Fisheries. By scientific research, Dr. McPhail believes that he has ascertained the cause of this blackening and also its cure. During the past summer a number of cans were packed under the direction of Dr. McPhail, and have since been kept by him in a temperature in which lobsters which were not perfectly sound in every respect must inevitably have become spoiled. The other day Dr. McPhail had a conference with the Hon. Mr. Davies and Prof. Prince, Commissioner of Fisheries, and a number of these cans were examined and their contents found in respect of texture, color and flavor to be the equal of lobsters fresh from the shell. The precise cause of the blackening is at present a scientific secret which is believed to be of great value. Dr. McPhail has not yet quite completed his researches, and it will probably take two or three months more before he will be in a position to submit to packers a well considered scheme for their guidance, so that they may be assured of being freed from this "blackening," which has caused them such heavy losses. It may be mentioned that the loss to the lobster factories through the deterioration of their goods by this cause is, at a very moderate estimate, placed at more than half a million dollars annually.

OTTAWA MERCHANTS ORGANIZE.

THE retail merchants of Ottawa held a meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall on Thursday, 27th inst. There were nearly one hundred present. Mr. H. H. Lang started the ball rolling by a motion that Mr. H. Watters take the chair. Mr. Geo. Popham was then chosen to act as secretary.

The chairman then delivered a short opening address in which he stated that the object of the meeting was to bring together the retail merchants in all lines of business so that a better system might be arrived at and a more friendly feeling be created among them. The object he said was a worthy one, as the present system was full of evil and the lot of a retail merchant at present was an unenviable one; he hoped that this move would be the cause of something being done to improve their position.

Mr. Lang was then called upon to explain the platform which he proposed. He stated that his object in calling the meeting was to form some kind of an association among the retail merchants and promote a more friendly feeling as a business people in a social way.

The first subject he referred to was the credit system, which, he stated, all knew was in a very bad state, and that if an organized association was formed the members could talk things over and find out who the dead beats were, and thereby protect themselves from many losses which they were compelled to meet under the present system.

Taxation was the next point touched, and that, he considered, might be remedied, but an investigation would be advisable before doing anything.

The market in regard to farmers was one of the principal points. You all know, said he, that our By Ward market in its present condition is not in a fit state for farmers, as some of them come a long distance to it, and then if it rains they are compelled to seek shelter elsewhere, or more likely stand there and probably have their load so spoiled that they have to sell at a sacrifice, thereby causing a great loss to the merchants. Then the city officials, although there is a law to prevent it, allow transient traders to stand on the very best part of the market and crowd the farmers to the worst parts, even up to George street, where they are compelled to stand in front of private property.

In speaking of the electric street railway, he mentioned the way the track was kept, and considered that whether it was the company's fault or the city's, something should be done to have this nuisance remedied, as there was some vehicle broken nearly every day by it.

Transient traders should be stopped doing business, as they are a hindrance to farmers as well as retail merchants.

The early closing shops he considered were all right at present and it might be dangerous to tamper with the existing system. Clerks at present are prepared for their work in the morning, which they were not when they were compelled to work till all hours at night as under the old system.

He considered it was not fair treatment for very small dealers, and, in fact, many who are not dealers at all, to be able to go to the wholesale men and buy a few yards or pounds, as the case might be, of whatever they want. The retailer was entitled to this kind of trade, and the wholesaler should be stopped doing it. Other subjects, he said, would come up from time to time for discuscussion, which could not be thought of just now, and he hoped to see the association go ahead and make as good a success of it as they have in other cities, especially in Winnipeg, where he had been instrumental in organizing it and of which the Winnipeg merchants have reason to be proud. With these remarks he left the meeting open for discussion.

Mr. Stewart McLenaghan then asked Mr. Lang what were the first steps to be taken re organizing, to which question he answered that the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer be elected, committees formed and then proceed with the questions of business.

Mr. P. O'Reilly thought it better to discuss matters first and get the true feeling of the people, after which several prominent business men spoke, among whom were Mr. Poulin, Mr. Burns, Ald. Cluff (on behalf of his brother), W. H. Wilson, Mr. Esmonde, Mr. Olmstead, Mr. Hemphill, ex-Ald. Casey and Mr. Ackroyd, all of whom favored organization, and pledged themselves to do all in their power to further its motive.

A committee of twenty-five representing all the different lines was then formed to frame a code of bylaws, etc., and do any other necessary work. The committee is composed of: Messrs. H. H. Lang, J. M. Richards, Wilson, Poulin, representing the dry goods business; Messrs Jno. Cowan, Prevost, G. M. Dalglish, groceries; Messrs. P. O'Reilly, S. McLenaghan, S. P. Hemphill, tailors; J. P. Esmonde, hardware; C. Reynolds, tobacconist; T. Burns, confectionery; Messrs. H. Watters, and Ald. Payment, drugs; Messrs. L. G. Morgan and Edmondson, boots and shoes; C. A. Olmsted, jewelers; H. J. Hurley, gents' furnishings; Geo. Popham, stationery; Jas. Ashfield, crockery; D. Storey, furniture; James Peterkin, flour and feed; W. H. Mills, hats; Geo. Miller, fruit.

The meeting then adjourned.

MIDSUMMER EGG TRADE.

NO one article handled during the heated term demands more attention than eggs, remarks American Grocer. Bad eggs can drive away patronage faster than it can be won by salesmen or advertisements. An otherwise good service may be rendered valueless by the delivery of bad eggs. Nothing disturbs the equanimity of the housekeeper more than to have a baking spoiled by a stale or bad egg. And what causes the wrath of the entire household to rise quicker than the service of bad eggs at table?

There is no legitimate excuse for the delivery of bad eggs, either by wholesaler or retailer. Some dealers do not regard it practicable or expedient to examine every egg in an invoice, but rather to test the run of a number of cases in order to establish an average of loss, but this does not excuse the retailer from such an examination of eggs as will enable him to guarantee that they are sound and reasonably fresh.

Retailers are very remiss in giving proper care to their stock of eggs. The one simple rule to be observed is that they should be kept in a cool, dry, even temperature. Instead they are left over night in a close, foul atmosphere with the thermometer in the nineties, instead of being stored in a well-ventilated room that is cool and dry. Nearly every grocer who opens the store is aware of the foul air which rushes out when the door is opened at early morn. It is the exception and not the rule to find a retail store provided with ventilators so as to insure a circulation of air at night. And yet this is essential to keeping the stock in good condition. Bad air is sure to spoil eggs, rob butter of its flavor and a store of its customers.

Then there is carelessness in storing eggs. Recently a jobber was confronted with a claim for a heavy loss off an invoice of eggs he knew were sound when delivered. He took the trouble to investigate and found the eggs stored in a cellar of a bakery alongside the oven. They are put in all sorts of places where there is dampness, foul air, and when the eggs spoil the owner endeavors to recoup for the loss by asking the jobber to pay for his stupidity and carelessness.

And in much the same way is the retailer annoyed. Servants keep the eggs in a hot kitchen or in a damp, foul refrigerator, amongst a lot of vegetable packed in some unkempt corner, and then the grocer is blamed for delivering bad eggs, his tact put to the test to smooth a customer's wrath, or else he finds that his patron has closed the account without giving an excuse and the grocer left to wonder what is wrong in his service.

Look after the egg department carefully, have the stock inspected daily; remember that eternal vigilance is the price of an egg trade as of liberty. Sell your bad eggs to the maker of fancy leather; give your trade sound eggs in hot weather and you will find customers will advertise your business in every direction.—American Grocer.

WHERE ABERDEEN WAS RIGHT AND WHERE WRONG.

LENGTHY if not always interesting promises to be the discussion in the House and country regarding the action of Lord Aberdeen towards his late advisers. Unfortunately, judging from the first mutterings of the discussion, it is too probable that the participants therein will view the question in the light of their various political beliefs.

Viewed from a business man's standpoint it must be conceded that the Governor-General, as far as he went in refusing to approve of the wholesale appointments to office by a moribund Government, was judicious and wise.

When the manager of a bank or any other business concern receives his dismissal it would be looked upon as the height of impudence for him to essay to make appointments to the staff on the eve of his quitting his position, particularly if the appointees were the avowed opponents of the incoming management.

The Government of the Dominion of Canada is in reality the manager of the business affairs of the country. It is appointed by the shareholders (the people) for that especial work. The Tupper Administration was on June 23 given notice by its employers to quit and the Laurier Administration was appointed in its stead. Is it not, therefore, taking the business-like view of it, the common sense view of it, to declare that the retiring manager should only make such appointments as were necessary to keep the business interests of the country from clogging?

Precedent says that the retiring Government had the right to appoint everything from a letter carrier to a senator or judge. But business principles are not always built upon precedent. The business man who lived and moved by precedent would soon find himself down among the dead men financially.

Nine-tenths of those who are such sticklers for precedent in the matter that is now attracting so much attention are ready to acknowledge that in principle it is a bad one.

Then if it is a bad one, why follow it? "To the victors belong the spoils," was for scores of years the precedent of each new Administration in the United States. But to-day you cannot get a respectable journal or politician to advocate any such precedent.

The principle of outgoing Administrations bestowing offices and honors with the liberality characteristic of the Tupper Government is contrary to sound business principles and is wrong morally. It is well that Lord Aberdeen has ignored a precedent that gave it respectability.

Where Lord Aberdeen made the mistake was in giving the reason for taking the line of action that he did. When he advanced the argument that the representatives of the respective parties in the Senate were disproportionate, and declared in regard to the judges "that, bearing in mind the ordinary length of their tenure of office, and also the long predominance of one political party in the Dominion Parliament, the current deduction as to the complexion of the political opinions represented upon the bench, whether baseless or well-founded, is not unnatural," he stepped down from the throne of the Queen's vice regent to the platform of the partisan. This he had no right to do. This is not what he is paid $50,000 a year for.

Had he stood on the broad business-like principle that the practice of the out-going Administration making wholesale appointments to office was wrong, both on business and moral grounds, he would have been looked upon by the great mass of the people as the champion of right instead of, as he will be in the eyes of a good many, the champion of the interests of a certain political party.

THE SALMON PACK.

Press despatches place the pack of salmon on the Fraser River, B.C., to date at 335,000 cases. About 65,000 cases are yet to be put up, thus making a grand total of 400,000 cases on that river alone. If this estimate of the pack is correct it means that the pack on the Fraser is within 32,000 cases of what it was last year.

CANADA'S CHIEF NEED.

THE great need of the Kootenay country to-day is railway facilities. There is no doubt about that. In fact, we may say that it is the great need of the Dominion to-day. And the business interests of the country demand that this need should be supplied.

For the next few years, at any rate, it is in the Kootenay country that we shall witness the greatest increase in our population. The greater part of the people settling in that part of the Dominion are from other countries. Consequently the increase of population there is a distinctive gain to the population of Canada, and therefore is a distinctive augmentation of the consuming capabilities of the country.

An expansion of our population, and, of course, the natural concomitant, an enlarged consumptive capacity, is what the Dominion has been craving for more than anything else for years. This is now being created. Places in the Kootenay country which but yesterday were hamlets with a score of people are to-day towns of several thousand inhabitants.

But, so far, for all the benefits Canadian merchants and manufacturers have reaped, the increase of population might as well have been in Canaan.

Partly owing, as we stated last week, to the want of enterprise of Canadian business men, but chiefly owing to the want of proper railway facilities, the requirements of the largely increased population of the Kootenay country are nearly altogether supplied by the merchants of the United States. And they have been reaping the benefit because both the railway and the business men of that country have exhibited more push and enterprise than have the railway men and business men of this country. It is unpleasant to be compelled to acknowledge this; but the fact that they have the trade and we the humiliation proves this contention.

What the people of the Kootenay country want and what the people of the Dominion want is the construction of a railway line through the Crow's Nest Pass, connecting with through lines from eastern Canada.

The people of the Kootenay country want a railway through that pass primarily because it would traverse coal fields of unlimited supply: coal fields of anthracite and coal fields of bituminous. The nature of the Kootenay ore is such that it can only be treated by smelting. Until within the past year all the smelting has been done in the United States, the ore having been shipped there for that purpose. Now, however, the country has three or four smelters of its own; but the great drawback is coal, the price which has to be paid for this essential increasing the cost of smelting enormously. With a railway through Crow's Nest Pass, it has been declared by Dominion Government officials, coal could be laid down at the smelters at $6 per ton, or nearly 60 per cent. cheaper than can the United States coal now being used.

The people of Kootenay may not be very much concerned from whence they get the food they eat, the clothes they wear or the tools they use. They would probably just as soon get their requirements from the United States as from Canada as long as they could be got as cheaply, seeing that nine-tenths of them are from that country.

But the business men of Canada are concerned. The trade of the Kootenay country is theirs by right. And the reason that they are now only getting the crumbs of it and aliens the good thick slices thereof is that the people of this country have not been sufficiently alive to their own interests. They have not had the same business foresight as their cousins across the border.

Long before the Kootenay country was known to be rich in gold, or that in the Crow's Nest Pass abounded rich coal fields, an extension of the C.P.R. through that pass was contemplated. Why up to the present it has not been done or active steps taken to do it is an open question. Some charge that the C.P.R. is merely courting a big bonus to undertake the work.

But whatever may be the reason, the road is not being built. And as long as these conditions obtain both the mercantile interests of Canada and the mining interests of the Kootenay country must necessarily suffer.

Something should be done, and that without unnecessary delay, to relieve these anomalous conditions. Some people have urged that the construction of the line should be undertaken as a Government work. This is a proposition which should not be acted upon without serious consideration.

Economically-minded persons have for years considered that for some time to come the Government should not undertake any other public works than those which were absolutely necessary.

But this line, on the other hand, is an absolute necessity. Therefore it is well worth considering whether or not the Government is warranted in constructing it.

It would be far better that it should do so rather than that large extents of territory should be handed over to a private company as a bonus for undertaking the work. The surrender of so much land in the Northwest to the C.P.R. probably may have been the easiest way of getting the line built. But experience has shown that it has hardly been the best thing for the country.

At any rate, we want the railway, and let us have it as quickly as possible and in the most economical way.

NEW SEASON'S VALENCIA RAISINS.

BEFORE the next issue of this paper appears new season's Valencia raisins will, in all probability, be in the hands of the wholesale men of Canada, the invoices for the first shipments, via both Liverpool and New York, having arrived early this week.

Prices will likely rule at from 6½ to 7c. for fine off-stalk.

A feature of the first importations this year will be shipments of 4-crown layers, which have never been imported in previous years for early shipment. They will probably be marketed at about 8c.

The first direct steamer with new season's Valencia raisins will leave Patras on the 10th inst., having previously called at Denia. THE CANADIAN GROCER understands that some sales have been made for shipment by this boat at about half cent per pound advance on last year's figures.

The first shipments are about ten days later than last year. The crop, however, is a good one, and the shippers in Denia are looking for a better season on this side of the Atlantic than last year owing to the shortage in the crop of California raisins.

LARGE SALES OF CANNED GOODS.

There have been some large operations in new pack canned vegetables in Montreal during the last few days. These are the first extensive operations of the season.

The first lot, which was placed with a large French wholesale house, and consisted of 10,000 cases—5,000 cases of tomatoes, 3,000 cases of peas and 2,000 cases of corn—all Ontario brands, was made at 60c. per dozen.

A number of other contracts, aggregating 10,000 cases more of tomatoes, peas and corn, are reported at 60c. per dozen all round, making 20,000 in all.

FIRST RECEIPTS OF SPANISH ONIONS.

The first receipts of new Spanish onions were received ex Parisian via Liverpool from Malaga this week. The lot was only a small one and was quickly absorbed by jobbers at prices ranging from 80 to 85c. per crate. These figures were, of course, special ones and it is possible, according to advices, that better terms will be offered later on.

LOW PRICES ON VEGETABLES.

EXTENSIVE contracts for new pack canned vegetables which have been made at the remarkably low price of 60c. in Montreal lately have completely demoralized values in that department of canned goods in the eastern market.

From 10,000 to 15,000 packages of peas, tomatoes and corn have, it is understood, been booked at this low figure.

So far these large operations have not had any direct influence on jobbing price from stock on hand, but with this low cost of new goods in view it seems a foregone conclusion that values will decline. Last year purchases generally of staple lines of vegetables were made by Montreal jobbing houses at a cost of from 75 to 80c., so that their opening operations this fall are at a saving of from 15 to 20c. per dozen.

It seems to be the general opinion that the speculation is a good one and that the chances are fair for a turnover at a profit.

CANADIAN EGGS IN ENGLAND.

According to The London Daily Telegraph, Canadian eggs, like Canadian bacon, are gradually winning their way into the English markets. The exports of fresh eggs have begun rather earlier than usual this year. The demand seldom sets in before autumn, when the flush of the foreign supply into Great Britian is over, and prices commence to strengthen and afford a more profitable market for Canadian fresh-laid August eggs, which are considered the best of the year. This season, however, 2,250 cases have already been shipped from Montreal, against only 78 cases for the corresponding period last year. Liverpool is the chief market for Canadian eggs; for of the above shipments, 1,682 cases went to that port, 485 cases to Glasgow, and 10 cases to Bristol. Some heavy contracts have been made with English firms for November-December delivery of pickled eggs, at prices ranging from 6s. 3d. to 6s. 9d. per long hundred of 10 dozen.

MR. STARK'S NEW STORE.

Henry Stark, general merchant, Grand Valley, Ont., has moved into a new store which has been built especially for him. The dimensions of the building are 24 by 90 feet. The store is fitted with glass front windows, hardwood shelves and flooring, and is fitted throughout with electric lights. The basement has a concrete floor, and has a separate department for the storage of butter and other produce. THE CANADIAN GROCER congratulates Mr. Stark upon his enterprise, and wishes him a continuance of the success which has crowned his efforts in the past.

A MODERN PROVISION WAREHOUSE.

IT is not often that a firm after one year's experience in business—and especially a business in which the competition is keen—finds itself compelled, through expansion of trade, to seek larger premises. This, however, is the experience of H. P. Gould & Co., produce and commission merchants, who, about a year ago, began business at 80 Colborne St., Toronto. On account of the development of the firm's trade it has been found necessary to move into larger and more commodious premises. These premises are situated at No. 33 Church St., two doors north of Colborne St. They are 40 feet wide, 100 feet deep and, in addition to basement, three storeys high. On the ground floor are the business and private offices, one on either side of the main entrance. In the rear of the same floor is the cold storage department, about 40 x 40 feet. The upper flats will be used for storage of various commodities. The cellar runs the full depth of the building and the eastern half will be used for butter storage purposes. H. P. Gould & Co. have a modern warehouse.

COLD STORAGE IN WINNIPEG.

The Winnipeg Cold Storage and Refrigerating Co., of Winnipeg, Man., have just completed their cold storage building at the foot of Lombard street. The building is massive in construction and the system is that of the Jackson Refrigerator Co., of Chicago, from whom plans and specifications were secured. The building is fitted with the latest improved methods and has a capacity of 40 carloads, or 30,000 packages. The Parsons Produce Co., of which Mr. R. A. Rogers is manager, will conduct the business.

MR. FORTIER GETS A DIAMOND.

When the employes of the Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co. learned that Mr. Fortier was not to sever his connection with the company they presented him with a handsome diamond pin and a beautifully framed pen and ink sketch, the work of Mr. George Ryan, ledger keeper of the company. Mr. Fortier now wears diamonds, and feels proud of his treasures. He especially values the friendship that prompted his employes to remember him so kindly.

RAISINS FOR CANADA.

The Patria, which reached this port yesterday afternoon with the first direct shipment of Valencia raisins, made an unusually quick passage. She was not expected until to-day. She brought 5,000 boxes of Valencia layers, of which 2,800 or 3,000 cases will remain here and the balance shipped through to Canada in bond.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Sept. 1.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THE people of Dartmouth, just opposite this city, are now enjoying cheap bread. Last week the bakers reduced the price to 4c. per loaf. Twenty years ago the price per loaf in the same town was 8c. Indeed, the price of bread in Halifax and Dartmouth is so low that people cannot afford to do their own baking. People living 20 miles from the city use bakers' bread, it being sent to them every morning by train or coach.

Trade in Halifax during the week has been extra quiet, there being scarcely a feature to note.

The Retail Grocers' Association want the City Council to remove what they term a "nuisance" in Gottingen street. This street, by the way, has given the other business streets of the city "the slip," and they cannot catch up with it. It is in the heart of the north end, the thickly populated portion of the city, and seems to have been settled with live business men. On Saturday evenings two firms place counters at the curb stones in front of their stores, and on these can be found all that man's stomach requires, (at least the workingman's). Each article is labeled. Good pork is retailed at 5c., and other articles at equally low rates. From early in the evening till late at night the people swarm around those outside counters, and the two merchants do a large trade. This is the "nuisance" which the Retail Grocers' Association seek to remove. They contend that it is not fair competition. The aldermen of the wards in which the stores are located are slow in moving, as they have the customers as well as the merchants to deal with. Last Saturday one of the skyless stores offered "three dozen eggs for a quarter," with many takers.

The marriage took place at the Grafton street Methodist church, Halifax, at noon Tuesday of last week, of Miss Florence Coleman, daughter of the late W. J. Coleman and niece of Jairus Hart, and Albert Black, wholesale grocer, Truro. There were a large number of friends of the bride and groom present during the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Dabson, pastor of the church. Ernest Cochrane, agent of the People's Bank at Windsor, acted as best man, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emma Black, sister of the groom.

The barque Pride of the Channel arrived last week with 88 puns., 4 hhds. and 6 bbls. molasses from Tobago, B.W.I., for J. Taylor & Co. She also brought 51,180 cocoanuts and considerable sugar.

FISHSTUFFS—Mackerel are, if anything, firmer, and early large 3's ex vessel sell at about $8. A few were taken on Sunday last in Bedford Basin, and residents there report several "schools" being seen. It is to be hoped these fish will strike in plentifully and infuse some life into the business, and give our fishermen something for a rainy day. There are more bank and bay cod than the trade can handle by all appearances. Every vessel is returning with a full load, and St. Pierre's cure is coming in to sell at whatever it will bring. The catch at St. Pierre is the largest ever known there. Last advices from Newfoundland report the catch there will be an average one, the scarcity in the north being fully made up by the abundance taken on the west and south coasts. Prices in Newfoundland still rule high, but an early decline is anticipated. The catch at Northern Labrador is small.

Salmon are in fair demand.

Grocery cod sells readily. We quote: Shore cod, dry, tol quol, prime, $2.50 to $3.50; small bank do., $2.25 to $2.50; large do., $2.75 to $3; bay do., $2 to $2.25; Labrador, $2 to $2.25; Cape Breton haddock, $1.50 to $1.75; hake, $1.25 to $1.50; pollock, $1.50; split herrings, No. 1, $1; shore do., large fat, $3 to $3.50; alewives, $3; mackerel, No. 3, large, $8; salmon, No. 1, $12; No. 2, $10.50; No. 1, small, $9.

Breadstuffs of all kinds are quiet, slow and unchanged. We quote as follows: Flour, Ogilvies or "Five Lilies," $4.40 to $4.50; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $3.80 to $4; Manitoba shipments, in sacks, $4.20 to $4.25; Ontario and Manitoba mixed: for patents, $3.75 to $3.85; 80 per cent. do., $3.70 to $3.80; 90 per cent. do., $3.60 to $3.70; low grades, $3.15 to $3.25; oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.70 to $2.80; cornmeal, $1.85 to $1.95; middlings, per ton, $17 to $18; shorts, $15 to $16.50; bran, per ton, $15 to $16.50; white oats, per bush., in sacks, 31 to 32c.; cotton seed meal, per ton, $22 to $23; oat cake meal, per ton, $23 to $24; hay, per ton, $12 to $13; split peas, $3.15; pot barley, $3.50; white beans, per bush., 85 to 95c.; No. 1 chopped feed, per ton, $18.50.

Cheese is higher this week, being quoted at 9c. in a jobbing way. Big lots can be had at 8¼c. Trade is fair.

Butter is quiet. Good creamery is jobbing at 19c.

Eggs are not in great demand. Good case stock are quoted at 10c., but they sell for less money.

GREEN FRUIT—There is considerable activity in the green fruit business. Messrs. Hessian & Devine received the first consignment of new Jamaica oranges on Monday. They look well and sell at $8 to $9 per bbl. repacked. Lemons are worth $7 to $8 per box of 300 count. California lemons are done. Bananas continue high, the quotation being $1.75 to $2.25 per bunch. California plums are worth $2 to $2.25 for good stocks. California peaches are worth $1.50 to $1.75. N. Y. State grapes in five-lb. baskets wholesale at 25c. Silver skin American onions, fancy stock, sell at 2¼c. Sweet potatoes are worth 3 to 3¼c. Watermelons are worth 30 to 35c. each. Native apples are coming in far in excess of the demand. The storerooms of dealers and auctioneers' rooms are full of them, which sell at from $1 to $2 per bbl. No steady trade will be looked for in apples until the hard fruit comes in. Native plums will arrive freely inside of a week. the crop is very large and prices will rule low.

Mr. F. Page, of Amherst, has become a partner in the firm of Bent & Brighty, of this city and Liverpool, England, and with them and others is a promoter of the Maritime Hay and Fruit Co., Ltd., of Amherst, Annapolis and Halifax, with a capital of $20,000. Mr. John Brighty, of Liverpool, England, left last Monday morning for Amherst, and on his return here goes to England, where he will reside and act as the new company's representative.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE wholesale warehouses present a little more active appearance this week. Orders are more numerous, but what is most responsible for the more active appearance is the influx of country customers who are in the city, first to see the Exhibition, and, secondly, to visit the wholesale houses. As early as Tuesday a great many were to be seen around the various warehouses, and some of them left behind them nice orders. The bulk of the country customers are not, however, expected in till next week. Since our last review the condition of the sugar market has become worse than it even was before, Canadian refiners having, in consequence of the continued declines in the outside markets, reduced prices 1-16c. per lb. There is still a good deal of sugar going out in a hand-to-mouth way. In other lines there is no great activity to note. The disposition to buy canned goods of any kind is even less than it was before. Another advance in Sultana raisins is reported from Smyrna. New season's Valencia raisins will be here next week. Currants are steady and in good demand.

CANNED GOODS.

Canned vegetables are being offered at unusually low prices, and this has brought stagnation to the trade. Neither wholesalers nor retailers are buyers of futures. Wholesalers report a fair business in peas, and during the week some of the houses appear to have experienced a little more demand for tomatoes. In corn there is practically nothing doing. The same is to be said of canned fruits. The advices from the Coast regarding the pack of salmon have brought business to a standstill in this particular line. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50 to $1.55; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 to $1.45; Lowe Inlet, $1.30 to $1.35, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.60 to $2.65; half tins, $1.55 to $1.60; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

Fresh shipments of green Rio coffee are arriving on the market this week, and there appears to be a fair movement. Prices are easy. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15½ to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is not much doing, but the trade is looking for a more active demand shortly. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

The demand is fairly active for this time of the year. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c. A heavy shortage in molasses is reported at New Orleans, and the season will end with a loss of 110,000 to 112,000 barrels compared with last year.

SUGAR.

On account of the continued decline in the outside markets the Canadian refiners have been again compelled to reduce their prices. The decline is 1-16c. per lb. The wholesalers have followed this with a further cut in their prices, the result of which is that they are selling granulated sugar to-day at less than cost. There is still a good deal of sugar going out, and although some carload lots are numbered among the orders, yet the business is of a hand-to-mouth character. The idea for granulated is 4.25 to 4.35c., and yellows run from 3¼c. up.

SPICES.

The demand is still chiefly for pickling spices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

Tapioca is fairly active, but there is not much doing in either rice or sago. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Business is quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Foochow black teas are on the Toronto market this week. They are showing good quality, probably better than last year. Shipments of new season's Indian teas arrived the latter part of last week. The leaf is handsome, but the cup quality of most kinds is inferior to that of last year. Indian and Ceylon teas keep steady. Shipments from Ceylon for the month of August were about 3,000,000 less than the estimate. Japan teas are getting scarce on this market. There has not been much business doing in any kind of teas during the past week. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

The first direct boat with new season's currants for Montreal will sail from Patras on or about the 10th inst. after calling at Denia for Valencia raisins. The demand for currants on the local market continues good, the low prices and good quality inducing consumption. We still quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 3⅞c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4 to 4⅛c.; do., half-bbls., 4⅛ to 4¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.

The cable announces that the market in Smyrna for Sultana raisins is excited. Quotation for good quality fruit is given at 26s. This is an advance of about equal to 1½c. per lb. on last year's prices. Local trade is quiet, and 6 to 7½c. is still the idea as to price.

pool, are to hand and the goods are expected here next week. We quote as follows: Valencia raisins, off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5¼ to 5½c.; selected, 6¼ to 6½c., and layers, 6½ to 6¾c. California raisins, 3-crown, 6c., 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.

Prunes remain dull and uninteresting. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

There is nothing new to note in California fruits. We quote: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Domestic green fruit is still arriving on the local market. Stocks of oranges are low and there is a fair enquiry. Our quotations are about 50c. higher than a week ago. The lemon market is easier, the demand having fallen off with the advent of the cooler weather. Lemons are about $1.50 lower than at the time of last review. Bananas and watermelons are also lower. We quote; Lemons—Messina, $4.50 to $5. Oranges—Rodis, $6.50 to $7 per box. Bananas, $1 to $1.50; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per doz.; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag; cucumbers, 12½ to 15c. per basket; tomatoes, Canadian, 10 to 15c. per basket, 15 to 25c. per bushel; watermelons, 20 to 25c. each; apples, Canadian, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl.; pears, 30 to 40c. per basket for Bartletts; peaches, 60 to 75c. per basket for Crawfords; plums, 25 to 60c.; grapes, 1 to 2½c. per lb.; musk melons, 50 to 60c. per case.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — Choice butter is scarce and wanted, and prices rule firm. The demand is good with pound prints of creamery being chiefly taken. We quote: Dairy butter—Tubs, 13 to 14c. for good to choice; low grade to medium, 7 to 11c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 15 to 16c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c. 1-lb. blocks, 19 to 21c., according to make.

CHEESE — The demand locally is fairly good at steady prices. We quote 8½ to 9c. as the ruling jobbing price.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—There is nothing doing, and 75c. is the ruling nominal quotation.

DRIED APPLES—Holders are beginning to ask for quotations, but there is no business passing. Quotations for old stock are nominally all the way from 3 to 4c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Nothing appears to be doing in new season's fruit beyond the enquiries of the factories for quotations.

EGGS—Are much dearer than a week ago, good stock being scarce and wanted. For ordinary fresh eggs 11c. appears to be the idea, although basket lots of new laid would fetch 1 to 2c. per dozen more.

HONEY—Quiet at $1.75 per dozen for comb, and 8 to 9c. per lb. for strained in 10 and 50-lb. tins.

POTATOES—Most of the demand at the moment is being supplied by the farmers and market gardeners, the wholesalers not doing much. We quote 28 to 35c. per bushel.

PROVISIONS.

Smoked meats continue in good demand and stocks are light. An improved business is to be noted for long clear, a demand on lumbermen's account having sprung up.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9½ to 10c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11c.; small hams, 11 to 11½c.; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD— Pure Canadian, tierces, 6½c.; tubs, 6¾c.; pails, 7c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN — Deliveries are fair. Prices are steady. We quote: White wheat, 65 to 66c. for new; red, 64c. for new; goose, 48 to 49c.; oats, 19 to 22½c.; peas, 45 to 46c.

FLOUR—Trade has been fair on a declining market. We quote in carloads on track, Toronto: Manitoba patents, $3.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.45; Ontario patents, $3.75 to $3.85. Straight roller is quoted at $3.10 to $3.15, Toronto freights.

BALED HAY—Is quiet at $11 to $11.25 on track.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is much the same as a week ago. We quote: Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.60; rolled wheat, $2 to $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues to improve and prices are unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

SALT.

A further improvement is to be noted in business. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are dull, with cured quoted at 6 to 6¼c. Dealers pay 5½c. for No. 1, 4½c. for No. 2, and 3½c. for No. 3.

CALFSKINS—Market is dull at 6c. for No. 1 and 4c. for No. 2. Lambskins are firm at 50c. and pelts at 25 to 30c.

WOOL—Receipts are fair and prices unchanged. Fleece brings 18 to 19c.; rejections, 15c., and unwashed, 11c. Pulled supers are 20 to 20½c., and extras, 21 to 21½c.

TALLOW—Is easy at 2¾ to 3½c. for rendered and 1¼c. for rough.

MARKET NOTES.

Eggs are 1 to 2c. per doz. dearer.

Oranges are dearer and lemons cheaper.

Toronto jobbers are quoting granulated sugar down to 4¼c. per lb.

New season's Valencia raisins are due on the Toronto market next week.

Shipments of Ceylon teas for August were about 3,000,000 pounds below the estimate.

The first direct steamer with new season's currants for Canada will sail from Patras on the 10th inst., after calling at Denia for Valencia raisins.

A cable to Watt & Scott, of Toronto, from Smyrna, states that the Sultana raisin market is excited and that quotations for good quality fruit are up to 26s.

characterized the trade all along is still as strongly evident as ever. This is noticeable in the case of sugar, tea, coffee, spices, in fact, everything. Values show an easy tendency, as noted elsewhere, in the case of sugar, coffee, spices and some lines of canned vegetables. Otherwise there are few facts of interest to comment on.

SUGAR.

There was more activity in the sugar market lately, but it has not assumed very large proportions. The feeling continues easy, and refiners have shaded prices for round lots 1-16c. In a jobbing way values are not quotably altered, and we quote granulated, 4⅜c., and yellows, 3⅞ to 3¾c.

SYRUPS.

There has been no new feature in the syrup market, demand being slow and business very quiet at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb., as to quality.

MOLASSES.

There has been no improvement in the market for molasses, as most buyers are well supplied for the present and are not buying ahead. In a jobbing way demand is also of a limited character and the market as a whole exhibits an easy tendency, sales of Barbadoes being noted at 27½ to 28c. and Porto Rico at the same range. The jobbing basis is still 30 to 31c., as to quantity.

RICE.

There has been a good demand for rice, and values rule firm and unchanged. We quote : Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There is no change in spices and buyers are only supplied for actual necessities, which means a dull trade. Values are unchanged, as follows : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The easy feeling in coffee continues, while demand is of a very indifferent character. In fact, to make sales, sellers would very likely submit to considerable concessions. We quote : Rio, 16½ to 17½c.; Maracaibo, 17½ to 18c.; Java, 24 to 27c., and Mocha, 23 to 28c.

TEAS.

The tea market as a whole remains quiet and aside from a few small lots of new crop Japans at 15 to 17c. which sold, little business between dealers has been noted. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been little done yet for forward account in Valencia raisins, the offers that have been made, which are considered largely speculative, inducing little buying. So far the basis is precisely the same for trading over the cable as was noted last week. We quote : Off-stalk ordinary, 4¼ to 4½c.; fine, 5c., and selected, 5½ to 6c.

Business in California raisins has also been of a quiet character and values as a rule remain unchanged. We quote : 4½c. to 5c. for 2-crown ; 5¾c. to 6c. for 3-crown ; and 7c. to 7½c. for 4-crown.

Currants are without change here, but cables from Greece are very firm in their tenor. We quote 3½ to 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels and 5c. in cases.

Prunes are firm both in the European and Californian varieties. We quote French, 5 to 5¼c. and Austrian 6c. California prunes are held at 10c., only a few offering on spot.

Figs sell all the way from 9 to 10c. per lb. for ordinary and 13 to 17c. per lb. for fancy.

Dates are quiet and steady at 4½ to 5c. per lb.

NUTS.

There is no change of moment in nuts, business ruling quiet. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c. ; Brazils, 11c.; almonds, 10½ to 11c. ; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

Local jobbers have shown more disposition to operate in canned vegetables, and some extensive contracts in peas, corn and tomatoes, aggregating 10,000 cases, have been put through on the basis of 60c. Otherwise there is no change to note. We quote : Tomatoes, 65 to 75c.; corn, 65c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50 ; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality ; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20 ; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c. ; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25 ; pumpkins, 75 to 85c. ; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45 ; "Clover Leaf," $1.35 ; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins ; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15 ; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is little change in this market of a striking character. The apple market has again displayed an easy feeling and prices are lower, if anything. Lemons have not been as active as last week, and oranges are unchanged. Seasonable fruit of all kinds, such as peaches, pears, plums, etc., are now arriving in large quantities, but the market has been kept well cleaned up and prices are fairly steady. We quote : Peaches, 40 to 60c. per Canadian basket ; pears, 30 to 40c. ; plums, 35 to 55c.; apples, $1 to $1.50; dried apples, 3 to 3½c.; evaporated, 5½ to 6c.; bananas, 75c. to $1.50; lemons, $2 to $3.50; oranges, $2 to $3.25, according to brand and package.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The firm feeling in the egg market has been fully retained during the past week. There is a good demand for choice candled at 10 to 10½c., and seconds at 8 to 8½c. New laid are not on the market.

BEANS—Continue dull and unchanged at 70 to 75c., in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a small way.

TALLOW—Quiet and dull at 4c.

HOPS—Business narrow and prices steady at 5c. to 7c., as to grade.

HONEY—Receipts fair, and prices well maintained at 10 to 12c. per lb.

POTATOES—Business quiet, the first new pick in car lots being offered this week on the basis of 40c. to 45c. per bag on track.

BALED HAY — The demand for hay has been good at $11 to $11.50 for No. 1 and $10 to $10.50 for No. 2.

To The Trade

Dear Sirs,

It has been our custom for a number of years to invite our friends and patrons visiting The Great Industrial Exhibition to make our offices and warehouses their headquarters during their stay. We feel gratified at the manner in which so very many have taken advantage of our invitation,—and herewith again extend the hand of welcome to all our friends in the trade and ask you to call upon us. Our travellers and salesmen will be on hand to render any assistance and furnish information desired, and make your stay pleasant and profitable.

We call your special attention to our "KOLONA" Ceylon Tea Exhibit at the Fair, east entrance, Main Building, ground floor, which is the leading tea exhibit this season. An efficient staff of attendants will be constantly on hand, and we ask you all to have a cup of the most delicious tea in Canada. Remember the spot, east entrance, Main Building, ground floor. Come, you are welcome.

PROVISIONS.

There has been a fairly active trade durthe week in smoked meats, but pork continues extremely dull and prices would certainly be shaded on it. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $10 to $10.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $10.50 to $11; hams, city cured, per lb., 7½ to 9½c.; lard, Canadian,in pails, 7 to 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been a fair business doing in flour, and during the past few days exporters have taken quite a few lots on London account. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.50.

There was no change in the situation of the oatmeal market. The demand was slow and prices are about steady. We quote: Standard, bbls., $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls., $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls., $2.50 to $2.60.

Business in feed continues fairly active and values show no change.. We quote: Bran, $10 to $11; shorts, $11 to $12; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market has continued unsettled and irregular during the past week. Lately the speculators have again come to the fore and put up prices ⅛ to ¼c. per pound, but there is little legitimate encouragement from the other side of the water at the advance. Recent transactions have aggregated 15,000 to 20,000 Ontario and Quebec cheese at a range of 8¼ to 8½c. on spot in Montreal.

The butter market is unsettled and weaker. In fact, a decline of ¾c. has been actually established, as sales of creamery were made to-day at 18¼c., for which 19c. was refused a week ago.

ASHES.

There is no change in ashes which rule quiet. We quote: Firsts, $3.50 to $3.55; seconds, $3.05, and pearls, $4.55 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Bosnia prunes continue firm at primary markets at the advances noted last week. No business is yet noted for forward shipment.

First receipts of Spanish onions arrived ex Parisian this week from Malaga.

Montreal refiners have shaded values on refined sugar this week for wholesale quantities. Jobbing prices remain unchanged.

There has been little activity in the tea market, aside from some transfers of new medium Japans at 15 to 17c.

The easy feeling in coffee continues, and it looks at present as if values were going even lower than they are.

There is a comparative scarcity of fine Jamaica ginger in this market and it is held firm at 25c.

No business for forward delivery is yet noted in Bosnia prunes, as buyers seem indisposed to order ahead.

No extensive consignments of California prunes, or in fact any California dried fruit are expected on this market until the month of October.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 3, 1896.

SINCE the opening of September business has shown a tendency to improve. Country storekeepers particularly are buying more liberally. Merchants feel, however, that there is still room for improvement. Very extensive preparations are being made for handling the winter export business of Canada, which was commenced so successfully here last season. This year there will be much more wharf accommodation, besides cattle yards and extra warehouse room. We hope Ontario shippers will show their loyalty and appreciation of our city's enterprise in this matter by seeing that their shipments go via a Canadian rather than an American port. In hops the very low prices of the past summer show no improvement. Our merchants have been quite large buyers, and during the past week say they have bought at the lowest price ever known.

OIL—There is a marked improvement in the demand for burning oil, though the decline and weakness in the price limits the movement, and orders are still largely from hand to mouth. The decline in American oil has been ½c., while in Canadian oil it has been 1c. In cod oil the receipts are larger, coming chiefly from Digby County, N.S. We quote: American burning oil, 21c.; best Canadian, 19½c.; prime, 17c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—Stocks are still light, but supplies are within quite easy reach, so that price has shown no further advance. There is a fair demand. There is talk of a small cargo direct, which would cause rather lower prices, should it come. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 52c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3 to $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $2.75 to $3; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—There is quite a range in prices asked for corn, peas and tomatoes, some dealers cutting lower than others, and some dealers quoting old goods, which cost low. There should be a change in the doing of this business, as no class of goods show a poorer profit. In gallon apples lower prices rule, and it is thought when these goods are ready to ship even lower prices will be accepted. Canned meats are firm, but show no change in prices in this market. Oysters we quote rather higher. But few Baltimore packers now quoting, prices will likely keep firm till at least the new pack. While peaches are rather higher, owing to bare market, new will range at about the same as old prices. Salmon show little present demand. Market is hardly as firm. Haddies are easy and light sale. We quote as follows: Corn, 70 to 80c.; peas, 75 to 80.; tomatoes, 75 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35;

American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.40; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.65; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.25 $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

DRIED FRUIT—There is but little movement as yet. Very few Valencia raisins have yet been bought, and reports tend to rather firmer figures. In California loose muscatels shippers' prices are well above last year's figures. Those of leading packers are held at same prices, but some brokers are asking dealers to submit offers ¼c. under ruling prices. Dates to arrive are firmer and second tides have been advanced 1s., or equal to first tide prices. Some Canadian peels are offered, but most dealers have placed orders for English goods. Only a limited quantity of Leghorns have been sold. In peanuts the lower prices have helped to increase demand. There is quite a sale for a five-cent package which is now being imported direct from Norfolk. In evaporated apples new are now on the market, and are offered low. Feeling is easy. There is no sale for dried. Samples of new Sultana raisins have been received. We quote: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; currants, cases, 4 to 4½c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4 to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 2c.; American onions, $3 per bbls.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—Business continues very active. Quite a quantity of New Brunswick plums have been in the market, but they are not favorites, and sell slow. Nova Scotia, which is the plum preferred for preserving, are now coming in quite freely. Some very good apples, both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, are to hand. Auction sales are now beginning; it keeps prices down, beside taking the trade out of the dealers' hands, the consumer buying at the auctions. Oranges are about out of the market. Canadian grapes have a large sale. There are also quite a quantity of Delaware (American) being received. Pears are favorites, the eastern Bartlett largely taking the place of the California. The California plums to hand are beauties. In peaches Canadian have a good demand. Apples sell low. We quote: Lemons, $4 to $5; Valencia oranges, $6 to $6.10; bananas, $1 to $2.50; California peaches, DAIRY PRODUCE —In butter producers are holding back, not wishing to sell at present prices. While best dairy and creamery are in rather better demand and at rather better figures, buyers and sellers are still upset. Stock of butter is not large. In cheese June makes appear well cleaned up. Very low prices are quoted by some city dealers, and though market is not particularly active prices are likely to be somewhat higher; in fact, factories are now holding for higher figures. Prospect is for much smaller output in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia than last season. In eggs there is a fair demand at steady prices. We quote: Dairy butter, 16 to 17c.; creamrey, rolls, 20c.; do., tubs, 18 to 20c. Eggs are steady at 9 to 9½c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c.

SUGAR—There is a rather better demand noted. The profits of the season's sugar business are likely to be on the wrong side, and those buying as they need have had the advantage. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4½c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—Another cargo of Porto Rico is due (about 350 casks); it is consigned. Demand is quiet. Importations this season have been much larger than last, and values are now easy. Splendid values in New Orleans at low prices are offered. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 28 to 30c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; St. Croix, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Fall catch of shad has proved a failure. Pickled shad have advanced 50c. per half bbl. In dry cod liberal quantities are arriving; prices are firm, and there is a good demand. Reported catch of pollock is very large, and prices are easy and demand light. Pickled herring come in very slowly, but as sales are small prices show no change. Smoked are still dull. A better movement is noted in boneless fish. The demand is all from the west. We quote: Large cod, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.30; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.20 to $1.25 per half-bbl.; smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $5; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; Canso herring, $4 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Pork continues low, with stocks here still large. While some were bought at rather high figures, some few cars cost as low as $7.50, the lowest price ever known. This price is in bond. A fair demand is noted for hams, but they are scarce and higher. Rolls are dull. Domestic mess pork rules rather higher than clear. We quote: Clear pork, $13 to $13.50; mess, $13.00 to $14; plate beef, $12.50 to $13; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, 7½ to 8c.; compound, 6½ to 7c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—While demand is light, millers hold old flour firm. Manitoba flour shows no change. Oatmeal is quiet at even figures. Oats are quite firm. Crop in New Brunswick is large. There is a local demand, but few come to the city. Cornmeal has a very large sale, while feed and flour are dull. In feed, though a good quality is offered low, it is hard to move. Beans are firm. Though first cost is higher, there is little change here. In hay little is doing, as it will be some time before new is ready for market. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.20; medium, $3.95 to $4.00; oatmeal, $2.90 to $3.10; cornmeal, $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $14 to $15; bran, do do, $13 to $14; hand-picked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 30 to 32c.; hay, $13 to 14; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

N. W. Taussig & Co., New York, who have done a large trade here in New Orleans molasses during the past two seasons, are offering through their agent, J. Hunter White, some of the best values ever seen here, both in price and quality. The 40-gal. package is a favorite.

Northrup & Co. are shipping quantities of dulse west. They make a point to secure best quality.

Mr. John Sealy is adding much to the appearance of his store and his own comfort by a new office. He finds an increased business through guaranteeing his fish.

The note appearing about the St. John grocers' picnic should read: "between ten and twelve the retailers closed" not "between ten and twelve of the retailers closed."

Coal of good quality has been discovered near Moncton. And many are looking for a new and successful industry in that now rapidly-growing town.

Potatoes continue to drop off in price, some arriving from Nova Scotia this week selling as low as 60c. per barrel.

At Sussex five tons of milk are handled per day, two tons going to the cheese factory and three being shipped to St. John.

Efforts are being made by the city to collect taxes from civil servants on income. And why not? They are fully as well paid as other men and enjoy the same privileges.

The effort is being resisted, and, if necessary, the case will be appealed to England.

The output of cheese in these Lower Provinces will likely be much less than last year. L. C. Archibald, the largest manufacturer in Nova Scotia, reports at one factory where last season he got four tons of milk per day, this year, owing to small receipts, factory is closed down, and he has closed three others.

The Ireland National Food Co., whose preparations are so popular in this market, should feel proud of the success of their new cereal food "Farinosa." These goods are kept well before the trade by the energetic agents of the company here, Jardine & Co.

Arrangements for the annual Exhibition, which opens here the last week in this month, are much more complete than in any previous year.

While the hay crop through our province is light, the prospects are for large crops in oats, wheat, barley and buckwheat. Much more wheat is grown in this province than is usually thought. In oats, if our farmers would only clean and cure properly they would get a much better price, beside stopping at least part of the large importation from outside points.

Turner, Mackeand & Co., of Winnipeg, have added "Golden" haddies to their stock of groceries.

The Davidson & Hay, Ltd., are in receipt of shipments of new pack canned haddies.

A direct shipment of medium quality of Japan tea, showing good value, has been received by John Sloan & Co.

A feature of the Davidson & Hay, Ltd., sample room this week is a substantial pyramid of "Kurma" tea.

The Davidson & Hay, Ltd., report the arrival of a line of fine Moning Congou.

Balfour & Co., of Hamilton, are offering exceptional values in cleaned currants and selected Valencia raisins.

T. A. Lytle & Co., Richmond street west, Toronto, report a steady increase in the demand for best quality pickling vinegar.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., are selling the celebrated "Royal" salad dressing, which they claim is superior to any in the market.

Owing to the scarcity and high price of hams, D. Gunn Bros. & Co. are finding a good demand for picnic hams and rolls, on which they are quoting special prices.

Genuine Ceylon cinnamon, packed 2 and 4 dozen in a case, is being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol, to retail at 5 and 10 cents.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report a large demand for Gillard's new pickle, the excellence of that article having taken with the consumer.

T. B. Escott & Co. invite country customers visiting the Western Fair to make their warehouse their headquarters during their stay in London.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd. are in receipt of another shipment of Filiatra currants and Casalina Patras currants in barrels, half-barrels, cases and half-cases.

A shipment of Marshall's new breakfast delicacies, herrings in shrimp sauce, in anchovy sauce, and in tomato sauce, arrived for The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.

The L. P. & Co. spices sold by Lucas, Steele & Bristol are absolutely pure and ground from assorted stock. The firm are giving special prices this month.

The advertisements of the "Salada" Ceylon tea are now running in The Buffalo News. It is good to see Canadians invading the United States market.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have just received a consignment of Crosse & Blackwell's peels, lemon, orange and citron. This brand is even better than ever in quality.

Bart. Cottam & Co. report constantly increasing sales for their "Cottams" bird seed. The patent holder, beak sharpener and sanitary perch, together with the patent Several invoices of Japans are to hand with Lucas, Steele & Bristol, including the celebrated "Uriba" and "Old Ladye" brands. Samples on application.

P. C. Larkin & Co. report having shipped "Salada" tea to Buffalo as follows : Week ending 22nd Aug., 24 cases ; week ending 29th, 25 cases, and this week, 60 cases.

In a new season's Japan tea to retail at 25c., W. H. Gillard & Co. state that their assortment comprises values second to none. They ask the trade to get samples and compare.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. report a brisk demand for creamery butter. They control the following factories : Beachville, Stouffville, Maple, Palermo, North Valley and Kensington.

The "Rising Sun" Stove Polish factory at Canton, Mass., takes the entire product of a large box factory located near the works. Eight hundred cords of lumber were made into "Rising Sun" stove polish boxes last year.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd. have issued a new catalogue of handsome design and a useful book for the trade. They are mailing these to the trade all over Ontario and will be pleased to mail one on enquiry.

The Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co. will be glad to see any of their customers who visit Toronto during the Exhibition. "Come right in," they write, "and if we can be of any use to you say so. Make our place headquarters. We are centrally situated and may be of some service to you. Will be pleased to renew old friendships and make new ones."

The new "Sun Paste" stove polish made by the proprietors of the "Rising Sun" stove polish is put up in the most attractive sort of packages possible, and dealers appreciate goods which make a fine appearance on the shelves.

"It is about two years since the 'Gem' stove paste was put on the market," write the F. F. Dalley Co., "and to-day its sales are larger than any other stove paste made or sold in Canada. It is a very superior article, that is why it has been a success."

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., report the arrival of another shipment of Morton's goods, consisting of fresh herrings, kippered herrings, herrings in tomato sauce, and preserved bloaters. These goods are rapidly growing in favor with the trade.

Perhaps no trade mark has been imitated to such an extent in so short a time as the name "Bird Bread." Since Bart. Cottam & Co. patented and registered this composition of matter its effectiveness with birds and consequent popularity has led many to place goods on the market imitating "Bird Bread," both in name and appearance, as closely as was possible without infringing the patents and registrations. Grocers and others should be wary not to be taken in to the extent of buying these useless and often injurious imitations for the genuine article.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. James McLean, representative east and north for T. Kinnear & Co., is confined to his home through an injury received a few days ago to one of his feet.

Mr. W. G. A. Lambe is fishing at Belmont Lake.

Reports from Hamilton say that not one of Billy Mac's fish stories are "chestnuts," but real genuine fresh "walnuts." Long live the "King."

Mr. Samuel J. Gorman, of the Gorman Commission Co., Portland, Oregon, has been appointed general agent for the United States for the California Distributing Co., of San Francisco, etc.

Mr. Steele, of Lucas, Steele & Bristol, has just returned from a month's outing in Muskoka district. He reports good fishing and large numbers of visitors at all hotels. He speaks very highly of the civility of the G.T.R. people, also the Nipissing officers. He was one of a large party staying at Cassie Island, near Ferndale.

A. S. Black, of Black & Co., Truro, N.S., was in Montreal last week on his wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Black sailed on the ss. Labrador to spend their honeymoon in England and on the Continent.

A handy folder has just been issued by the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., of Toronto. It contains a guide's map of the city, a guide to the Exhibition, a railway time table, and a list of leading restuarants, boarding and lodging houses.

WORKING THE PEPPERMINT CROP.

THE distilling of the oil from the peppermint crop of southwestern Michigan commenced this week, and in a few days the industry will be in full blast throughout this region, says Chicago Grocer. A dozen or more new distilleries have been erected in this immediate vicinity this season, and as many more in other parts of the peppermint district. The season has been an excellent one for mint culture, and about the only damage done to the crop has resulted from the devastations of grasshoppers. The insects badly injured mint fields in some localities, especially in parts of Allegan County, but the largely increased acreage this year devoted to the culture of the plant is expected to bring the yield of oil fully up to that of last season.

While the price per pound received for the distilled oil grows less each year, the increased production per acre caused by the introduction of the English, or black mint, yields a larger sum to the grower than in the early days of the higher prices. The price for the crude or "natural" oil, the form in which it leaves the distillery, last season ranged from $1.50 to $1.90 per pound, and about the same prices are expected to rule this year.

Until recently the refuse or, as it is known, mint hay, was considered worthless and was gotten rid of by burning. The scarcity of clover and timothy hay the last year or two led to the experiment of feeding this refuse to horses and cattle, a plan which worked so well that it is now considered a valuable forage crop. It is estimated that the feeding of the dried mint to stock last year saved the farmers of southwestern Michigan thousands of dollars which would have been paid for western baled hay.

KILLED THE GOOSE.

At a grocery store in Massachusetts, where it has been the rule to allow the clerks to have goods for their own use at cost, the proprietor, according to N. E. Grocer, discovered an interesting state of affairs the other day. One clerk has a wife and one child in his family. The supply of groceries he had charged against him for a month was sufficient to keep a family as large as that of the old woman who is said to have resided in a single article of the footwear long ago. The facts of the case were that all the clerk's relations had been buying at cost also, and the charge was made in the clerk's name in order to secure the privilege. The clerks will hereafter have to pay the same for their goods as other people do.

Subscribers wanting goods or special quotations on anything anywhere in Canada at any time, can get them by mail or wire by corresponding with THE CANADIAN GROCER, Toronto or Montreal.

DOES IT PAY?

DOES the grocery business pay when properly conducted and under ordinary circumstances? One of the signs that it can be made fairly profitable by the exercise of average abilities, says Merchants' Review, is the undoubted success of small corner groceries in this section of the country, which are run on a system of credits that apparently would soon bankrupt a Rothschild. Little stores, with an appearance of poverty, sometimes will be found to have bad debts amounting to thousands of dollars, and yet the owners thrive.

The grocery business calls emphatically for hard work. The people who have tried it and discovered that it was unremunerative will sometimes be found to be related to—

"The sons of rest,
Of Lemon Hill,
Who never worked
And never will."

Some of the unsuccessful country merchants belong to this class and leave the entire work of the store to be done by an assistant. They themselves spend the time spinning yarns or arguing politics with old cronies as lazy as themselves. Such as these dealers, after their failure, wonder why they couldn't succeed or else convince themselves that "groceries don't pay."

It would be hard to pick out a more promising business than selling groceries for the man of sobriety, common sense and industry. Notwithstanding the inroads made by department stores the business still remains an avocation that gives generous returns to those that deserve them, but the chief reliance of the average grocer is his capacity for hard work.

B. C. SALMON PACK.

B.C. Commercial Journal, Aug. 25:—Advices received from the Fraser river vary considerably as to the packs of the different canneries. Until after the close of the season and the product has been cased and shipped it will be almost impossible to secure anything like accurate figures. After due consideration of the best information obtainable, it is estimated that the pack of the Fraser river is now about 300,000 cases. Some persons estimate that the result for the Fraser river will be nearly 350,000 cases, but it is believed by many that this is over the actual amount packed. The Northern and West Coast pack will, it is said, run over 235,000 cases, so that the total for British Columbia this year will probably be pretty close to 550,000 cases. Careful estimates place the pack on Puget Sound between 75,000 and 80,000 cases.

FIVE YEARS OF DECLINE.

It is a matter of daily comment that food products of all kinds were never so low in price in the history of the grocery business. It is interesting to note the comparison between prices prevailing five years ago and those current at present. The reduction through the line will average fully 35 per cent., many articles having declined one-half. The Commercial Journal selects a few articles from a list recently prepared by a leading jobbing house:

"THE GROCER" IN SWEDEN AND NORWAY.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—Enclosed please find $2 with which renew our subscription as long as the money lasts. We find THE CANADIAN GROCER of great use to us, as we have bought largely from advertisers in your journal. We are always glad to answer enquiries from Canadian exporters of evaporated and fresh apples, flour, canned goods, etc. Evaporated apples are wanted in 50-lb. boxes. Only the red Baldwin fresh apples can be sold here to advantage, and should be packed in nice clean barrels. Of wheat flour the best patent grades have the largest sale. Rolled oats we buy by the carload (150 barrels). Yours, etc.,

A FREIGHT ANOMALY.

Editor CANADIAN GROCER,—I have just read your article in last week's CANADIAN GROCER on "The Inaction of Canadian Merchants." To some extent there is a good deal of truth in what you say about the merchants and manufacturers of Canada not being enterprising in the matter of exporting, but an instance of the dampening effect of circumstances over which we apparently have no control came to my notice last week, which I think your valuable paper may publish. I learned that one of our citizens intended going to Rossland to open up a general store, and solicited from him an order, which I secured. He had placed orders for about four carloads of general merchandise in Toronto, among which was a car of canned fruits and vegetables, but what was his surprise and disgust, and mine, too, when he found that the freight barred him from taking a solitary pound of stuff from Toronto. For instance, canned goods that cost him 5c. per can would cost 6c. per can for freight to Rossland. The freight would be more than the cost of the goods. Toronto has lost this big order because he finds it cheaper to buy in the United States, and pay duty, than to buy here and pay this heavy freight. This is only his opening order, and he will no doubt continue to buy abroad to the detriment of Toronto. The same thing can be said all over British Columbia. Confectionery can be brought up from San Francisco cheaper than it can be from Toronto. Unless something can be done to cheapen the hauling of merchandise from Ontario to the Kootenay district, Canadian merchants and manufacturers will not be able to compete for this trade, no matter how active and anxious they may be to secure it. Yours, etc.,

H. C. FORTIER.

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) MONTREAL AND TORONTO, SEPTEMBER 11, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 37

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

A bright store betokens a bright merchant.

Tempers and customers are oftentimes lost together.

The brighter a merchant is the more does he value his trade paper.

Business is not as fickle as love, but it will not brook inattention.

If a man hasn't brains he cannot be expected to have a business.

Only to the industrious do the gods reveal the secret of success in life.

The genius that every young man should court is the genius for work.

A "sour" man behind the counter is not fit even for vinegar making.

It is not the man with the glibbest tongue that makes the best salesman.

As the precious golden moments fly, the hopes of Silverites seem to die.

Price-cutting is often the badge which declareth the incompetent merchant.

He who is lacking in respect for others can hardly have respect for himself.

Failure to adopt suitable avocations is one of the chief causes of failure in life.

Rough roads should not deter any sane man from traveling the road to Success.

Business men are hoping that the fall of the year will see trade rise into greater activity.

Merchants who always follow where their competitors lead can no more be leaders while they pursue these tactics than can the tail of the dog become the proboscis. It is the leaders that are the winners.

A few good kicks from his friends is the best help a man who will not help himself can get.

When a window does not sell goods, the fault is not with the window. It is with the merchant.

As the hopes of the Free Silver party in the United States fall the hopes of the business men rise.

Some men in the race for business, like some trotting horses, display much action but little speed.

A merchant does not need to know a note of music in order to be able to sing well the merits of his wares.

The value of an idea is not usually ascertainable until it has been ground on the grindstone of experience.

If we had not to earn our bread by the sweat of our brow we would soon be drowned in the slough of indolence.

The cross word of a merchant or clerk is sometimes the finger-post which directs customers to competitors' stores.

The man who is always satisfied with his work is not likely to occasion much satisfaction to those for whom the work is done.

Some people exhibiting goods at the Exhibition appear to be exhibiting themselves more than the goods they are in charge of.

It is filled with empty vagueness that is the man who goes about trying to impress people with the idea that he is great in mental capabilities.

The shop window is one of the merchant's chief avenues for letting the people know that he is up to date. And the people love an up-to-date man.

Merchants who bring discredit upon themselves bring the people to view with discredit their goods, excellent as these goods may be.

Young men who spend their spare moments in rolling up scores at the billiard table are not likely to establish much of a record in life.

A business must be made to fit the conditions of the place in which it is situated, or else, like a 30-inch coat upon a 50-inch man, there will be a misfit.

Merchants who do not look after the little things will in time be looked after by the bailiff. It is the care of the little things that bars the door against bankruptcy.

It is the rough things of life that sharpen men's wits. Plain sailing in business no more creates good business men than does plain sailing at sea create good sailors.

Intelligence saves a man from making a fool of either himself or other people. And intelligence is the development which comes of the study of men, methods and books.

Merchants, like all other classes of men, have their weak points, and the measure of their success will be in ratio to the strictness with which they guard these weak points.

The wholesale and retail grocers of Fort Wayne, Ind., recently secured the passage of an ordinance requiring every pedlar to pay a license fee of $60 per year. And now the police of that place have been instructed to arrest any agent of a wholesale doing business without a license. It is almost needless to say that the merchants are furious.

TO STOP SAMPLING.

A WRITER in The Grocery World has the following remedy for stopping the sampling of his goods :

It has always been my custom since I have been in business here to expose various goods in their original packages in front of my counter. I have taken considerable pains in making attractive displays of these goods, and have always believed that they constituted a good advertisement. I would expose such goods as dried fruit, cakes and sometimes candy in buckets. In most cases the lids were left off in order to make the display more attractive. Such articles as these would be attacked by everybody who came in the store. I watched one woman one day who had to wait a few minutes for the filling of her order, and I actually saw her eat ten dried halves of peaches. I weighed the same quantity after she had gone, and discovered that they weighed nearly an eighth of a pound, being of a very large size. To make a long story short, I bought a stenciling outfit and had signs printed on small cards, one of which I put in every package of goods left open as I have described. For instance, the sign that I put in the bag of dried peaches bore these words : "Every time eight people take free samples from these peaches I lose a pound. Remember this."

I followed this plan with every package of goods and placed the sign so that no one could fail to see it. Its effect was immediate. The most inveterate samplers came into the store shortly after I had arranged the sign, and while their hand was actually on its way to the package the sign would catch their eye and they would immediately drop the hand, looking at the same time very much ashamed. The system has been in operation only a very few weeks, but I am confident that its usefulness will not wear out, as I shall always keep the signs there, and if necessary shall have others printed expressing the point even more strongly.

LOBSTERS ON THE COAST.

The Department of Fisheries has received intelligence that the lobsters transported to British Columbia have been seen. This indicates that the experiment has proved successful, as it proves that the water is suitable and the necessary food is found there. It will be remembered that 700 lobsters were taken over and planted in five places on July 9th last. One of the lobsters was caught a few days ago and shown in Victoria, B. C., as a curiosity.

BROOM CORN CROP.

Several large dealers in broom corn, speaking of the reported damage in the crop, said the reports of the injury by recent storms were exaggerated. It is true, however, that the yield will be only 50 per cent. of last year on account of the decrease in acreage.

The second crop, about 25 per cent. of the whole, will not be harvested until the latter part of September, and it is impossible to tell how it will turn out. The crop, though small, will be of excellent quality.

CRANBERRY CROP.

During the last few days cranberries have appeared in the market, and while the stock has been generally green and not attractive, the season is about opening. There is practically no consumptive demand here at such an early period, but some orders are coming in from the west for sample lots, and a moderate movement is reported. Advices from Cape Cod relative to the yield this year are very conflicting, and from some important sections the crop is estimated all the way from 50 per cent of what it was last year to 20 per cent more than last year. Growers seem to be very much apart as to the yield. Some investigations have been made by dealers here in an effort to obtain some idea as to the yield, and from their reports the crop will average 10 to 20 per cent more than it was last year. Jersey growers seem to be unanimous in reporting the crop in that state about the same as last season. Dealers here thought prices should open at about $5 to $6 per barrel for light to fairly good color fruit, though very little stock has been received showing color or size to command those figures ; some of the stock received is very green and almost unsalable. A moderate quantity are raised on Long Island, and as they are of fine quality they usually command extreme prices. Reports from there indicate the yield fully up to the average.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

ONCE CLERK, NOW BOSS.

It makes a great deal of difference with some men whether they are clerks or proprietors of stores as far as work is concerned, says a Denver paper, and we know of no better illustration than the case of a dealer who has a store on the corner of Twenty-fourth and Larimer. Some months ago this party was clerking in a down-town retail clothing store. He was a prominent member of the clerks' union, and he devoted all his spare time to getting the stores to close at 6 o'clock. He was not only an enthusiast on the question, but believed in extreme methods, such as a boycott to compel the dealers to close. A few months ago he went into business for himself, and now he keeps open till 10 o'clock every night and all day on Sunday, and woe to the clerk who would dare to make a protest in behalf of shorter hours. Here is consistency for you.

THE STORE STATIONERY.

There's a heap of sense in the following clipping from The Typographic Advertiser : "Use this argument with your customers : The way to fail is to use cheap printing. The addressing, folding, enclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are going to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs a little more, but that 'little more' brings greater returns than any other part of the cost."

TALLOW AND LARD.

IT has rarely occurred, and never for any great length of time, says a contemporary, that tallow has been firm and even advancing, in the face of a contrary tendency in lard. But, as has been repeatedly pointed out, the relation of prices on the two fats has of late been such as to quite upset all previous theories as to what it should be, and it has been regarded as a serious question whether tallow and its closer ally, cottonseed oil, had not practically divorced themselves from the hog product. So far as the animal fats are concerned, however, it is clear that their value has been largely sustained by the extraordinary export demand which has been pretty steadily maintained here for three months, and has taken upward of 30,000,000 pounds of tallow within that period.

The export demand for tallow, olea-stearine and the other soap and candle greases has come almost wholly from France, and is looked upon by the best-informed traders here as being largely speculative. France has always supplied itself for the most part with greases from domestic sources, and has drawn the bulk of whatever it may have required to meet any home deficiency from the River Plate territory. Australian tallow has gone to England rather than France, and although there is a falling off in the shipments from those colonies there is still a large stock in British warehouses available for use in English kettles or for re-exportation. But the United States at present affords the lowest market of the world on all greases, being cousiderably below the parity of the London price for Australian tallow, while the sale of 1,250,000 pounds of oleostearine at Chicago last week at three and three-quarter cents brings that commodity down below the comparative line of almost any other grease, unless it be lard.

QUEBEC'S APPLE CROP.

The Hemmingford correspondent of The Huntingdon Gleaner says: "The Fameuse crop in this part of the country is the finest in quality and quantity that we have had for many years past. In driving through a part of the township on Saturday my eyes fairly feasted upon the sight of orchards, most of the trees in which were heavily laden with fruit perfect in form, free from "spot or blemish," and richly colored. The absence of (long-continued, at least) hot weather in the summer just closing and of late summer frosts of any severity has left the foliage of the trees in a remarkably well-preserved condition, and the contrast of the deep, rich green of this foliage with the crimson tints of the fruit is a most striking and beautiful one. A man living near Hallerton (in Northeast Hemmingford), who has an orchard numbering 1,200 Fameuse trees, recently declined a bona fide offer of $600 for the fruit in his orchard, to be gathered by the purchaser. The owner of the orchard believes that he will have at least 1,000 bushels of choice No. 1 fruit."

HOW LIQUID CANDIES ARE MADE.

The liquid is a saturated solution, and will not dissolve any more sugar, just as your coffee in the morning will not dissolve the fourth lump of sugar that you put into it, but disintegrating it, deposits it at the bottom of the cup. The sweet mixture is poured into molds of absorbent material, starch for example, which at once begins to absorb the water. That part of the sugar which has been robbed of its water is deposited against the mold, and the result is the liquid drop. The liquid which is confined within the drop has already all the sugar it can possibly hold, being saturated, so it cannot attack the sugar walls which confine it. The whole process is a simple and interesting experiment in absorption, although probably not one in a thousand of those who have tasted the candy have had any idea of the method of its manufacture.—Happy Thought.

A CALL TO BUSINESS MEN.

THE Minister of Trade and Commerce is courting suggestions from the business men of the country as to ways and means of extending the export trade of the country.

It is a wise suggestion, and if persevered in must result in good. Canada's export trade needs expansion. The average annual export trade of the Dominion during the past five years has been much larger than it was during the previous five years, but it by no means follows that because of this increase in our export trade in volume it is satisfactory. It is not as large as it should be, and it is not as large as it can be.

Our exports per head are about $23. This is less than that of any other British colony of any importance except India. Taking Australasia as a comparison, we are far behind it. The exports per head in that part of the British Empire range all the way from $46 in Tasmania to $105 per head in South Australia. Newfoundland, Bermuda, Honduras, British Guiana, all beat us according to per head of population. Taking the volume of our total exports, Canada stands ahead of all the British colonies or dependencies, India excepted, although it must be acknowledged that were the different colonies composing Australasia confederated, as are those composing the Dominion, we would have to take a step lower in the list.

We do not make these comparisons in order to belittle the Dominion. We are actuated by a desire to stimulate the business men of this country; yes, and the Government of this country, too, into more aggressive action in the matter of securing more customers abroad for the products of the Dominion.

Putting comparisons with other countries aside, the fact that we are to-day producing more than we can dispose of, taking both the home and foreign market, while not producing to nearly our present capacity, is evidence indisputable that we need an enlarged export trade at even our present rate of production, let alone with the object of developing our rich resources which are almost yet untouched.

No country under the sun has probably within her borders the possibilities for a greater diversity of industries than has the Dominion of Canada. Ninety-five thousand square miles of coal fields are within her confines; her forests are rich in unlimited supplies of timber that are marketable in almost every country in the world; her expansive fields produce grain that in quality is without a superior; her orchards produce apples that for superior keeping qualities excel anything produced on this continent and that find a market in not only Great Britain, but in the United States as well; her cheese has earned the world's championship and occupies the first place in the great consuming market of Great Britain; the quality of her beef has a world-wide reputation, and the bacon she produces is, with that of Denmark, being recognized by competing countries as the ideal; as a gold producer the Dominion is to-day the cynosure of all eyes.

Canada is great in possibilities. The trouble in the past has been the want of business common-sense in our legislators and the want of push and business enterprise in our manufacturers and merchants: Our legislators have been too busy fomenting race and religious feuds to find time to promote the business interests of the country, and our merchants and manufacturers have been depending over much on the Government to do the "necessary turning up" for them.

The Government can do a good deal to develop the natural resources of the country and to promote its business interests. But the business men must also be aggressive. The Minister of Trade and Commerce desires to enlist their co-operation in extending the trade of the country. They are the men most interested in the realization of this fact. They are the source from which the Minister must necessarily get light for his guidance. If the light is not forthcoming the fault will not be the Minister's; it will be the business men's fault.

With the business men and the Government pulling together for the one goal there need not be much fear regarding the future of the Dominion.

NEW PACK SALMON.

NEW pack canned salmon arrived on the Toronto market on Tuesday. It was the "Horseshoe" brand, and was delivered to the trade the following day. The price at which it is selling to the retailer is $1.45.

Mail advices from the Coast, under date of August 21, state that the pack on the Fraser River up to that time was 250,000 cases, nearly 150,000 cases less than the total pack on that river last season.

Readers of THE CANADIAN GROCER will remember that the Government extended the season five days to September 1. How much salmon was put up between the 21st ult. and that date we have not yet been able to ascertain.

As some of the canneries had closed down before the end of the fishing season, and as the run of fish fell off about the third week in August, it is probable the pack between August 21 and the close of the season was not materially increased. While, however, the pack of Fraser River fish is much less than a year ago, it must not be forgotten that the pack on the northern rivers is much larger, so there is not likely to be any dearth of canned salmon, although the outlook for prices is steady. It is said that very few packers on the Fraser are preparing to put up cohoes.

The advices in question also point out that the largest portion of the pack on the Fraser is in flat tins, which are not appreciated on the Canadian market. It is on the English market that they are the staple kind.

It is claimed by the Fraser River people that there is not likely to be any competition between their pack and that of the northern river canneries, the former having paid more for their fish.

It appears that this season there has been a good demand from England and Europe generally for tall tins, and large sales have been made at equivalent to $4.70 to $4.75 per case f.o.b.

London, Eng., advices state that the demand for salmon there has been unusually brisk, and a decided scarcity of salable brands is expected before the new pack arrives, which will not be till about six months hence.

During the past couple of years popular favor in England has been transferred from the Columbia River to the Fraser River salmon, and the British trade press assert that it is pretty certain that little of 1896 pack of Columbia River fish will be imported this season. At present on the London market Fraser River salmon is selling at from 2s. to 3s. higher than the Columbia River product.

THE BOOM IN CHEESE.

SPECULATORS have taken another whirl in regard to the last half of August cheese. The result is an advance in country cost of from ½ to ¾c. per pound. On the other hand, the legitimate demand from the other side does not respond to the rise, and the English market has to appreciate at the very least 1 to 1¼c. per pound to be on a parity with values on this side the water.

This is hardly a healthy condition of affairs, for as matters are at present it is a question of strength between the holders on this side and the British buyers.

Last year's operations were not profitable to the former, and if they get another defeat this year the effect may be disastrous to some of them.

They are basing their belief in higher prices on the reports of continued drouth in Great Britain. If this is as severe as advices have it, the English make will certainly fall very short, in which event there is a good chance that recent purchases can be turned over at a profit.

The receipts to date at Montreal are also lighter than for the corresponding period of 1895. From May 1 to September 5, 1,052,500 boxes of cheese were received at Montreal, against 1,248,900 for the same period in 1895, a decrease of 196,400 boxes.

The exports are about the same as they were last year, viz., 969,800 this year, against 970,300 for 1895.

Statistically, therefore, the speculators have some reason for a belief in better prices, but it has been frequently demonstrated that reasoning on this basis often brings disappointment.

THOSE LOW OFFERS ON FRUIT.

About a fortnight ago reference was made to rather low offers on California raisins and prunes by sales agents in Montreal. These offers were considerably below what the other commission men could afford to sell at, and this fact, coupled with the tenor of advices from the Coast, was a genuine surprise.

Some good-sized orders were booked, but when they were sent forward they were not confirmed. It transpires that somehow or other a mistake of ½c. per pound or so on the wrong side was made and the shippers refused to accept the orders for this reason.

NEW CROP NUTS.

Latest advices regarding nuts are to this effect: Tarragona almonds will be slightly lower than even the phenomenally low prices of last year. Filberts, on the other hand, will be half a cent per pound dearer than last year. Grenoble walnuts will cost about 10 or 15 francs more than last year, or say 1 to 1½c. per lb. The market has not opened yet. Marbot walnuts will cost half a cent per pound more than they did a year ago. Both Tarragona almonds and filberts, new crop, are due to arrive in November.

NEW VALENCIA RAISINS.

THE first shipment of new crop Valencia raisins are on the Toronto market this week. It was only a small shipment, coming in one car, and arrived on Monday.

There was some little competition among the various wholesale houses as to who would be the first to get a box in its warehouse. The honor of doing this fell to Perkins, Ince & Co., although Monday was a public holiday, they getting fifty boxes out of the car. On Tuesday morning the Eby, Blain Co. was the first to get a supply from the car, the entry being passed shortly after 9 o'clock. By noon, probably every house on the street had the new fruit in its warehouse.

The fruit is of excellent quality, and came just in time to be on view to the many country customers who are in the city this week.

The ruling prices are 6 to 6½c. for off-stalk and 7c. for selected fruit.

Cable advices received the early part of the week denote higher prices in the primary market. Bids that were made by local wholesalers on Saturday last brought back a cable counter offer of one shilling advance.

DIRECT FRUIT STEAMERS.

The following advices showing the sailing dates of the direct fruit steamers from Mediterranean ports to Montreal will be interesting to the trade. Cables on December 5 from Wm. Thomson & Sons, giving the probable sailing dates of the ss. Avlona, Bellona and Escalona are:

SS. Avlona	leaves	Patras	Sept.	10.

MALAGA GRAPES AND RAISINS.

Malaga grapes were cabled on Thursday from Liverpool by Smith & Crouch as bringing 11 to 13s. on the public sale. No interest, however, will be taken here for another month, or until domestic fruit is marketed.

W. C. Bevan & Co. state that the crop of Malaga raisins is larger and the quality better than last year, and advise late execution of orders. They report opening prices high, but claim they cannot be maintained.

HEAVY APPLE EXPORTS.

THE consignments of early fall Canadian apples to Great Britain this year have been unusually heavy.

The experiment is a new one and considerable doubts are entertained in Montreal regarding its success.

Up to this year practically all our export apple trade was done in the late fall and winter varieties, which possess special keeping qualities. The apples now going forward will of necessity have to be turned over promptly if they are to meet with success. If they drag on the Liverpool market at all, deterioration in quality and its consequent injurious results on the reputation of Canadian apples is bound to follow. It is this fear in view of the unusually heavy shipments that is bothering Montreal shippers at present.

So far, only one account sale has been received. This lot nets a moderate profit on the shipment, which, however, was not a large one.

Up to Monday over 22,133 barrels had gone forward, and it is expected that the exports for the present week will foot up over 15,000 barrels to Liverpool and Glasgow.

At this writing the Montreal market is dull and heavy at a range of 75c. to $2 per bbl. It may be interesting to note that cables on Tuesday quoted green apples down one shilling.

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. DONALD.

THE grocery trade of Toronto was probably never more shocked than it was on Friday last when it became known that Mr. Richard A. Donald, the well-known grocer in King street east, near St. Lawrence market, had dropped dead in his store that morning.

His snow-white hair, his ruddy and pleasant features, his striking figure, were well-known to many citizens outside the grocery trade. He was not known to have had any ailment of any kind, and no one to have looked at him would have ever dreamed that he had. For a man of his age he was wonderfully well preserved. One would have thought that he would have outlived 50 per cent. of the men who were not half his age.

On the morning of his death he appeared to be in his usual good health. He came down to business on his bicycle, which he had but recently learned to master. He was accompanied by his son, Mr. Richard Donald, and had barely entered the store when he was taken with what appeared to be a fainting spell. Medical Health Officer Sheard, whose office is almost directly across the street, was on the spot almost immediately, but in a few minutes Richard Donald was no more. All this took place within ten minutes after he had dismounted from his wheel. The cause of death was heart failure.

Mr. Donald was 67 years of age, and was born in Montrose, in Scotland. He came to this country in 1854 and went into business. For upwards of a quarter of a century he conducted the grocery business at 134 King street east. He leaves a widow and five children, four sons and a daughter, all of whom are living in Toronto. The eldest son, Mr. James P. Donald, is a manufacturer; Mr. Richard A. Donald is a partner in his father's business, and Messrs. Robert C. and Duncan Donald are barristers in the firm of Maclaren, Macdonald, Merritt & Shepley. Captain Duncan Donald is a captain and acting adjutant in the 48th Highlanders. His daughter is Mrs. E. P. Gordon, of Toronto.

The funeral was private and was held on Monday. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. P. Donald, Richard Donald, Jr., and Duncan Donald, sons of the deceased; Master Robert P. Donald, a grandson; David Fleming, a nephew, and Dr. E. P. Loudon, a son-in-law.

VISITING MERCHANTS.

THE past ten days has been a busy time around the wholesale grocery warehouses in Toronto. Never during any previous Industrial Exhibition have there been so many country merchants in the city, and the sample rooms of the various warehouses have been thronged with them. As a rule, their purchases have been fair, but not heavy. The travelers now cover every part of the country so thoroughly that extensive buying is not to be expected when the merchants visit the city. It is generally conceded, however, that the aggregate volume of trade is larger than it was a year ago at this time.

THE CANADIAN GROCER had a chat with a number of them, and secured the names of a great many others, but of course even the names of those obtained were only a very small proportion of those who graced the wholesale houses with their presence.

Mr. J. Bruebacher, of Elmira, who, by the way, was one of the prize-winners in THE GROCER'S tea essay contest two or three years ago, was in good spirits. The crops in his neighborhood were good, and everything was promising. "We have about the best land in the country," he declared enthusiastically. "Why, your farms down this way are not a patch upon them. The farmers up our way keep their farms like the people down this way do their lawns."

Mr. R. Johnstone, of R. Johnstone & Co., Sherbrooke, greeted me with the remark: "I am, to use a somewhat stereotyped expression, one of those who could not do without THE CANADIAN GROCER." Mr. Johnstone is a Montrealer who went to Sherbrooke to do business about five years ago. And well is he satisfied with his move. "Trade prospects in Sherbrooke are good," he declared with much earnestness. "We never had a boom there, and, consequently, we had not so far to fall as a good many other places. And any improvement in trade that takes place we're bound to gain by it. We seldom have a failure in Sherbrooke, and, when we do, it is generally someone who never should have been in business. One peculiar feature about Sherbrooke is this: We get good prices. There is a good deal of competition, but we do not cut each other's throats. Water power? O yes, we have an excellent water power. I was almost going to say the best in the country; but that would be an exaggeration. We have, however, one of the best. There is a great fall of water there. You see we have two good lakes, one 36 miles long and the other six, to feed the river."

Mr. H. T. Barker, one of Stratford's leading merchants, came to town with two of his sons, bright and intelligent boys. Mr. Barker was another of those who were in a happy frame of mind over the trade conditions. "Trade during the past month," he declared, "has been very good. In fact, we have had to work hard to keep up with it. The crops? Oh, they are good. And as for the apple crop, it is enormous. I have driven through the country in different directions in our neighborhood, and everywhere it is the same tale: branches bending over with fruit. The trade outlook is good. We seldom have a failure in Stratford. A good many merchants are doing business on a cash basis, and those doing a credit business are doing it on a great deal better basis than they formerly did. It now seems certain that the Grand Trunk shops there, which now employ 600 hands, will be enlarged, when it is expected that double that number of hands will be employed. There are no vacant houses in Stratford, and those being erected are all of a substantial character."

Mr. C. B. Dunke, of the firm of Dunke & Co., Berlin, said the crops were good and the outlook for fall trade bright, although one of the sore spots in Berlin's trade appears to be excessive competition.

Mr. H. W. Waddell, of Port Lambton, was also in good spirits over the trade prospects. "Apples are a good crop," he said, "and the farmers have almost completed harvesting." Mr. Waddell does a general business, and he is looking for a large trade this fall.

G. H. Johnston, of Pefferlaw, favored THE GROCER with a call last week. He says business is good, and crops in his section large, but prices low. He is looking for a large fall trade, and is a constant reader of THE GROCER, which he says he would not be without.

Thos. J. Widden, of Port Perry, was among the visitors to the Exhibition last week. He anticipates a good fall trade and is doing well at present.

Mr. Hugh Ferguson, of Arthur, reported the hay crop in Wellington County better than it was last year, although it is still poor. "However, we shall have plenty of feed with one thing and another for the stock the coming winter. There is a great deal of stock in our part of the country. The cereal crops are good. Prices are low, but we are used to that now. Business has been quiet this summer, but we are looking for a good fall and winter's trade."

Mr. R. C. Brumpton, of Chesley, was in Toronto on Tuesday. He came in primarily to buy goods. He has recently bought out the business of D. Montgomery, of that place. Mr. Brumpton has, up till recently, been living in the Red Deer district, Northwest Territories.

"Business is fairly good," remarked Mr, Geo. Wallbridge, of Wallbridge & Clarke, Belleville, as he quietly puffed a cigar. "Belleville is as well off as most cities. Travelers tell me so, at any rate."

Among others noticed in the city: James McCrae, Guelph; W. J. Brumpton, Moorefield; W. A. Belyea, Southampton; Frank Schefter, of Herringer & Schefter, Mildmay; John King, Mount Forest; T. MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE past week has been a busy one around the wholesale warehouses of Toronto. Being the last week of the Industrial Exhibition great numbers of country merchants have been in the city, and probably the number who have visited the warehouses exceed that of any previous year. Although a few orders for carload lots have been left, yet, as a rule, orders were not large. As the representative of one house put it, "The travelers keep the merchants pretty well supplied, and they have no need to place the large orders that they formerly did during Fair time." A great deal of business was on the whole done, however, as most of the country merchants did some purchasing. The sugar market is still in an unsatisfactory condition as far as prices are concerned, London and New York having experienced further declines since our last review. Locally, the demand continues active. The first shipment of new crop Valencia raisins arrived on the market on Monday and the fruit is being distributed to the retail trade. Currants are in fairly good demand and higher in the primary market. New pack of "Horseshoe" salmon arrived on the local market on Tuesday.

CANNED GOODS.

New pack canned salmon reached the market on Tuesday, and is going out to the retail trade at $1.45. Transactions in canned salmon are being but sparingly carried on, business in this line being quieter than usual. For this season of the year there has been a fair enquiry for peas and tomatoes. We quote as follows: Tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.50 to $1.55; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 to $1.45; Lowe Inlet, $1.30 to $1.35, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.60 to $2.65; half tins, $1.55 to $1.60; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The local market is in rather light supply again of green Rio coffees of fine quality, but further shipments are near at hand. There is a fairly good enquiry. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15½ to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c. South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is still scarcely anything doing. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

The movement continues fair. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets ruled weak until towards the middle of the week, when beet advanced 3d. in London, and a stronger feeling ruled on the New York market. Prices at the refineries in Canada are slightly lower than they were last week, but a better feeling naturally now obtains in sympathy with the outside markets. There has been no recovery in price, however, the competition for business among the refineries being just now very keen. The demand for sugar is still brisk. We quote granulated as before at 4.25 to 4.35c., and yellows at from 3¼c. up.

SPICES.

The demand for pickling spices keeps good. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

There is scarcely anything doing in rice, but business is fairly active in tapioca and sago, in the former particularly. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

New Tarragona almonds will be slightly lower than a year ago, while Grenoble walnuts will cost more. Marbots will be cheaper. Locally there is no change to note. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts,

TEAS.

Shipments of China country green teas ex ss. Empress of Japan are on the way between this and Vancouver, samples having reached Toronto market this week. The market for Ping Suey teas opened August 15. New season's China black teas are arriving on the Toronto market freely; although they are not yet receiving much attention. Mail advices from Shanghai, under date of August 6, state that the settlements of black tea up to that time were 6,624 half-chests, compared with 14,422 a year ago; Ping Sueys, nil, compared with 84,504 half-chests; country teas, 21,546 half-chests, against 33,184 a year ago. India and Ceylon teas are firm and there is a better demand from local wholesalers. In the latter descriptions, however, wholesalers' stocks are pretty liberal and new Ceylon teas are rather slow. The retail demand is principally for Indian, Ceylon and Japan teas, and there is a fair movement. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants are higher and the market is active in Patras. A good deal of business has been done for Canada ex ss. Avlona, which sailed from Patras yesterday (Thursday) and proceeds to Denia to load raisins for Montreal. Locally, the demand continues good. We still quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 3⅞c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4 to 4⅛c.; do., half-bbls., 4⅛ to 4¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.

The first shipment of Valencia raisins, new crop, reached the Toronto and Hamilton markets on Monday ex ss. Patria. The fruit is of excellent quality and is meeting with a good demand. Shipments have also come to hand via Liverpool ex ss. Laurentian, which carried 2,250 boxes for Canada, 2,000 of which were the Rogers brand. We quote new fruit as follows: Off-stalk, 6 to 6½c.; selected 7c.

Sultana raisins are higher abroad, bright fruit selling at 24 to 26s., an advance of 6s. per cwt. on last year's quotations. Locally there is the usual steady demand, principally on bakers' account, at from 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

There is a complete absence of orders for new crop French and Turkish prunes, though the prices are exceedingly low, but importers appear to think our large fruit crop at home will greatly interfere with consumption, although some seem to think that the importance of this is over-estimated, particularly as California peaches and other fruits of that state are much higher than last year. We quote nominally as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

In California fruits, this season's business has begun in a small way. Raisins are firm with a scarcity of four-crown loose muscatels. Apricots are already offering in carload lots at prices which show considerable reduction on last year's figures, but it is thought that prices will not be lower than they are to-day. There is nothing doing yet in new season's California prunes. We quote wholesale prices nominally as follows: Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c., in bags, and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

Advices state that the fig crop will be smaller than last year, but prices will be no higher.

In regard to Malaga raisins, W. C. Bevan & Co. advise their agents in Toronto that the crop is larger and of better quality than last year, and advise late execution of orders. Opening prices are high, but it is claimed they cannot be maintained.

are higher. Lemons are unchanged and plentiful. Bananas are plentiful and lower in price. The season is over for watermelons. Shipments of Jersey sweet potatoes are on the market this week. These are the first of these kind this season, and there is a good enquiry for them. We quote ; Lemons—Messina, $4.50 to $5. Oranges—Rodis, $7 per box. Bananas, $1 to $1.25 ; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per doz. ; Egyptian onions, $2 per bag ; cucumbers, 12½ to 15c. per basket ; tomatoes, Canadian, 10 to 15c. per basket, 15 to 25c. per bushel ; Jersey sweeet potatoes, $3.25 to $3.50 ; apples, 75c. to $1.25 per bbl. ; pears, 30 to 40c. per basket for Bartletts ; peaches, 75c. to $1 per basket for Crawfords ; plums, 25 to 60c. ; grapes, 15 to 25c. per basket ; musk melons, 50 to 60c. per case.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The demand is good for choice butter, but the proportion of that desired coming forward is small. Prices are about the same as a week ago. We quote : Dairy butter—Tubs, 13 to 14c. for good to choice ; low grade to medium, 7 to 11c. ; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c. ; pound prints, 15 to 16c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c. 1-lb. blocks, 19 to 21c., according to make.

CHEESE—Prices are firmer. The demand locally is not heavy. We quote 8¾ to 9c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Dull and nominal at 75c.

DRIED APPLES—Nothing doing and quotations unchanged at 3 to 4c., according to quality.

EVAPORATED APPLES—No movement, and 5½ to 6½c. are merely nominal quotations.

EGGS—There is a firmer feeling Good eggs are scarce owing to the exports that are being made. The idea as to price is 12c.

HONEY—Quiet at $1.75 per dozen for comb, and 8 to 9c. per lb. for strained in 10 and 50-lb. tins.

POTATOES—The demand is still being principally supplied by the farmer at about 45c. per bag.

PROVISIONS.

There has been a very large demand for long clear bacon, and packers are looking for an advance in prices. Business is still active in smoked meats.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots ; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c. ; rolls, 7c. ; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9½ to 10c. ; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11c. ; small hams, 11 to 11½c. ; backs, 9½ to 10c. ; picnic hams, 7c. ; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 6½c. ; tubs, 6¾c. ; pails, 7c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50 ; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13 ; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN — Deliveries are still coming in well. We quote : White wheat, 65c. ; red, 65 to 66c. ; goose, 49½c. ; oats, 20 to 22c. ; peas, 45c.

FLOUR—Quotations are the same as a week ago, but there is a stronger feeling on account of the heavy exports of wheat and flour. The local demand is fair. We quote in carloads on track, Toronto: Manitoba patents, $3.85 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.45; Ontario patents, $3.75 to $3.85. Straight roller is quoted at $3.10 to $3.15, Toronto freights.

BALED HAY—The demand is good for choice at $10.75 to $11.25 in car lots delivered at Toronto.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is much the same as a week ago. We quote : Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.60 ; rolled wheat, $2 to $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

SALT.

Trade continues good at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto : In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack ; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote : F.O.B. barrels, 70c. ; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

PETROLEUM.

Business continues to improve, particularly in illuminating oils. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto : Canadian, 15½c. ; carbon, safety, 17c. ; Canadian water white, 17c. ; American water white, 19½c. ; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

The following prices are being paid by Toronto dealers : Hides, No. 1, 5c. ; No. 2, 4c. ; No. 3, 3c. ; Calfskins, No. 1, 5 to 6c. ; No. 2, 5c, ; wool fleece, 18 to 19c. ; sheepskin, 50c. ; tallow, rendered, 3½ to 4c.

MARKET NOTES.

The season is over for watermelons.

Sultana raisins are 6s. higher than a year ago.

The flour market is firmer on account of an increased export demand.

A further slight advance has taken place in oranges on the local market.

Samples of country green teas are on the market this week, and the shipments are on the way between here and Vancouver.

New season's Valencia raisins are on the market, and they are going into consumption.

New season's "Horseshoe" brand of canned salmon reached the Toronto market on Tuesday.

Currants are dearer in Patras. The Avlona left Patras yesterday for Denia en route for Montreal.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been more activity displayed during the past week in the general grocery market. Demand for sugar has been quite active, but the fact has not induced any firmness in prices, which continue easy. Syrups have been more active also, and there has been more desire to operate in dried fruit for forward shipment. The general tendency of prices on the latter is firm, as noted elsewhere. Molasses exhibit an easier tendency, with lower offers on round lots. Teas in a distributive way have furnished a larger volume of business, while prices are steady. The easy feeling in canned vegetables continues and has rather checked the demand, though there is no quotable change in values to note. Provisions remain much as they were, while the feature in produce is the speculative demand for cheese, which has forced up prices ¾ of a cent and the decline of fully 1c. in buyers bids for creamery butter.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has continued easy and unsettled and frequent fluctuation in the raw article has not been calculated to dispel this feeling. Locally the demand has shown decided improvement, an active business passing during the past eight or ten days. The fact, however, did not lead to much firming up in refiners' views. On the contrary, toward the close of last week they accepted orders involving quite a quantity of granulated on the basis of 4 1-16c., and it is just possible, also, that this figure has been shaded and business done at the even figure. There has been less change in yellows, but low grades have sold at 3c. in round lots. In a jobbing way prices are quotable as follows : Granulated, 4¼ to 4⅜c., and yellows, 3⅛ to 3¾c. as to grade, the outside for very bright stock.

SYRUPS.

There has been a better demand for syrups, but the market is still far from being active. Prices rule steady at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market continues quiet and with rather heavy stocks values have an easy tendency, though no quotable change can be reported. A round lot of 500 puncheons of Porto Rico, at 27½ to 28c. laid down, has been the only important sale. Barbadoes can also be had in round lots at 27½ to 28c. In a jobbing way, however, the price is unchanged at 30 to 31c. as to quantity.

RICE.

The rice market continues firm under an active demand, and prices are well maintained. We quote : Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There is no new feature in the spice market. Demand is of a very quiet jobbing character. We quote : Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c. ; pure white, 15 to 22c. ; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c. ; cloves, 15 to 20c. ; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c. ; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c. ; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb. ; allspice, 10 to 14c. ; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market remains quiet and prices have a rather steadier feeling, and it looks as though bottom had been touched on Maracaibo. Sales of this grade have been made at 16½c. in round lots, which may be considered an extreme inside price. We quote : Rio, 16½ to 17½c. ; Maracaibo, 16½ to 17½c. ; Java, 24 to 27c., and Mocha, 23 to 28c.

TEAS.

There has been a better demand for tea from retailers during the week, especially for medium Japans, considerable quantities of which have been sent out in this province, and also in western Ontario. Between houses in a large way, however, trade has been extremely quiet. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous,

WHOLESALE IMPORTING AND MANUFACTURING GROCERS

TORONTO - CANADA

11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been more activity in California raisins during the week and values have a more settled tendency. In fact, wholesale houses have, within the past eight days, contracted a large quantity of stock for October delivery. On the basis of primary cost these fruits are now being offered for future delivery as follows: 2-crown, 5 to 5¼c.; 3-crown, 6 to 6½c.; and 4-crown 7 to 7½c.

Valencia raisins are firm and the first shipments will cost laid down fully 1c. per pound more than the prices which have recently ruled on spot, fine off-stalk being offered for forward delivery at 6 to 6½c. It is understood that considerable business has been put through on this basis.

There is little to note in regard to currants, but we understand that business for future delivery in new crop has transpired which is about equivalent to 4c. in barrels for provincials.

Advices on prunes continue very firm. Bosnias are cabled 2s. up from the lowest, and French imperial plums are 1s. or about ¼c. per pound higher at primary markets. Prices on French and American on spot are more or less nominal. California prunes are offering at 6 to 11c., as to grade. Advices with regard to Oregon prunes indicate a light offering, and it is anticipated that Santa Clara Californias will be high. Some good sized sales of the latter for forward delivery have transpired.

Evaporated California fruits have also opened up fairly active for future delivery. Peaches are quotable at 8½c. up; apricots, 12½c. up, and pears, 9c. up, according to grade.

Figs are quiet at 9 to 10c. for ordinary, and 13 to 17c. for fancy.

Dates continue as before at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

Business in nuts continues quiet. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c.; Brazils, 11c.; almonds, 10½ to 11c.; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

The easy feeling already noted in canned vegetables continues, and the fact has rather interfered with the demand. We quote: Tomatoes, 65 to 75c.; corn, 65 to 75c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a fair degree of activity in green fruit. Seasonable fruit of all kinds move with freedom. Heavy consignments of apples are going forward to Great Britain, and there is some doubt entertained as to the results. Prices on spot have declined 25c. to 75c. to $2 as to quality. Peaches are steady, with a fair demand at 50c. to $1. Plums are 10c. easier under increased receipts at 30 to 40c. per basket. Bananas can be had for almost any price, 75c. per bunch being a nominal quotation. Lemons are quiet and steady, $2 to $3.50 per box. The only oranges offering are Jamaicas, which sell at $6 to $6.50 per bbl. as to quality. Some Malaga fruits are on the way, but it is impossible to state what they will offer at.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The firm feeling in eggs is maintained and prices have scored a further advance of 1c., choice candled selling at 11¼ to 11½c., and seconds 8½ to 9c.

BEANS—Demand for beans continues slow and values are steady at 70 to 75c., in car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a small way.

HOPS—Business quiet and prices steady at 5 to 7c.

HONEY—Remains quiet at 10 to 12c. per lb.

POTATOES—There is no change in these, prices holding steady at 35 to 40c. per bag.

DRIED APPLES—Quiet and steady at 3 to 3½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—The same remarks apply to these, which are held at 5½ to 6c.

BALED HAY — The market has ruled weak and prices are now $1 per ton lower than they were a week ago, No. 1 offering at $10.50 and No. 2. at $9.50.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market has ruled quiet, the only changes of importance being a a further decline in lard and a better feeling in hams. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $10 to $10.25; Canadian short cut, mess, $10.25 to $10.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7 to 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been a fairly active trade in flour during the week, and prices are precisely as they were. A feature has been the export demand for Manitoba grades, both from Australia and Great Britain, some 10,000 sacks being put through on the former and 8,000 on the latter account during the week. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.50.

There was no change in oatmeal, business being quiet and prices about steady, rolled in car lots offering at $2.50 in bags and at $2.60 in barrels. We quote: Standard, bbls., $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls., $2.90; rolled oats, bbls., $2.50 to $2.60.

The demand for feed continues good and the market rules active and steady. We

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The speculators have again taken hold of the cheese market, and rushed up prices with a vengeance, paying advances of ½ to ¾c. in the country over a week ago. The legitimate demand has not followed the rise at all, and the English market has to appreciate from 1 to 1¼c. per lb. at the very least to be on a parity with values on this side. This, so far, it has shown no signs of doing. We quote 9 to 9½c. as the nominal range, according to quality.

The weakness in butter continues, and buyers and sellers are apart as to value. In the Townships buyers have reduced their bids 1c. per pound, offering only 17c. for creamery against 18c. last week. Spot prices are nominal at 18c.

ASHES.

The receipts of ashes during the past week have been quite up to the average, but as the demand from abroad continues fair, stocks do not accumulate to any extent, consequently the general feeling, if anything, is better, and prices are fully maintained. We quote: Firsts, $3.50 to $3.55; seconds, $3.05 to $3.10; and pearls, $4.55 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Bosnia prunes are cabled up 2s. from the lowest point.

Cables on Malaga raisins estimate that they will open steady to firm.

It is anticipated that the yield of Oregon prunes will be light this season.

Advies on high-grade Santa Clara California prunes are strong in tone.

Cables on Tuesday from Liverpool on apples quoted green stock down one shilling.

Cables on Tuesday quoted French imperial plums 1s. per cwt., or ¼c. per pound, higher.

Round sales of granulated sugar were made at the refineries here at the close of last week at 4 to 4 1-16c. per pound.

lines to fall off. There is in beans and old wheat flour rather a firmer feeling. Canned goods are lower and almost all lines are weak. There is beginning to be the usual demand for lumber supplies, a number of crews already arranging to go into the woods. The booksellers as well as the grocers feel the growing effect of competition. The retailers here are trying to outdo each other in offering school books, a line which at best must be sold close. Labor Day (Monday, Sept. 7), was generally observed by the grocers. Among the wholesale men particularly many went out of town, the half day (Saturday) and the whole day (Monday) giving them a much appreciated holiday.

OIL—In cod oil receipts continue quite liberal. In burning oil the fall demand is starting, and some orders for future have been placed. The price seems steady after the late drop and little further change is looked for for some time. We quote: American burning oil, 21c.; best Canadian, 19½c.; prime, 17c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—Two small lots arrived from Boston by schooner. Market is quite bare and prices are firm at rather higher range. A growing demand is noticed for Canadian fine salt in bags. We quote: Coarse, 50c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $3; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz

CANNED GOODS—Each factory representative that comes cuts the price of corn, peas and tomatoes, and this week lower prices than ever were offered, but orders have been largely placed at rather higher figures. It is thought the very low prices will create a much larger demand than usual. Our vegetables have always been held much higher than those packed in the States, but it looks as if we would reach their prices if we do not do better this year. Good standard pack corn of last season is being retailed as low as 5½c. per can. In this particular it might be stated that on two cars a rebate was made owing to labels being somewhat damaged. In California fruit low prices are quoted, but there is little or no demand here. They quote shortage in many lines, such as cherries, raspberries, currants and blackberries, also they expect higher prices in apricots and peaches. Gallon apples are very low and easy. New canned blueberries, of which a large quantity have been packed, are being shipped freely to Boston. We quote: Corn, 70 to 80c.; peas, 75 to 80.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; gallon apples, $2 to $2.25; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.35 to $1.50; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3.10; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.75; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.25 $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 to $5.75 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

GREEN FRUIT—The interest at present is in apples, pears, plums and grapes. In apples the chief business at present is in New Brunswick stock, which is of good quality and low. A few American apples are still seen. The Nova Scotia apples so far to arrive are but fair. Gravensteins, their principal fall fruit, and which is such a splendid apple, will range very low, as will all apples. The pears most largely sold now are Canadian Bartletts, Californian being about out of the market. The size of the Canadian is very large; and the quality gives every satisfaction. In grapes and peaches the principal movement is in the Canadian article, large consignments arriving daily. The usual quantity of Delaware plums are to hand in large quantities and have good sale at low prices. From one orchard 500 baskets were picked in one day, and though but seven years old it is thought this year to get 3,000 baskets from it. We quote: Lemons, $6 to $6.25; Valencia oranges, $7 to $8; bananas, $1.50 to $2.90; grapes, 40 to 60c. per basket; California plums, $2 to $2.25; peaches, $1.25 to $1.75; apples, $1 to $2 per bbl.; keg grapes, $5 to $6; Bartlett pears, $4.50 to $7; N. S. plums, 30 to 40c.

DRIED FRUIT—This is still a quiet line. Valencia raisins are daily expected. Some few cars of California loose muscatels for early shipment have been bought at a delivered price. Four crown are held more firm than three. First shipments of peels are to hand, and show good quality. Market is short on cocoanuts. In peanuts best grades are rather lower. Merchants begin to give more attention to nuts, showing that the holiday season is again approaching. In onions, American now have the market. Evaporated apples, new, tend lower. Old, dried, are a drug. We quote: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; currants, cases, 4 to 4½c.; bbls., 3¾ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; dried apples, 4 to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½ to 7c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 1¾c.; American onions, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—While butter is firmer dealers do not care to pay the price asked by creameries and real first-class dairy is hard to get at any price. Farmers are holding butter for higher prices. Cheese shows little or no change. Stocks are not large. The Prince Edward Island factories have sold their July cheese for 8 to 8⅜c.—some thousand boxes. They are being shipped to England via Halifax. In eggs stocks have moved off more freely than last season and less complaint has been heard as to quality. Price shows no change. We quote: Dairy butter, 17 to 18c.; new creamrey, prints, 20 to 22c.; do., tubs, 18 to 20c. Cheese, 9c. Eggs 9 to 10c.

SUGAR—Prices continue at the low figures. There is a fairly steady demand. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4½c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—The cargo of Porto Rico referred to last week is to hand and is offered low, but finds little demand. The West Indian steamer brought but a small quantity of St. Croix and Barbadoes. Movement is light and importation large, and sales were pushed while the goods were landing. A better demand is noticed for New Orleans in barrels, which is offered low. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Receipts have been better during the week, particularly in dried. This has made prices rather easier. A good demand is noticed. Upward of 10,000 boxes old smoked herring arrived and sold low. For bloaters a good demand continues at fair prices. It is the one bright spot in smoked herring. Pickled fish come in slowly, and, as yet, there are small sales. Fresh cod and haddock are good receipts. For some time fair quantities of fresh sturgeon have been shipped to Boston, but the season is about over. Pickled shad (fall caught) are scarce, and there is good sale. We quote: Large cod, $3.40 to $3.55; medium, $3 to $3.25; pollock, $1.20 to $1.25; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; smoked, 4 to 5c.; shad, half-bbl, $4.50 to $5; Shelburne, $2.75 bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; Canso, 4c.; bloaters, 60c. per box.

PROVISIONS—Pork, which it was thought would show improvement, continues low. Quite a quantity of American lard is coming into this market. In pure lard there is quite a range in price. Stocks are still large. Beef shows steady price. A better all-round demand is noticed. The trade fail to understand the advance in hams. Roll is light sale. We quote: Clear pork, $12.75 to $13.50; mess, $13 to $13.50; beef, $12.50 to $13; hams, 11 to 12c.; rolls, 7½ to 8c.; pure lard, tubs, 7 to 8½c.; compound, 6½ to 7¼c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Flour shows steady price and fair sales, except low grades, which are hard to sell. Feed also moves slow. In oatmeal no change in price is noted, but there is an increasing demand. In oats prices of new will rule low. Both in this province and P. E. Island crops are large. Cornmeal, owing to competition, is again quoted rather lower, but there is a very free sale. Beans, while they continue to hold advance west, show little change here and stocks are large. Hay shows but light movement. Crops have turned out fair. Some demand is noticed for buckwheat meal. Large quantities of corn for grinding are arriving. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.00 to $4.20; medium, $3.95 to $4.00; oatmeal, $2.90 to $3.10; cornmeal, $1.90 to $2; middlings, car lots, in bulk, $14 to $15; bran, do do, $13 to $14; hand-picked beans, $1; prime, 90c.; oats, 30 to 32c.; hay, $13 to 14; barley, $3.50; round peas, $1.15; split peas, $3.30 to $3.50; yellow eye beans, $1.75; buckwheat meal, $1.25.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Tignish, P.E.I., had a $100,000 fire last week, some 40 buildings being destroyed.

McAffee & Loomer have received a large consignment of pickled shad, fall caught.

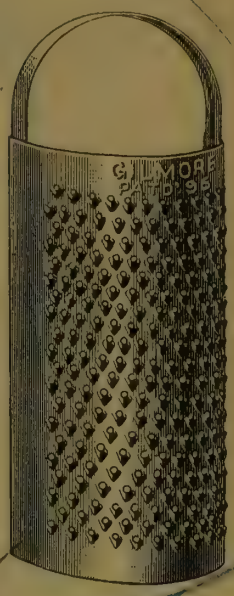
Some grocers are disappointed not seeing Mr. Boulter, who has been expected here for some weeks.

Large quantities of corn for grinding is now coming in, upwards of 30 cars arriving during the week.

The committee of the grocers' picnic handed the treasurer of the park funds $100 as the result of the day's outing.

J. Hunter White, agent for Beardsley's shredded cod fish, reports that the usual fall demand is opening early this year.

The present outlook is that the Woodstock and Centreville railway, which has been under consideration for so long, will be completed at once.



Str. Taymouth Castle, arriving this week, brought 40 Chinamen, who, except one, were on their way home. The one remaining here paid the $50 Government charge. The steamer brought 41 hhds. and 75 casks lime juice; also 150 casks limes for Boston, 260 bags cocoanuts for Ontario, 18 casks St. Croix molasses and 25 puns. Barbadoes molasses. Her outward cargo from here was a heavy one.

The packers of Nova Scotia apples have been advised by H. Bamford, manager for D. D. Pankhurst, of London, not to nail the heads in so much, but to use a small lining hoop.

Last season reference was made by THE CANADIAN GROCER to a project to cut and press hay for the English market by Amherst parties. A company has been formed this fall and a machine bought which cuts about four tons per hour. Beside filling a demand, much is saved in freight, as thus prepared the hay occupies only half the space per ton. The company will also grade hay. In this way they expect to get a better price for the best qualities.

The Chatham Board of Trade met this week and elected delegates to the Maritime Board of Trade, which will shortly meet here. The matter of cold storage was talked over. The present project is for a central warehouse in St. John and four auxilaries, one of which will be at Woodstock and one at Moncton. The location of the other two has not yet been decided upon. A committee was appointed to see what could be done in regard to having Chatham selected as one of the two remaining points. Sussex is making a move to have one of the warehouses built there.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

WARREN BROS. & CO. expect their shipment of green Rio coffee, fine selection, to arrive daily. The greater portion of it has been sold to arrive, but another shipment is nearly due.

John Sloan & Co. are in receipt of a new shipment of candied peel.

In the vinegar trade T. A. Lytle & Co. are holding their own against all comers. Quality tells.

"Tryphosa," the new instantaneous jelly, is having a large sale. Robert Greig & Co. are agents.

"Flagship" salmon is being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol at a close figure. Get their quotations.

The Alcides unloaded a large shipment of Dandicolle & Gaudin's French preserved goods for Robert Greig & Co. last week.

W. H. Dunn, St. Paul street, Montreal, has just received this week a carload of Babbitt's soap. Quotations on application.

In a Japan tea to retail at 25c. W. H. Gillard & Co. have a large assortment, which they state contains values unexcelled.

The Pure Gold Mfg. Co., with their characteristic push, have secured sole control for Canada of the Gilmore patent grater, and are putting it up with 1-lb. tins of Vienna coffee, so that each consumer gets one free with each tin.

The experience of the grocer referred to in the advertisement of Bart. Cottam & Co., on page 26, is worthy the consideration of our readers.

Robert Greig & Co. have booked some large orders this week for "Crown" extracts. This favorite brand is daily growing in popularity.

Laporte, Martin & Cie., Montreal, received a shipment of "Golden" finnan haddies this week. They report a good trade in that brand.

A consignment of prepared American mustard in fancy pots and glass sugar bowls and butter dishes arrived this week for the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.

Dixon's carburet of iron stove polish is meeting with a steady demand in Canada, we are informed by the agents, W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton.

Clemes Bros. have this week received a shipment of Jersey sweet potatoes. This is the first shipment of the kind this season, and the quality is fine.

Some excellent values in Assam and Ceylon teas are being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol at 17 to 18c. A few extra choice ones at 30 to 32c.

The enterprising firm of Keen, Robinson & Co., London, England, have issued several new and attractive show cards. Their latest for Keen's mustard, entitled "Tickets

P. C. Larkin & Co., the packers of "Salada" tea are shipping "Ideal" tea packing machines to Colombo, Ceylon, and to Liffiton & Co. Montreal.

"L. P. & Co." brand whole mixed spice contains mace, penang cloves, white pepper and nine other varieties. Lucas, Steele & Bristol's men have samples.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., has sold its exhibit of "Kolona" tea at the Fair to T. W. Dutton, grocer, Queen street west, Toronto. There is 1,000 pounds of tea in the exhibit.

H. P. Eckardt & Co., Toronto, are offering the "Golden" finnan haddies. They have received a new lot this week. They say sales of "Golden" haddies are increasing.

The reason why the "Gem" stove paste is a success is because the F. F. Dalley Co. has overcome the trouble of a stove paste drying up and the frost affecting it in the winter season. It does not rust the tin, will keep in any climate, gives a beautiful polish to the stove, with little or no labor, which will last.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are offering their "Diamond" baking powder at a greatly reduced price, and anyone knowing the sterling value of this article must consider it a snap.

The new "Sun Paste" stove polish, made by the proprietors of the "Rising Sun" stove polish, is put up in the most attractive sort of packages possible, and dealers appreciate goods which make a fine appearance on the shelves.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., report the arrival of their import orders for medium grade new Japan teas. They have a large shipment of very fine Congou teas, which they are offering at exceptionally low prices.

Mr. J. H. Magor, of the firm of Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, has this summer visited every city and large town in Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and reports that the various lines handled by this firm are meeting with a ready sale, and that business in grocery circles has now assumed an upward tendency.

Enormous quantities of corrugated paper packing are used in the cases of the "Rising Sun" stove polish. The goods are packed in the neatest and most careful manner, and reach the storekeeper in the best possible condition.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, write that they will forward to any grocer in Canada, charges prepaid, an assortment of new show cards just received from the manufacturers of Keen's mustard and Keen's Oxford blue; also of other leading grocery houses represented by them.

"If grocers," writes a reader, "would back up the extensive advertising of some of the well-known packet goods by an immediate and very prominent display of the goods, they would often be surprised at the result. In this way many of the large advertisements in the daily papers may be made to serve as a direct advertisement for the grocer."

There's not much difference . . .

in price, but a wonderful difference in quality, between reliable goods such as ours and the unreliable product of unknown canners. There's another difference to be considered, too—the difference between satisfied and dissatisfied customers. Put our goods to any test you please. They will stand it.

THE LATE WM. RYAN.

THE death of Mr. W. Ryan, the well-known pork packer and provision merchant of Toronto, was not unexpected. He had been ill for some time, but it came as a shock to the provision and grocery trades of the city and country.

By his death a well-known figure is removed. He began business in Toronto twenty-five years ago in the old Corn Exchange building, now the site of the Imperial Bank. In those early days he principally handled flour. It was in 1874 that he embarked in the produce and commission business. When in 1881 he removed to 70 to 72 Front street east, which he occupied up to the time of his death, he added pork packing as a branch of his business.

At one time, in conjunction with his brother, the late Collector of Customs Ryan, of Montreal, he did the largest cheese and butter exporting trade on this side of the Atlantic.

The deceased was a thorough business man, and one of his peculiarities was the quickness with which he acted in business transactions.

He was a big-hearted man, and was liberal in his charity. Ireland was the land of his birth, but he came to this country with his parents when a mere lad.

THE CANADIAN GROCER extends its sympathy to the afflicted family.

The business will be carried on by the executors under the style of Wm. Ryan & Co., with Mr. James T. Madden, who had been in the late Mr. Ryan's employ since 1879, as manager.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. E. Ganong, of the St. Croix Soap Co., St. Stephen, N.B., is in Toronto this week.

"Commodore" Lucas is back again in Hamilton with his fine yacht Zelma. He is looking well sunburnt.

Mr. W. H. Gillard, of W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, was in Toronto this week paying his respects to his brother wholesalers.

L. E. Geoffrion, one of the partners of L. Chaput, Sons & Co., Montreal, is away on a holiday enjoying the sea breezes on the Maine coast.

At the Niagara Golf Tournament Mr. Bristol, of Hamilton, held his end up well against the experienced players. It is hard to beat the grocers at anything.

TO INSPECT SICILY FRUIT.

A movement is now on foot in Sicily for a system of inspection of fruit intended for exportation, which may, if generally adopted, remove the source of a good deal of past and present difficulties in the trade of this country. One of the leading causes of the heavy losses in the lemon trade here this season was the inferior quality of the fruit shipped from Sicily. Advices have recently been received that arrangements for preventing shipments of poor fruit another season have already been perfected at Catania, Italy, and similar plans have been proposed at Palermo and several other prominent export depots. The Societa Agrumaria Etnea and the Unione Agrumaria, of Catania, have united in establishing an inspection bureau, which will inspect all fruit intended for export to America, and issue certificates to the exporters of all such fruit as is considered merchantable and suitable for shipment to foreign markets. These certificates will be required as a requisite for shipment of the fruit.—Journal of Commerce.

A shipment of English orange and lemon peel is on the way to Canada from John Greenhalgh, Ltd., of Redditch, one of the new firms competing this season for the Canadian trade.

PRACTICAL BUSINESS ORGANISER

IN conversation with one of the keenest of business men and critics the other day, says The Northwest Merchant, the affairs of a certain widely-known and very extensive wholesale house of the Northwest were mentioned. "That concern," said the critic, "is a case of one-man power. The head of it is so thoroughly imbued with the idea that every transaction must come under his personal observation and be passed upon by himself, that he is not only working himself to death, but it actually interferes with the efficiency of everybody under him. There are two classes of men who have made conspicuous success—one is the believer in this one-man power business and the other is the practical organizer. The latter knows good men when he sees them ; he thoroughly organizes every department of his business and places a man over each who knows how to run it, and then he lets him run it, holding him accountable for results only. If the head of such a concern leaves business for a month he is not haunted with the idea that it will go to eternal smash before he returns. The other man believes in assuming all responsibility and, so far as he can, in doing all the work. I have seen many of them doing work which they could hire a $25-a-week man to do equally as well ; and the business conducted by these men depends so largely upon their actual and continued personal supervision that the loss of it for only a brief time means disorganization and possible collapse. Bankers are beginning to realize that the man with a faculty for organization and who builds up a business that can be conducted in his absence and not be disrupted at his death, is the safest man to loan money to. They are beginning to inquire more than ever whether the business on which they are expected to risk their capital is one that will stop when one man ceases to turn the crank."

FISH FREEZING.

LAKE fish—whitefish and trout—have been supplied to the markets of the country after the close of the fishing season by the fishermen on the great lakes since the year 1868, says a writer in "Ice and Refrigeration." Before that time, when navigation closed in the fall with the coming of ice in the straits and the harbors, the supply of fish pretty generally ceased; but in 1868 a few tons of whitefish were frozen artificially, and since then the business has steadily increased from year to year, the estimated quantity handled in 1893 being 3,000 tons.

In freezing fish the stock should be perfectly fresh and should be frozen quickly and at a low temperature, as freezing does not improve the quality of the stock, but simply prevents its decay. The time occupied in freezing in "the Davis freezing pans" is generally about six hours, when the pans are properly packed.

These freezing pans are made of No. 24 Junietta galvanized iron, 28 inches long, 14 inches wide and 3 inches deep, fitted with a cover two and a half inches deep. The corners of the cover and pan should be turned, riveted and soldered, so as to be water tight.

The fish are packed in pans, backs up, so that when the cover is put on it will be in contact with the iron and the freezing mixture in contact with the metal to produce rapid freezing.

After the fish are placed in the pans, these are packed in non-conducting boxes or bins, between alternate layers of fine ice and salt, where they remain until the fish are frozen solid. About thirty pounds of Diamond salt to 100 pounds of ice is a good proportion. It should be well mixed, and should be put into the bins in layers about four inches thick, between the two layers of pans. This produces a temperature almost as low as zero F. on the outside surface of the pans, and the fish being in contact with the inside of the pan, it will be readily understood that the fish will freeze very quickly. After the fish are frozen they are removed from the pans to the storage-room.

Naturally at this low temperature, the fish being moist, they freeze solidly together, and also to the pan. To remove them pour cold water on the pan, which will draw the frost sufficiently from the iron to allow them to be removed without breaking a scale.

After the fish are taken from the freezing pans, it is necessary to put them in the cold storage-room as soon as possible, but before they are stored away they should be dipped in ice water for a moment, which will cover them with a thin film of ice, about a thirty-second of an inch in thickness. It makes no difference how low the temperature is, there is a certain amount of evaporation going on all the time, and by coating the fish in this way it prevents the evaporation of the juices of the fish just so long as the coating lasts. Fish frozen and treated in this manner, and kept in a temperature of 12 degrees below the freezing point of water, can be perfectly preserved for four to five months, in a perfect condition. Fish not treated in this manner in a very short time get discolored and lose their flavor.

The temperature of the storage room should be about 20 degrees, or 12 degrees below the freezing pont. The cakes of fish should be put in boxes, in which case the chances for evaporation are very much reduced, and the fish keep better.

It is best to always freeze fish just as soon as it is possible to get them from the water, since the fresher they are, the finer the flavor, and this flavor does not deteriorate in freezing. It is impossible to put a coating of ice on the fish, after they are taken out of the freezing pans, of sufficient thickness to last for a length of time more than stated, owing to the great evaporation in the storage-rooms.

Fish dry out about two and a half pounds to the hundred in freezing, but gain five pounds in a hundred by the coating process.

It is not necessary to dress fish before freezing. The less fish are handled the firmer they will remain. Fish in the natural state handle and look better than dressed stock.

The above description is freezing by what is known as the dry process, and is used by all dealers in the United States and Canada, all patents having expired.

A process of freezing fish in ice, patented in 1880 by the author, may be deemed worthy of notice. By it the fish are handled and go through the same process of freezing as above described, except that they are packed in fine pulverized ice in the pans before being frozen, and when taken out of the pans the fish are so solidly embedded and frozen therein that they are a part of the crystallized water; in fact, they are hermetically sealed and encased in a crystal jacket. Fish thus frozen and preserved have all the appearance of stock just taken from the water, as everything belonging to the fish is in the same natural condition that it was when alive in its native element, except that animation is suspended by the packing and refrigerating process; and so long as they are kept in this state there will be no change in their color, texture or taste, for they are hermetically sealed in ice; there is no chance for evaporation to take place, and the fish retain all their flavor and juices, and can be kept for ages in a fresh and perfect state.

"At the beginning of the present century a Siberian hunter discovered an entire mammoth frozen in a mass of ice, and another has since been found, both of which were so perfectly preserved that microscopic examinations of sections of some of the tissues were able to be made. It was found in Siberia, and the bones were set up and are now in the museum at St. Petersburgh," says the "Encyclopedia Britannica," Vol. VIII., page 125, ninth edition, under the heading of "Fossil Elephants."

"In 1800 a Russian naturalist, Gabriel Sarytschen, discovered the body of a mammoth wrapped up in a shroud of ice, and the body was in a complete state of preservation, for the permanent contact of the ice had kept out the air and prevented decomposition; the waters had disengaged the mammoth, which had been imprisoned in ice for thousands of years," says "The World Before the Deluge," by Louis Figuir.

The inference from the quotations is obvious.

EMPLOYES AND LONG SERVICE.

IT always speaks well for a house that it keeps its employes a long time. Such a condition of affairs indicates a good selection at the start, fair treatment and faithful service. In the Old Country long connection between employer and employe is regarded as a favorable omen on both sides, and a man likes to quote lengthy, continuous service as showing steady merit on his part and the permanence and stability of the house.

Though we have not in Canada firms as long-established as those across the ocean, we seem to be in a fair way of following the safe old ways of British trade in this respect. The other day The Review had the curiosity to enquire of John Macdonald & Co. what the experience of this big house was in the matter of long terms of service. The answer showed that a careful record was kept of the dates when employes entered the office or the warehouse, and that an accurate statement could, if desired, be made up. Thinking the result would be of general interest, the courteous offer was accepted, and the details are here presented.

Taking the cases of employes who have been ten years and longer with the firm, the list begins with one man who has been there for 27 years. This is a long record. Two have been in the house for 22 years; two for 17 years; one for 16 years; four for 15 years; six for 14 years; one for 13 years; eight for 12 years, and six for 10 years. Men like this must naturally grow to be a part of the house, share the pride in its success, and make their own and their employers' interests identical.

The shorter records—short only by comparison—indicate the same permanence of connection. Five employes have been with the firm for 9 years; five others for 8 years; two for 7 years; seven for 6 years; four for 5 years; seven for 4 years; two for 3 years, and two for 2 years. Not less remarkable is the fact that of eighty employes now with John Macdonald & Co. thirty-seven have never been in any other house.

Taken altogether, this is a striking and creditable record, one from which neither the firm nor its staff need shrink, and The Review would be glad to chronicle others if they are forthcoming.—Canadian Dry Goods Review.

A WORTHY MAN DEAD.

Editor GROCER,—I see no mention in THE GROCER of the death of Alex. Taylor, general merchant, of Dromore, popularly called "The Laird o'Dromore," which occurred recently. His untimely death will be greatly regretted by hundreds of business men and travelers by whom he was highly respected. He was an extraordinary man. Beginning in a small way about 30 years ago, his success was phenomenal. I should like to see his life fittingly sketched by someone competent to furnish particulars. Such material would furnish the best possible stimulus and encouragement to those of us who are following after. It would be hard to find his equal for energy and push and all-round business ability, and he was always kind and hospitable in his home.

Yours, etc.,
F. W. VANLUVEN.

Battersea, Sept. 12, 1896.

REMARKS:—If any of our readers will furnish us with a sketch of the late Mr. Taylor we will gladly publish it.

SCOTCH HERRINGS.

Editor GROCER,—Our friends, Marshall & Co., Aberdeen, inform us that they are now shipping the new season catch of finest selected kippers, fresh herrings, bloaters, and herrings in tomato, anchovy and shrimp sauce, in tins. They have also packed a large quantity of "Crown" brand salt herrings in barrels, halfs, firkins and kegs, of large and medium fulls, this season's catch, to meet the heavy demand from the Canadian market for their packing. They write that they have selected only the finest fish, of which their fleet of over one hundred craft have made a splendid catch.

ENGLISH PEELS THE FAVORITES.

A new order of things promises to rule on the Toronto market in regard to candied peels. Heretofore Leghorn peels have enjoyed the popular favor, but during the ensuing campaign it appears there will be little sold in lemon and orange peels except English goods. The reason advanced is that the latter are showing better quality.

There are, it appears, many factories competing this year for the Canadian trade, and on account of this rivalry buyers will have the advantage of close prices. Some shipments are already on the way.

PENAL OFFENCE TO COMPARE PRICES.

A rather drastic law has gone into operation in Germany. It makes it a penal offence, according to a contemporary, to compare prices, in public advertisements, with those of a competitor; to use the firm name or device of a competitor in a misleading manner; to induce an employe of a competitor to disclose any information which may have been confided to him; to retail certain goods contrary to agreement with the manufacturer, etc. Penalties range from six months' imprisonment to a fine of 3,000 marks. Editors and publishers, as well as printers of newspapers, periodicals and circulars, become liable as well as the authors of offences against the new law. It may be questioned whether prohibition of the first of the offences specified is not an extreme limitation of rights; but in other cases it seems to us just that some penalty other than a judgment obtained under a civil action should be imposed. It bears too heavily, however, upon editors, publishers and printers, who cannot be supposed to know that advertisements contain matter in contravention of private agreements, etc. In fact, there is in this law a restriction of the liberty of the press which takes us back to ancient times and is too retrogressive for modern enlightenment.

DELAYED SHIPMENTS.

THE recent blockade of the Galops canal on Saturday and the delay of some twenty barges, four tugs and the R. & O. N. steamer Passport, caused a heavy loss to shippers at Montreal. Accordingly, at a meeting of the Montreal Corn Exchange, Edgar Judge presiding, the following was adopted unanimously :

That this association respectfully begs to draw the special attention of the Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals to the great detention of grain-laden vessels and barges at the Galops canal owing to the low water and obstructions at entrance of that canal, and to the delay to ocean ships at this port consequent thereon ; and prays the Minister to order that extraordinary efforts be made for the immediate removal by dredging of such obstructions to navigation at this and other points on the St. Lawrence River and canals, whereby at least nine feet of water can forthwith be depended upon at all times.

In speaking on the resolution Mr. Thomson said that he considered it a matter of great importance to Montreal and to all Canada. The present Minister of Railways and Canals had been in office such a short time that he was probably not aware of what a delay of this kind meant, particularly at this season of the year. There was now from 7 to 7½ feet of water in this canal under certain conditions of the wind. A full nine feet was needed in order that the transportation of grain could be made at a profit. If the wind had not changed the barges would still be unable to move.

Mr. Robert Reford said that he had met the Hon. Messrs. Blair, Fielding and Dobell at Ottawa recently, and all of them had expressed their determination to have all necessary improvements made without delay. With the Corn Exchange strongly advocating it the matter would receive immediate attention.

The other speakers on the resolution were Mr. James Carruthers, Mr. John Torrance, Mr. A. G. McFee, Mr. William Stewart, Mr. James McShane. The motion was passed unanimously.

Mr. Hugh McLennan then introduced the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. William Stewart :

That the passage of the Galops rapids being rendered unsafe by the low water in the river, this association respectfully requests that instructions be given to the lock master at the lift lock, Cardinal canal, to pass vessels down and up that lock on Sundays for the remainder of the season.

Mr. McLennan said that while he believed in stringent observance of the Sabbath, there were occasions when it was absolutely necessary to have the waterways open on this day, and such an occasion had now arisen.

Mr. Stewart said, in explanation, that an east wind meant a delay of perhaps two or three days. The canal was only used when the water in the river was abnormally low.

UNBUSINESSLIKE PARLIAMENTARY METHODS.

IT is beginning to look as though the new Canadian Parliament has not freed itself from all the sins of its predecessor.

One of the chief sins of the old Parliament, which went out of existence in April last, was the reckless way in which it dilly-dallied with the business of the country and wasted public funds thereby.

When the first session of the new Parliament was called it was with the specific purpose of passing the estimates. This could have been done in two weeks, or three weeks at the outside, and then given the members plenty of time for loafing. But here is the House in session one month, and still the estimates have not been passed. And goodness knows when they will be.

Of course, if the House was prorogued within 30 days the members would not be entitled to their $1,000 indemnity: They would only be paid at the rate of $10 a day. And there is not the remotest doubt that this is what is actuating at least some of those who are managing to prolong the session.

Business principles ought to be applicable to parliamentary matters as well as to mercantile institutions.

Members of Parliament ought to be as solicitous for the public purse as employes that of their employers.

If employes in an ordinary mercantile institution were, by sloth and wrangling combined, to create overtime and extra pay for themselves and increase the cost of doing business generally, they would be deserving of not only the severest execration but dismissal as well.

Every member of Parliament who lends himself to unnecessarily extending the session of the House is like an employe who lends himself to the nefarious job of unnecessarily increasing the expenses of his employer, and may well be termed an unprofitable servant.

About one-fourth of the membership of the House is composed of men who are business men born and bred. If these men, irrespective of which party they belong to, would decide that, through evil and good report, they would do unto the country as they would that their own employes should do unto them, it would revolutionize the methods of transacting the business of the country.

Had the House got through in thirty days with the business it was specifically called to do, the members' indemnity would have cost the country about $60,000 instead of about $200,000, the sum it now will.

This is a lesson our legislators would do well to take to heart.

WORTHY OF THE HONOR.

PRESIDENT BICKERDIKE, of the Montreal Board of Trade, is busily advocating something at present that will appeal to all Canadians, no matter what their political opinions may be. It is the erection of a statue to the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie in the Parliament grounds at Ottawa. Two other distinguished statesmen already have memorials there, Sir John Macdonald and Sir George E. Cartier. Mr. Bickerdike is not unreasonable when he asks that the memory of the Liberal chieftain be perpetuated in the same way.

No Canadian can deny that every throb of Alexander Mackenzie's heart beat with a desire for the welfare of his country. Those who were his keenest opponents have willingly admitted this, and his conscientious efforts in its behalf more than merit such recognition as the erection of a memorial in stone and bronze.

Future Canadians who read the history of their country, will find everything to admire in the stainless integrity of his public career.

His life's record is a shining example to young Canadians. He was a self-made, honest and successful business man before he entered politics, and this portion of his life-record will be one that future Canadians can copy to their own advantage.

Mr. Bickerdike is getting up a petition to the Government in power. It is certain to have no lack of signatures. That it will be successful seems certain, with his old colleagues in the place where they can give practical evidence of how they honor his memory.

A HINT TO HON. MR. PATERSON.

ACCORDING to a statement made in the House the other day, the people of Canada need not look for the Trade and Navigation Returns for 1895-96 till Parliament meets again next January.

This is most regrettable. The fiscal year closed June 30 last. Nearly three months have passed since then, and it is time even now that the public had the Returns in its possession. There is no Government report that is of so much general interest to the public. It reveals the character of the country's foreign trade, and hence is a most important document.

The reason that there has been a change of Government cannot be well advanced for the delay in the issuing of the report.

The necessary data has been for some weeks in the possession of the officials whose duty it was to gather it. This is evident from the readiness with which the Ministers are able to answer questions in the House regarding the trade of the last fiscal year.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is not blaming the head of the Customs Department, the Hon. Wm. Paterson, for the delay in issuing the returns. Not once since Confederation have these returns been issued with the promptness which they should be. It has always been delay. It is characteristic of the civil servants of the various departments under the Government that their duties shall be performed when convenience serves them. The convenience of the public is not a factor. They are not business men, neither as a rule have been the Ministerial heads of the departments. Hence, neither head nor tail were able to comprehend what the business interests of the country required.

Mr. Paterson, however, is a business man, and the country expects, and rightly so, that he will apply the same principles to the management of his department as he did to the management of his own business. He can show that this expectation had reason for its basis by insisting upon the Trade and Navigation Returns being issued forthwith. He has the power and should exercise it.

Probably never before, since Confederation, was as much interest as now being taken in the foreign trade of the country, particularly in regard to our exports, and to be compelled to wait six or seven months for the desired detailed information is a sad commentary upon the department, a disgrace to the country and a source of annoyance to the business interests of the community.

We want to know what we are doing in the way of foreign trade and we have a right to be supplied within a reasonable, and not an unreasonable, time, with the information necessary to that knowledge.

The people of the United States were weeks ago in the possession of detailed statements regarding their foreign trade for the fiscal year 1895 to 1896, and if the United States, why not Canada? Yes, why not?

A CASE OF SUGAR DUTIES.

READERS of THE CANADIAN GROCER will remember that some time ago, when the late Government decided to impose a duty on raw sugar, there was trouble in regard to the duties at Montreal.

It was pointed out at the time that the duties did not go into force until the trade were officially notified of the fact. This the Customs authorities disputed.

This paper at the time took the stand that in every case where the law was not perfectly clear it should be the desire of the officials at Ottawa to administer it with the least possible friction. Such a course would foster a respect for the statutes, but a system of petty annoyances would do the reverse. It also pointed out at the same time that the action that the Department was taking in the case of the sugar duties came under the latter head.

This opinion was vindicated at Ottawa last week, when an important decision was given in the Exchequer Court by Justice Burbidge. It was in the case of the Canada Sugar Refining Co. vs. the Queen.

In 1895 the tariff on sugar was changed, so that a class of sugar which had been admitted free of duty became dutiable. Between the time that the sugar in question was free and the date the duty was imposed a cargo was on its way to the Canada Sugar Refining Co. in Montreal. When the vessel reported at Sydney, Cape Breton, to take on coal, but before it reached Montreal, the duty rate was fixed. The Dominion authorities held that the sugar was dutiable, and the Canada Sugar Refining Co. held otherwise, the port of entry being Sydney, where they exhibited their manifest. Justice Burbidge decided against the Government, in favor of the company. Therefore there is a loss to the Government of about $43,000.

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

THERE was a fair attendance at the regular meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, held in St. George's hall on Monday night. President White presided.

Secretary Corrie presented the names of White Bros., Carlton street, and J. A. Johnston, Yonge street, for membership, and after the usual formalities had been complied with they were duly entered as members of the association.

The special committee appointed at the last meeting to interview the wholesale fruit men in order to see if some scheme could not be devised whereby the pedlars would not receive the advantage they now do over the regular dealers in the purchase of fruit, reported that the fruit men were unable to propose any means of removing the difficulty. It was decided to leave the matter in abeyance for the time being.

The question was raised as to whether it would not be better for all membership fees to be made uniformly payable at the beginning of each new year, persons joining the association in the middle or any part of the year to be charged an entrance fee proportionate to the time that remained till the end of the year. The Executive Committee was instructed to report upon the question.

Complaints having been made that some the members were not attending to the delinquent customers' lists as regularly as they should, Secretary Corrie was instructed to make a special effort to have a complete list prepared in time to be mailed with the notices calling the November meeting of the association.

The Excursion Committee reported that so far a surplus of $50 was realized from the recent annual excursion to Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

ANOTHER CUT IN VEGETABLES.

The other week sharp cutting in the price of new pack canned vegetables was noted at Montreal. It has been repeated this week, when Ontario packers offered 500 and 1,000 package lots of corn at 51½c., and tomatoes at 57½c.

This is a cut of 8½c. in one case and 2½c. in the other case on the extremely low price offered a fortnight ago. The offers did not induce any trading; in fact, from all accounts they have unsettled the market still further.

HONORING A RETIRING PARTNER.

A pleasant event took place the other evening at the residence of Mr. R. Herron, 49 Tupper street, Montreal. This gentleman has recently retired from the firm of Ewing, Herron & Co., the well-known spice and coffee firm, after 40 years connection with the spice and coffee business of the commercial metropolis. The firm and employes could not let the opportunity pass without showing tangible proof of their esteem, and duly presented Mr. Herron with a magnificent traveling case. After exchanging pleasant compliments, the happy gathering retired to share his well-known hospitality.

NEW CURRANTS.

THE first samples of new season's Grecian currants reached the Toronto market the early part of this week. The quality is not, on the whole, first-class. Finest Vostizzas present a very good appearance. In other kinds the fruit is small and rather liberally sprinkled with red berries. Even in the better grades of fine Filiatra and Patras fruit these features are marked.

The strength of the currant market noted in previous issues has not only been maintained, but increased, a cable this week announcing an advance of 6d. for the second direct steamer.

Estimates of the new crop vary considerably. A month or so ago it was placed at 200,000 tons, but, through alleged damage by the peronosporos, the yield is estimated at from 160,000 to 180,000 tons. Last year the crop was 177,000 tons, the largest up to that time on record.

This year France, which last year took 26,500 tons of Grecian currants, is not expected to take nearly as much on account of the largely increased vintage of that country this season. In southern Germany, however, where there has been a revival of the wine-making industry owing to the low price of currants, there is expected to be an increased consumption. Stocks in the United Kingdom were a month ago estimated to be 12,000 tons less than a year ago, while Holland, Belgium and Austria were practically without stocks. Although Russia has imposed a heavy duty on currants, to go into effect in January next, the requirements of that country are estimated at 50,000 tons, or double the quantity it took in 1895.

The trade will remember that some time ago the Grecian Government amended the restriction law by making it compulsory that 15 per cent. on exportation be contributed in kind by exporters, without their having the option, as hitherto, of substituting money for currants. It will probably take 25,000 tons for this purpose, while 170,000 tons is what is estimated to be required to satisfy the demands of the foreign trade. The total requirements for all purposes, including the 15 per cent. retention, is placed at 195,000 tons.

Last year, as we have already stated, the crop was 177,000 tons. Of this, up to the middle of August last, 166,000 tons had been exported, the distribution, together with that of last year, being as follows:

	1895. Tons.	1894. Tons.
To the United Kingdom and Australia	60,500	64,500
" the United States and Canada	14,500	10,000
" France	26,500	15,000
" Russia	25,000	29,000
" the rest of Europe	39,500	26,500
	166,000	145,000

THE SURPRISE SOAP GUESSING CONTEST.

MAYOR R. J. FLEMING, of Toronto, the referee in the Surprise soap guessing contest at the Industrial Exhibition, handed out his decision on Monday afternoon. The winner was Mr. W. K. Rymal, a farmer residing three miles north-east of Dundas, Ont., near a place called Rock Chapel.

The winning guess was 476 lbs. 2¾ oz. net. The actual weight of the soap was 476 lbs. 2½ oz. Eight of the other guesses came within half an ounce of the correct weight.

The winner is aged 70 years, and is still actively engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Immediately on receiving the Mayor's award Mr. Henry Wright, the Toronto agent for Surprise soap, telegraphed Mr. Rymal the result. And next morning, to make sure that Mr. Rymal was a real person, he took the train for Dundas. From there he took a conveyance for Mr. Rymal's farm. Arriving there he asked for that gentleman.

"There he is, out in that field at work," came the reply from one of the members of the family.

Off across the fields Mr. Wright tramped, his mind doubtless being carried back to the days when he tramped through the heather in Bonnie Scotland.

"How do you do, sir," said Mr. Wright, as he came within hailing distance, vigorously mopping his brow at the same time.

"How do you do," replied Mr. Rymal, as he paused in his work.

"Is your name W. K. Rymal?"

"It is."

"Were you at the Toronto Exhibition?"

"I was."

"Did you see that big cake of Surprise soap?"

"I did. And had a guess at it, too.

"What weight did you guess?"

"Let me see," rejoined Farmer Rymal, as he took off his hat and meditatively scratched his head. "O, it was 476 lbs. 2¾ oz."

"Well, you have won that $800 piano," exclaimed Mr. Wright, unable to contain himself any longer.

"Gee whizz!" ejaculated the old man as he threw down the tool he was handling. "But you don't say so. Oh, man, dear, you are fooling me."

"No, I am not. It's the Gospel truth," rejoined Mr. Wright, as he kind of affectionately laid his hand on Mr. Rymal's shoulder. "But, say, didn't you get a telegram about it? We sent last night," queried the soap man.

Just then the telegram in question was brought out to the field. Rock Chapel being three miles from Dundas, the nearest telegraph station, it had not reached its destination till shortly after Mr. Wright's arrival.

"Well," soliloquized Mr. Rymal, "for 30 years I have led our choir at Rock Chapel and never got one cent for doing it. And I wouldn't be surprised if this isn't remuneration for it. I am a good guesser. Have the reputation for it in this neighborhood. I can tell the weight of a pig to a pound. But, say, I never expected to win that piano. I thought when I looked at that big cake of soap that the whole business was a fake. In fact I said: 'O, some friend of the firm will get that piano.' Well, I've got two organs. I can play them, and I suppose I'll be able to play the piano. But, say, are you sure I'll get the piano?" concluded Mr. Rymal as he turned to Mr. Wright, laying one hand on his arm.

"Get it, why of course you'll get it," replied Mr. Wright. "Don't bother yourself on that score."

Then Mr. Rymal pressed Mr. Wright to stay for dinner, but the latter was compelled to deny himself what would have been a great pleasure to him.

The successful guesser is a cousin of the late Joe Rymal, the ex-M.P., and is highly spoken of by those who have his acquaintanceship.

Before being shipped to Mr. Rymal the piano will for a few days be on exhibition in the window of Michie & Co., 5½ King street west, Toronto.

And thus successfully endeth the big soap-guessing contest.

AN EARLY-CLOSING CASE.

SOME time ago the Recorder of Montreal refused to deliver judgment in the early-closing case of Fournier vs. Baker.

Although the defendant pleaded guilty to the charge, the Recorder refused to render judgment, where upon Mr. Fournier took out a mandamus to force him to do so. The case came up before Judge Charland, who, on Monday, rendered judgment on this important and interesting issue. After setting forth the circumstances of the case, the court remarked that the Recorder had not pleaded to the action, leaving it entirely in the hands of the judge and simply filing his notes on the judgment in a previous case of the City v. Dame Rasconi, when he dismissed the action. From these notes, it appeared that the magistrate's present refusal to render judgment rested on the injustice and iniquity of the bylaw referred to, as interpreted by him. Now the case of Fournier vs. Baker was not one in which the magistrate could exercise his discretion and indefinitely postpone the judgment. The Recorder had not recused himself, nor had he been recused by either of the parties who were interested in getting a decision. A judge must faithfully carry out the law, and he has no right to shun the obligation under which he is to decide a case which comes before him within the limits of his jurisdiction and which he has heard, under pretence that such law is unjust and may give rise to serious inconvenience or produce deplorable results. A magistrate is obliged to either condemn or absolve, and while the Superior Court cannot dictate to a judge of an inferior jurisdiction in what sense he must render judgment, it can certainly force him to decide one way or the other a case heard before him. For all these reasons, the present mandamus must be maintained, and the Recorder ordered to render judgment in the case of Fournier vs. Baker within eight days.

EXCITED SULTANA RAISIN MARKET.

The market for Sultana raisins has been attracting a great deal of attention during the last ten days on account of the sharp advances there have been in prices.

There have been advances nearly every day. On Wednesday there was a jump of 1s. per cwt., making a total advance of 4s. in about ten days.

The cause of these sharp advances is the damage by rain to a crop already known to be short.

THE RECORD RAISIN SHIPMENT.

There was a circumstance in connection with the first shipment of Arguimbau's raisins which arrived on the Toronto market on the 5th inst., which was not noted in our last issue. And that was, the particularly quick time the shipment had made.

The steamer Patria, having the fruit on board, left Denia on August 18, and the goods reached Toronto via New York on September 5, or 18 days from Denia. This beats all previous records.

The quickness of this shipment may be realized when it is remembered that it usually takes from 15 to 18 days to cross from Gibraltar to New York, let alone the time that is spent in the Mediterranean.

WOODENWARE MEN MEET.

A meeting of the Woodenware Association of Canada was held the other day in the office of R. & T. Jenkins, Toronto. No change was made in prices and discounts. The question of delivery was discussed and THE CANADIAN GROCER understands some changes may be looked for later on when trade conditions are somewhat improved.

BEAT HIS OWN RECORD.

C. E. Colson, Montreal, has just returned from a western trip, and says he found business much better than he anticipated. In Crosse & Blackwell's peels he beat his previous records. Some years ago the duty was advanced and peels were partially manufactured in Canada. This cut seriously into their trade, but local makers, finding it difficult to compete in quality and price, have nearly all given up the manufacture, hence the large increase in import orders for Crosse & Blackwell's brand.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Arch. Hutchison, of the St. Lawrence Starch Co., Port Credit, is back from a pleasant trip to Europe.

W. D. Stephens, manager Geo. Glass, Port Hope, was a visitor to the Fair last week.

Geo. Glass, Port Hope, also visited Toronto last week.

Li Hung Chang

Has come and gone. He of the Three-Eyed-Peacock-Feather and Yellow Jacket has swept from before us with all his Oriental Magnificence and will shortly take active steps in the shipment of our direct importations from his tea gardens.

Already in store we have China Blacks of unusual excellence—for blending or straight teas.

Incidentally we might mention that we have yet a few short lines of our first shipment of New Season's May Picked Japans—values that can't be beaten.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE during the past week has been fairly satisfactory, as far as volume of business is concerned, at any rate. As a rule, the wholesale merchants are in good spirits as a result of their intercourse with the country customers, who brought in favorable reports regarding the outlook. There is still a good deal of sugar moving, and although the refiners' quotations are much about the same as a week ago, wholesalers' figures are fractionally lower. In canned goods there is scarcely anything doing in any kind, all buyers being disposed to stand off. There is a fair movement in teas at steady prices The first shipment of new season's Valencia raisins has been moving off in small lots, and the supply has been pretty well exhausted. Currants are in good demand and firmer in the primary market.

CANNED GOODS.

The disposition on the part of buyers of all kinds of canned goods to hold off is even more marked than it was a week or two ago. This is particularly true in regard to salmon and vegetables. Rumors of low prices are rife, and the market is demoralized For extra sifted peas, the supply of which is said to be light, a good demand has been experienced by some houses. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; corn, 55 to 75c.; peas, 75 to 80c. for ordinary; sifted select, 95c.; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.50 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.50 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.65 to $1.95, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Maple Leaf," $1.40 to $1.45; Lowe Inlet, $1.30 to $1.35 in tall tins; cohoes, $1.20 to $1.25; canned mackerel, $1.20 to $1.30; lobsters, $2.10 to $2.30 for tall tins; flats, $2.60 to $2.65; half tins, $1.50 to $1.55; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.25 to $1.30; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7 to $8; 14's, $14.50 to $15.50.

COFFEE.

The demand has been good for green Rio coffee of fine quality, and the shipments received a week or so ago have been pretty well cleaned out. Further shipments are on the way. We quote green in bags: Rio, 15 to 17c., according to grade; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 25 to 35c.; Mocha, 27½ to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to25c.

SYRUPS.

Business is still quiet in this line. We quote: Dark, 28 to 31c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.; corn syrup, 3 to 3¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

The movement is fair and it is expected to improve from this out. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 30c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets have again had another weak turn. A feature of the situation is the fairly good demand that is being experienced in New York. The American Sugar Refining Company has issued a statement to the effect that there will be no decrease in the price of refined sugar either this week or next, and this appears to have imparted some confidence. On the Canadian market refiners' quotations are the same as they were a week ago, but jobbers' figures are practically lower, owing to competition. The ruling wholesale price for granulated is now 4 3-16 to 4¼c. per lb., and for yellows, 3 3-16c. for dark to 3¾c. for bright.

SPICES.

The movement is fair, particularly in pickling spices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; do, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.; cassia, 12 to 15c. for China and 18 to 20c. for Batavia.

RICE, ETC.

As before there is a fair trade doing in tapioca and sago, but rice is quiet. We quote: Standard "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; imported Japan, 5¼ to 5¾c.; tapioca, 3¼ to 4½c.; sago, 3½c.

NUTS.

Nothing new has developed during the week. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 12c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 12 to 13½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c.; Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

samples of attractive Ping Suey gunpowder teas on the market, which show good value at from 10 to 23c. The most attractive values are from 15 to 17½c. The teas will be here in about ten days. Some good values in China teas generally are being shown. "I never saw such values before" said a broker, and a wholesaler corroborated it. In Foochow teas—Pangyongs, Packlums and Pekoe Congous—good style and draw are being shown at from 10 to 13¼c. and in Packlings some fair style and fair draw have been shown at from 11½ to 12c. in boxes. In Japan teas at from 15 to 17c. per lb. buyers have so far held back. As the exports in this line have been limited so far, spot goods are scarce, and sellers are holding for better prices. May and June teas at from 23 to 25c. are practically not to be had. Ruling prices on the Toronto market to retailers are: Young Hyson, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

During the past week there has been an advance of 6d. The first samples of new season's currants are to hand, but, as noted in our editorial columns, the quality, outside Vostizzas, is not first-class, there being a great deal of small and red fruit. We still quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 3⅞c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4 to 4⅛c.; do., half-bbls., 4⅛ to 4¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Patras, 4¼ to 4½c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; do., half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; do., extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; do., half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.

In Valencia raisins considerable business has been done in all the best brands per Avlona, now loading at Denia, but buyers have been compelled very reluctantly to pay an advance of ½c. per lb. on last year's prices. The second shipment is expected within a few days. The ruling prices for goods which arrive by first shipment are: Off-stalk, 6c.; fine off-stalk, 6½c. Old off-stalk is quoted at 4 to 5c. The first shipment has been about exhausted.

Sultana raisins are in steady demand, with 5½ to 6½c. as the ruling wholesale price.

Cables regarding Bosnia prunes are rather conflicting. Some sales have been made at very low prices, while other quotations are maintained at rather high figures. There is not much demand, and what business is being done is principally with those packers who are ready to accept lower figures. We quote nominally as follows: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c.; "U," 102 to lb., 6 to 6½c.; California prunes, 30-40, 11 to 12c.; 40-50, 9 to 10c. per lb.; 50-60, 8½ to 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 8 to 9c.; 70-80, 8 to 8½c. per lb.; 80-90, 7¼ to 7½c.; 90-100, 6½ to 7c.; 110-120, 5½ to 6c.; Bohemian, 3½ to 4c.; French, 5½ to 6½c.

California fruits are quiet and nominally unchanged. We quote wholesale prices as follows; Apricots, 8 to 14c.; peaches, 5¾ to 8½c. in bags and ½c. per lb. more in boxes; pears, 8 to 10c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted and 9½ to 10½c. pitted; nectarines, 9½ to 10½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is not much demand for foreign green fruit of any kind. New season's lemons are on the Toronto market this week, and they are selling at $5.50 to $6. There is a fair demand for sweet. The price of bananas is unusually low, the receipts being liberal and the demand poor, scarcely anyone but pedlars handling them at the moment. Tomatoes are in fair request. There are a good many peaches still coming forward, and there is a demand for good stock. Plums are a little firmer, the season being nearly over. The wholesale men are not doing much in apples, the farmers doing most of the business. In grapes, both the supply and demand is fair. We quote: Oranges—Rodis, $7 per box. Lemons—Maoris and Sorrentos, new season's fruit, $5.50 to $6.50; Messinas, old stock, $4.50. Bananas, 50 to $1; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 a sack and 60c. per doz.; tomatoes, 20 to 30c. per bushel, and 10 to 15c. per basket; Jersey sweet potatoes, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.; apples, 75c. to $1 per bbl.; pears, 25 to 30c.; peaches, 75 to 90c. for Crawfords and 30 to 75c. for common; plums, 30c. for blue, 35 to 40c. for Lombards, and 40 to 50c. for green; grapes, 1½ to 2c. for Concord, 2 to 2½c. for Niagara, 2½ to 3c. for Delaware, and 2 to 2½c. for Rogers.

have been heavy, while the consumption has been light. There is nothing but good butter selling, and there is a tendency to accumulation. In order to effect sales it is often necessary to shade prices. The English market is not quite as firm as it was. We quote : Dairy butter—Tubs, 13 to 14c. for good to choice ; low grade to medium, 7 to 9c.; pails and crocks, 12 to 13c.; pound prints, 14 to 15c. Creamery—Tubs, 17 to 18c. 1-lb. blocks, 18 to 20c., according to make.

CHEESE—The market is not as active as it was, either locally or on export account, on account of the high prices on the cheese boards, buyers and sellers being apart. We quote 9 to 9½c. for good cheese.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Practically nothing doing, and quotations are nominal at 75 to 85c.

DRIED APPLES—There is no demand. Some offers are heard at 2½c. f.o.b. for extra bright stock, and there have been a few transactions at that figure, but, as a rule, no interest is being taken in the market.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Jobbers are quoting 5⅜ to 5½c. for prime new stock, but there is nothing doing. We hear of offers of 4 to 4½c. f.o.b.

EGGS—Receipts are larger and sales more difficult to make, with prices being shaded for large lots. A feature of the market is the quantity of culled eggs which are being offered; the good stock have been exported. This culled stock has in some instances realized from 5 to 6c. per dozen. The English market is a little easier, 3d. per 110 dozen less being realized than a week ago. We quote : Single cases, 13c.; larger lots, 12 to 12½c.; No. 2 stock, 6 to 8c.

HONEY—We hear of an odd sale at 8c. for strained, but trade in honey is as a rule quiet. We quote : Strained, 7 to 8c., in 50-lb. tins, and comb at $1.75 per dozen.

POTATOES—The offerings are fair and the market is easier at 40 to 50c. for farmers' lots, 45c. for cars on the track here, and 55c. for potatoes out of store.

PROVISIONS.

Trade has been active in all lines, especially in lumbermen's supplies, such as barrel pork and long clear bacon. Smoked meats are in good demand. The same may be said in regard to lard. Stocks of all kinds of provisions are light.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 5 to 5½c. for carload lots, and 5½ to 5¾c. for small lots ; backs, 7 to 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 9½ to 10c.; rolls, 7c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9½ to 10c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 11c. ; small hams, 11 to 11½c. ; backs, 9½ to 10c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD— Pure Canadian, tierces, 6½c.; tubs, 6¾c.; pails, 7c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $12 to $12.50 ; Canadian short-cut, $12.50 to $13; clear shoulder mess, $10 to $10.50.

GRAIN, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

GRAIN—Receipts of grain continue fair. We quote : White wheat, 65 to 67½c. ; red, 65 to 66c.; goose, 49 to 50c.; oats, 21 to 21½c.; peas, 40 to 42c.

FLOUR—The price of straight roller is from 10 to 15c. per barrel higher, and although quotations of other kinds have not been altered there is a better feeling and the millers are looking for higher values, the price of wheat having appreciated something like 2c. per bushel during the past week. We quote in carloads on track, Toronto: Manitoba patents, $3.85 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.45; Ontario patents, $3.75 to $3.85. Straight roller is about $3.20 to $3.25, Toronto freights.

BALED HAY—The demand is fair, with choice quoted at $10.75 to $11.25 on track in carload lots.

BREAKFAST FOODS — Business is improving a little, although but very little. We quote : Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $2.60 ; rolled wheat, $2 to $2.15; cornmeal, $2.45 to $2.50; split peas, $3.25 to $3.50; pot barley, $3.25 to $3.50.

SALT.

Business keeps fairly active. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel and 60c. per sack ; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote : F.O.B. barrels, 70c. ; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is fairly active at unchanged prices. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto : Canadian, 15½c.; carbon, safety, 17c.; Canadian water white, 17c.; American water white, 19½c.; Pratt's astral, 19½c. in bulk.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The supply of fish has not been very good, but there has been an improvement in this respect during the past week. White fish is quoted at 7½c., and trout at 7c. Oysters are quoted at $1.40 for standards, and $1.75 for New York counts.

MARKET NOTES.

There is an easier feeling in butter.

Canned meats have advanced 5 to 7 per cent. during the past few days.

Currants are cabled 6d. dearer for shipment by second direct steamer.

New season's lemons are on the Toronto market this week. They are Maoris and Sorrentos, and are bringing $5.50 to $6.50 per box.

Samples of new season's currants were received on the market this week.

Some 65,000 barrels of apples left Canadian and United States ports for England last week. The fruit was mostly American.

Cables received by P. L Mason & Co., Toronto, on Wednesday, announce a further advance of 1s. in Sultana raisins, 1s. in selected Valencia raisins and 2s. in Eleme figs. In each instance the advance was due to damage by rain to the new crop.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE Exhibition has not improved the jobbing demand for groceries. Rather the reverse, but, nevertheless, several of the staples exhibit activity. The brisk demand for sugar continues, yet values continue easy in tone. Syrups have been asked for, but molasses is dull and easier. Dried fruit of all kinds are in active demand for forward shipment and in every line prices show a firm to upward tendency. Coffee again shows easiness, except in Maracaibo, which is held strong, while enquiry for tea is not as brisk as it was last week.

SUGAR.

Raw sugar has continued weak and the fact is not calculated to dissipate the easiness in refined that has ruled for some time. Demand has been, if anything, better in a local way for refined sugar, both granulated and yellows. It has not prevented, however, the shading of prices for round lots at the refineries and it is understood that quite a good deal of purchasing has been done by jobbers in this connection during the week. We quote in a jobbing way : Yellows, 3 to 3⅓c., and granulated, 4⅛ to 4¼c. as to grade.

SYRUPS.

There is no change in the situation of this market. There has been a good demand for small lots, as noted last week, and prices hold steady at 1½ to 2¾c. per lb. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

Demand for molasses is exceedingly slow, and though no quotable change can be cited, it is not improbable that sellers would shade their price for round lots. Business of this sort is, in fact, noted at 27 to 27½c. for Barbadoes, which is ½c. less than was possible a week ago. In a jobbing way also, though values are still nominally quoted at 30 to 31c., the range would very likely be shaded.

RICE.

There has been a good steady trade in rice, with no change in prices. We quote : Crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; polished Patna, $4.75 to $5 ; Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50, and Java, $3.75 to $4.

SPICES.

There is no change in the spice market. Demand is confined to small lots and no change is looked for immediately. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 20 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 10 to 14c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues weak and values again this week show an easy tendency, with the single exception of Maracaibo. We quote: Rio, 15½ to 17c.; Maracaibo, 16½ to 18c.; Java, 23 to 26c., and Mocha, 23 to 25c.

TEAS.

The improvement in the market noted last week has not been maintained, though some round lots of Japans aggregating 3,500 packages of medium to fine at 15 to 22c. and some Ceylons at 17c. between houses have taken place. We quote as follows : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grade ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for higher grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The activity noted in California raisins has been continued in the matter of business for forward delivery. All advices from the Coast strengthen the idea of firm to higher prices, and the fact is being recognized in the greater urgency of buyers. We quote for forward delivery : 2-crown, 5 to 5¼c.; 3-crown, 6 to 6½c.; and 4-crown 7 to 7½c., the inside figures being very difficult to secure.

WHOLESALE IMPORTING AND MANUFACTURING GROCERS

TORONTO - CANADA

Valencia raisins continue strong in tone in sympathy with firm advices from Denia, and our former range of 6 to 6½c. may be repeated for fine off-stalk. It seems also certain that the supply of selected and layers this year will be in limited supply, and prices are expected to be ½ to ¾c. higher than last year. No business for importation has yet been noted in these grades.

Currants are cabled very firm, and it is doubtful if importers could do better than 4c. per lb. for barrel stock Provincials.

The firm advices on prunes continue, and any stock in hand is firmly held. California are offered firm at 6 to 11c., while no spot quotations are possible on French or Austrian.

Evaporated California fruits are strong and in fair demand. Peaches have sold at 8½c.; apricots at 12½c., and pears at 9c.

Figs are featureless at 9 to 10c. for ordinary and 13 to 17c. for fancy.

Dates, nominal at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

These have been receiving some attention in an import way. Advices on Brazils are firmer, indicating an upward tendency in values. Filberts also are firm in tone and walnuts steady, but almonds rule easy. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11 to 11½c.; Brazils, 11c.; almonds, 10½ to 11c.; filberts, 7 to 7½c.; peanuts 7 to 9c., and cocoanuts, $4 to $4.25 per 100.

CANNED GOODS.

The demoralization in canned vegetables continues, and, as is specially noted elsewhere, very low offers have been made this week. We quote: Tomatoes, 65 to 75c.; corn, 65 to 75c.; peas, $1 to $1.10 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.25 to $1.35; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; beans, 70c. up; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; pumpkins, 75 to 85c.; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.40 to $1.45; "Clover Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.37½ to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.15 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.15 to $1.20; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.20 to $1.25; 2's, $2.15 to $2.25; 6's, $6.75 to $7; 14's, $14 to $15; lobsters, $8.25 to $9 per case.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a fair business in green fruit during the week. Apples have been a large receipt, and are lower at 50c. to $1 per bbl. Peaches have ruled firmer at 75c. to $1.25, while plums continue easy at 20 to 40c. No quotation can be given on bananas, which are a glut on the market. Lemons continue steady at $2 to $3.50 per box, and Jamaica oranges at $6 to $6.50 per bbl.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Eggs—The firm feeling in eggs is maintained, prices being ½c. higher at 11½ to 12c.

Beans—Unchanged, with a quiet trade at 70 to 75c., car lots, and 80 to 90c. in a small way.

Hops—Dull and steady at 5 to 7c.

Honey—Steady at 10 to 12c.

Potatoes—Small trade at 35 to 40c. per bag.

Dried Apples—Quiet and nominal at 3 to 3½c.

Evaporated Apples—Featureless at 5½ to 6c.

Baled Hay—Easier under increased receipts at $9 for No. 2 and $10.25 to $10.50 for No. 1, car lots on track.

PROVISIONS.

The market is quiet and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $10 to $10.25; Canadian short cut, mess, $10.25 to $10.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 11c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 7 to 7½c.; bacon, per lb., 8½ to 9½c.; lard, com., refined, per lb., 5 to 5½c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market rules fairly active and steady. There was some enquiry from abroad for Manitoba strong bakers', but no sales were made. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3.75 to $3.90; straight roller, $3.40 to $3.50; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra bags, $1.30 to $1.35; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.25 to $3.50.

In oatmeal business continues dull and the market is without any change. We quote: Standard, bbls., $2.80 to $2.90; granulated, bbls., $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls., $2.60; rolled oats, per bag, $2.50.

A fairly active trade was done in feed and prices show no change. We quote: Bran, $10 to $11; shorts, $11 to $12; mouillie, $15 to $17.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese continues firm in the main on this side the water, but the disturbing feature in the situation is the lack of response from the legitimate demand. This, so far as indications go, is entirely indifferent to the advance of almost 1c. during the past fortnight. It is a question, therefore, between the speculators at present buying up cheese in Canada and the British consumer. On the face of it it seems as though the former have altogether too much steam on. However, that is their own affair, and in the meantime the producer is reaping the benefit of prices over 1c. better than those he received last year. In addition to the heavy buying that has been done publicly, at the different Boards, contracting is going on. Some business of this sort has been already noted at Belleville, and now it is reported also that A. A. Davis, a local Brockville buyer, has contracted over twenty factories in that section at 9¼c. for Augusts and 9½ to 9⅝c. for September and October. Another advice denies this statement, but it is not at all improbable considering what buyers have been bidding. At the wharf Monday morning the offerings were 5,000 boxes. The ruling price was 9¼ to 9⅜c., but a fraction more may have been accorded in some instances. This is an advance of ¼ to ⅜c. per pound over a week ago and ¾ to 1c. in a fortnight.

There is no change in the butter market, which continues quiet and dull Buyers are only bidding 17½c, and makers are not free sallers at the price.

ASHES.

Continue quiet and steady. We quote: Firsts, $3.50 to $3.55; seconds, $3.05 to $3.10; and pearls, $4.55 to $4.60 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Refiners have, it is claimed, shaded even 4c. for round lots of granulated sugar.

The first receipts of new Malaga oranges are expected to arrive here in the course of three weeks.

Export of apples this week to Liverpool alone will foot up over 9,000 bbls. Cables are not steady.

Round lots of Barbadoes molasses have been offered on this market at a decline of ½c. per gallon.

Canners have cut their offers on new pack corn and tomatoes again this week without inducing trade.

Speculative exporters have again jumped the price of cheese ½c per pound, making a gain of ¾ to 1c. within a fortnight.

Advices from Denia state that there will be little or no selected or layer Valencias this year, and that prices will equal ½c. per pound advance.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 17, 1896.

WHILE business continues to show an improvement from week to week, it is not as active as it should be at this season, and collections are found to be slow. Markets are still weak, our buyers seeming to have lost faith (it must be admitted not altogether without cause), and are very backward in buying. It has seemed as if there was no bottom. Stocks have been and are large, and every effort is being made to sell goods. A number of manufacturers and agents in the grocery business are making active preparation for exhibits at the Exhibition which is soon be open. All goods for exhibits imported can be held in bond. This extends to all classes of goods. In tea, while importations for August have been heavy it is expected those for September will be almost as large.

OIL—For burning oil there is a steadily increasing demand. The price shows no change since the decline, and no change is expected. While a large quantity of Canadian oil is used here, the bulk of the demand is, after all, for the American. In cod oil, prices do not rule as high as expected. Arrivals are quite large. We quote: American burning oil, 21c.; best Canadian, 19½c.; prime, 17c.; no charge for barrels.

SALT—There is very little to report. Stocks continue very light, particularly

Look for the name
"Brock's Bird Seed"

when buying for your customers. It is a guarantee of quality and good value.

Liverpool coarse. There is but fair demand. In Canadian salt, a large quantity is sold, and though price is higher, there is an increased sale for the Cananian factory-filled 200-lb. sacks. We quote: Coarse, 50c.; factory-filled, 90c. to $1; 5-lb. bags, in bbls., $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in bbls., $3; butter and cheese salt, bulk, $2.60 to $2.65 per bbl.; 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. wood boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per case of 2 doz.; Canadian fine, $1.

CANNED GOODS—The bulk of the goods for fall is now bought, and quantity is found to be large—more so than was expected, this being caused by the very low prices. Had goods been bought at firm prices, buyers would have been in a hole. As it is, the canners have to stand in the gap and the great bulk bought will have to be invoiced at the latest and lowest price. "Delhi," who were the first in the field, secured the largest number of orders, but "Little Chief," "Log Cabin," "Aylmer." "Simcoe," "Boulter," and "Windsor" have all come in for a share. One dealer has seven cars bought. American canned meat is quoted higher and firm. One car of new salmon is to hand and another daily expected. Market is held firm. Canned apples are well below prices of last season. We quote: Corn, 70 to 80c.; peas, 70 to 80.; tomatoes, 70 to 85c.; gallon apples, $1.80 to $2; corned beef, Canadian, $2.25 to $2.35; American, 2-lb tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb tins, $1.30 to $1.50; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.20; 1's, $1.34 to $1.45; peaches, 3's, Canadian, $2.85 to $3; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, $2.25 to $2.65; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; haddies, $1.35 $1.40; clams, $5 for 4 doz; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1 per doz.; kippered herring, $1.10 per doz.

DRIED FRUIT—A small quantity of Valencias are daily expected. They are sold to arrive at quite high figures, coming on a bare market. Quantity of raisins so far bought is not large. During the last few years the quality of Valencias has not been very satisfactory, but it is said the quality this season will run better. In loose muscatels there are numbers of agents trying to sell, but buyers are backward, looking for lower prices. Houses at the Coast are, however, very firm, particularly on four-crown goods. Some four cars so far have been sold. Candied peels are to hand, citron being two 2 to 3c. higher than last year. Currants are firm and somewhat higher prices are expected. Evaporated apples are in very light demand and low. We quote: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; new Valencias, 6 to 6½c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 3-crown, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2 to $2.25; currants, cases, 4 to 4½c.; cartoons, cleaned, 6¾ to 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 5½ to 6½c.; prunes, boxes, 6 to 7c.; dates, 4½c.; new French prunes expected daily; dried apples, 4 to 5c.; evaporated apples, 6½c.; American onions, $3 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 6½ to 7c.

GREEN FRUIT—There are very large arrivals of plums. During the week some very fine Canadian have been received, but the season is over. There are very large quantities of Nova Scotia plums daily received, which find ready sale, but at low price. There are but few peaches, and those are chiefly Canadian. In pears prices are rather higher. There is but fair demand for apples, even at the low figures. Lemons are again quoted higher, stocks being light with a fair demand. California green fruit is about out of the market. Arrivals of grapes are large, and there is a good demand at prices asked. Crab apples have a limited sale. We quote: Lemons, $5.50 to $7; bananas, $1 to $2.50; Canadian peaches, $1.25 to $1.50; apples, $1 to $2; Bartlets, per bbl., $5 to $7; plums, 25 to 30c.; grapes, Canadian, 35 to 50c.; grapes, keg, $5 to $6; crab apples, $1 per bbl.; Canadian pears, 75c. per basket.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter continues to show rather improved demand and price. Good is hard to get, and dealers are not willing to pay price for creamery. While cheese may be called firmer, there is not much improved demand. There is quite a call for small-sized and twins. Eggs show no change, though efforts have been made to advance prices slightly. We quote: Dairy butter, 17 to 18c.; creamery, rolls, 21c.; do., tubs, 20c. Eggs are steady at 9 to 9½c. Cheese, 8½ to 9c.

SUGAR—There is but fair demand. Prices are again steady, and holders of large stocks see little encouragement in the outlook. The season has been a most successful one. We quote: Granulated, 4⅜ to 4½c.; yellows, 3 to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 6c.; powdered, 5¾ to 6c.

MOLASSES—The small cargo of Porto Rico spoken of last week as consigned here has been sold. It found a fairly ready sale, but at lower prices than the former cargo. Outside demand is very light, but as no further large arrivals are expected, a better feeling may be expected. Barbadoes can be bought low. A better demand is noted this week for New Orleans in barrels. Prices for the latter are lower than last season, being lower than other grades of molasses and showing good quality. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 30 to 34c.; New Orleans, bbls., 30 to 36c.; Antigua, 25 to 26c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.; Nevis, 25 to 26c.

FISH—Large arrivals of dry cod have rather weakened the market and prices are quoted lower, but there is a good movement. In pollock business is light. Large pickled herring (as Shelburne and Canso) are almost a failure in catch and none are coming forward. There is quite a demand. The best pickled herring now here are Kipplings; they are in half bbls. Bay herring show fair demand and stocks are light. In smoked there is no improvement. Pickled shad are but light stock

Canaries
Imported direct from the Hartz Mts., Germany. Their song fully developed, compared with an ordinary canary, is as an accomplished soprana to a huckster's bawl. Seldom seen in this country, and never sold by bird dealers under $5.00.
To advertise the only food fit for trained canaries, we will deliver one of these birds to any grocer in Canada on receipt of $3.00 A grocer who got one has since sold seven or eight at $5 00 each, and his trade in "Cottams" Seed has doubled by the advertisement of their song.
